2003-04 Season Preview

The University of Miami men's basketball enters the 2004-05 season with renewed vigor. This season the Hurricanes will be led by a new head coach, Frank Haith, and will begin play in a new conference, the ACC.

Haith, who was named Miami's 11th head basketball coach on April 12, inherits a men's basketball program that returns eight lettermen, including two starters, from last season's 14-16 squad.

The Backcourt

Miami's two returning starters are in the backcourt where junior Robert Hite and sophomore Guillermo Diaz give UM one of the most potent guard tandems in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Hite (6-2, 190), Miami top returning scorer, was one of the most improved players in the BIG EAST last season averaging 15.2 points, 3.6 rebounds, 2.0 assists and 2.0 steals per game.

He shot 168-344 (.488) from the field, 51-135 (.378) from three-point range, and a team-best 68-79 (.861) from the line. His 25 double-figure scoring games last season tied for the best on the squad and he also led the team in dunks with 29 and steals with 61.

Diaz (6-2, 186) burst on the scene last season to become one on Miami's top offensive threats as a freshman. Diaz, a former member of the Puerto Rico Junior National Volleyball team, averaged 11.8 points, 2.9 rebounds, 2.2 assists and 1.3 steals per game last season to earn BIG EAST All-Freshman honors.

He connected on 132-268 (.493) field goal attempts and led the team in three-point shooting hitting 35-76 (.461) from behind the arc. Diaz really heated up once the conference season started averaging 12.4 points while shooting 25-49 (.510) from three-point range in BIG EAST contests.

Also returning is junior Eric Wilkins (6-4, 192) who played in 30 games last season. Wilkins, a defensive specialist, started 16 games a year ago averaging 3.9 points and 2.0 rebounds per game while shooting 47-92 (.511) from the field. Wilkins gives Miami an experienced performer in the backcourt having played in 58 career games, including 22 starts, the last two seasons.

Adding depth to the Hurricanes' backcourt are senior Brandon Okpalobi (6-2, 188) and sophomore Anthony Harris (6-2, 180).

Okpalobi played in 18 games last season, making one start, and averaged 1.6 points, 1.5 rebounds and 1.1 assists in 10.1 minutes per game. Harris, who can play either the point or shooting guard, also played in 18 games last season averaging 1.4 points per game. Harris showed his potential in last season's final game against West Virginia scoring nine points in 10 minutes and connecting on 3-4 three-point field goals.

Miami's returning group of guards is arguably one of the most athletic in the nation boasting an average vertical leap of 38.4 inches. Diaz leads the way with a 41 inch vertical, followed by Wilkins (39.5 inches), Hite (39.0 inches), Harris (36.5 inches) and Okpalobi (36.0 inches).

Joining Miami this season is freshman Antoine Mayhand (6-2, 200). The native of Washington, DC averaged 23 points, seven rebounds and eight assists per game last season at Massanutten Military Academy in Woodstock, VA. He played his high school basketball at HD Woodson where he led the team to an 88-7 record and two state championship appearances in three seasons as a starter. He averaged 27 points per game as a senior and 26 points per game as a junior earning All-DCIAA honors both seasons.

The Frontcourt

Miami lost four-time All-BIG EAST performer Darius Rice to graduation following last season but the Hurricanes may be even deeper up front this season.

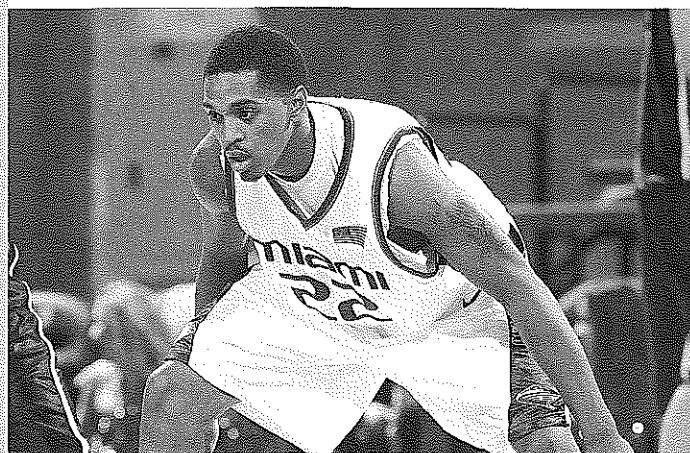

The Hurricanes return three frontcourt performers including senior William Frisby (6-8, 235), junior Gary Hamilton (6-10, 250) and sophomore Anthony King (6-9, 230).

Frisby was Miami's top offensive threat in the paint last season averaging 6.3 points per game. He played in 22 games last season, making eight starts, and led the team in field goal percentage connecting on 49-89 (.551) of his attempts. Frisby was also reliable from the line where he shot 40-53 (.755).

Hamilton brings the most experience to the UM frontcourt having played in 59 career games including nine starts. Last season Hamilton played in 29 games, making one start, averaging 3.5 points and 4.4 rebounds per game. He was also the Hurricanes top post defender with a team-high 26 blocks.

Sophomore Anthony King also returns this season. King, a native of Durham, NC played in 21 games as a freshman last season averaging 1.0 points and 2.1 rebounds in 6.8 minutes per game.

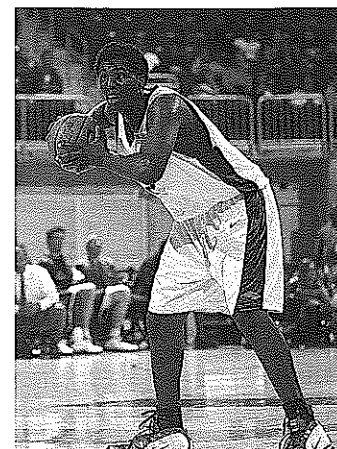

Miami welcomes Fordham transfer Glenn Batemon (6-11, 335) to the fold this season after sitting out all of last season due to NCAA transfer rules. Batemon started 53 games at center in two seasons at Fordham and averaged 10.4 points and 5.6 rebounds per game as a sophomore.

Also joining the Hurricanes this season is freshman Raymond Hicks (6-7, 232). Hicks, from Longview, Texas, averaged 21.2 points and 10.1 rebounds per game last season leading Longview High School to a 29-4 record and its first District title in seven years. He earned District 11-5A Co-MVP honors and was selected a Texas High School Coaches Association Basketball All-Star. Hicks left Longview as the school-record holder for points in a game (42), season (698) and career (1,487).

Adding depth to the frontcourt will be junior Keaton Copeland (6-5, 231). Copeland, an Electrical Engineering major, joined the team this summer. He averaged 11 points and 11 rebounds per game as a senior at Flanagan High School in Pembroke Pines, FL.

The Schedule

The University of Miami will play 14 games against teams that reached postseason last season, highlighted by visits from 2004 NCAA Final Four participant Duke, NCAA Tournament runner-up Georgia Tech, and intrastate rival Florida State.

The 2004-05 campaign will mark the Hurricanes' inaugural season in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Miami opens its ACC schedule versus last season's NCAA finalist Georgia Tech on January 6 in Atlanta. Miami's first conference home game at the Convocation Center will take place January 9 against North Carolina State.

Miami's ACC home schedule includes games versus intra-state rival Florida State (Jan. 15), Duke (Jan. 19), Clemson (Jan. 26), Virginia Tech (Feb. 2), defending ACC Tournament Champion Maryland (Feb. 5), Wake Forest (Feb. 15) and Georgia Tech (Feb. 26).

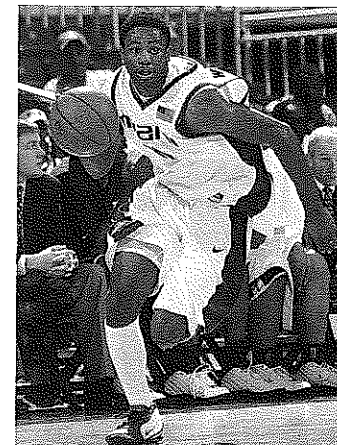

The Hurricane's ACC road schedule includes games at Virginia (Jan. 12), North Carolina (Jan. 22), Wake Forest (Jan. 29), Clemson (Feb. 12), Virginia Tech (Feb. 19), Florida State (Feb. 22) and Duke (March 3).

Miami opens its regular season schedule at home against Wofford on November 20 and will travel to intra-state rival Florida on December 4 and inner-city rival Florida International on December 7. Miami's non-conference home schedule includes games versus state rival Florida Atlantic (Nov. 29) and Atlantic 10 power Massachusetts (Dec. 12).

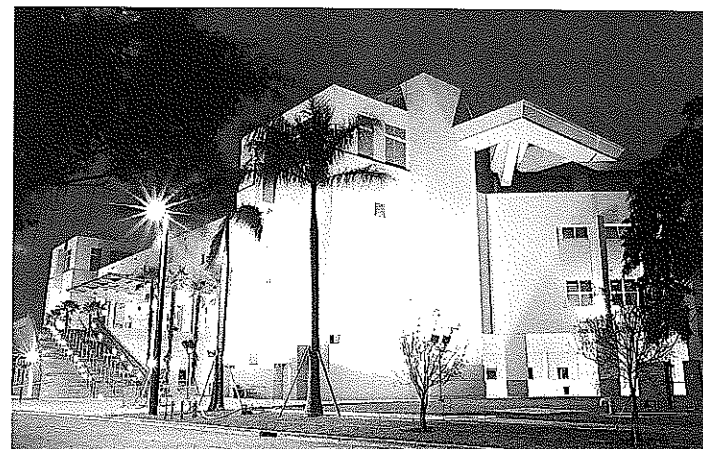

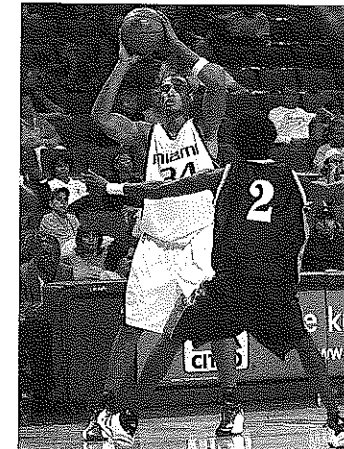

In addition, the Hurricanes will take on Xavier at the Orange Bowl Basketball Classic at AmericanAirlines Arena on November 27. Xavier reached the Elite Eight at last season's NCAA Tournament.

