University President

Edward T. Foote II

13th Year at Miami

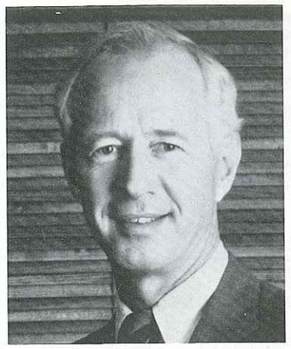

MIAMI'S 4TH PRESIDENT

Edward T. "Tad" Foote II became the fourth president of the University in 1981.

After graduating from Yale University in 1959, Foote served three years in the U.S. Marine Corps. In the early 1960s, he worked as a journalist for the Washington Star. While in law school, he worked for the Washington Daily News and later was assistant to the chairman of the Pennsylvania Avenue Commission in Washington, D.C.

After graduation from Georgetown University Law Center in 1966, Foote practiced trial, appellate, and labor law with Bryan, Cave, McPheeters & McRoberts in St. Louis, Mo.

In 1970, Foote became vice chancellor, general counsel, and secretary to the Board of Trustees for Washington University in St. Louis, then served from 1973-80 as dean of the Washington University School of Law. Foote was special advisor to the chancellor and Board of Trustees for Washington University, while he chaired two federal court-appointed citizen's committees that designed desegregation plans for St. Louis.

A SOLID LEADER

Upon his arrival at the University of Miami in 1981, Foote introduced corporate-style strategic planning. Among his top priorities were reducing the number of students while increasing the number of faculty. Approximately three-quarters of the current faculty were hired by Foote and the University's research productivity has expanded dramatically. The 1,881 faculty attracted $117 million in sponsored research for 1992-93. Ranked among the top 50 institutions receiving federal research funding, the university is the largest, most comprehensive, private research university in the Southeast.

Under President Foote's leadership, Miami added the schools of Architecture and Communication as well as the Graduate School of International Studies, bringing the total to 14. He also launched an ambitious $400 million five-year fund-raising campaign that was the second largest capital campaign in the history of higher education. It ended in 1990 with $517.5 million in commitments, including endowments for 45 chairs in various areas. In 1991, UM launched a $15 million Cornerstone Campaign to raise funds for the library and college of arts and sciences.

BUILDING UM'S FUTURE

Recently, the University secured a $10 million federal appropriation for the North-South Center, an international academic center that promotes the exchange of ideas, technology and research between the United States and the nations of Latin America, Caribbean and Canada.

Foote also introduced the residential college concept at the University of Miami to enhance the undergraduate experience. Following a tradition established at universities in England, each is directed by a Master and Faculty Fellows, tenured senior faculty members who live at the college and are actively involved in planning a series of academic, social and recreational programs for resident students.

INTERNATIONAL HONORS

Active in a number of civic and educational organizations in the community, he is a director of Ryder System, Inc. and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations. He is founding chairman of The Miami Coalition for a Drug-Free Community, a nationally recognized community organization committed to reducing the drug problem. It has served as a model for community based anti-drug groups in more than 193 cities and 41 countries, including Colombia. Foote is on the President's Drug Advisory Council Steering Committee for a National Organization of Community Coalitions.

Among other awards, he received honorary degrees from Washington ('81), Tokai ('84), and Barry ('91). In 1982 the president of Peru presented him with that country's highest honor, the Order of the Sun.

Athletic Director

Paul Dee

Paul Dee was named UM's Director of Athletics on June 25, 1993. Dee had served as general counsel for the University since 1981, building a reputation among his peers for his strong leadership, integrity, fairness and ability to get along with people.

Dee, 47, is no stranger to intercollegiate athletics, having twice served as Miami's interim athletic director and working closely with the athletic department during his tenure as University general counsel. He has served on committees that brought former athletic directors Sam Jankovich and Dave Maggard to UM, negotiated radio and TV contracts and is nationally renowned as a speaker on educational, ethical and legal issues concerning intercollegiate athletics.

COMMITTED TO MAKING MIAMI THE BEST

During last year's five-week stint as interim athletic director when Maggard resigned to become Director of Sports for the 1996 Summer Olympics in Atlanta, Dee showed his commitment to women's athletics, signing women's basketball coach Ferne Labati to a multi-year contract. Dee is openly committed to gender equity issues, and the need for an on-campus convocation center for Hurricane basketball.

In his first full year as athletic director, Dee has lived up to the challenges facing him. His appointment of Jim Morris as head baseball coach was a phenomenal success as Morris was recognized as Coach of the Year by Baseball America and led his young squad to a 49-14 record, Miami's 13th College World Series appearance and a fifth-place national finish. Miami track star Gillian Russell claimed her third straight NCAA title and crew coach Joe O'Connor was selected as national coach of the year.

Dee was commited to facility improvements during his inaugural season, including resurfacing the Greentree Track and the Neil Schiff Tennis Center Courts, the conversion of Mark Light Stadium from artificial turf to natural grass, a new basketball floor and newly refurbished men's and women's locker rooms in the Knight Sports Complex.

During the fall, Dee is also overseeing the expansion and improvements to the football locker room and athletic training facilities where medical care is provided to student athletes. The state-of-the-art facility was completed in late November.

ACTIVE IN NATIONAL ISSUES

In his first year as athletic director, Dee became active in the NCAA as well as serving as a member of the BIG EAST Conference executive committee and the television committee of the BIG EAST Football Conference.

Dee believes intensifying fund raising efforts and developing stronger interest in women's sports are vital to ensuring the future success of the Hurricane program.

A SUCCESFUL ATTORNEY

Before joining the University, Dee was with the Miami law firm of Mershon, Sawyer, Johnston, Dunwoody & Cole and was a law clerk for Chief U.S. District Judge Charles Fulton in Miami, He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Florida in 1970 and his master's od education and juris doctor degrees with honors from the University of Miami in 1973 and 1977, respectively. He's a candidate for doctor of education.

While in law school, he served as editor of the UM Law Review. He is active in the National Association of College and University Attorneys and served on its Board of Directors from 1986-89. He is active in local and state bar associations and recently charied the Judicial Nominating Commission for Florida's 3rd District Court of Appeal. Dee was also Athletic Director at Glades Central High School in Belle Glade, Florida from 1971-74.

Dee was raised in West Palm Beach. Married to the former Elizabeth Hall, he and his wife have a son, Terrance, who is a junior at Harvard.

Injuries Aside, 'Canes Ready To Showcase Talent In 1994-95

It is said the greatness of any group cannot truly be measured until it deals with some adversity. If that holds true, the Miami Hurricanes may finally be ready to realize the level of play they've approached over the last two seasons after overcoming numerous injuries and setbacks on their quest to become one of the BIG EAST's elite teams.

Junior Steve Rich (left) and senior Constantin Popa (right) will make the front court a tough spot for opponents this season. Popa returns as the leading rebounder and Rich adds scoring punch inside for the Hurricanes.

Two years ago the Hurricanes produced the third-best home record in The BIG EAST (7-2). Last season UM continued to build on that foundation as it opened the year with a 6-1 record but then adversity struck. One by one the 'Canes were besieged with injuries. Only center Constantin Popa started as many as 17 games and many of Miami's key players played a majority of the season at far less than 100 percent.

PRESEASON SETBACK DOESN'T DAMPEN SPIRITS

Despite their optimism, misfortune has once again found the Hurricanes and they will be forced to re-adjust. Center Will Davis (7'0") and forward Brad Timpf (6'10") each suffered knee injuries and will be lost for the season.

Davis, who was expected to battle for a starting position in the frontcourt, tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee while playing a pickup game in September. The New York native, who received the team's "Most Improved Player" Award last season, continued to blossom and was one of the Hurricanes' top players during their exhibition tour of Israel in August. Davis led the team in field goal percentage and offensive rebounds during the trip and finished second in points, total rebounds, blocked shots and minutes played.

Timpf, who toured Portugal with a traveling all-star team this past summer, tore the anterior cruciate and medial collateral ligaments in his right knee just two minutes into UM's "Midnight Madness" scrimmage. The sophomore forward was expected to provide the 'Canes with needed depth in the frontcourt.

WATCH OUT IN FRONT

In spite of the injuries, competition for playing time will be fierce and Coach Leonard Hamilton should have some depth on this year's squad, particularly in the backcourt where four players return and four others have been added.

The Hurricanes' strength rests in the frontcourt where Popa, the team's leading rebounder (6.0 rpg) and second leading scorer (9.1 ppg), returns for his senior season. Popa scored in double figures a team-high 14 times last season and posted four "double-doubles". The 7'3" Bucharest, Romania native has averaged 9.5 points per game and 5.9 rebounds per game during his career. Additionally, he is Miami's all-time leader in blocked shots with 208 rejections.

Joining Popa up front will be juniors Steve Rich (6'9") and Lorenzo Pearson (6'9") and 6'8" sophomore Alex Fraser. Rich, a transfer from Wake Forest, joined the Hurricanes last December and immediately made an impact. In his BIG EAST debut at Syracuse, Rich led the 'Canes in both points (25) and rebounds (10). He was averaging 15 points and 8.8 boards per contest before suffering a finger injury to his right hand three games later. Despite the injury he managed to finish second on the squad in rebounds (5.1 rpg) and still started 13 of UM's final 14 games.

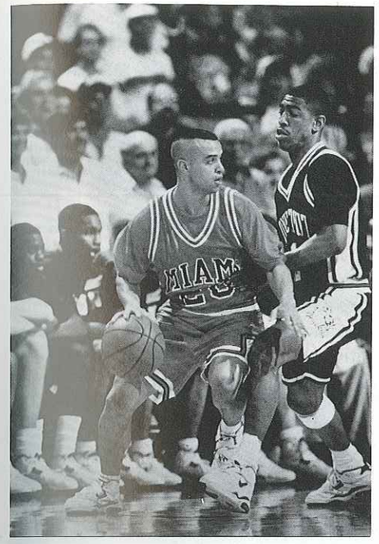

Pearson, who has seen limited action the past two seasons, has shown vast improvement and is expected to become a member of UM's regular rotation. The Chicago native was impressive during the 'Canes tour of Israel, averaging 11 points and 5.3 rebounds in just under 23 minutes per game.

Fraser started the final 15 games for the 'Canes and four times during the season he scored in double figures including a season-high 14-point effort in UM's near upset of Syracuse in March. Fraser also had a 12-point, 11-rebound performance against BIG EAST champion Connecticut in February.

Rich's healthy return from injury and marked improvement of Pearson and Fraser will provide the 'Canes with a physical presence in the frontcourt which is need in the rugged BIG EAST.

Junior Steven Edwards is healthy and showing signs of the explosive form he displayed as a freshman.

Rosa returns after making an impression last year as a walk on who started five of the 'Canes last six games.

KEYS ARE IN THE BACK

The key to the Hurricanes this season can be found in the backcourt, especially with the loss of Davis and Timpf. Two years ago Miami led the BIG EAST in three-point field goals made, connecting on a school-record 186 attempts from behind the three-point arc. That same season Steven Edwards set a school-record with 79 treys and a BIG EAST Conference record with 59 three-pointers in league play.

Last season the backcourt was devastated by injuries and the 'Canes connected on just 138 three-point field goal attempts.

Edwards and sophomore Steve Frazier must recover from knee surgeries. Both players each had a pair of knee operations and the 'Canes offense suffered without its two best perimeter threats healthy. Despite playing all 27 games, injuries restricted Edwards to 11 starts and an average of 22.7 minutes per contest. The Miami native averaged 9.0 points and connected on a team-high 57 three-pointers. On 12 occasions Edwards scored in double figures, including a season-high 18 points at Seton Hall in a game in which he hit six three-point goals.

As a freshman, Edwards was the sixth leading scorer in The BIG EAST (15.9 ppg) and a unanimous selection to The BIG EAST All-Rookie team. Edwards now appears to be back to the explosive form he displayed as a freshman.

Frazier, one of the most heralded recruits in UM history from Andrew Jackson High School in New York City, missed the entire 1992-93 season when he injured his knee in Miami's "Midnight Madness" practice in October of 1992. Injuries restricted Frazier to 21 games last season and he averaged 6.4 points. His recovery continued this summer as he helped lead the South squad to the gold medal at the U.S. Olympic Festival and then as he started all six of UM's games in Israel and led the team in assists. He currently is battling tendinitis in both knees but still maintains a high level of court savvy.

