

Tim Rayner
Business Development Director

Tim is Business Development Director at Sequel, having spent 18 years on the broker side of the London Market at Miller.

Tim has a strong technology background, with over 15 years' experience as a software developer, before moving on to heading up IT, Change and then Group Operations at Miller. At Sequel, Tim has board level responsibility for Sequel's relationship with Lloyd's, the LM TOM and large strategic accounts.

Looking forward, Tim will play an instrumental part in Sequel's global expansion, and brings a wealth of experience particularly in the Coverholder space, having architected London's first real-time bordereau data exchange back in 2007.