His 1.32 average ranked ninth among the BIG EAST's top 20 scorers.

Hurricane News & Notes

WORKING OVERTIME:

Miami played in four overtime games last season. In 2002-03 Miami played a school single-season record five overtime games. Miami has played at least one overtime contest in each of the last six seasons. The 'Canes own a 25-28 overall record in overtime contests during their history (5-6 in double-overtime games and a 20-22 mark in single-overtime contests).

VERSUS RANKED OPPONENTS:

The Hurricanes are 19-21 versus ranked opponents since 1996-97 and have defeated at least one ranked team in nine of the last 10 seasons. Miami is 28-87 (.243) all-time against ranked teams including a 25-73 (.255) record since the rebirth of the program in 1985.

EASY AS 1, 2, 3:

Miami failed to hit a three-point basket against Indiana during the 2001-02 season marking just the third time in school-history that UM failed to connect on at least one three-pointer. Miami has hit at least one trey in 520 of 523 games since the NCAA adopted the three-point shot in 1986. The Hurricanes have made a three-point basket in 74 consecutive games. The only other games in which UM failed to hit a three-pointer were against St. John's on March 5, 2000 (0-13) and against Howard University on December 6, 1991 (0-15). Administration

Donna E. Shalala
University President

Donna E. Shalala became the fifth President of the University of Miami on June 1, 2001. President Shalala is an accomplished scholar, teacher, and administrator whose career has been marked by a variety of leadership positions reflecting her interest in young people. She also is a big sports fan!

Shalala was influenced by her mother, Edna, a former nationally ranked tennis player, while growing up in Cleveland, Ohio.

While attending college, she played tennis and still plays a competitive game of doubles. She also enjoys golf, skiing and other outdoor activities.

In 1987 President Shalala, a distinguished political scientist, became the first woman chancellor of a Big Ten university, the University of Wisconsin-Madison. She led what was then the nation's largest public research university, raising more than $400 million for the endowment, and spearheaded a $225 million state-private partnership program to renovate and add to the university's research facilities. In 1992 Business Week magazine named her one of the top five managers in higher education.

President Shalala's success at Wisconsin was reflected in athletics as well. She hired a new football coach, recruiting Barry Alvarez from Notre Dame. Four years later, Wisconsin won the Big Ten football championship and represented its conference in the Rose Bowl for the first time in 30 years. President Shalala served on the first Knight Commission, a committee to review college athletics, and has served on the board of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Foundation.

In 1993 Shalala was named U.S. Secretary for Health and Human Services (HHS) and served for eight years, becoming the nation's longest-serving HHS Secretary. She was an active member of the Washington, D.C., community, participating in events to benefit the arts including serving as a member of the Kennedy Center Board of Trustees.

In 1999 she spearheaded the United Way campaign for federal employees that raised a record $44 million for local and national charities. In 2000 she led the official U.S. delegation to the Olympics in Sydney, Australia. At the end of her tenure as HHS Secretary, The Washington Post described her as "one of the most successful government managers of modern times."

As president of the University of Miami, President Shalala presides over one of the most successful college athletic programs in the country. The Hurricanes football program consistently ranks in the top of the polls. In 2001 the baseball team won its fourth College World Series and the football team won its fifth national championship. And, in 2003 the men and women's basketball team began play in a new, on-campus facility, the Convocation Center. Other Hurricane sports—from golf to tennis—have also earned national recognition.

For a sports fan like President Shalala, there is no better place to call home than the University of Miami.

Administration

Paul Dee
Director of Athletics

Paul Dee has served as Director of Athletics since June of 1993. Prior to his appointment, Dee had served the University as its Vice President and General Counsel beginning in 1981.

During his tenure as Director of Athletics, Dee has focused the efforts of the Athletic Department on four major points of emphasis: 1) the success of its programs; 2) the development of its student-athletes, both athletically and academically; 3) the quality of its staff; 4) improvement of facilities. The department has achieved success in each of these areas.

Program Success

The University of Miami has won three team national championships (Baseball in 1999 and 2001; Football in 2001) during Dee's tenure as Director of Athletics.

Prior to joining the Atlantic Coast Conference on July 1, 2004, Miami was a dominant program in the Big East Conference winning 34 league titles between 1993 and 2004. Included in those league championships were: eight football titles, eight women's tennis titles, seven men's tennis titles, six Big East women's outdoor track and field championships, two women's indoor track and one title in men's basketball, women's basketball and men's swimming and diving.

Under Dee's supervision, the University of Miami Athletic Department has added full scholarship programs in women's soccer, women's volleyball and women's rowing.

Student-Athlete Success

University of Miami student-athletes have continued to achieve academically. UM student-athletes have shown consistent improvement in grade-point average and graduation rates over the last decade.

Perhaps the most successful scholar-athlete of the last decade at UM was football offensive tackle Joaquin Gonzalez, who earned the 2001 HealthSouth Draddy Award (the "Academic Heisman") in addition to earning first-team All-America honors on the field in 2000 and 2001.

Quality of Staff

Miami coaches have been widely recognized by their peers as some of the nation's best. The current UM coaching staff has earned a combined 20 National Coach of the Year honors, including nine by diving coach Randy Ableman, four by baseball coach Jim Morris, three by football coach Larry Coker, two by women's golf coach Lela Cannon, and one by women's basketball coach Ferne Labati.

Improvement and Expansion of Facilities

Since 1993, the University of Miami athletic program has seen an almost complete makeover of its athletic facilities. During that period, Dee has overseen the following facility projects:

- Construction of new football field at Greentree Field
- Construction of Cobb Stadium (track and soccer)
- Renovation of football locker and equipment rooms
- Renovation of the athletic training room
- Renovation of athletic department offices
- Construction of the academic study hall facility
- Construction of the weight training facility
- Construction of the football meeting rooms
- Construction of locker rooms for track, soccer and volleyball
- Construction of Convocation Center for basketball and, looking ahead construction of Alex Rodriguez Park

A Commitment To A Well-Rounded Program

Dee believes intensified fund raising efforts and developing stronger interest in women's sports are vital to ensuring the future success of the Hurricanes' program.

National Influence

During his eleven years as Director of Athletics, Dee has been active in professional activities.

Dee has served on several NCAA Committees, including the Committee on Certification, the Management Council and currently is a member of the Committee on Infractions. In the BIG EAST, Dee has served on the Executive Television Committee and, for two years, was Chair of the BIG EAST Football Conference. Dee will assume new assignments as we enter the ACC.

Before Miami

Before joining the University, Dee was with the Miami law firm of Mershon, Sawyer, Johnston, Dunwoody & Cole and was a law clerk for Chief U.S. District Judge Charles Fulton in Miami. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Florida in 1970 and his master's of education and juris doctor degrees with honors from the University of Miami in 1973 and 1977, respectively.

Dee has a son, Terrance, who practices law in Miami.

Head Coach Frank Haith

On April 12, 2004 Athletic Director Paul Dee named Frank Haith the University of Miami's 11th head men's basketball coach. Haith, who is given the task of leading the Hurricanes into the Atlantic Coast Conference, comes to Miami having worked at several of the country's top programs under some of the nation's elite coaches.

"Frank is an outstanding individual and an extremely knowledgeable basketball person," said Dee. "He is in my opinion the top assistant coach in the country and has proven to be one of the nation's top recruiters. Growing up in North Carolina and serving as an assistant coach at Wake Forest he is obviously knowledgeable about the ACC and its basketball tradition. Off the court he has also been active in his community wherever he has been."

University of Miami president Donna Shalala added, "Frank is obviously an outstanding coach. But I was also struck by his commitment to academics and making certain that the athletes he recruits are committed to graduating."

In his 15 seasons as a full-time assistant at the collegiate level, programs at which he has coached have won one NIT Championship, advanced the NCAA Sweet Sixteen three times, reached one Elite Eight and one Final Four.

He has recruited six McDonald's All-American's including Rodney Rodgers (Wake Forest, 1990), Jerald Brown (Texas A&M, 1995), Brad Buckman (Texas, 2002), LaMarcus Alridge (Texas, 2004), Daniel Gibson (Texas, 2004) and Michael Williams (Texas, 2004).

(Texas A&M, 1995), Brad Buckman (Texas, 2002), LaMarcus Alridge (Texas, 2004), Daniel Gibson (Texas, 2004) and Michael Williams (Texas, 2004), and has coached eight players that are in the NBA including T.J. Ford (Milwaukee Bucks), Joshua Howard (Dallas Mavericks), Chris Owens (Memphis Grizzlies), Darius Songaila (Sacramento Kings), Calvin Booth (Seattle Sonics), Rodney Rogers (New Jersey Nets), Royal Ivey (Atlanta Hawks) and James Thomas (San Antonio Spurs).

Haith spent the last three seasons at the University of Texas under head coach Rick Barnes, and was promoted to Associate Head Coach in April 2003. In his three seasons in Austin, Haith helped guide Texas to its winningest three-year period in school-history.

"I don't think that Miami could be getting a better family than the Haith family to lead their basketball program into the Atlantic Coast Conference," says Barnes.

"I've been fortunate to be around a lot of good people in this business, and Frank is right at the top of this list. The fact that he grew up in ACC territory, he understands where the Miami program is right now and what has to be done. People talk about work ethic, recruiting and leadership when they talk about coaches. What Miami will soon learn is they just got the whole package. I see this hire as a great fit and I wish Frank and his family the best as they move on."

"I don't think that Miami could be getting a better family than the Haith family to lead their basketball program into the Atlantic Coast Conference."

During his tenure with the Longhorns they recorded a 73-27 (.730) record while advancing to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen in 2002 and 2004, and the Final Four in 2003. The 2002-03 season marked UT's first appearance in the Final Four since 1947.