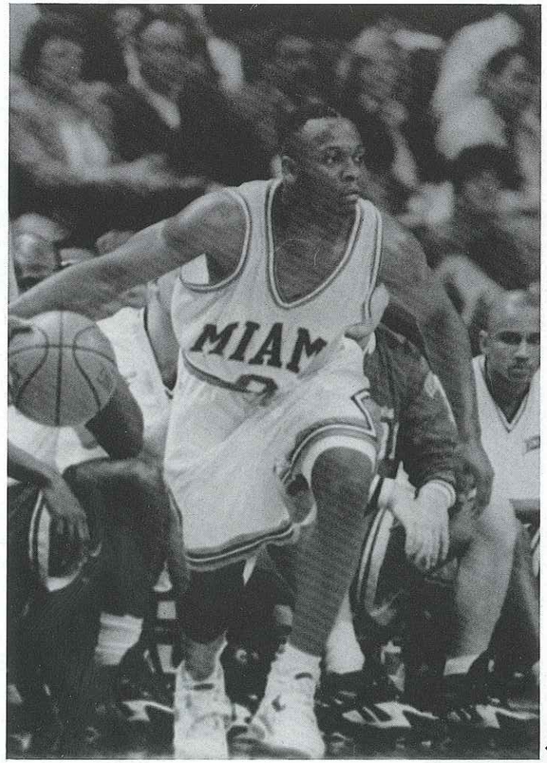

The Hurricanes also return a pair of guards who saw significant playing time last season. Sophomore Torey McCormick was one of four players to appear in all 27 games and his 16 starts were tied for second on the squad. McCormick, who averaged 4.4 points, led the team in both assists (85) and steals (43) and was the first freshman to lead UM in minutes played since Eric Brown accomplished the feat during the 1985-86 campaign.

One of the more pleasant surprises of the 1993-94 season was guard Anthony Rosa who originally made the team as a walk-on and started five of the final six games. He shot 52.8 percent from the floor, including 56.5 percent from three-point territory, and scored in double figures in each of the 'Canes final two games.

FOUR GREAT ADDITIONS

Coach Hamilton has added four guards to compete for playing time and help provide needed depth in the backcourt. Junior Mitchell Dunn arrives in Coral Gables after earning second-team All-America honors for Wabash Valley College (Mt. Carmel, IL). Dunn (6'0") averaged 17 points and seven assists per game for a team that was ranked seventh nationally in the junior college ranks. The Hurricanes also added 5'9" freshman Kevin Norris, who starred at Maine Central Institute last season and averaged 12.7 points and seven assists per contest. Both Dunn and Norris will battle for playing time right away and should help stabilize the UM backcourt.

Freshmen Chuck Barker (6'1") and Jaime Waggoner (6'2"), who each made the team this fall, will provide Hamilton with the additional backcourt depth he was seeking.Barker averaged 29 points as a senior at St. Pius High School in Atlanta while Waggoner tallied 19 points a game during his senior year at Albuquerque Academy in New Mexico.

Steve Frazier is back from his knee injury and ready to display the skills he showed this summer as a member of the gold medal winning South team at the 1994 U.S. Olympic Festival.

STEPPING UP TO THE CHALLENGE

When Leonard Hamilton was appointed the University of Miami's ninth men's head basketball coach on April 2, 1990, he knew it was a huge challenge to build a program. But everyday, step by step, Hamilton inches closer to his goal of having the finest college team in the land.

The road to the top has been a constant battle for the Hurricanes, who have had more than their fair share of injuries and setbacks, but through it all Hamilton has remained a focused driving force and once again has the program on track.

Hamilton knew when he arrived that in order to compete with the best, you must play the best. No one could have predicted how swiftly or emphatically the best competition would appear on the Miami schedule. After just six months at Miami, Hamilton was presented with one of the most difficult challenges a collegiate coach has ever faced—to compete in the BIG EAST Conference.

Challenges are nothing new to Hamilton though, after spending time at both Kentucky and Oklahoma State facing some of top teams in the nation. He has spent most of his career competing and succeeding against the nation's elite.

A PLAYER'S COACH

Despite being the head coach of a Division I school in one of the country's top conferences, Hamilton has not lost sight of his number one priority: Miami's student-athletes. His number one goal is to help prepare his players for the challenges that they will encounter in society.

"Coach Hamilton is a real player's coach," stated former Hurricane guard and 1992 graduate Trevor Burton. "He's concerned about you both as a player and human being. He will push to get the best out of you both on and off the court. I've never seen anyone as dedicated as Coach Hamilton. I was really impressed with his commitment."

Hamilton displays that commitment to his program both on and off the court. In his four years at Miami, Hamilton has watched every senior who has completed his eligibility go on to receive his degree.

"The thing that separates Coach Hamilton from other coaches is the way he treats you," said Jake Morton, a former Hurricane guard and 1993 graduate who is now playing professionally in Israel. "He stays on top of you to get your degree and helps mold you for life. He feels it's his job to help get you ready to play in the game of life, because he understands there is life beyond basketball."

BRINGING IN THE BEST

In order to raise the Hurricanes' level of competition, it was obvious that Hamilton was required to raise the level of talent flowing into the Miami program. Tremendous strides have been realized in this area during Hamilton's tenure at UM. Having long been recognized as one of the nation's finest evaluators and recruiters of high school talent, Hamilton continued to build his legacy by producing what many consider to be the finest classes in Miami history. Three of his UM recruiting classes have been ranked in the Top 20 nationally by recruiting expert Bob Gibbons and this year's class yielded a pair of talented guards that will help shape the 'Canes future.

The rookie class of 1992-93 contained the most promise and was ranked No. 4 in the country. However, injuries have taken their toll and slowed the development of what could be UM's finest class ever.

The two rookies who were healthy, Steven Edwards and Lorenzo Pearson, made their presence known right away by helping the Hurricanes jump from one conference win in 1991-92 to seven wins in 1992-93 (the fourth-largest increase in wins in BIG EAST history). All of Miami's wins came at home in the Miami Arena as the 'Canes' 7-2 home BIG EAST record was the third best among all league teams.

SUCCESS IN BIG EAST

In his first three BIG EAST seasons, Hamilton has already recorded four victories over teams ranked in the nation's Top 25 and has defeated every league team at least once except Seton Hall. His 80-69 victory over 10th-ranked Georgetown during the 1992-93 campaign was Miami's first over a team ranked in the nation's Top 10 since the rebirth of the Hurricanes' basketball program in 1985.

During the 1991-92 campaign, Hamilton continued his lofty expectations in the academic realm as all four Hurricane seniors earned their degrees by June of 1992. On the court, Leonard Hamilton silenced the critics who claimed he would not even come close to a victory in his inaugural BIG EAST campaign as the Hurricanes defeated St. John's in their conference home opener—a victory that would prove to cost the Redmen the outright BIG EAST championship.

Along the way, the Hurricanes surprised their opponents, fans and media as they battled every opponent with the intensity and perseverance which their head coach both demands and instills. Miami proved to be especially tough toward the end of its first BIG EAST campaign, losing its final five conference games by an average of seven points, including an exciting 90-82 overtime loss to eventual No. 1 BIG EAST Tournament seed Seton Hall.

Hamilton's Hurricanes earned the respect of the collegiate world in their first BIG EAST Tournament appearance at Madison Square Garden when they upset Pittsburgh, 83-71, in the opening round at "The World's Most Famous Arena". Miami threatened to repeat the upset in the second round of action as they led co-BIG EAST champion Georgetown, 34-33, at the half before dropping a hard-fought 77-64 decision to Alonzo Mouring and the Hoyas.

Hamilton was granted one year of coaching at UM before entering BIG EAST competition. Determined to make the most of the Hurricanes' final season as an independent, Hamilton quickly laid the groundwork for the future of the Hurricanes. Off the court, Hamilton saw to it that both seniors on his 1990-91 squad would graduate by spring. On the court, he directed the development of Joe Wylie, who was selected in the second round of the 1991 NBA Draft, and inspired his Hurricane squad to produce their absolute best at all times. The efforts paid off as Miami finished the season with what was then the highest final ranking by USA Today since the rebirth of the Hurricanes' program.

"Coach Hamilton is a real player's coach. He's concerned about you both as a player and human being. He will push to get the best out of you on and off the court.

"I've never seen anyone as dedicated as Coach Hamilton. I was really impressed with his commitment."

-- Trevor Burton ('93)

BREAKING RECORDS AT OKLAHOMA STATE

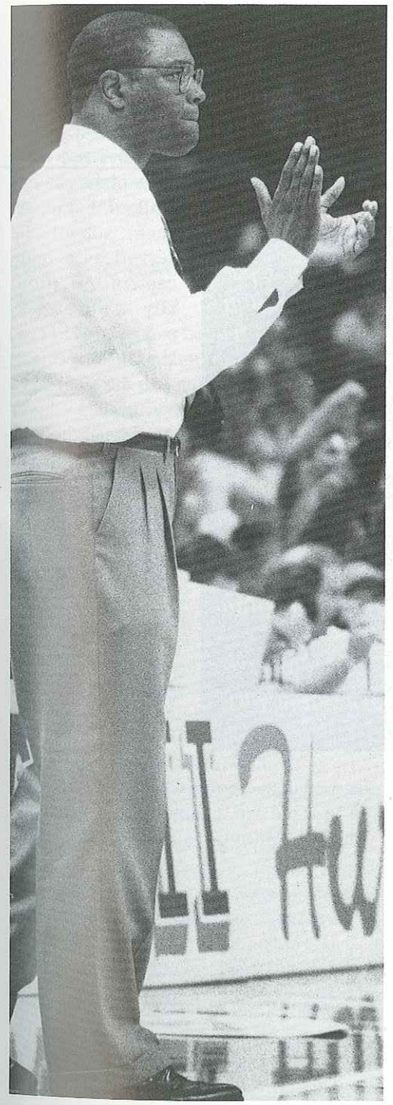

Hamilton arrived at UM from Oklahoma State where he rebuilt the Cowboys and led them to consecutive appearances in the National Invitational Tournament. The back-to-back post-season appearances were the first for OSU since 1953-54.

The 1989-90 OSU squad earned a No. 49 national ranking by USA Today, finished the year with a 17-14 record and advanced to the second round of the NIT before dropping a decision to tournament semifinalist New Mexico. Offensive firepower and the transition game were the signature of Hamilton's last two Oklahoma State teams both won 17 games, marking only the fourth and fifth OSU squads to reach the 17-win plateau in the last 32 years. And of the 14 losses suffered during the 1989-90 campaign, seven came against teams ranked in the nation's Top 10 at the time of the game (UNLV, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas). The overall schedule was rated one of the toughest in the nation and included a total of 17 games against teams that went on to post-season play. The season was highlighted with wins over post-season participants Ohio State, Memphis State, New Orleans and a 2-1 record versus Kansas State (one of win came in the Big 8 Tournament).

A RISING STAR

Prior to his stint at OSU, Hamilton served at the University of Kentucky where he spent 12 seasons with one of the top programs in the country. From 1974-80, he served as an assistant coach, and in 1980 he was honored by being named the first associate head coach in Kentucky basketball history, a post he held until moving to OSU. While at Kentucky, Hamilton developed the reputation as one of the brightest young coaches in the nation and helped guide the Wildcats to the 1978 NCAA championship. In his 12-year tenure at Kentucky, seven recruiting classes were ranked among the nation's elite and 23 former Wildcat players were drafted by the NBA. Additionally, 83% of the seniors (30 of 36) earned their degrees.

His proficiency in the recruiting game carried over to Oklahoma State where his first two classes were rated 12th in the country by different services. He signed four of five Oklahoma High School Players of the Year and was involved with the recruitment of 30 high school All-Americans.

"The thing that separates Coach Hamilton from others is the way he treats you. He stays on top of you to get your degree and helps mold your life.

"He feels it's his job to help get you ready to play in the game of life, because he understands there is life beyond basketball."

A DECORATED COLLEGE PLAYER

Hamilton played basketball at Gaston (N.C.) Community College, where he set a school record by scoring 54 points in a game, and at the University of Tennessee-Martin where he is a charter member of the school's Hall of Fame. At each school he served as a team captain. Additionally, while at Tennessee-Martin, Hamilton received both the team Most Valuable Player Award and the Best Defensive Player Award.

His coaching career began as a graduate assistant (1971-72) and a full-time assistant (1972-74) at Austin Peay State University. He received his Master's degree from Austin Peay.

Hamilton, who is married to the former Claudette Hale, has a 24-year old son, Lenny, and a 10-year old daughter, Allison.

A VETERAN AT MIAMI

Entering his fifth season as an assistant coach at the University of Miami, Scott Howard has been a full-time assistant for the Hurricanes longer than any other coach since the rebirth of the UM program. In Hamilton's very first day as the head basketball coach at UM in 1990, he began to assemble his staff with the hiring of Howard.

The personable Howard arrived at UM after a one-year stint at the University of Southern California where he served under Coach George Raveling as an assistant coach. Howard's two previous seasons were spent at Drake University and Southern Illinois University. All three stops provided Howard with a heavy emphasis in recruiting, scouting, and on-floor practice preparation.

Howard was involved in the recruitment and development of five current NBA players. While at Iowa, he coached Miami Heat players Kevin Gamble and Brad Lohaus and Chicago Bulls guard B.J. Armstrong. During his stay at USC, he helped develop the Miami Heat's Harold Miner and Robert Pack of the Denver Nuggets.

FROM A BASKETBALL CRAZY STATE

The Iowa native began his coaching career as a volunteer assistant coach and a graduate assistant coach for a total of four years at the University of Iowa under both George Raveling and current Hawkeye coach Dr. Tom Davis. At Iowa, Howard helped guide the Hawkeyes to three NCAA Tournament Appearances.

EXPERIENCE AS A CYCLONE

His playing career includes two letters as a walk-on guard for Johnny Orr at Iowa State University and a stellar prep background at Iowa Falls High School. He averaged 19 points per game as a senior in high school and earned honorable mention all-state honors.

Howard earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Iowa State in 1983 and completed a master's degree in educational administration from Iowa in 1985.

Born September 21, 1960, Howard is married to the former Kim McCaulley of Iowa Falls, Iowa.

The newest addition to the Miami coaching staff is Silas McKinnie, who brings with him a great deal of experience, respect and a wealth of knowledge. He will be active in the 'Canes recruiting efforts and providing on-court instruction.

17 YEARS OF EXPERIENCE

McKinnie, a 17-year veteran of the coaching profession, served one season as a head coach at Kentucky State (1980-81) and has had stints as an assistant coach in the SEC, the SWC, the Big Ten Conference, the WAC and the Sunbelt Conference. He also spent one year as an assistant athletic director at South Alabama.

He was an integral part of staffs at Alabama and Minnesota that led teams to the NCAA Tournament. The 1990 Minnesota squad advanced to the regional finals, achieving the school's best finish in the tournament. He was also responsible for recruiting most of the players that helped the Golden Gophers claim the 1993 NIT championship.

Mike Jaskulski

2nd Year at Miami

VETERAN WITH EXPERIENCE

When Leonard Hamilton had a vacancy in his coaching staff last season he was fortunate to land a veteran like Mike Jaskulski. In his second season at Miami, the well-rounded Jaskulski has proved to be a valuable addition and has served a number of roles for the Hurricanes. He is responsible for scheduling, practice preparations, on-court instruction, overseeing the pre-season conditioning program and is the director of the UM Summer Basketball Camp.

Jaskulski arrived at Miami after serving six years as an assistant coach at the University of Maine. His recruiting efforts help revitalize the Black Bears and made them one of the top programs in the North Atlantic Conference. His 1990 recruiting class was ranked as the 49th best in the country.

COACHED TEAMS TO NCAA RECORDS

Prior to his stint at Maine, Jaskulski served as the head basketball coach at Loras College from 1984-88 where he compiled a 62-48 record (.564 winning percentage). His 1987-88 squad finished as the top defensive team in the Iowa Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and was ranked third nationally by the NCAA in team defense. Additionally, that squad set an NCAA (post) shot clock record allowing only five points in a single half. Before being elevated to the head coaching reigns at Loras, Jaskulski served as an assistant coach for the Duhawks from 1982-84.

A GREAT START

The Milwaukee native began his coaching career as an assistant coach from 1976-82 at St. Norbert College in De Pere, Wisconsin. Four of St. Norbert's teams advanced to the NAIA Tournament during his tenure and the 1981-82 Green Knight team was ranked 10th defensively in the NAIA.

A 1976 graduate of St. Norbert College, Jaskulski earned his master's degree in education in 1984 from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Jaskulski and his wife, Marcia, have a three-year old daughter, Katie.

After 18 hours of traveling we finally arrived in Tel Aviv around 5:00 p.m. Israeli time (Israel is seven hours ahead of Miami). When we arrived at the airport we once again had to clear customs before claiming our bags and beginning the three-and-a-half hour bus ride up north to Tiberius. We were greeted with flowers and juice at the hotel before eating a team dinner. After dinner we took a walk around the hotel grounds before having a team meeting and going to sleep.

AUGUST 12

We're on the way to our first practice and everybody's coming on the bus with a lot of energy. Even though it's about 3:00 in the morning back home nobody seems to notice that. Steve Rich is outside acting like a fool, but at least he's happy. I won't be practicing because I suffered an injury to my left wrist in the summer that required me to have surgery and I have not yet been cleared to return.

We had a good practice but as Coach Scott Howard and I were talking after the workout, the facilities and conditions really made us appreciate what we have back home.

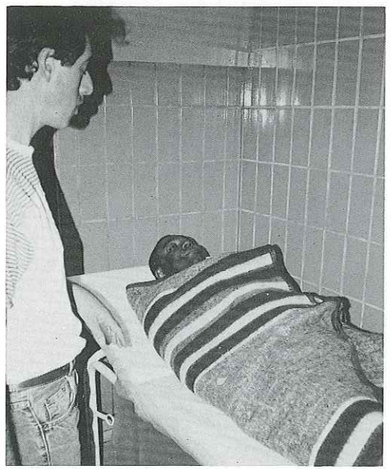

We got a chance to see the Sea of Galilee and team chaplain Steve DeBardelaben explained to us that this is where Jesus began his public ministry and where he claimed to be the promised messiah. It was in this area that he did his greatest teachings and performed his first miracles, including walking on water.

We played the Israeli professional champions, Maccabbi Tel Aviv, and the outcome was not what we desired as we dropped a 88-60 decision in the opening round game of the Bendel Tournament in Tiberius.

AUGUST 13

We ate our pre-game meal early in the morning because we had a 1:00 game. We didn't eat any cooked food however, because today was Saturday and they are celebrating the Sabbath and we had to respect their culture.

We lost the game to Hapoel Jerusalem by one point (109-108) but we played alot better than we played yesterday. The guys showed a lot of improvement and heart coming back from a 23-point second-half deficit to lose by just a single point.

AUGUST 14

We traveled to Jerusalem this morning and on the way there we stopped by the Jordan River. Steve DeBardelaben explained to us that God parted the Jordan River so Joshua could lead the people to enter the Promised Land. Steve also told us that this was where John was baptizing people as an expression of their desire to turn to God. This was where Jesus was baptized to reinforce the movement of people giving their lives to God.

After leaving the Jordan River our bus got a flat tire on the way to Jerusalem. Steve Rich and Lorenzo Pearson seized the opportunity to entertain us along the roadside during the hour delay while Coach Howard was showing off his muscles helping the busdriver change the flat.

When we arrived in Jerusalem we took a tour of the city. We started at the Wailing Wall which is the most religous place of the Jewish religion. People were there praying, it was a very spiritual experience. Hopefully everything I and everyone else asked and prayed for will come true.

AUGUST 15

It was a very hot day, probably about 100 degrees. This morning we went sightseeing in Bethlehem and then were hosted by the mayor of Jerusalem in a special ceremony at City Hall. The mayor was very happy to see us and gave Coach Hamilton a medal showing that Israel was in the center of the world. While we were in Bethlehem we visited the birthplace of Jesus and toured the many famous churches and synagogues.

In the evening we played Maccabee Jerusalem and were defeated, 92-82.

AUGUST 16

Today we went to the Holocaust Museum and it was a very touching experience. We saw a lot of things that happened during the Holocaust and learned a lot about the history. We saw what the Jews all over Europe had to go through. It's something that I believe nobody would want to wish on anybody else.

We then traveled up north to Zefat where we will spend the next three days.

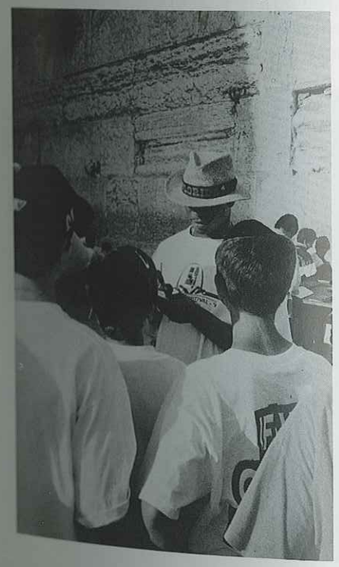

AUGUST 17

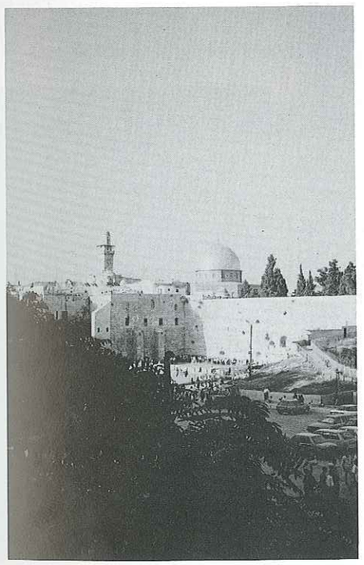

Today was a slow day in Zefat. We did take a tour of the old city of Zefat. We learned that the Israeli's lived on one side of the city and the Arabs lived on the other and that they were in war against one another. We saw numerous buildings and synagogues with bullet holes in them. At one of the synagogues I sat in a chair that godfathers sit in before they circumcise the children.

AUGUST 18

We are still in Zefat. Coach Hamilton allowed us to go shopping this morning, but I didn't go. I stayed and played ping pong with my roommate Steven Edwards and trainer Jim Whalen.

At night we played the local team from Zefat and lost 73-69. After the game we had dinner and a ceremony with the mayor.

We only have three more days, but Israel is still a wonderful place, especially Zefat.

AUGUST 19

Today's my mother's birthday back home. Happy Birthday Mom. We left Zefat and traveled to Tel Aviv. Tel Aviv is probably the most Americanized city in all of Israel. Our few days in Zefat were very enjoyable but I don't mind going to Tel Aviv.

Tonight we played the second best team in Israel, Hapoel Holon and lost 69-60. This team has some of the highest paid players in the country.

AUGUST 20

Today was probably the most fun day of all the days we have spent in Israel. Everybody was like one big family. We went to the water slides and pool which were on the complex grounds, we worked out and we had a good practice. Everybody worked hard and seemed focused.

At night we went to the mall with former UM basketball player Jake Morton, who is playing professionally here in Israel. It was really nice and we had a good time. It's alot like Coconut Grove, only bigger. I'm really enjoying Tel Aviv.

AUGUST 21

A few people did some last-minute shopping before and after the game. Today was our last game before going home. We traveled back to Jerusalem and lost to Hapoel Jerusalem, 75-62.

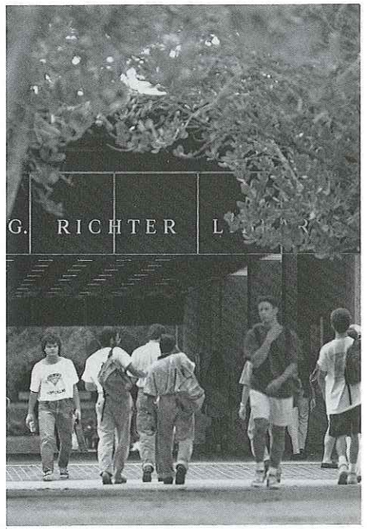

AUGUST 22

The trip ended today. Israel was a great place and we had a wonderful experience. Everything's been great. I enjoyed listening to the taxi cab drivers telling stories and all the tours. Even though I had such a good time I can't wait to get back home.

One thing I would like to say about this trip though is that it allowed me to see places I know a lot of other people would like to see. I am one of the lucky people who did. The Wailing Wall was a touching experience. The churches in Jerusalem were all fascinating. I was particulary moved by seeing the birthplace of Jesus, where he was buried and where his body was cleaned up after he died.

We are on our way back and we have a lot of work to do. It's been great. To all the people in the states, I can't wait to get home. Thank you Israel, we enjoyed ourselves.

The University of Miami

Something for Everyone

Few schools in the country can match the total experience in which a student at the University of Miami will experience. The University of Miami offers something for everyone, both academically and socially. Its vibrant setting provides students with an ideal place to learn and help mold tomorrow's future.

The University of Miami is the largest independent teaching and research university in the Southeast and, opened in 1926, is among the nation's youngest. The Coral Gables campus, 10 miles from Miami, is the site of most of the University's undergraduate and graduate programs. The University also operates a medical center in downtown Miami, a world-renowned marine and atmospheric science school on Virginia Key in Biscayne Bay and a bio-medical research and development center on its South campus.

ACHIEVING GOALS

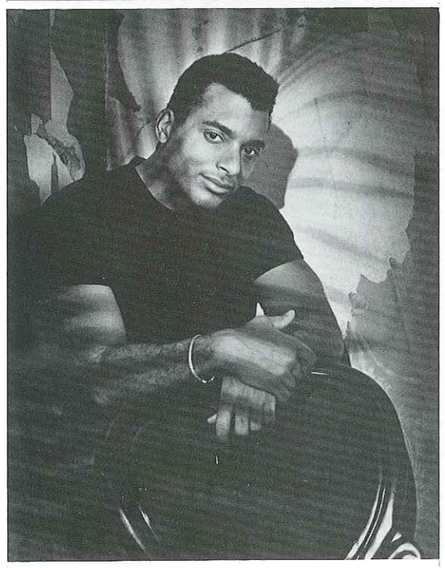

Following goals established in its nationally acclaimed strategic plan, the University of Miami recently completed a five-year fund raising campaign that raised $517.5 million for endowment, facilities and equipment.