Texas is one of only five schools to reach the Sweet Sixteen in each of the last three seasons joining Connecticut, Duke, Kansas and Pittsburgh. Prior to Haith joining the Texas staff the Longhorns had never made consecutive Sweet Sixteen appearances.

Haith, who was named Rivals.com Recruiter of the Year in 2004, was responsible for recruiting Texas' No. 1 ranked recruiting class last season including commitments from McDonald's All-Americans Alridge, Gibson and Williams.

Haith also has experience coaching in the Atlantic Coast Conference. One month prior to coming to Texas, Haith had joined Dave Odom's staff at the University of South Carolina after spending the previous four seasons under Odom at Wake Forest.

I am happy for Frank, his family and the University of Miami and wish them all the best."

While at Wake Forest, Haith was instrumental in helping lead the Demon Deacons to four consecutive postseason tournament appearances, including an NCAA first round showing in 2000-01. He also helped Wake Forest secure one of the nation's Top 10 recruiting classes during the 1999-2000 campaign.

The Deacons registered a 74-53 (.583) mark during Haith's four seasons in Winston-Salem. Wake Forest advanced to the Postseason NIT second round in both 1997-98 and 1998-99, before its youthful squad in 1999-00 posted a 22-14 mark en route to capturing the Postseason NIT championship.

Prior to joining the staff at Wake Forest, Haith served one year as the associate head coach at Texas A&M (1996-97). He spent one season (1995-96) as an assistant coach at Penn State, helping the Nittany Lions to a 21-7 record. Penn State was ranked as high as No. 9 in the national polls before placing second in the Big Ten Conference regular-season standings and earning the school's first NCAA Tournament bid in 31 years.

Haith worked three years (1992-93 to 1994-95) as an assistant coach at Texas A&M and helped the Aggies secure back-to-back recruiting classes that were ranked in the Top 30 in the country during his final two seasons in College Station. In 1993-94, Texas A&M posted a 19-11 mark, finished second in the Southwest Conference regular-season standings and reached postseason play (NIT first round) for the first time in seven years.

He started his full-time coaching career by serving two years as an assistant at UNC-Wilmington (1990-91 to 1991-92). He also worked as a graduate assistant coach at Wake Forest for one season (1989-90) during Odom's first year in Winston-Salem.

"Frank was on my first staff at Wake Forest and he quickly gained my respect and the respect of his fellow staff members as a person who gave everything and asked for nothing in return."

- Dave Odom, Head Coach, University of South Carolina

Haith graduated from Elon College in North Carolina in 1988 with a Bachelor's Degree in Physical Education. A Dean's List student, he served as a student assistant coach for two years. Following graduation, Haith worked as a part-time member of the Elon coaching staff while teaching in the public schools at nearby Western Middle School. During his three-year association with the Elon coaching staff, the Fighting Christians (now called the Phoenix) enjoyed two 20-win seasons.

Born on November 3, 1965, Haith is a native of Queens, N.Y. but grew up and went to high school (Western Alamance) in Burlington, N.C. He and his wife, Pam, have one son, Corey, and a two-month old daughter Brianna.

Head Coach Frank Haith

On what interested him in the Miami job:

"The level of the job definitely interested me. I grew up in ACC country and it was always a dream of mine to coach in this league. It's a chance to coach against the best coaches in the greatest league in America."

On ACC style of basketball:

"It is a high level of basketball. The talent level in this league is at the highest level. The coaches are Hall of Fame coaches and it is an extremely passionate league for basketball. The enthusiasm and interest level from the students and fans is also at the highest level."

On the biggest adjustment in being a head coach:

"There are two things. First, there are a lot of things going on and you need to be extremely organized with your time. The second is the number decision you need to make each day that affect a large number of people. You are no longer just making suggestions, you making decisions."

On his philosophy of coaching:

"I am a very hands on type of coach. Communication is very important to me. My teams are going to know exactly what I expect from them. There won't be any uncertainty. I will make it very clear what I expect. So you could say I take a very hands on approach."

On his style of play:

"The easy answer would be I want to play up tempo. But I think the answer for me is I want to play a winning style. I want to play a style that gives us the best chance to win, which is dictated by the personnel each season."

On what he learned from Dave Odom and Rick Barnes:

"Dave Odom was a great teacher. In terms of fundamentals Dave taught me that you need to spend time teaching your players how to play the game. Make sure they understand why they need to do certain things."

"Rick taught me about adaptability. You have to be able to adapt to your personnel. You have to be willing to change. You can't be so stubborn and set in your ways that you let that get in the way of putting your team in the best position to win games."

On his philosophy of recruiting:

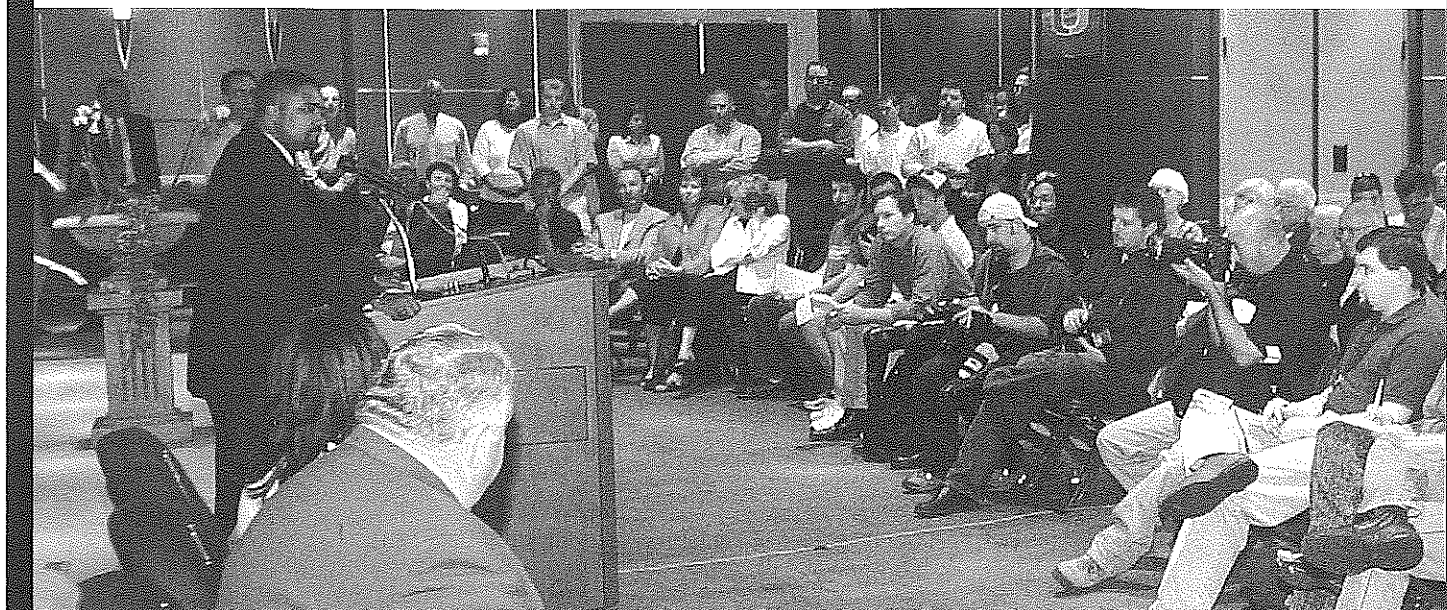

"I don't look at it as recruiting, I look at it as building relationships. I try to get to know the people and I try to do a good job of getting them to know me. I don't know if that is really a philosophy but that is the way I've been my whole career."

On the support of his wife Pam:

"She has been incredible. She has been a confidant, a supporter, a motivator and a tremendous encouragement. There were times during my career that I would get frustrated but she would tell me that good things were going to happen to me and that I just needed to be patient."

On where he envisions the program being in five years:

"I expect this program to be a top-25 program year-in and year-out. It has that type of potential. It can be the type of program that the fans and community can be proud of. Because of the league, the new arena, the city and the academics here I think we can build a program that can be very competitive in the ACC."

The University

The University of Miami is the largest, most comprehensive private research university in the southeastern United States with a well-earned reputation for academic excellence. Nearly 15,000 undergraduate and graduate students from every state and more than 114 nations around the world call UM home during the academic semesters. The University has grown from its main location in the City of Coral Gables to the Medical campus located in Downtown Miami, the Rosenstiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science on Virginia Key, the John J. Koubek Center in Little Havana, the James L. Knight Center in Downtown Miami, and the South and Richmond campuses in southwest Miami-Dade county. With more than 9,400 full- and part-time faculty and staff, UM is the largest private employer in Miami-Dade County.

Enrollment: Total enrollment for the 2003-2004 academic year was 15,248 students. Of that number, 9,636 were undergraduate students, 3,340 were graduate students, and 1,905 were professional students. During the 2002-2003 academic year, the University awarded 2,053 bachelors, 1,138 masters, 363 J.D.'s, 133 M.D.'s, 116 Ph.D.'s, and 11 other doctorates (2002-03).

New Freshman Standings: Over one in three new freshmen graduated in the top 5% of their high school class. Almost two-thirds graduated in the top 10% of their high school class.

International Students: The University continues to attract able students from South Florida, as well as from other parts of the nation and around the world. It was one of the country's first universities to have an organized international recruitment program. The University of Miami sends representatives worldwide to seek qualified students. These students represent 113 foreign countries, the 50 states, three territories, and the District of Columbia.

Honors Program/Honor Societies: Approximately 1,600 students participate in the Honors Program. UM has 50 academic honor societies, including Phi Beta Kappa.

Research: Research and sponsored program expenditures totaled $243.8 million (FY 03). According to the National Science Foundation, UM ranked 52nd of all universities in expenditures of federal funds for research and development (FY 01).

Budget: The budget for 2003-04 is $1.3 billion, with $759 million projected for the medical campus. At the end of the FY 03 the endowment was $414.0 million.