Enrollment at the University of Miami has grown steadily from a few hundred when classes were held in the remodeled Coral Gables Hotel to over 13,000 credit-seeking students between the undergraduate, graduate, law and medical programs. Representing all U.S. states and 110 foreign countries, the student body is composed of 50 percent Florida residents, 41 percent from other states, and 10 percent foreign nationals.

AN ARRAY OF ACADEMIC CHOICES

The University offers 130 undergraduate and 175 graduate degree programs through schools of Architecture, Business Administration, Communication, Continuing Studies, Education, International Studies, Law, Marine and Atmospheric Sciences, Medicine, Music, Nursing, the Graduate School, and colleges of Arts and Sciences and Engineering.

SUCCESSFUL ALUMNI

The University's alumni base is a strong and successful one, despite the fact that Miami is one of the youngest Universities in the nation. Alumni have gone on to national fame in business, law, medicine, entertainment and many other areas. UM is proud to have supplied the education that catapulted them to national and internationl success.

The list of successful graduates is very long and includes national stars like Roy Firestone (right), Jon Secada (bottom corner picture on page 44), Gloria Estefan and many, many more.

NATIONALLY RECOGNIZED

The Rosenstiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science is recognized as one of the top three marine science schools in the country. Established in 1952 as Florida's first medical school, the University of Miami School of Medicine is the hub of the UM/Jackson Memorial Medical Center, the second largest such complex in the country and one of the hemisphere's major centers for teaching, research,diagnosis and patient care. The hospital was recently ranked one of the best in medicine based on peer review by 300 physicians across the country.

In addition to schools and colleges, many institutes, centers and interdisciplinary units attract national recognition for research and other programs, including Miami's reknown Bascom Palmer Eye Institute, Miami Project to Cure Paralysis and the international North-South Center.

INNOVATIVE RESEARCH

As it has for more than a decade, the University ranks among the top three percent of 2,600 universities and colleges receiving federal research and development grants. During the 1989-90 academic year, the faculty were awarded more than $133.7 million in separately budgeted grants and contracts from federal, state, local and private sources.

In addition to basic research in science, medicine, engineering and social sciences, current projects cover a wide spectrum of global concerns including climatology, oceanography, population and resource studies, spinal cord injuries, diabetes, AIDS, cancer, productivity, technology transfer and international relations.

A CROSSROAD OF CULTURES

A crossroads where culture and commerce of Latin America, the Caribbean, Europe, Asia and North America merge, the Greater Miami area is one of the most dynamic regions of the country. The surrounding area is known for its beaches, outdoor cafes, nightclubs and is home to successful professional sports franchises in all the major sports. Coral Gables hosts hemispheric headquarters for many multi-national corporations but maintains the Mediterranean charm envisioned by George Merrick, the city and University founder, 66 years ago.

Preparing for Success

Best Academic Support Available

The University of Miami, one of the nation's finest institutions of higher education, shows an unparalleled dedication to academics. While Miami's athletic successes are well documented, the University's commitment to academics is second to none. Hurricane athletes have a wealth of resources and programs available to them as they work toward their degrees.

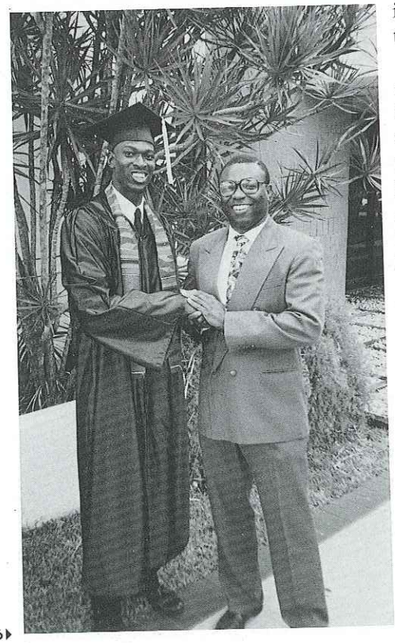

In striving to meet the challenges facing the student-athletes in today's complex society, the University of Miami Athletic Department along with UM's Developmental Services Center has established a unique academic support program that serves to enhance the life of the student-athlete. This cooperative effort reflects the commitment of the entire university to the complete development of the student-athlete.

Dr. Anna Price, assistant athletic director for academic/student services, administers the academic support and student services programs, which are designed to prepare students for a career after athletics.

Asst. Athletic Director for Academic/Student Services/ Vice Provost

"We want to facilitate the true personal development of the student-athlete by establishing a strong fundamental background," said Price. "We provide support in helping them develop the balance between academics and athletics as well as proper time management and mental attitude in order to realize and build on their strengths."

The recent results have been very impressive. The overall graduation rate exceeds 60% and the success rate of the Hurricane basketball program has been at or near 100% since its rebirth in 1985.

Few universities can match the success in both academics and athletics that Miami has achieved and through this commitment to excellence, UM student-athletes are properly prepared for life after athletics.

Training To Be The Best

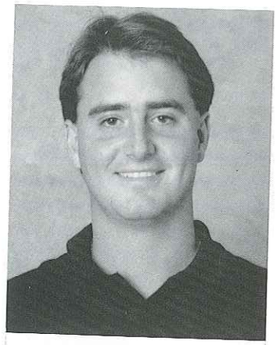

Top-Notch Medical Staff

The number one priority of the athletic department at the University of Miami is a commitment to its student-athletes both on and off the court. This commitment is constantly reinforced with the medical attention that is available to Hurricane student-athletes. UM's newly renovated and expanded training room, located in the Hecht Athletic Center, contains the most modern equipment available.

Computerized testing and a wide range of aerobic conditioning equipment is available to help design individual rehabilitation programs and help reduce the risk of re-injury. The training room also contains a state-of-the-art Biodex machine to aid athletes in their rehabilitation.

The University has assembled one of the finest medical staffs in the country. Team physician and orthopaedic surgeon Dr. John Uribe heads a team which includes 15 medical doctors who serve as consultants, five full-time trainers and 10 student-trainers.

Assistant trainer Jim Whalen, who joined the UM staff after a two-year stint with the New England Patriots of the National Football League, works and travels with the men's basketball team on a daily basis. He monitors the medical progress of Hurricane basketball players and works closely with team physicians in designing rehabilitation programs for the athletes. Whalen earned his bachelors degree in training from Bridgewater State College in 1991 and is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association.

Asst. Athletic Trainer

Uribe, regarded as one of the finest physicians in the southeast, is the assistant physician for the Miami Dolphins and the Florida Marlins. Additionally, he and Dr. Keith Hechtman, another member of UM's medical team, serve as team physicians for both Florida International University and St. Thomas University. Hechtman, who specializes in orthopaedics, accompanied the Hurricanes on their exhibition tour of Israel this past August.

Hurricane athletes enjoy the luxury of having one of the nation's finest sports medicine facilities located right on campus. Doctors' Hospital features a full service health-care center specializing in sports medicine. The clinic provides preventative care, physicals, injury evaluations, special testing and referral to specialists. Doctors' Hospital possesses some of the most high-tech equipment in the nation and is available to treat Hurricane athletes.

The hospital includes a health and fitness center where they provide a wide range of services including nutrition counseling and cardiac rehab all done with the exercise physiology department led by Dr. Jack Young, a member of the UM medical team.

Uribe and his colleagues at the sports medicine center are recognized as some of the finest in the field of sports medicine. Patients are often flown in throughout the east coast to be treated at Doctors' Hospital. Many doctors also fly in to learn sports medicine procedures and techniques from the Doctors' Hospital staff.

With all this medical expertise and equipment available to them, Hurricane athletes are among the best cared for in the nation.

Strength Training With The Best

A key element of the Miami basketball program is the strength and conditioning program which is administered under the direction of strength and conditioning coach Dana LeDuc and assistant strength and conditioning coach Brad Webber, who works directly with the men's basketball team.

To aid in their quest to provide the best training possible to Hurricane athletes, LeDuc and Webber have the latest state-of-the-art equipment at their disposal. The weight room includes numerous Nautilus machines and an abundance of free weights, barbells and benches to help Hurricane athletes in their personal development.

Brad Webber
Basketball Strength Coach

Under the direction of LeDuc and Webber, Hurricane athletes are given individual training programs tailored to improve speed and quickness, strength, conditioning, endurance and flexibility. Off-season weight training focuses on improvement of the players' general conditioning. Through resistance training, aerobic exercise and plyometric exercise, LeDuc's and Webber's program produces increased muscle strength as well as joint endurance to handle the intense training that comes at the start of the season.

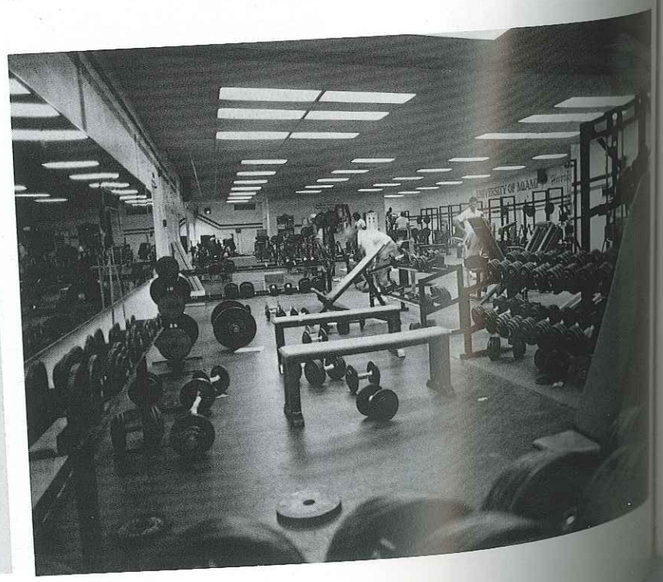

As the year approaches and players begin their pre-season training, the weight training focus shifts to an increased development of endurance, speed and explosive strength. The athletes' workouts are carefully monitored to ensure the maximum results for peak conditioning at the start of the season.

During the season Hurricane athletes focus on maintaining the strength and power they built during the off-season.

"We use free weights to develop explosiveness and power which has a direct carry over effect to the basketball court," stated Webber. "We want to get our athletes as strong and powerful as possible both mentally and physically. Our program here at Miami is designed to really challenge the athletes and put them in the best position to handle both physical and mental duress while achieving success on the court."

Miami's training program is designed to challenge the athletes and put them in the best position to achieve success on the court.

Webber, who joined the UM staff in 1990, has a bachelor's degree from the University of Minnesota in human anatomy and physiology and a master's degree from Miami in sports medicine. He is certified for exercise testing and as a strength and conditioning specialist.

Hurricanes Bring Sunshine

Athletes Work With Children

Recognizing their positions as role models and community leaders, University of Miami student-athletes are extremely active in assisting with the development of the South Florida community.

During the 1994-95 school year, Hurricane basketball players will make personal appearances at numerous functions and will volunteer their time and efforts to many special projects including the "Join a Team, Not a Gang" campaign which is co-sponsored by the Metro-Dade Police and Florida Power and Light. Athletes and the children they reach are both touched by these experiences.

"It was a wonderful experience for the children to have positive role models to look up to when the athletes visited," said teacher Joyce Castro of Fairchild Elementary, after some student athletes visited her classroom. "They are able to reach out to these children and make a difference."

"I enjoyed spending time with the children. You really feel like you've made a difference," said basketball player Alex Fraser, who helped run a basketball clinic for local children in the spring.

"Student-athlete appearances are good for the community, the University and the athletes themselves. It's a win-win situation for eveyone involved," said Roger Bell, UM's assistant director of academic support & student services.

Bell coordinates the appearances, which include visits to middle schools, high schools and special projects. Miami's student athletes appreciate his efforts and enjoy getting involved.

"Roger is always around to help us," said football player Ryan Collins. "He's always after us to get involved in the community, and I enjoy working with the children."

During this past off season, the 'Canes men's basketball ran a basketball clinic for children in conjunction with Metro-Dade Police and the North Dade Chamber of Commerce as part of the Community Day Celebration in the Cloverleaf area. The team also visited a children's hospital and spent time at a day camp for youth.

Miami players also speak to children on such topics as self-esteem, motivation, goal setting, staying in school, saying no to drugs, anti-smoking and crime prevention. These talks do make a difference.

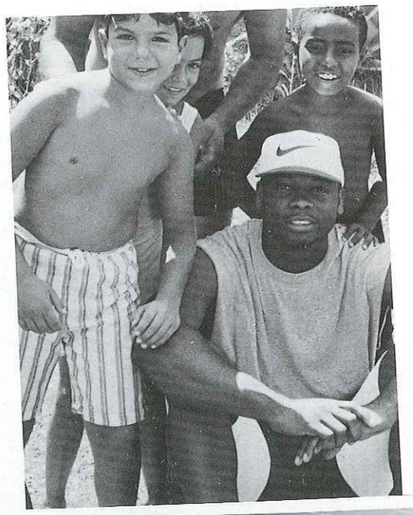

"The kids loved interacting with the student-athletes, and it was a good experience for my students to provide instruction in that type of atmosphere," said Dr. Robert Gropper, who teaches a class at Miami that gets the athletes to interact with students at local elementary schools.