Development: In FY 03, contributions reached $92.8 million in private cash, gifts and grants. In FY 02, the University ranked 54th among national research institutions in this category. In October 2003, Momentum: the Campaign for the University of Miami was announced to increase the University's endowment and raise needed funds to support its research, teaching, and service missions.

A World-Class Student Body

Enrollment at the University of Miami continues to experience tremendous growth. Applications for the freshman class during 2002-2003 reached 15,903 — the highest freshman class application figure in the University's history.

The student body also has become more diverse. White, non-Hispanic students accounted for 62 percent of the incoming freshman class in 2002-2003, Hispanics accounted for 22 percent, and African-Americans for 9 percent, while Asian students accounted for 7 percent.

Women accounted for approximately 59 percent of the new freshman class that year, about 57 percent of all undergraduates, and 52 percent of the graduate and professional students.

Education outside the traditional classroom is an important part of student life at University of Miami. The University has 60 programs offered in 25 countries on a full academic year, semester, or summer basis.

Campuses and Schools

Coral Gables Campus: The Coral Gables campus, with its two colleges and seven schools, is located on a 260-acre tract in suburban Coral Gables.

Medical Campus: The University of Miami School of Medicine campus consists of 35 acres within the 80-acre University of Miami/Jackson Memorial Medical Center complex. Other facilities at the medical center in addition to Jackson Memorial Hospital include the Miami Veterans Affairs Medical Center and two University-owned hospitals—the University of Miami Hospital and Clinics and Anne Bates Leach Eye Hospital, along with the Sylvester Comprehensive Cancer Center and Bascom Palmer Eye Institute. Dedication of the Lois Pope LIFE Center in fall 2000 and the Batchelor Children's Research Institute in spring 2001 in the Schoninger Research Quadrangle marked major contributions to the research facilities at the medical campus. School of Medicine faculty currently conduct more than 1,200 research projects aimed at advances in basic science and clinical care in facilities totaling more than two million square feet of owned and leased space.

Rosenstiel Campus: The Rosenstiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science is located on a 16-acre waterfront campus on Virginia Key in Biscayne Bay.

Compliance

Dear Prospective Student-Athlete:

As a prospective student-athlete, you may have the athletic potential to play college basketball at the Division I-A level. If so, you probably will be exposed to an enormous amount of recruitment activities from universities across the country.

Throughout the recruitment process, coaches will reference various NCAA rules and regulations. The rules are designed for various reasons. The most important of which are to ease the pressures on prospective student-athletes and to level the playing field so that all universities operate within the same guidelines.

During the recruiting process you may have the following questions:

- When and how often can I visit an institutions campus?
- When, where and how often can a coach telephone me?
- How many times can a coach observe me in practice and/or competition?
- What academic criteria must I meet to be eligible to play Division I-A college basketball?

The answers to these questions and more can be obtained from the University of Miami Compliance Office or the NCAA by requesting the NCAA Guide for the College-Bound Student-Athlete. The guide may be provided to a prospective student-athlete at any time. The guide addresses issues related to Divisions I, II and III academic eligibility, financial aid, recruitment and more.

To receive a copy of the guide call the NCAA Hotline at 1-800-638-3731 or request it from the University of Miami coach who is recruiting you.

Please remember that since violations of NCAA rules during your recruitment could jeopardize your athletic eligibility, it is important for you and your parents to be informed and to ask questions throughout the recruiting process.

Best of luck and GO HURRICANES!

Sincerely,

Tony Hernandez
Assistant Athletic Director for Compliance

Frequently Asked Questions

Who is a Prospective Student-Athlete (Prospect)?

You are a prospect if you have started classes for the ninth grade. Before the ninth grade, you may become a prospect if a university provides you (or your family or friends) any financial aid or other benefit that is not usually provided to prospective student-athletes.

How do I know if I'm being recruited?

A coach is recruiting you if they try to convince you directly, or through your family, to attend their school and participate in intercollegiate athletics. There are several ways to be recruited: (1) a coach may provide you with an official paid visit to view the campus, (2) a coach may arrange an in-person, off-campus meeting with you (or your family), or (3) a coach or staff member may call you (or your family) on more than one occasion for the purpose of recruitment.

Coaches and authorized institutional staff members are the only individuals who may recruit you. Representatives of athletic interests (boosters) may not call, write or make in-person contact with you anywhere for the purpose of recruiting you to a university and participating in athletics.

When can a coach contact me?

Off Campus Contact

A coach can arrange a face-to-face meeting, off the University's campus, with you beginning July 1st following the completion of your junior year in high school.

Telephone Calls

- In all sports other than football and basketball, a coach may call a prospect once during the month of March of the prospect's junior year in high school and then on or after July 1 following the completion of the prospect's junior year in high school. Only one phone call may be made per week to a prospect or the prospect's family.
- In the sport of football, a coach may initiate one telephone call to a prospect during the month of May of the prospect's junior year. Additional telephone calls to a prospect may not be made before September 1 of the beginning of the prospect's senior year in high school, limited to one call per week.
- In the sport of men's basketball, coaches may make one telephone call to a prospect during the month of March during the prospect's junior year. A coach may then call a prospect on or after June 21 of the prospect's junior year, followed by three additional phone calls in the month of July, with no more than one call per week.
- In the sport of women's basketball, one telephone call during the month of March of the prospect's junior year in high school and then one telephone call may be made to a prospect on or after June 21 of the prospect's junior year in high school. In addition, only three telephone calls to a prospect may be made during the month of July, with no more than one call per week.
- In the following circumstances unlimited calls to a prospect are permitted: (1) during the five days immediately preceding an official visit to the University of Miami, (2) on the initial date for signing the National Letter of Intent and the two days following the signing date, and (3) on the day of a coach's off-campus contact with a prospect.
- For all sports, coaches may receive telephone calls placed by a prospect at the prospect's expense at anytime, including before July 1 following the prospect's junior year in high school.

Letters

Letters and recruiting information may be sent to you starting September 1st at the beginning of your junior year in high school.

What is a Contact?

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect or the prospect's parent(s) or legal guardian and an institutional staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs in excess of an exchange of a greeting. NOTE: At the Division I level, athletic representatives (boosters) may not contact you for the purpose of recruiting.

What can a school offer me to attend their University?

You (or your family) may not receive any benefit, inducement or arrangements such as cash, clothing, cars, gifts or loans to encourage you to sign a National Letter of Intent or to attend a NCAA school.

A University may offer you a one-year scholarship that covers room and board, tuition and fees, and required course-related books, or any part of these. The institution can recommend that this aid is renewed each year, as is the general practice at the University of Miami but this renewal is not guaranteed. In addition, they can offer you quality academic and medical support, as well as the opportunity to compete for one of the nation's top programs.

What can I do during this process?

Enjoy your high school years and work hard both in the classroom and in your sport. At the beginning of your junior year you should sign up for the NCAA Clearinghouse. Your high school guidance office can provide you with the information to register.

The Athletic Academic Services Staff of the University of Miami Athletic Department is committed to providing the academic support services necessary to facilitate the graduation of student athletes and the nurturing of skills to promote the development of responsible, well-rounded individuals. This mission is fulfilled through our commitment to promote athletics, academics, personal development and career development.

The Retention Programs

The University of Miami offers unique programs designed to assist student-athletes in their pursuit of a college education. These are a few of the programs offered to assist student-athletes:

- 1. FEX Freshman Experience Course - A unique class designed to assist freshman student-athletes with the transition from high school to college.
- 2. Proactive Mentorship Program - This program is designed to assist student-athletes with the transition skills necessary to be successful college students. All freshmen are required to participate and meet once a week with a mentor covering issues such as time management, goal-setting, class preparation, test preparation, etc.
- 3. Study Table Program - Provides valuable locations and time to accomplish academic goals. Structured times, group and individual tutorials, computer labs, and quiet areas are designated for this program.

Program (Freshman Academic Success Training) - The main purpose of this program is to ensure a smooth and successful transition from high school to college through academic success training. This will be accomplished through closely monitoring incoming at-risk student-athletes so as to ensure the use of efficient time management and study skills. Assumptions are made that all of our student-athletes come to us with good study habits, academic knowledge, and social judgment. This program will address all these areas and be reinforced throughout the semester.
- 5. Computer Lab - Located within the Hecht Athletic Center, student-athletes have access to 30 personal computers with Internet access and conduct research. The lab also has 7 lab top computers that student-athletes can check out and take with them on team trips, or when they want to work on their own.
- 6. Tutors - Level 1 certified tutors by the College Reading and Learning Association provide individual and group assistance upon request. The tutor program at the University of Miami is one of a small number of athletic programs in the country to be awarded CRLA certification.
- 7. Learning Resource Room - Student-athletes with disabilities have access to computer programs that aid in their educational skill development.

The number one priority of the athletic department at the University of Miami is a commitment to its student-athletes both on and off the court. This commitment is constantly reinforced with the medical attention that is available to Hurricane student-athletes. UM's newly renovated and expanded training room, located in the Hecht Athletic Center, contains the most modern equipment available.

Computerized testing and a wide range of aerobic conditioning equipment is available to help design individual rehabilitation programs and help reduce the risk of re-injury. The training room also contains a state-of-the-art Biodex machine to aid athletes in their rehabilitation.

The University has assembled one of the finest medical staffs in the country. Team physician and orthopaedic surgeon Dr. John Uribe heads a team which includes 15 medical doctors who serve as consultants, five full-time trainers and 10 student-trainers.

Uribe, regarded as one of the finest physicians in the southeast, is the assistant physician for the Miami Dolphins and the Florida Marlins. Additionally, he and Dr. Keith Hechtman, another member of UM's medical team, serve as team physicians for both Florida International University and St. Thomas University.

Hurricane athletes enjoy the luxury of having one of the nation's finest sports medicine facilities located right on campus. HealthSouth Doctors' Hospital features a full service health-care center specializing in sports medicine. The clinic provides preventative care, physicals, injury evaluations, special testing and referral to specialists. HealthSouth Doctors' Hospital possesses some of the most high-tech equipment in the nation and is available to treat Hurricane athletes.

The hospital includes a health and fitness center where they provide a wide range of services including nutrition counseling and cardiac rehabilitation all done with the exercise physiology department led by Dr. Jack Young, a member of UM's medical team.

Uribe and his colleagues at the sports medicine center are recognized as some of the finest in the field of sports medicine. Patients are often flown in throughout the east coast to be treated at HealthSouth Doctors' Hospital. Many doctors also fly in to learn sports medicine procedures and techniques from the hospital staff.

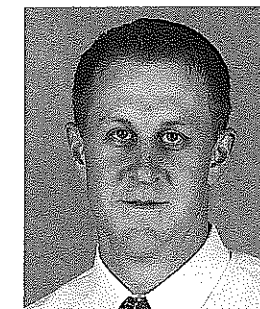

With all this medical expertise and equipment available to them, Hurricane athletes are among the best cared for in the nation.

Assistant trainer Garrick Edwards is in his second season as a fulltime member of the Hurricane medical staff, and works and travels with the Miami men's basketball team on a daily basis.

Edwards joined the Hurricanes in 2003 after spending the 2002-03 season as an assistant athletic trainer for the NFL's New England Patriots. Prior to his time with the Patriots, Edwards served as a graduate assistant athletic trainer at the University of Miami from 2000-02. Edwards, who received his master's degree from the University of Miami in 2002, assisted with the football program, and worked extensively with the men's and women's track teams.

Edwards received his Bachelor's Degree from Kansas State University in 2000. While pursuing his degree Edwards worked as a student athletic trainer for the Wildcats, working with the men's basketball and football teams. In addition, Edwards served as a student athletic trainer for the NFL's Denver Broncos during the summers of 1998 and 1999.

Strength Training with the Best

The University recently completed the construction of a new $4.9 million weightroom. The 12,000 square foot state-of-art facility houses 20 custom designed weight lifting stations, 17 cardio-vascular machines, a stretching area, a dumbbell and rehab area, nearly 44,000 pounds of weight.

At the University of Miami winners are made on and off the court. Just as important as the final numbers that read on the scoreboard, are the results achieved in the Hurricanes' weight room. It is this firm belief that has made Miami one of the nation's up and coming programs.

The Hurricane Strength and Conditioning program operates under the guidance of head strength coach Andreu Swasey.

Swasey returned to Miami after spending the 1999 season as the defensive backs coach at the University of Houston. Before going to Houston, Swasey served as Assistant Strength and Conditioning coach for two years at Miami.

Swasey is noted for his enthusiastic approach to weight training and for developing year-round sports specific programs for each student-athlete. Together with assistant strength coaches Dave Richardson, Victor Ishmael, Mark Dziadek, and Lance Sewell, Hurricane student athletes are given the personalized instruction and tools to reach their full physical potential.

The goal of the Hurricane Strength and Conditioning program is to minimize risk and enhance all physical parameters, including strength, speed, power, flexibility and cardiovascular endurance.

To help achieve this goal the University recently completed the construction of a new $4.9 million weight room. The 12,000 square foot state-of-the-art facility houses 20 custom designed weight lifting stations, 17 cardio-vascular machines, a stretching area, a dumbbell and rehab area, and nearly 44,000 pounds of weights.

UM student-athletes also have the use of the state-of-the-art track at the Cobb Stadium for Soccer, Track & Field. Known as one of the nation's top training tracks, Hurricane student-athletes have the opportunity to work on all facets of speed training.

Working directly with the Hurricane men's basketball program is assistant strength coach Dave Richardson. Richardson came to Miami in 2001 after serving six seasons as the head strength and conditioning coach at the University of Louisiana at Monroe. Prior to his stint at Louisiana-Monroe, Richardson served five years as head strength and conditioning coach at Nicholls State University. Two of his seasons at Nicholls State he served as the head track and field coach. The Monroe native also worked as the strength and conditioning coach for Central America's Davis Cup tennis team in 1991.

Richardson, who earned a Bachelor's degree in Health and Human Performance in 1989 and a Master's degree in Exercise Science in 1990 from Louisiana-Monroe, has a strong background in power lifting. In 1984 he won the Alaska powerlifting state championship, and was crowned the Louisiana state powerlifting champion in 1986 and 1987. In 1985 and 1986 he was the ArkLaMiss champion and was listed among the Powerlifting USA Top 100. In addition, Richardson served five years in the Army and was a member of the All-Army powerlifting team.

Richardson is married to the former Amanda Ladner and has an 18 year old daughter Megan and a seven year old son David.

Miami: Where the heat is on

"Welcome to Miami...bienvenidos a Miami." With 84 miles of Atlantic coastline, yearlong sunshine, and a boasted average daily temperature of 75 degrees, it is no wonder in his hit single, rapper Will Smith dubbed Miami "the city where the heat is on."

The Heat on the Court

Thanks to South Florida's year-round, sports-friendly climate, Miami has a lot to offer in outdoor recreational activities. From some of the PGA's finest golf courses to almost 700 parks, there is something for everyone. With countless opportunities for kayaking, scuba-diving, fishing, beach volleyball, and rollerblading, there is no excuse for going without a tan.

South Florida truly has the perfect weather for sports, and is one of only eight metropolitan areas in the United States that can boast of a professional franchise in each of the four major sports. The Major League's Florida Marlins had everybody "doing the fish" when they won the World Series a few years ago. The NFL's Miami Dolphins have thrilled fans for decades at the Pro Player Stadium, which hosted both the 1995 and 1999 Super Bowls. Despite the warm weather, South Florida's own hockey team, the Florida Panthers, keep up on the ice. And for basketball fans, the NBA's Miami Heat keeps things heated up at the American Airlines Arena.

Miami is Caliente

Truly a melting pot, Miami plays home to a variety of cultures, creating a totally unique, vibrant cultural mosaic. With representatives of every Hispanic nation in the world, Spanish serves as a second language to most of Miami's residents. Little Havana is the heart of Miami's Cuban community, where churro vendors line the streets, the aroma of high-octane café Cubano fills the air, and the spirit of friendly competition fills Domino Park.

The spirit of the Caribbean is alive in Little Haiti, where many Haitian artists, musicians and entrepreneurs get their start in Miami. The proud focal point of this neighborhood is the Caribbean Market, an open-air replica of Port-au-Prince's Iron Market, where Creole is the dominant language, and there are elements of Afro-Caribbean religions such as voodoo.

Sizzling the silver screen

With tropical weather, a high quality labor pool, low production costs, and direct links to Latin America, Miami has become one of the most important entertainment centers in the world. Dubbed as the Latin-American Hollywood by the New York Times, such blockbusters as Big Trouble, written by Miami Herald columnist Dave Barry, and starring Tim Allen and Rene Russo, Any Given Sunday, There's Something About Mary, The Birdcage, and Wild Things were all filmed in Miami.

Miami is a Hollywood favorite off-screen as well as on-screen, with dozens of celebrities calling Miami home, and even more who consider it a favorite weekend getaway. Gloria and Emilio Estefan's Star Island estate and Gianni Versace's Ocean Drive mansion-turned-museum are just a couple of examples of Miami's celebrity appeal. It is not uncommon to spot Sean "Puffy" Combs at a South Beach club or former president Bill Clinton playing golf at the Biltmore Hotel.

Miami Hot Spots

For shopping, for dancing, or for just plain people watching, Miami offers several places to see and be seen.

With over 800 buildings designed in the 30s and 40s, South Beach serves as the largest collection of Art Deco architecture in the world. Celebrity-owned restaurants like Cameron Diaz's Bambu, night clubs such as Level, which is based on the format of New York's Studio 54, and a medley of huge anchor stores and small unique boutiques create the flavor of Miami's most famous hot spot.

Coconut Grove, just a ten-minute drive from the University of Miami, is another student favorite. Built mainly by West Indian craftsmen brought in from the Bahamas, it still holds onto the Caribbean appeal its name suggests. Attracting writers, artists, and non-conformists, this hub of the bohemian arts contributed to Miami's cultural renaissance. Fast-forward a century, and the Grove is still one of Miami's hottest nightspots, with more than 75 cafes, restaurants, and clubs that line the streets.

The warmth of Coral Gables, the "City Beautiful"

The University of Miami campus is located in Coral Gables, dubbed "the City Beautiful." Founded by George Merrick almost a century ago, the Gables is one of Miami's most beautiful areas. The palm-lined streets are all named after European villages, each one bordered by Old Spanish style homes. Downtown Coral Gables is bustling with the many offices of multinational corporations. The city's central boulevard, Miracle Mile, has a wide array of designer boutiques and art galleries. One Gables favorite is the Venetian Pool, a beautiful swimming lagoon carved out of coral, which features cascading waterfalls and underwater caves.

Hurricane Warnings

The Hurricanes

It began in controversy. Some reports say the 1927 football team held a team meeting to select Hurricanes, hoping they would sweep away opponents just as the devastating storm did on September 16, 1926. Another version holds that Miami News columnist Jack Bell asked end Porter Norris of the 1926 team what the team should be called. Told that the local dignitaries and University officials wanted to name the team for a local flora or fauna, Norris said the players wouldn't stand for it and suggested "Hurricanes" since the opening game had been postponed by such a storm. From time to time, opposition has arisen to the name that would "reinforce Miami's negative reputation as a weather-beaten community living constantly under the threat of destruction." But as one UM official rationalized in the 60s, "Does anyone think Chicago is overrun by bears just because the town has a football team by that name?"

Orange, Green & White

UM's school colors were selected in 1926. The colors of the Florida orange tree represent UM. Orange symbolizes the fruit of the tree, green represents the leaves and white, the blossoms.

The U

In 1973, UM's Athletic Federation, the fund raising arm of the athletic department at the time, commissioned a local public relations expert to develop a distinctive logo. The University had gone several years with a variety of helmets and uniform changes and the Federation noted that a number of major colleges have the initials UM. Miami designer Bill Bodenhamer suggested the "U" idea, which lent itself to distinctive logos for each sport as well as slogans like "U gotta believe" and "U is great."