"Many students start the program because of the class requirement, but many find it something they truly enjoy doing," Castro said.

Bell also oversees programs designed to prepare Miami's student athletes for their futures through events like "Career Day". On this day, Bell and the academic staff arrange for many prominent business leaders, in the areas of interest to the students to speak about their businesses and the skills needed to embark in their particular fields.

All these programs are designed to meet the special needs and experiences available to allow Miami's student athletes to give back to the community.

The program has been such a success, that anyone interested in scheduling appearances should contact Bell at (305) 284-3243.

Hurricane Warnings

Traditions Are Part of the Fun At Miami

THE HURRICANES

It began in controversy. Some reports say that the '27 football team held a meeting to select the nickname Hurricanes, hoping they would sweep away opponents just as the devastating storm did on September 16, 1926. Another version holds that the Miami News columnist Jack Bell asked end Porter Norris in 1926 what the team should be called. Told that local University dignitaries and officials wanted to name the team for a local flora or fauna, Norris said the players wouldn't stand for it and suggested "Hurricanes" since the opening game had been postponed by such a storm. From time to time, opposition has arisen to the name that would "reinforce Miami's negative reputation as a weather-beaten community living constantly under the threat of destruction. "But as one UM official rationalized in the 60's, "Does anyone think Chicago is overrun by bears just because the town has a football team by that name?"

THE U

In 1973, the UM Athletic Federation commissioned a local public relations expert to develop a distinctive logo.

SCHOOL COLORS

The school colors were selected in 1926 by a committee of Ruth Bryan Owens (daughter of famed attorney William Jennings Bryan), Harry Provin and Bertha Foster. Owens was a member of the board of regents and taught speech at the University. From her suggestion, the colors of the Florida orange tree were to represent UM – orange for the fruit itself, green for the leaves and white for the blossom.

SEBASTIAN THE IBIS

UM's yearbook adopted the name "Ibis" with its inception in 1926, and the local marsh bird was considered UM's first unofficial mascot. In 1958, student John Stormont performed at games in a glued, sewn and pinned together costume that was the forerunner of today's bird. Folklore has it that the Ibis, a symbol of knowledge found in the Everglades and Egypt, is the last sign of wildlife to take shelter before a hurricane and the first to reappear.

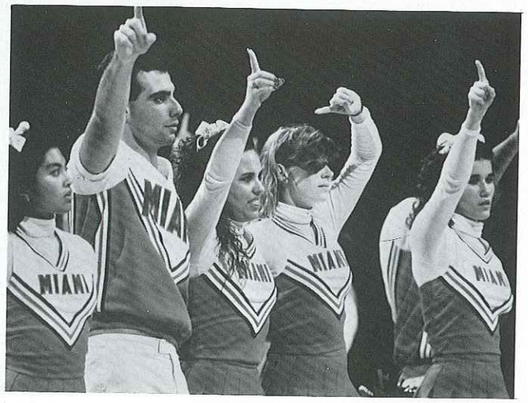

CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleaders perform at all home contests and The BIG EAST Tournament as well as all home and away football games. The squad also provides a valuable public relations function for the University by promoting season ticket sales, participating in recruiting events and appearing at many charity functions. The squad, which has travelled to both Japan and Europe, is under the direction of Coach Dan Reynolds and has been nationally ranked on a consistent basis.

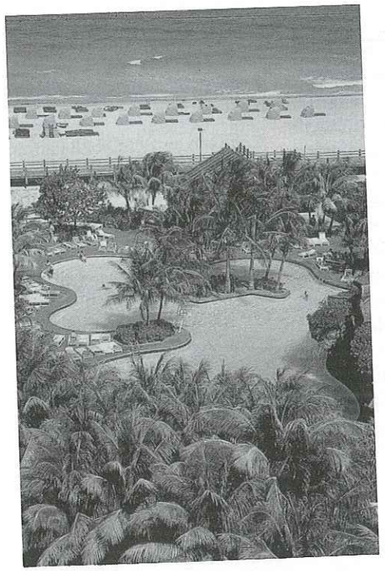

SUNSATIONS

Now in their eighth year of entertaining Hurricane fans, the Sunsations dance group is a squad of enthusiastic and talented performers developed specifically for basketball events. They perform at all home basketball and football games. The squad is coached by former member Natalie Latronico and has received national recognition.

Miami's A Winter Wonderland

No Snow & Ice Here, Just Sunny Skies & Warm Weather

Shorts in the wintertime? You bet! Located in the tropics, Miami boasts an average daily temperature of 84 degrees. With three hundred sunshine filled days a year, there is never a shortage of time to absorb this beautiful city's natural treasures. Eighty-four miles of Atlantic coastline, wonderfully pristine beaches and more than 670 parks are here to enjoy almost every day of the year. There's no need for winter coats here!

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

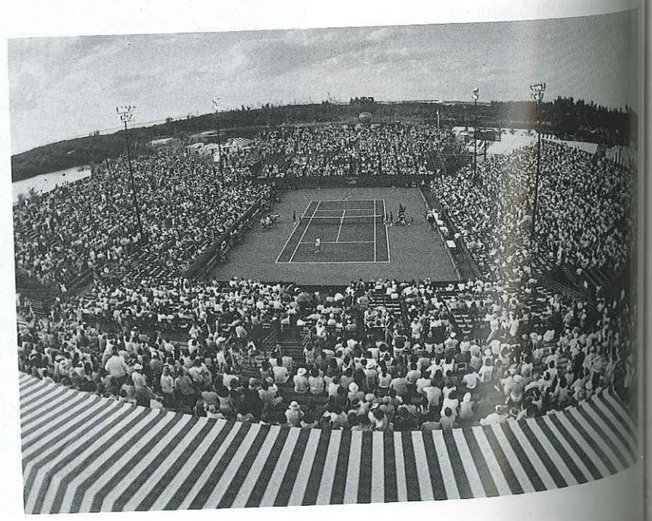

If the warm weather and nature are not your scene, don't worry. Miami has something for everyone. Often called the city of the future, Miami's dramatic skyscrapers, ultra-modern hotels and international financial district reflect the developing dynamics of Miami's core. Known as one of America's premier international destinations, its dramatic cultural diversity, thriving economy and cosmopolitan flair are apparent throughout its distinctive neighborhoods, which offer a diversity of entertainment.

PERFECT WEATHER FOR SPORTS

South Florida's mild climate year round makes it possible to enjoy outdoor recreational activities every month, and what a choice there is. Everything from golfing on some of the PGA's finest courses to scuba diving on some of the most beautiful reefs in the Atlantic is available in South Florida.

South Florida is one of only seven cities in the U.S. with a pro franchise in every sport. The NFL's AFC East Dolphins thrills fans every season at Joe Robbie Stadium. This sports complex hosts the 1995 Super Bowl this January and is home to one of the newest additions to Major League Baseball, the National League Florida Marlins. At the Miami Arena, the National Basketball Association's Miami Heat offers fast-paced action. The arena is also home to the National Hockey League's Florida Panthers and the Miami Hooters arena football team.

CULTURAL EVENTS ALL YEAR

Finally, Miami's tranquility is most visible at its frequent outdoor celebrations and festivals. Conch fritters, arroz con pollo, soul food and bagels. Salsa, polka, jazz, jig and rumba. Bagpipes, castanets, cowbells and steel drums play the melodies of distinct cultures.

Not a month passes that the people of this wonderful city are not celebrating their cultural and ethnic diversity. Whether it's a reggae fest, Little Havana's Calle Ocho, the Sunstreet Festival or a film and book festival, it all happens here.

Now if shopping is your thing, bring your wallet and a good pair of walking shoes because the weather is the only thing better than the shopping in Miami.

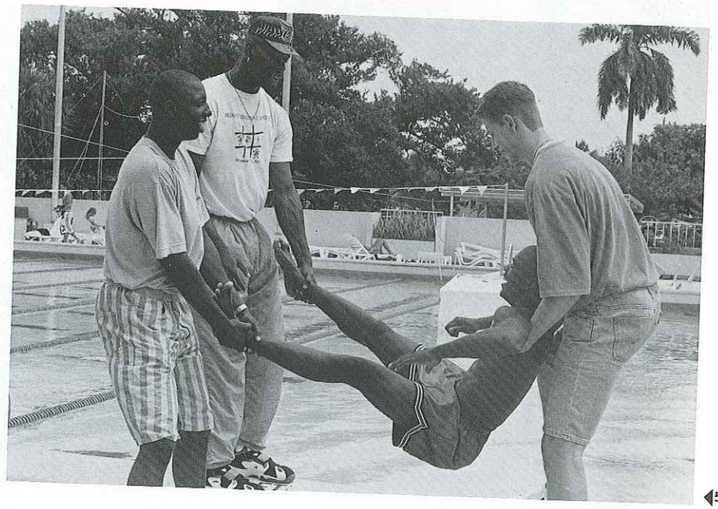

From flamboyant to the hip to the tailored, Greater Miami and the Beaches deserves an Oscar for best drama. From Aventura Mall with its more than 200 stores in the northeast corner of the county all the way to Dadeland Mall with more than 175 speciality shops, there are neighborhood shopping areas stretched along causeways, tucked around unexpected corners and plunked on city blocks just a few hundred feet shy of major thoroughfares. It's a shopper's Eden.

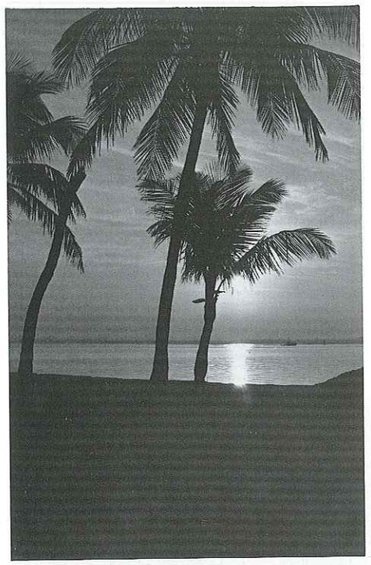

MIAMI'S GOT IT

So, whether it's shorts or a bathing suit, Miami's got the perfect weather all year long for you to enjoy your favorite past times!

Living In A Tropical Paradise

Miami's Got It All

Miami is suntans in December and warm breezes in March. The ocean. Palm trees swaying. The beaches. Bright sunshine and blue skies. A late-night moon that glows brighter than ever. It's a way of life in the tropical heart of the United States. It's a pride in the city, it's sunsets and salty air. With limitless outdoor activities and international flavor, Miami welcomes all to its shores. You'll find a special place in the sun with a lifestyle as vibrant and endless as the neighboring ocean.

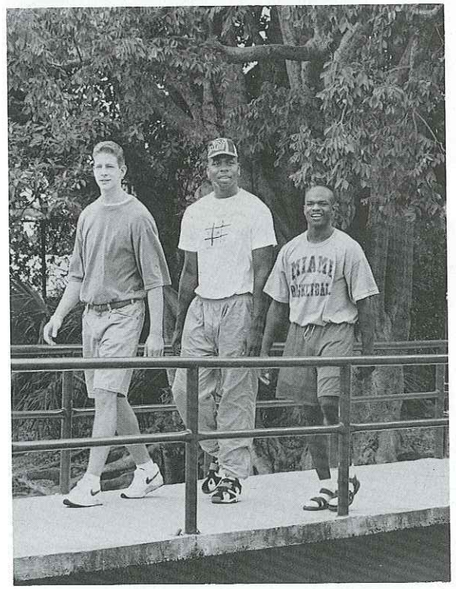

COCONUT GROVE HAS FUN NEARBY

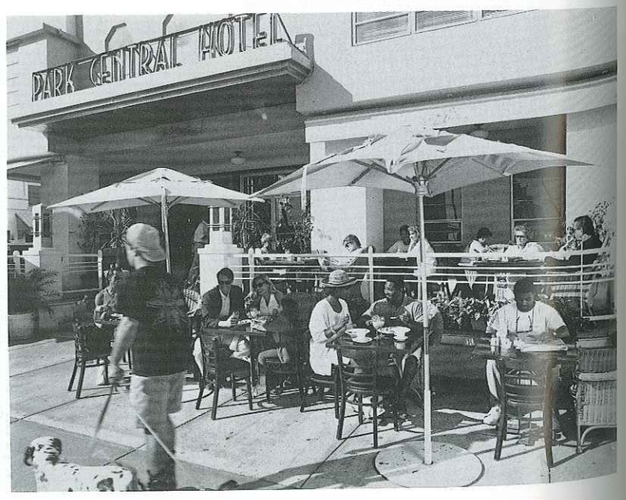

Just a short ten minute drive from the University campus, lies one of Miami's original pioneer settlements, Coconut Grove, which has evolved from a beatnik community into an upscale night life and shopping destination. Transplanted intellectuals, jet setters, artists, craftsmen and professionals converge to create an electric atmosphere that is the essence of the Grove. Located in the center of this carefree neighborhood is Coco Walk, the Grove's open-air retail and entertainment complex with shops, outdoor cafes, trendy nightclubs and a multi-screen theater, all in a European village setting.