Sebastian the Ibis

Folklore maintains that the Ibis, a symbol of knowledge found in the Everglades and Egypt, is the last sign of wildlife to take shelter before a hurricane and the first to reappear after the storm. The local marsh bird was considered UM's first unofficial mascot when the school yearbook adopted the name "Ibis" in 1926. Its popularity grew among the students during the 50s. In 1957 San Sebastian Hall, a residence hall on campus, sponsored an Ibis entry in the homecoming celebration. The next year, student John Stormont performed at games in an Ibis costume that was glued, sewn and pinned together and was the forerunner of today's bird. Through the years, the Ibis has become one of the most recognizable college mascots in the United States.

Alma Mater

Southern suns and sky blue water Smile upon you, Alma Mater;
Mistress of this fruitful land, With all knowledge at your hand,
Always just, to honor true All our love we pledge to you.
Alma Mater, Stand forever, on Biscayne's wondrous shore.

Cheerleaders

The University of Miami cheerleaders are the catalyst for school spirit at the University. Along with cheering at both home and away athletic contests, the squad is a strong public relations arm for the University. Active in community service and charitable projects, the cheerleaders are a great source of pride for the University and the City of Miami. Under the direction of coaches Dan Reynolds and Nichole Stimpson, the co-ed cheerleaders are consistently rated among the nation's top squads. The Hurricanes, like so many other high profile universities, recently added an all-girl cheerleading squad. This squad, which competes at the National Universal Cheerleaders Association college competition, are coached by Heather Almaguer and Suzette Benitez. The co-ed team is captained by Jill Anderson and Chris Nolte. The all-girl captains are Christine Maresca, Tyler Ingold, Christina Garcia, and Lorraine Berges.

Sunsations

Now in their 18th year of entertaining fans, the University of Miami Sunsations dance team is a squad of enthusiastic and talented performers. Their reputation for excellence has grown both locally and nationally. The Sunsations, coached by former members Jennifer Schaefer and Kristine Stephenson, perform at many charitable and community service events in addition to Hurricane football and basketball games.

Community

Carla Collins
Community Relations

At the University of Miami, our student-athletes, coaches, and staff take great pride in giving back to the community. The Hurricanes are dedicated to the improvement of our community with a special focus on the children of South Florida. Through volunteerism, student-athletes will have the opportunity to serve the community and be positive role models to youth.

As an educational institution we want to instill the importance of education and hard work into our youth through examples of leadership and dedication to our community and its members.

Through community service projects, student-athlete and staff appearances, contributions and fund-raising events it is our goal to build a partnership with our community that will assist us in our goal of enhancing the quality of life for South Florida's youth.

The University of Miami has a number of different programs for student-athletes to become involved. The following is a list of community programs and events that the Hurricanes have contributed their time and service to:

First Mentors - In partnership with Big Brothers Big Sisters, pairs of student-athletes are matched with a child to serve as mentors.

Join-a-Team, Not-a-Gang - Its purpose is to encourage area youth to seek positive alternatives to gangs.

The Tradition

Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 52nd year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 91 national championships, including 47 in women's competition and 44 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 116 times in men's competition and 57 in women's action.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC is unrivaled in NCAA annals. With Maryland's victory over Indiana in the 2002 NCAA title game, ACC teams have captured nine NCAA basketball championships, including five over the last 14 years.

No conference has posted a better NCAA Tournament record than the ACC since the NCAA's inaugural tournament in 1938. The 11 current conference members have posted an NCAA Tournament-best mark of 315-164 for a sterling .647 winning percentage against the nation's toughest competition.

A year ago, the ACC had two teams - Georgia Tech and Duke - in the Final Four for the second time in four years and fifth time overall. In the 20 years of the 64-team field, the ACC has produced 20 Final Four teams, an average of one per year and seven more than any other conference.

Since 1985, when the NCAA Tournament was expanded to 64 teams, ACC teams have been even more impressive compiling a 203-96 (.679) NCAA record, including 56 "Sweet 16" appearances and 20 Final Four berths. Since 1985, 56 of the 102 ACC teams receiving NCAA berths have won at least two NCAA Tournament games.

Since 1990, the ACC - with a 181-173 record - is the only conference with a winning record against ranked non-conference foes.

North Carolina and Duke lead all ACC schools with three NCAA championships each. NC State has two national titles to its credit and Maryland one. The Tar Heels captured NCAA titles in 1957, 1982 and 1993 while the Blue Devils won their third title in 2001, following back-to-back championships in 1991 and 1992. The Wolfpack walked away with the coveted crown in 1974 and 1983 while the Terps claimed the 2002 national title.

The stature of ACC basketball is no where more clearly defined than by its regional and national television exposure as an all-time high 172 televised games involving ACC teams headline the league's 2004-05 schedule, including a record-setting 261 appearances. ACC teams are slated to make 132 appearances on national television networks and 79 of the league's 88 regular season conference games, including 36 on national television networks are scheduled to be televised.

This past year the ACC posted a 14-6 mark in NCAA Tournament play with the six losses by a total of 21 points. For the second time in league history, eight ACC teams took part in post-season play and six of the nine league teams were ranked in the final AP and coaches' polls. League teams were 107-24 (.816) against non-conference opponents, 13-12 versus ranked teams, including a 3-0 mark against No. 1 ranked teams. The ACC finished the 2003-04 season with the highest regular season RPI rating ever accorded a conference.

2003-04 in Review

The 2003-04 academic year concluded with the league pocketing three more national team titles and six individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 48 national team titles over the last 14 years.

The ACC's 2003-04 national champions were Wake Forest in field hockey, North Carolina in women's soccer and Virginia in women's lacrosse. Overall, 66 ACC teams took part in post-season play compiling a 101-66-4 (.596) record.

A total of 169 student-athletes from the ACC earned first, second or third-team All-America honors this past year. In addition, the ACC produced nine national Players of the Year, two national Rookies of the Year and three national Coaches of the Year recipients.

The ACC placed at least one team in the top 10 nationally in 17 sports. In all, 31 ACC teams finished their season with a top 10 ranking.

The Championships

The conference will conduct championship competition in 25 sports during the 2004-05 academic year - 12 for men and 13 for women.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet being held in tennis at Wake Forest University.

Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

A History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgfield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200.00 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgfield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first and only withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of the University of Miami and Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member starting with the 2005-06 academic year.

The Schools

Clemson University is nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains near the Georgia border, and the tiger paws painted on the roads make the return to I-85 easier. The school is built around Fort Hill, the plantation home of John C. Calhoun, Vice President to Andrew Jackson. His son-in-law, Tom Clemson, left the land to be used as an agricultural school, and in 1893 Clemson opened its doors as a land-grant school, thanks to the efforts of Ben Tillman.

Duke University was founded in 1924 by tobacco magnate James B. Duke as a memorial to his father, Washington Duke. Originally the school was called Trinity College, a Methodist institution, started in 1859. In 1892, Trinity moved to west Durham where the east campus with its Georgian architecture now stands. Nearby are Sarah P. Duke gardens, and further west the Gothic spires of Duke chapel overlook the west campus.

Florida State University is one of 10 universities of the State University System of Florida. It was established as the Seminary West of the Suwannee by an act of the Florida Legislature in 1851, and first offered instruction at the post-secondary level in 1857. Its Tallahassee campus has been the site of an institution of higher education longer than any other site in the state. In 1905, the Buckman Act reorganized higher education in the state and designated the Tallahassee school as the Florida Female College. In 1909, it was renamed Florida State College for Women. In 1947, the school returned to a co-educational status, and the name was changed to Florida State University.

Next to I-85 in downtown Atlanta stands Georgia Institute of Technology, founded in 1885. Its first students came to pursue a degree in mechanical engineering, the only one offered at the time. Tech's strength is not only the red clay of Georgia, but a restored gold and white 1930 model A Ford Cabriolet, the official mascot. The old Ford was first used in 1961, but a Ramblin' Wreck had been around for over three decades. The Ramblin' Wreck fight song appeared almost as soon as the school opened, and it is not only American boys that grow up singing its rollicking tune, for Richard Nixon and Nikita Khrushchev sang it when they met in Moscow in 1959.

The University of Maryland opened in 1856 as an agricultural school nine miles north of Washington, D.C., on land belonging to Charles Calvert, a descendant of Lord Baltimore, the state's founding father. The school colors are the same as the state flag: black and gold for George Calvert (Lord Baltimore) and red and white for his mother, Alice Crossland. Maryland has been called the school that Curley Byrd built, for he was its quarterback, then football coach, athletic director, assistant to the president, vice-president, and finally its president. Byrd also designed the football stadium and the campus layout, and suggested the nickname Terrapin, a local turtle known for its bite, when students wanted to replace the nickname Old Liners with a new one for the school.

The University of Miami was chartered in 1925 by a group of citizens who felt an institution of higher learning was needed for the development of their young and growing community. The South Florida land boom was at its peak, optimism flowed, and expectations were high. By the fall of 1926, when the first class of 560 students enrolled at the University, the land boom had collapsed, and hopes for a speedy recovery were dashed by a major hurricane. In the next 15 years, the University barely kept afloat. The collapse in South Florida was a mere prelude to a national economic depression. Such were the beginnings of what has since become one of the nation's most distinguished private universities.

The University of North Carolina, located in Chapel Hill, has been called "the perfect college town," making its tree-lined streets and balmy atmosphere what a college should look and feel like. Its inception in 1795 makes it one of the oldest schools in the nation, and its nickname of Tar Heels stems from the tar pitch and turpentine that were the state's principal industry. The nickname is as old as the school, for it was born during the Revolutionary War when tar was dumped into the streams to impede the advance of British forces.

North Carolina State University is located in the state capital of Raleigh. It opened in 1889 as a land-grant agricultural and mechanical school and was known as A&M or Aggies or Farmers for over a quarter-century. The school's colors of pink and blue were gone by 1895, brown and white were tried for a year, but the students finally chose red and white to represent the school. An unhappy fan in 1922 said State football players behaved like a pack of wolves, and the term that was coined in derision became a badge of honor.