SOUTH BEACH IS THE NEW RIVIERA

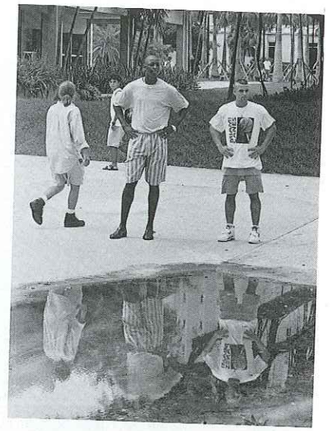

Travel a few more minutes north and you hit world famous Miami Beach and your chance to be discovered. Fashion models, writers, movie producers and famous entertainers are the new players in Miami Beach's renaissance. Miami Beach is a community on the move with stars like Gloria Estafan, Madonna, Sylvester Stallone and many more calling it home.

Renovated Art Deco buildings and hotels host international restaurants, open-air cafes and trendy nightclubs. Throughout this Atlantic coastline community, the restaurants feature a traditional South Florida favorite, stone crabs, and also turn out succulent rack of lamb, spicy international favorites and richly sauced pasta dishes.

In the past few years, images of "SoBe"(the SoHo of the south as South Beach is often called) have filled fashion magazines, films, and television shows from all over the world. International crews can be found filming throughout Greater Miami from dawn until dusk. Such recent films as "True Lies" and "Ace Ventura, Pet Detective" were filmed here. Feature films shot in Miami this year include "The Specialist", starring Sylvester Stallone and Sharon Stone, as well as Paramount Pictures' "Drop Zone" with Wesley Snipes and "The Perez Family" starring Marisa Tomei. You just never know who you'll run into on South Beach.

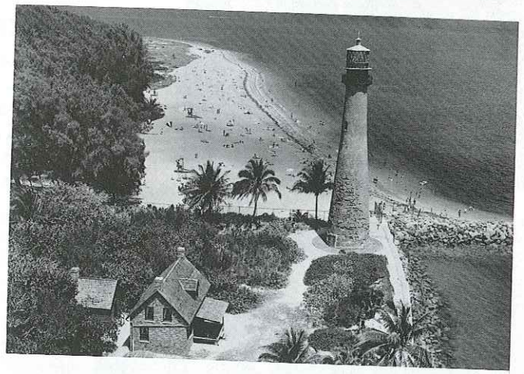

CORAL GABLES IS THE "CITY BEAUTIFUL"

The campus itself is located in quite beautiful Coral Gables. Founded by George Merrick 67 years ago, this "City Beautiful" hosts hemispheric headquarters for many multi-national corporations. The city's central boulevard is the famed Miracle Mile. It is here where residents and students enjoy some of the region's finest boutiques, gourmet restaurants and art galleries. In addition to its urban amenities, Coral Gables is distinguished by its natural terrain. Gracing 83 acres of the area's prime land is Fairchild Tropic Gardens, one of the largest tropical gardens in the continental United States. To the north lies the Venetian Pool. Often called the world's most beautiful swimming lagoon, it is surrounded by caves, cascading waterfalls and natural arched bridges.

KEY BISCAYNE OFFERS NATURAL FUN

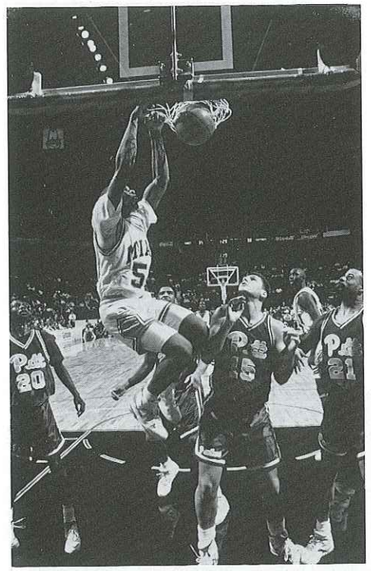

Once a coconut plantation, Key Biscayne maintains a natural beauty rare for an area in such close proximity to an urban center. The allure of this subtropical island lies in its beaches, distinctive accomodations and recreational diversions. The sweeping curve of Rickenbacker Causeway, the Key's link to the mainland, cradles Hobie Beach, a popular public playground for windsurfers.

Over Bear Cut Bridge lies Key Biscayne itself, a haven for sports enthusiasts and sun worshippers. Three miles of sandy beaches, one of the country's finest public 18-hole golf courses and courts holding world-class tennis tournaments like the Lipton, symbols of the island's first-class resort status, are located in the 500-acre Crandon Park area.

There's No Place Like Home

'Canes Play In NBA Arena

For the seventh consecutive year the Miami Hurricanes will call the Miami Arena home. This beautiful $56 million state-of-the-art facility, which was the site of the 1994 NCAA Tournament East Regional, contains 15,388 fully upholstered seats for basketball and 16 luxury boxes. The Miami Arena hosts about 150 events annually and has welcomed more than seven million spectators since opening in 1988.

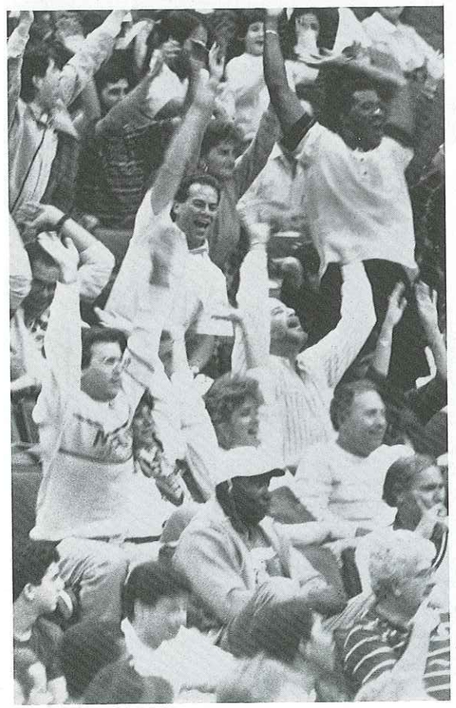

WHERE THE STARS TAKE CENTER COURT

In addition to serving as host for UM's men's basketball games, the Miami Arena is one of only nine arenas in the United States to be home to franchises from both the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League. Only two arenas, Miami Arena and Reunion Arena in Dallas, boast the NBA, NHL and the Arena Football League among its tenants. The Summer of 1993 also brought the professional Roller Hockey International League to the Arena floor.

HURRICANES ENJOY HOME ADVANTAGE

During their previous six seasons in the Miami Arena, the Hurricanes have compiled a 50-42 record. Included among the 50 wins are victories over defending national champion and No. 16-ranked Kansas in January of 1989 and an 11-point victory over 10th-ranked Georgetown in January of 1993. The resounding victory over the Hoyas marks the highest-ranked opponent the 'Canes have defeated since the rebirth of the program.

The Miami Arena is truly a community center which genuinely reflects the cultural, economic and civic diversity of South Florida. In addition to professional and collegiate sports, the Arena frequently hosts major concerts and family shows from Janet Jackson to Disney On Ice.

South Florida Is Sports Crazy

'Canes Are Part of the Fun

Miami may be best known for its lovely climate and beautiful beaches, but in recent years the city has taken its place as one of the world's greatest sports destinations. No matter what the sport, no matter what the time of year, there is never a dull moment. Miami has something for everyone. It is truly a sports fan's paradise.

HURRICANES BEGAN THE TREND

Leading the charge is the University of Miami which has set a high standard of excellence beginning with its inaugural football season in 1926. Since 1937 UM has played its home football games at the world famous Orange Bowl. This historic site has played host to 59 New Year's Day Bowl games and seven of the last eleven national championship games, including three of the University of Miami's four titles in 1983, 1987, and 1991.

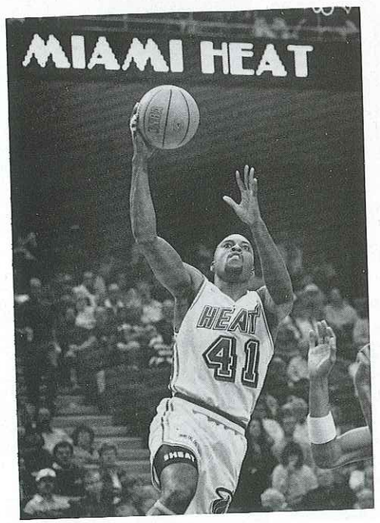

College athletics have set the standard and professional sports are keeping up the tradition. Miami is one of only seven U.S. cities that can boast a professional franchise from every major sports organization.

A MECCA FOR PRO SPORTS

The NFL Miami Dolphins thrill fans every season at Joe Robbie Stadium. This sports complex will host its second Super Bowl in 1995. Joe Robbie Stadium is also the home to the newest addition to Major League Baseball, the Florida Marlins.

The NBA Miami Heat and the Miami Hurricanes offer basketball fans fast-paced action during the winter at the Miami Arena. The two teams also spend most of the summer working out together. The Arena is also home to the NHL Florida Panthers as well as the Miami Hooters arena football team and the Florida Hammerheads roller hockey franchise. In 1994 the arena and University hosted the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament East Regional at the Miami Arena. Other events such as professional wrestling and professional world figure skating are often scheduled there.

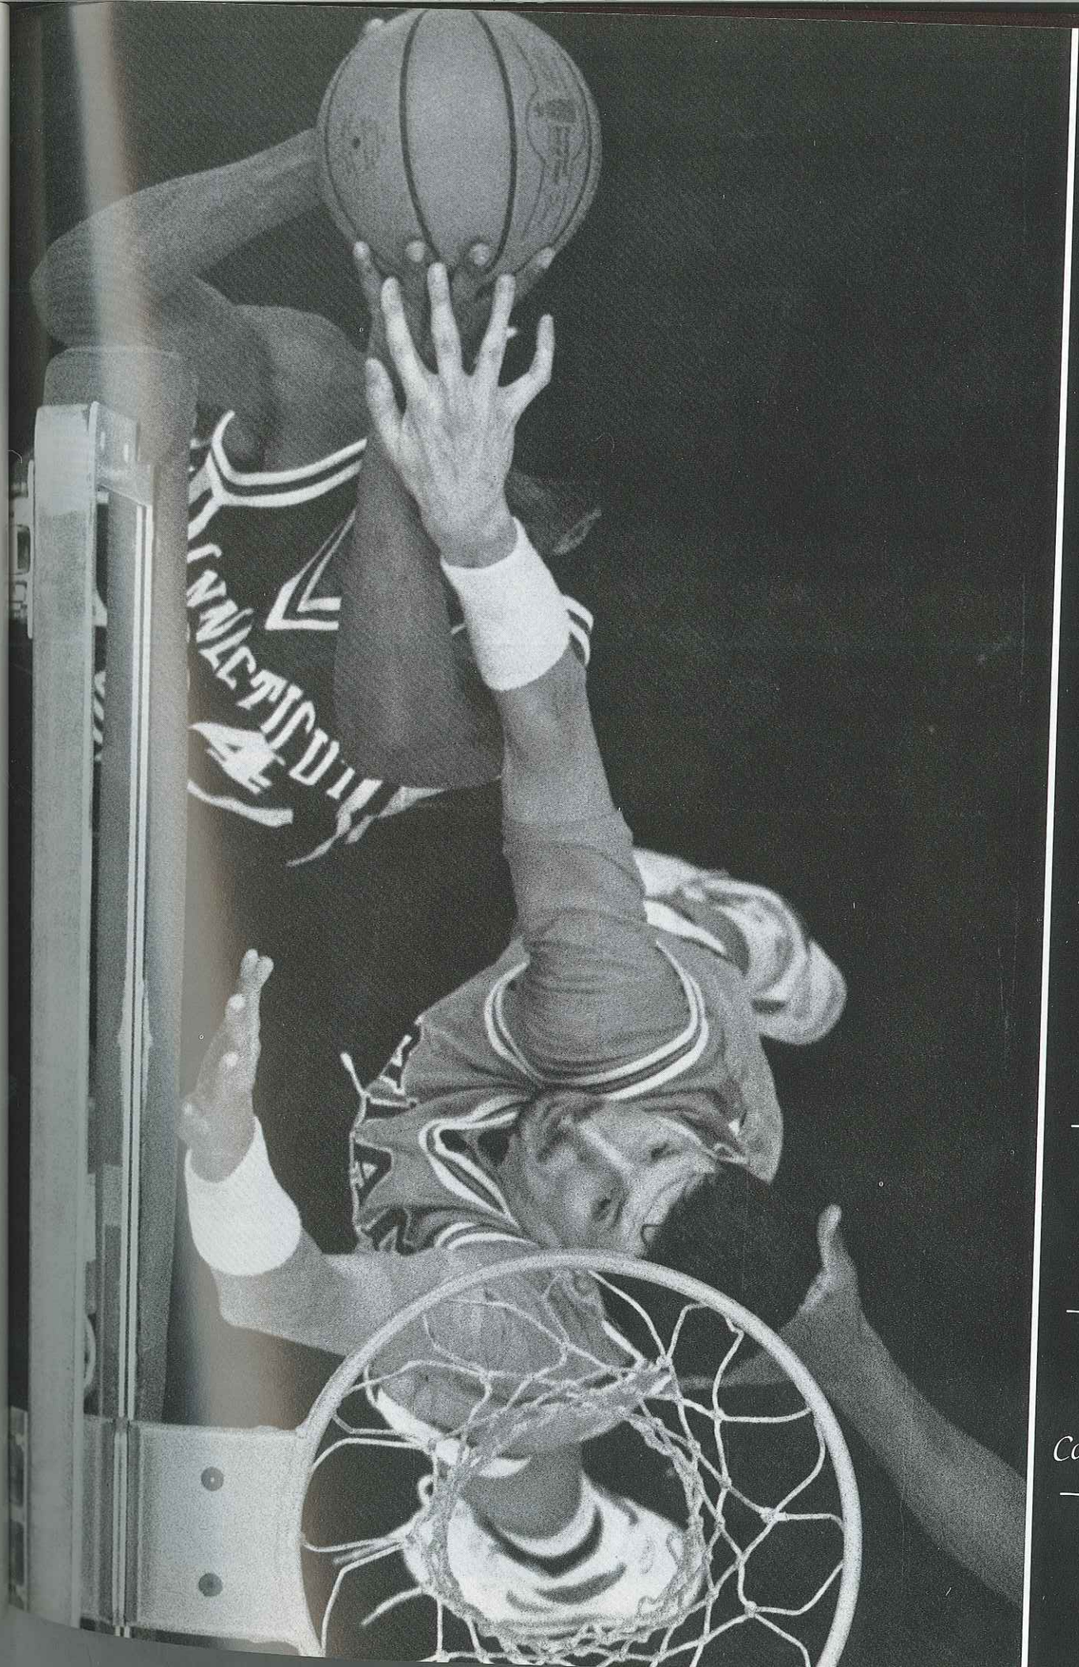

INTERNATIONAL SPORTING EVENTS

Downtown Miami isn't the only place to catch great sports action. Miami's beaches host an impressive array of sports venues. The Homestead Sports Complex is the host site of the national Olympic baseball trials and on Key Biscayne the International Tennis Center is home to the Lipton Players Championships. Greater Miami and the beaches are also the sight of the Doral-Ryder Open and the Royal Caribbean Classic, two of the PGA's top tournaments, as well as the Miami Grand Prix, one of the premier events on the International Motor Sports Association's circuit.

Greater Miami and the beaches have become a hot bed of sports. Fast-paced Big League action, thrilling championship tournaments and motor sports all combined with spectacular year-round weather make Miami a world-class sports mecca. Even the most demanding sports enthusiasts will find Miami a perfect place.

The BIG EAST Conference

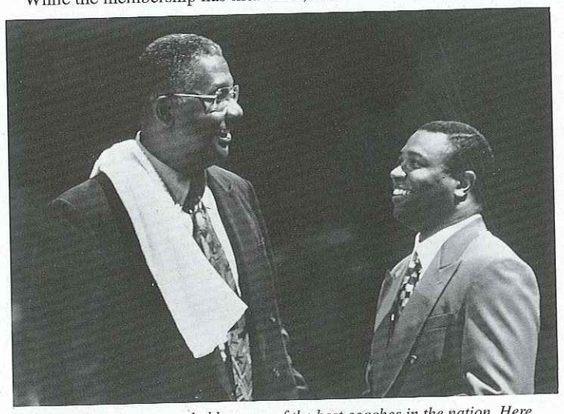

STRONG START

Since its inception on May 31,1979, The BIG EAST Conference has always pledged to be a proactive group. That credo may never have been more in evidence than in 1994 when the league added three new institutions as full members in two separate expansions.

In March, the BIG EAST added Rutgers University and West Virginia University as full-time members. Both schools, which boast wide-ranging, successful athletic programs, had been members of The BIG EAST Football Conference. In July, The BIG EAST, then a group of 12, added the University of Notre Dame, one of the nation's most prestigious private institutions. All three schools will begin BIG EAST competition in the 1995-96 academic year.

During a period of tremendous volatility in collegiate conference realignment, The BIG EAST has been lauded for its additions and the maintaining of its role as a major player in collegiate athletics.

While the membership has increased, the focus of The BIG EAST remains unchanged. It is a group that reflects a tradition of broad-based programs, led by administrators and coaches who place a constant emphasis on academic integrity.

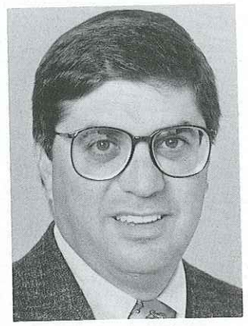

The BIG EAST teams are led by some of the best coaches in the nation. Here UM's Leonard Hamilton and Georgetown's John Thompson talk before their teams tipped off last season.

NATIONAL LEADER

Today, The BIG EAST Conference enjoys a leadership role nationally. Its student-athletes boast significantly high graduation rates and their record of scholastic achievement notably reflects a balance between intercollegiate athletics and academics.

A prime example of the BIG EAST student-athlete is Connecticut's Rebecca Lobo, who in 1993-94, was chosen as both the BIG EAST Women's Basketball Player of the Year, as well as the BIG EAST Soft & Dri Women's Basketball Scholar-Athlete of the Year. She is the first BIG EAST women's basketball player to earn both awards. In addition, she earned Kodak All-America First Team status, while also being named to the GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-American First Team.

Michael Tranghese
Commissioner

SOLID GROWTH

While the BIG EAST certainly made its splash with men's basketball as its signature program, the conference also has enjoyed a steady, wide-ranging growth. It now sponsors 19 championships.

Any successful consortium enjoys outstanding leadership. Michael Tranghese, the league's first full-time employee, and for 11 years the associate of Dave Gavitt, took over as Commissioner in June, 1990, after Gavitt left for a position with the Celtics.

The addition of Rutgers, West Virginia and Notre Dame are the latest of Tranghese's achievements. In his first year, he administered the addition of Miami and the formation of The BIG EAST Football Conference.

MIAMI JOINED IN 1990

The University of Miami became the league's 10th full member on October 10, 1990. The largest private institution in the Southeast, Miami is a prized addition to a conference already noted for a successful co-existence of academics and athletics.

BIG EAST sports attract the interest of followers in the nation's largest media markets within New England, the New York metropolitan area, Washington D.C., Pennsylvania and Florida. Innovative concepts in promotion and publicity, particularly regarding television, have resulted in unparalleled visibility for BIG EAST student-athletes. Exclusive long-range television contracts with CBS and ESPN, as well as the unique operative known as The BIG EAST Conference Television Network, provide BIG EAST basketball with more television exposure than any other conference.

The addition of Rutgers and West Virginia will strengthen the BIG EAST's geographic hold on the Northeast. Notre Dame will open doors in the Midwest.

Also, other BIG EAST championship events in track, men's soccer, women's basketball and baseball have been seen on various cable networks across the country.

While BIG EAST basketball games are regular sellouts, attendance figures also are significant at BIG EAST soccer, women's basketball and baseball games.

ALL-AMERICANS

More than 200 BIG EAST athletes have earned All-America recognition, and dozens have won individual NCAA national championships. The BIG EAST has been represented in U.S. or foreign national and Olympic teams, with several athletes earning gold medals in the 1992, 1988 and 1984 Olympics.

The BIG EAST became a reality on May 31, 1979, following a meeting of athletic directors from Providence College, St. John's, Georgetown, and Syracuse Universities. Seton Hall, Connecticut, and Boston College completed the original seven school alliance. Further expansion included Villanova (1980-81), Pittsburgh (1982-83), and Miami (1991-92). Rutgers, West Virginia, and Notre Dame were added in 1994 and will begin participation in the '95-'96 academic year.

Nation's Most Televised League

ACROSS THE COUNTRY

The BIG EAST will again be the most televised basketball conference in the nation. BIG EAST teams will receive more national exposure than any other league, and the BIG EAST Television Network, will continue to produce games on a regional basis.

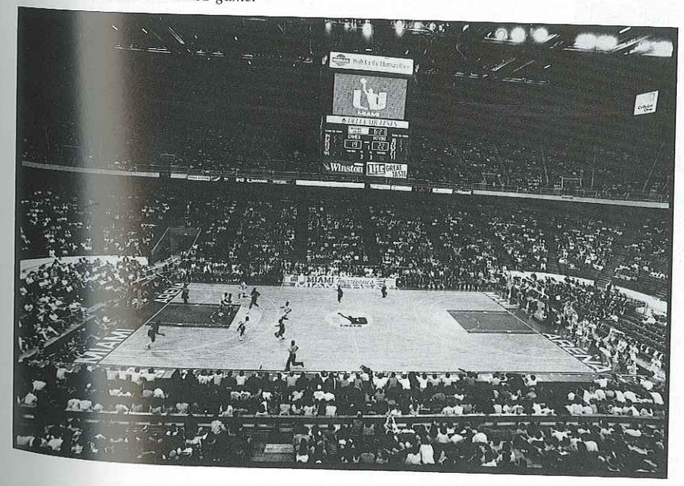

The BIG EAST has long been an innovative leader in its approach to negotiating and approving television packages for the league's member schools. BIG EAST schools are located in six of the top 17 markets and seven of the top 23. BIG EAST television markets include almost one-third of the nation's television homes.

SUCCESSFUL PARTNERSHIP WITH CBS

The league was the first to sign an exclusive contract with a major network (CBS) and a national cable network (ESPN). In 1985, the BIG EAST became the first league to act as its own syndicator by forming the BIG EAST Conference Television Network. Under the supervision of Commissioner Mike Tranghese and Senior Associate Commissioner Tom McElroy, the BIG EAST Network produces games for telecast in each school's local market.

Currently, the BIG EAST is in the middle of a multi-year agreement with CBS. The BIG EAST and CBS have been television partners for the past 11 years, the last eight on an exclusive basis. The initial agreement was made in 1985. The current contract provides for 24 appearances per season, including seven conference games, five intersectional contests and the semifinals and championship

When 10,896 fans packed the Miami Arena on February 15, 1992, it was the largest home crowd to watch a Hurricane BIG EAST game.

BIG EAST & ESPN

The BIG EAST and ESPN have grown together. In 1979-80, ESPN began the "Monday Night Game of the Week" concept which was also the first year of existence for the BIG EAST. The current deal with the national cable network calls for ESPN to televise 18 conference games as part of their Big Monday and Wednesday formats along with four intersectional games.

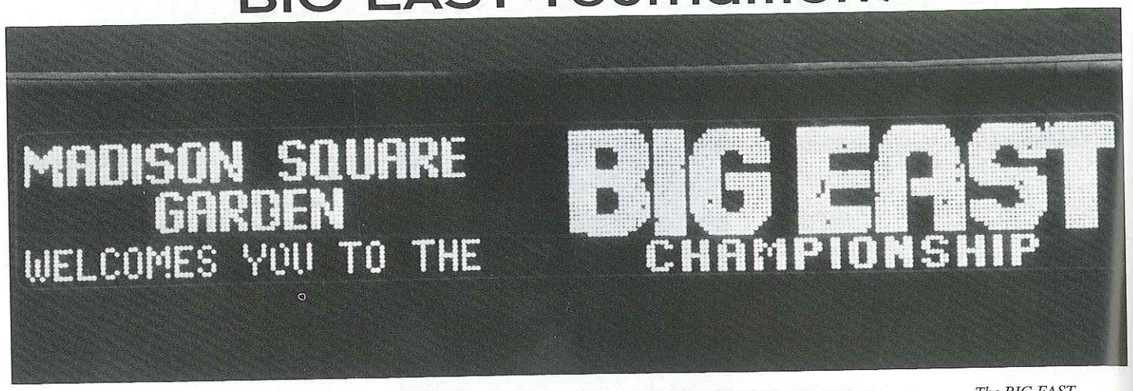

MIAMI ON TV

This season, the Hurricanes will have a minimum of 19 contests carried on television. In addition to carrying 12 BIG EAST Network produced games (regular and post season), the Sunshine Network will produce and air six additional non-conference games for the Hurricanes. Sunshine Network is the regional cable supplier for Florida. Local sportscaster Frank Forte and former Hurricane Tim Dawson will once again form the broadcast team and begin work with the 'Canes first game of the season against Northeastern Illinois.