The University of Virginia was founded in 1819 by Thomas Jefferson and is one of three things on his tombstone for which he wanted to be remembered. James Madison and James Monroe were on the board of governors in the early years. The Rotunda, a half-scale version of the Pantheon which faces the Lawn, is the focal point of the grounds as the campus is called. Jefferson wanted his school to educate leaders in practical affairs and public service, not just to train teachers.

The ACC

Virginia Tech was established in 1872 as an all-male military school dedicated to the original land-grant mission of teaching agriculture and engineering. The University has grown from a small college of 132 students into the largest institution of higher education in the state during its 132-year history. Located in Southwest Virginia on a plateau between the Blue Ridge and Alleghany Mountains, the campus consists of 334 buildings and 20 miles of sidewalks over 2,600 acres. The official school colors - Chicago maroon and burnt orange - were selected in 1896 because they made a "unique combination" not worn elsewhere at the time.

Wake Forest University was started on Calvin Jones' plantation amid the stately pine forest of Wake County in 1834. The Baptist seminary is still there, but the school was moved to Winston-Salem in 1956 on a site donated by Charles H. and Mary Reynolds Babcock. President Harry S. Truman attended the ground-breaking ceremonies that brought a picturesque campus of Georgian architecture and painted roofs. Wake's colors have been black and gold since 1895, thanks to a badge designed by student John Heck who died before he graduated.

2003-04 Season Review

The 2003-04 season was one of near misses for the University of Miami men's basketball team. The Hurricanes, who returned three starters and seven lettermen from 2002-03, were in position to win several games only to come out on the losing end. UM dropped a BIG EAST season single season record four overtime games and were 1-6 in games decided by five points or less.

Miami held second half leads in nine of its 16 losses including double-digit leads in losses to Bradley, Georgetown and Rutgers. Six of those losses came during a midseason 10-game losing streak that turned a promising start to the season into a fight to make the BIG EAST Conference tournament. In the end it was a lack of an inside scoring threat and a lack of experience off the bench that doomed the young Hurricanes down the stretch.

Of the 10 players that played 20 or more games, seven were either freshmen or sophomores, and the Hurricanes were outscored in the paint in nine of its 16 BIG EAST games. Miami opponents also went to the free throw line 647 times (21.6 per game) compared to 523 (17.4 per game) for the Hurricanes.

The season was a coming out party for the UM backcourt of sophomore Robert Hite and freshman Guillermo Diaz.

Hite emerged as one of the BIG EAST's most improved players improving in almost every statistical category from his freshman season. Hite, who was named co-captain prior to the season, averaged 15.2 points, 3.6 rebounds, 2.0 assists and 2.0 steals per game while shooting 48.8 percent from the field, 37.8 percent from three-point range, and 86.1 percent from the line. He led the team in scoring 11 times during the season and on December 29th was honored as the BIG EAST Player of the Week.

Guillermo Diaz burst on the scene with 23 points in his first collegiate game and quickly became a fan favorite. Diaz proved to be one the most exciting players in the BIG EAST, if not the country, using his quickness and 41 inch vertical leap to make spectacular plays.

He was named to the BIG EAST All-Rookie team after averaging 11.8 points, 2.9 rebounds, 2.2 assists and 1.3 steals per game while shooting 49.3 percent from the field, 46.1 percent from three-point range, and 70.1 percent from the line.

The season also marked the final campaign for senior forward Darius Rice. Rice led the team in scoring (16.9) and rebounding (6.4), and became just the second player in UM history to lead the team in scoring four consecutive seasons.

He earned All-BIG EAST second-team honors and ended his UM career ranked among its all-time leaders in scoring (4th), field goals (6th), field goal attempts (2nd), three-point field goals (2nd), three-point field goal attempts (2nd), free throws (7th), free throw attempts (9th), steals (11th), 20-point games (5th), minutes played (3rd), games played (10th) and games started (1st). His 1,060 career points in BIG EAST play ranks 19th in the history of the league.

Miami concluded its non-conference schedule with a 10-4 record which included wins over intrastate rivals Florida International and Florida Atlantic, as well as perennial power Temple at the Orange Bowl Basketball Classic.

Heading into the BIG EAST Conference season the Hurricanes were riding a wave of confidence having won five of its last six games with the lone defeat coming on the road against 12th-ranked North Carolina.

Miami opened its BIG EAST Conference schedule at home against defending BIG EAST Champion and 15th-ranked Pittsburgh. Miami nearly pulled off the upset in one of the most exciting games of the season falling to the Panthers, 84-80, in double-overtime.

Miami bounced back with a three consecutive wins including road wins at St. John's (70-64) and Virginia Tech (65-59), and a 73-63 home victory versus Rutgers. Following the Rutgers win Miami stood at 13-5, 3-1 in the BIG EAST, and were looking forward to a return to postseason play.

The Hurricanes, however, would drop its next 10 contests. Miami lost three overtime games during the stretch and played without its leading scorer, Darius Rice, in three others due to a sprained foot.

Miami broke the losing streak with a strong performance on the road against Villanova. Needing a win to keep its BIG EAST Tournament hopes alive Darius Rice scored 17 of his team-high 20 points in the second half to lead the Hurricanes to a 59-56 win.

Despite the 10-game losing streak, the win over Villanova put Miami in a position to earn a spot in the BIG EAST Tournament. Heading into its regular-season finale Miami controlled its own destiny. Win and they would be heading to Madison Square Garden.

But a 58-53 loss to West Virginia knocked UM out of BIG EAST Tournament contention and ended the Hurricanes' season. Miami finished the season 14-16 including a 4-12 record in its final season of BIG EAST play.

2003-04 Season Recap and Boxscores

GAME 3 - RHODE ISLAND 54, MIAMI 53 Las Vegas Tournament November 25, 2003 Valley High School, Las Vegas, NV

Brian Woodward scored 13 points and Rhode Island withstood two potentially game-winning shots in the final five seconds to defeat Miami, 54-53, in a third-round game of the NCAA Las Vegas Tournament.

A 3-pointer by Hite with 50 seconds left cut the Rams' lead to 54-53. On Rhode Island's next possession Surratt forced a five second call give UM the ball with 28 seconds left. Surratt then had the opportunity to put the Hurricanes but his three-point attempt hit off the back of the rim. The long rebound went to Hellenga who was fouled by Surratt with 3.4 seconds left. The foul was deemed intentional giving the Rams two shots and the ball. Hellenga missed both free throws and on the ensuing inbounds pass Miami freshman Guillermo Diaz stole the ball and called timeout with 1.8 seconds remaining.

On the final play of the game Gary Hamilton threw a baseball pass to Rice who caught the ball 26 feet from the basket, turned and put up the apparent game winner. But the referees said the shot came after the buzzer and waived it off.

Rice led the Hurricanes with 12 points. Hite added 11 while Surratt finished with 10.

GAME 21 - GEORGETOWN 87, MIAMI 80 (OT) January 31, 2004 Convocation Center, Coral Gables, FL

Gerald Riley scored 35 points, including seven in overtime, to lead Georgetown to an 87-80 overtime win over Miami on Saturday night.

Riley was 13-of-17 from the field and scored the most points by an individual player against Miami since Georgetown's Allen Iverson scored 38 on March 7, 1996.

Darius Rice scored 20 points for Miami, his biggest shot coming on a late three-pointer that sent the game into overtime. Riley, however, scored seven quick points in overtime to give Georgetown just its second win in seven games.

Guillermo Diaz also had 20 points to help lead the Hurricanes.

Down for most of the second half, Georgetown eventually pulled to within 68-67 on a three-point play by Bowman with just under three minutes left in the game, then took the lead on a dunk by Darrel Owens.

A Ray Reed layup with 24 seconds left gave Georgetown a 73-70 advantage before Rice's three-pointer from the top of the key sent the game into overtime.

GAME 23 - GEORGETOWN 80, MIAMI 64 February 7, 2004 MCI Center, Washington D.C.

Gerald Riley scored 29 of his career-high 37 points in the second half, rallying Georgetown to an 80-64 win over Miami at the MCI Center.

Riley, who scored 35 in the season's first meeting between the two teams, scored six points during a 17-5 run that opened the second half and gave Georgetown its first lead since 2-0.

The senior followed the game-changing run with a personal 11-4 burst, hitting a short jumper and three 3-pointers that put Georgetown ahead 53-44 with 10:26 to play in the game.

Darius Rice scored 14 to lead Miami, which lost its fifth straight and now must worry about even making the conference tournament.

Saturday's loss to the Hoyas brings next-to-last place Virginia Tech within a half-game of Miami and only the two last place teams fail to qualify for the March trip to New York.

Brandon Bowman scored 19 for the Hoyas, who trailed by 11 in the first half despite forcing the Hurricanes into 15 first-half turnovers.

Miami did a better job of taking care of the basketball in the second half, but never made a serious challenge after Georgetown's outburst to start the second half.

University of Miami Hurricanes

It lay silent for 14 years. Collecting dust and going unnoticed, the Miami basketball program was the Rip VanWinkle of college basketball from 1971 to 1985. Now, Hurricane Basketball is back. In a big way.

Since 1985 the Miami program has undergone such dramatic and frequent changes, it seemed that the Hurricanes were continually entering "a new era." First came the "Era of Miami Basketball" itself. Then came the "Bill Foster Era," followed by the "Tito Horford Era," "The Leonard Hamilton Era," "The BIG EAST Era," and now the "ACC Era."

With the entry into the Atlantic Coast Conference this season, the University of Miami has entered the ranks of the most competitive and successful basketball conference in the nation.

The road to conference affiliation in the ACC was not an easy one for those who thirsted for basketball in this continually prospering section of the country. Moreover, the previous path traveled by Miami basketball players, coaches and fans was dotted by flashes of brilliance, color and sometimes disappointment.

Here is a capsule summary of the 78 years of Miami basketball that have intermittently played a part in the history of the athletic program at the University and its neighboring community.

The 1920s: Miami's First Time

- The Hurricanes fielded a freshman team in 1926-27, finishing 7-1 under Head Coach Art Webb.
- In 1927-28, the first official varsity basketball team at the University of Miami posted an 8-4 mark, knocking off Rollins, 51-15, in the opener.