Ron Perry and Mike Gorman call the shots this year for BIG EAST games.

University of Miami Hurricane Basketball History - 1926-1994

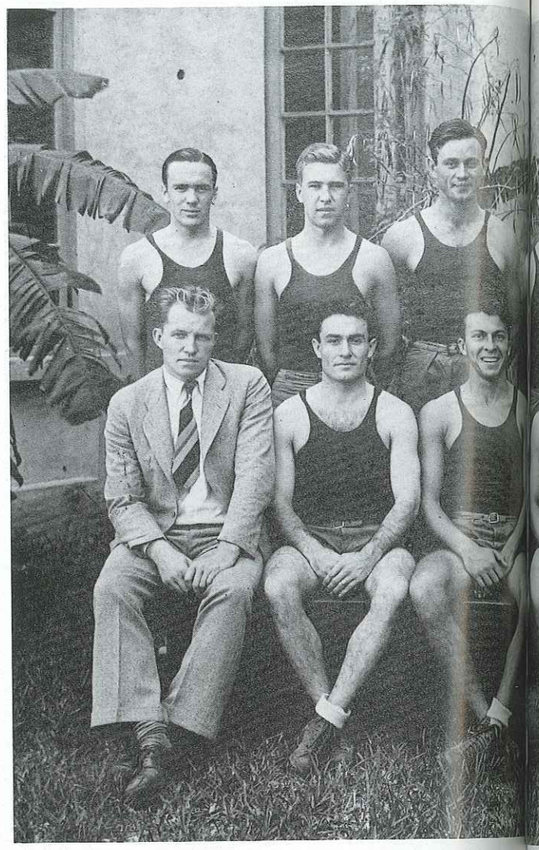

It lay silent for 14 years. Collecting dust and going unnoticed, the Miami basketball program was the Rip VanWinkle of college basketball from 1971 to 1985. Now, Hurricane Basketball is back. In a big way.

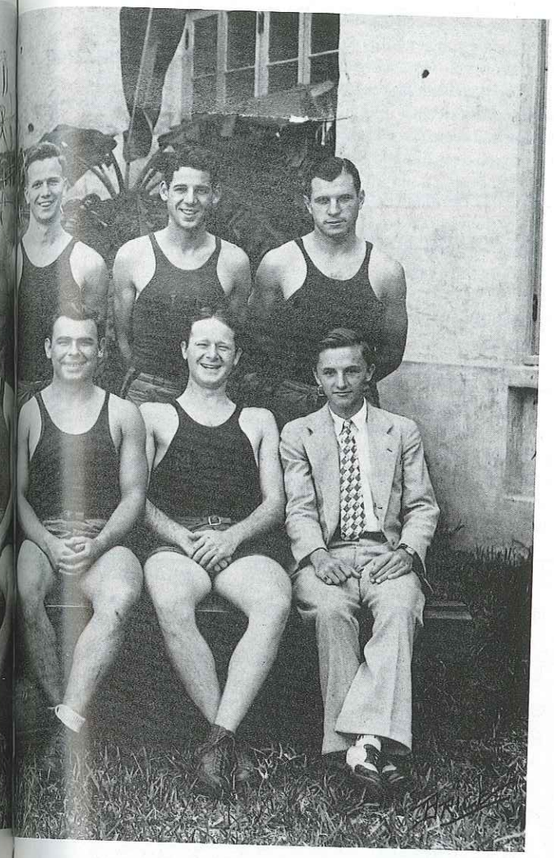

Since 1985 the Miami program has undergone such dramatic and frequent changes, it seemed that the Hurricanes were continually entering "a new era." First came the "Era of Miami Basketball" itself. Then came the "Bill Foster Era," followed by the "Tito Horford Era," The Leonard Hamilton Era," and finally "The BIG EAST Era."

The latest step taken by the blossoming Hurricane program serves as the most dramatic in the 42 seasons and 67 years since the team's formation. With the entry into the BIG EAST Conference, the University of Miami not only shed its previous life-long status as an independent, it entered the ranks of the most competitive and successful basketball conference in the nation.

The road to conference affiliation in the BIG EAST has not been an easy one for those who have thirsted for basketball in this continually prospering section of the country. Moreover, the previous path traveled by Miami basketball players, coaches and fans was dotted by flashes of brilliance, color and sometimes disappointment.

Here is a capsule summary of the 67 years of Miami basketball that have intermittently played a part in the history of the athletic program at the University and its neighboring community.

The 1920s
Miami's First Time

• The Hurricanes fielded a freshman team in 1926-27, finishing 7-1 under Head Coach Art Webb.

• In 1927-28, the first official varsity basketball team at the University of Miami posted an 8-4 mark, knocking off Rollins, 51-15, in the opener.

The 1930s
A Missing Link

• Miami records list no official results from 1932 through 1938. During that period of time, representatives from the school played local AAU and church sponsored teams under Coach Tom McCann.

• The Hurricanes returned to intercollegiate competition in the 1938-39 season, posting a 4-6 record under Head Coach Hart Morris.

Coach Hart Morris

The 1940s
World War II Stops Play

• Like many other institutions across the nation, Miami dropped intercollegiate basketball during the war years of 1942-1945.

• Morris returned as head coach along with the program in 1946 and was the UM mentor until 1952 when Dave Wike took over for a two-year stint as the UM coach.

The 1950s
UM's Glory Years

• In 1954, the University named Bruce Hale as its head basketball coach. The retired Air Force captain and former professional basketball star held the UM head coaching post for 13 seasons, leading the Hurricane program through its glory years of intercollegiate basketball. Before the end of Hale's tenure in 1967, the Hurricanes won 220 games and lost 112 for a .663 winning percentage. Hale's first Miami team turned in a 9-11 record, but there were no other losing campaigns in the next 12 years. The streak of non-losing seasons extended in the 1968-69 season – marking 14 consecutive campaigns of .500 basketball or better for UM.

• Hale's 1959-60 club was the only UM men's basketball team to ever advance to the NCAA Tournament and finish the season ranked in the Associated Press Top 10. That 1959-60 edition ran its record to 23-3 before bowing to Western Kentucky, 107-84, in the first round of the tournament.

• During that historic '59-60 NCAA Tournament year, junior guard Dick Hickox became the first UM basketball player to earn All-America recognition. Hickox averaged 22.1 points per game during that season en route to becoming a second-team AP and UPI All-American.

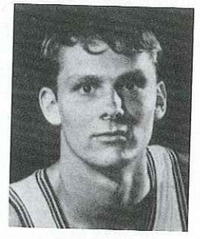

The 1960s
Rick Barry's All-American Years

• The Dick Hickox-led Hurricanes of 1960-61 returned to post-season play — falling in the first round of the NIT to St. Louis, 58-56. The 1960-61 squad compiled a 20-7 record.

• In 1962-63, Miami advanced to the second round of the NIT before falling to Providence, 106-96. An opening round NIT victory over St. Francis (NY), 71-70, marks the only Miami victory to date in post season play.

• From 1962 through 1965, Miami recorded three consecutive twenty-win seasons, rolling up a composite record of 65-16. The star of these Hurricane glory teams was a brilliant scorer named Rick Barry.

• In 1964-65, Barry became the Hurricanes' only consensus All-America selection. The 6-7, 200-pound native of Roselle Park, New Jersey led the nation in scoring with a 37.4 average in his senior season. He went on to become the only player in basketball history to win single-season scoring titles in the NCAA, ABA and NBA. He was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA, in 1986.

Rick Barry
UM's 1st Consensus All-American (1961-65)

• The 1964-65 Miami squad, led by Barry's scoring brilliance, established a new NCAA offense record by averaging 98.4 points per game. The 'Canes, however, were not allowed to participate in the NCAA Tournament that year — after posting a 22-4 record — because of recruiting violations.

• Bruce Hale resigned after 1966-67 and assistant Ron Godfrey assumed the head coaching responsibilities.

Dick Hickox was named UM's first All-American in 1960. He led UM to a 23-3 record, the Hurricanes' first NCAA tournament and the school's only final regular-season Associated Press Top 10 ranking.

As second-team All-American Don Curnutt's career came to an end in the 1970s, so did Miami's first era of basketball.

The 1970s
First Era Ends

• Don Curnutt closed out his Miami basketball career in 1970 as the Hurricanes' third and last player to receive All-America recognition.

• February 27, 1971 — The last victory by a University of Miami men's basketball team came in the second to the last game of the season, a 100-94 triumph over Florida State at home in the Dinner Key Auditorium. The 'Canes shot a season-high 62.5% from the floor as all five Miami starters scored in double figures.

• March 1, 1971 — After posting a four-year record of 47-56 at Miami, Ron Godfrey resigned his post as head basketball coach, effective following Miami's final game of the season against nationally ranked Jacksonville.

• March 2, 1971 — The last game played by a University of Miami men's team until 1985 took place at the Dinner Key Auditorium where one of the largest UM home crowds in years turned out to see the Hurricanes host nationally ranked Jacksonville. The Dolphins handed Miami a 94-75 loss that remained as UM's last contest for the next 14 years.

• April 22, 1971 — The University of Miami Board of Trustees voted to drop the sport "temporarily until such time as a permanent field house can be constructed on the main campus." Sagging attendance figures and serious financial losses were also believed to contribute to the discontinuation of basketball at UM.

In 1983
UM Commits To Rebuilding

• July 15, 1983 — Sam Jankovich was named athletic director at the University of Miami. Coming to UM after a successful stint as the athletic director at Washington State, Jankovich immediately announced that the resurrection of men's basketball at Miami would be his primary priority in the early months of his tenure, enabling UM to have "one of the nation's most complete and visible overall programs in the country.

• October 12, 1983 — The University of Miami Board of Trustees unanimously voted to reinstate men's basketball at the University of Miami. The Board made the decision after reviewing a report submitted by newly hired Athletic Director Sam Jankovich which stated that men's basketball can be a revenue-producing venture. Moreover, nearly $500,000 had already been raised in support of bringing basketball back to the University. It was also announced that the Hurricanes would be ready to compete on the Division I level in the 1985-86 season, and the downtown James L. Knight Center was home for the reborn program.

"This is an exciting day for the University and for the athletic program," UM President Edward T. Foote, II said. "And we are keeping in mind the priorities of academics first and athletics second ... we are pleased that the changes in the economics of intercollegiate basketball allow the University to resurrect one of the country's most popular sports. We look forward to welcoming these Hurricanes home again."

Foster Hired As Coach

• March 21, 1984 — Bill Foster, a 47-year-old native of Hemingway, South Carolina was named the seventh men's basketball coach at the University of Miami. Foster came to Miami after 19 years as a head coach at three different institutions: Shorter College, North Carolina-Charlotte and Clemson. Foster also announced on this day that Clint Bryant, a long-time assistant at Clemson, would also join the Miami staff in a similar capacity.

• April 9, 1984 – Bill Foster announced the hiring of a second assistant coach, Seth Greenberg, who was serving as an assistant coach to Terry Holland at the University of Virginia.

• April 16, 1984 – Tim Harvey, a 6-10, 240-pound center, became the first basketball player to commit to the University of Miami in over 14 years. The Plainfield, New Jersey native announced that he would transfer to Miami after spending two seasons in the Georgia Tech University program.

• July 1, 1984 – A third assistant coach was hired to complete the basketball staff as Miami native Cesar Odio returned home after serving as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Florida Southern College.

Players are available prior to the start of practice. Post-practice interviews will be available on a limited basis. THERE WILL BE NO PLAYER INTERVIEWS ON GAME DAYS.

PRACTICE ATTENDANCE

The majority of UM basketball workouts will be closed. However selected workouts and scrimmages will be open to the media. For pre-practice interviews and scrimmage attendance, all media guests are required to check in with the UM Sports Information Office. THE UM LOCKER ROOM, WEIGHT ROOM AND TRAINING ROOM ARE OFF LIMITS TO THE MEDIA THROUGHOUT THE SEASON.

PRESS CREDENTIALS

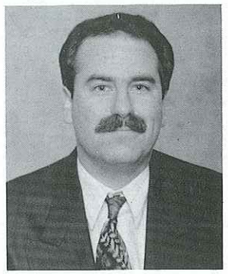

Credentials for UM home games are to be used by the working media only and should be requested in writing on letterhead stationery at least two weeks in advance. TELEPHONES

Four courtside telephone lines will be available to visiting media for a fee of $100 per line used payable in advance of the game by check made out to the University of Miami. The lines are restricted to credit card and collect long distance calls only. Please contact Carol Recicar at the UM Sports Information Office to reserve these lines. The flagship radio station for visiting teams will have priority in reserving line use. It is recommended that media with deadline concerns who do not reserve a line through the Miami SID office order phones by calling Southern Bell at 1-800-753-7289 or (305) 780-2830.