The 1930s: A Missing Link

- Miami records list no official results from 1932 through 1938. During that period of time, representatives from the school played local AAU and church sponsored teams under Coach Tom McCann.

- The Hurricanes returned to intercollegiate competition in the 1938-39 season, posting a 4-6 record under Head Coach Hart Morris.

The 1940s: World War II Stops Play

- Like many other institutions across the nation, Miami dropped intercollegiate basketball during the war years of 1942-1945.
- Morris returned as head coach along with the program in 1946 and was the UM mentor until 1952 when Dave Wike took over for a two-year stint as the UM coach.

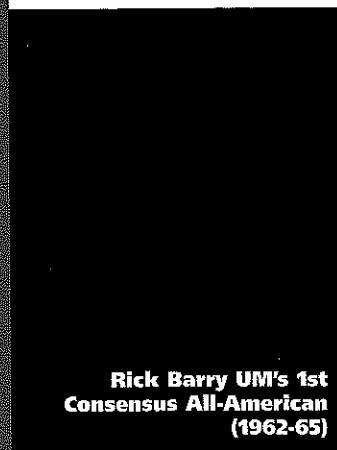

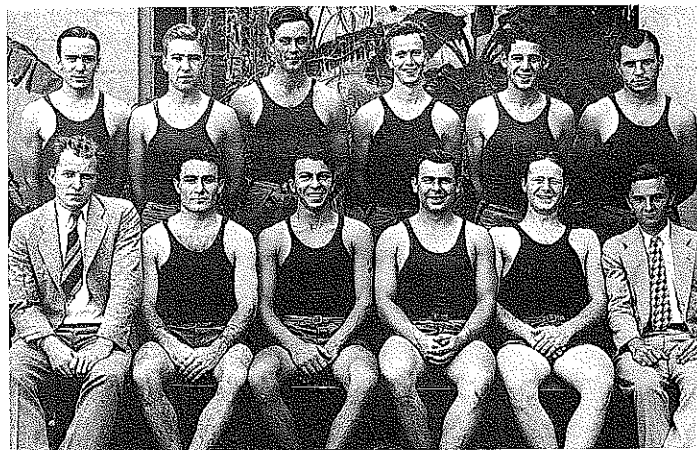

The 1950s: UM's Glory Years

- In 1954, the University named Bruce Hale as its head basketball coach. The retired Air Force captain and former professional basketball star held the UM head coaching post for 13 seasons, leading the Hurricane program through its glory years of intercollegiate basketball. Before the end of Hale's tenure in 1967, the Hurricanes won 220 games and lost 112 for a .663 winning percentage. Hale's first Miami team turned in a 9-11 record, but there were no other losing campaigns in the next 12 years. The streak of non-losing seasons extended through the 1968-69 season — marking 14 consecutive campaigns of .500 basketball or better for UM.
- Hale's 1959-60 club was the first UM men's basketball team to advance to the NCAA Tournament and finish the season ranked in the Associated Press Top 10. That 1959-60 edition ran its record to 23-3 before bowing to Western Kentucky, 107-84, in the first round of the tournament.
- During that historic '59-60 NCAA Tournament year, junior guard Dick Hickox became the first UM basketball player to earn All-America recognition.

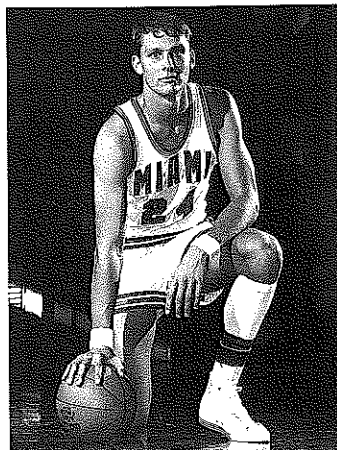

The Hurricanes returned to intercollegiate competition in the 1938-39 season, posting a 4-6 record under Head Coach Hart Morris.

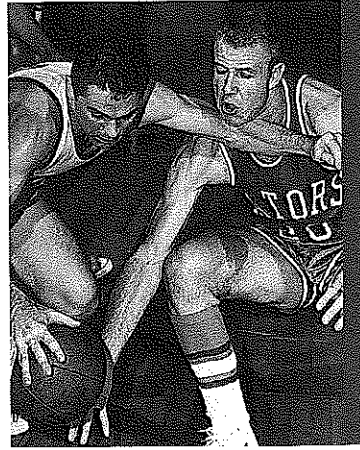

The 1928-29 Miami Hurricanes recorded a 13-6 overall record.

Rick Barry UM's 1st Consensus All-American (1962-65)

Dick Hickox was named UM's first All-American in 1960. He led UM to a 23-3 record, the Hurricanes' first NCAA tournament and the school's first final regular-season Associated Press Top 10 ranking.

Hickox averaged 22.1 points per game during that season en route to becoming a second-team AP and UPI All-American.

The 1960s: Rick Barry's All-American Years

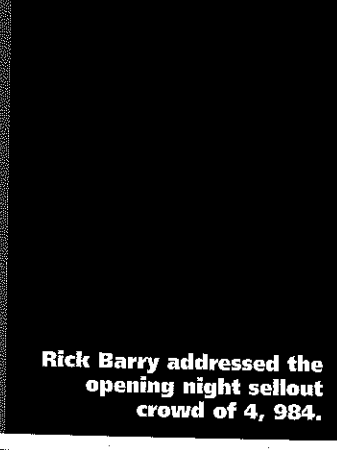

- The Dick Hickox-led Hurricanes of 1960-61 returned to post-season play — falling in the first round of the NIT to St. Louis, 58-56. The 1960-61 squad compiled a 20-7 record.
- In 1962-63, Miami advanced to the second round of the NIT before falling to Providence, 106-96. An opening round NIT victory over St. Francis (NY), 71-70, marks the only Miami victory to date in post-season play.
- From 1962 through 1965, Miami recorded three consecutive 20-win seasons, rolling up a composite record of 65-16. The star of these Hurricane glory teams was a brilliant scorer named Rick Barry.
- In 1964-65, Barry became the Hurricanes' only consensus All-America selection. The 6-7, 200-pound native of Roselle Park, New Jersey led the nation in scoring with a 37.4 average in his senior season. He went on to become the only player in basketball history to win single-season scoring titles in the NCAA, ABA and NBA. He was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA, in 1986.
- The 1964-65 Miami squad, led by Barry's scoring brilliance, established a new NCAA scoring record by averaging 98.4 points per game. The 'Canes, however, were not allowed to participate in the NCAA Tournament that year — after posting a 22-4 record — because of recruiting violations.
- Bruce Hale resigned after 1966-67 and assistant Ron Godfrey assumed the head coaching responsibilities.

The 1970s: First Era Ends

- February 27, 1971 — The last victory by a University of Miami men's basketball team for 14 years came in the second to the last game of the season, a 100-94 triumph over Florida State at home in the Dinner Key Auditorium. The 'Canes shot a season-high 62.5 percent from the floor as all five Miami starters scored in double figures.
- March 1, 1971 — After posting a four-year record of 47-56 at Miami, Ron Godfrey resigned his post as head basketball coach, effective following Miami's final game of the season against nationally ranked Jacksonville.
- March 2, 1971 — The last game played by a University of Miami men's team until 1985 took place at the Dinner Key Auditorium where one of the largest UM home crowds in years turned out to see the Hurricanes host nationally ranked Jacksonville. The Dolphins handed Miami a 94-75 loss that remained as UM's last contest for the next 14 years.
- April 22, 1971 — The University of Miami Board of Trustees voted to drop the sport "temporarily until such time as a permanent field house can be constructed on the main campus." Sagging attendance figures and serious financial losses were also believed to contribute to the discontinuation of basketball at UM.

In 1983: UM Commits To Rebuild

- July 15, 1983 — Sam Jankovich was named athletic director at the University of Miami. Coming to UM after a successful stint as the athletic director at Washington State, Jankovich immediately announced that the resurrection of men's basketball at Miami would be his primary priority in the early months of his tenure, enabling UM to have "one of the nation's most complete and visible overall programs in the country."
- October 12, 1983 — The University of Miami Board of Trustees unanimously voted to reinstate men's basketball at the University of Miami. The Board made the decision after reviewing a report submitted by newly hired Athletic Director Sam Jankovich which stated that men's basketball can be a revenue-producing venture. Moreover, nearly $500,000 had already been raised in support of bringing basketball back to the University. It was also announced that the Hurricanes would be ready to compete on the Division I level in the 1985-86 season, and the downtown James L. Knight Center was home for the reborn program.

"This is an exciting day for the University and for the athletic program," UM President Edward T. Foote II said. "And we are keeping in mind the priorities of academics first and athletics second ... we are pleased that the changes in the economics of intercollegiate basketball allow the University to resurrect one of the country's most popular sports. We look forward to welcoming these Hurricanes home again."

In 1984: Foster Hired As Coach

- March 21, 1984 — Bill Foster, a 47-year-old native of Hemingway, South Carolina was named the seventh men's basketball coach at the University of Miami. Foster came to Miami after 19 years as a head coach at three different institutions: Shorter College, North Carolina-Charlotte and Clemson. Foster also announced on this day that Clint Bryant, a long-time assistant at Clemson, would also join the Miami staff in a similar capacity.
- April 9, 1984 — Bill Foster announced the hiring of a second assistant coach, Seth Greenberg, who was serving as an assistant coach to Terry Holland at the University of Virginia.
- April 16, 1984 — Tim Harvey, a 6-10, 240-pound center, became the first basketball player to commit to the University of Miami in over 14 years. The Plainfield, New Jersey native announced that he would transfer to Miami after spending two seasons in the Georgia Tech program.

- July 1, 1984 — A third assistant coach was hired to complete the basketball staff as Miami native Cesar Odio returned home after serving as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Florida Southern College.
- October 11, 1984 — Nearly one full year after the announcement that basketball would return to the University, Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announced that a million dollar-plus practice facility would be constructed on the Coral Gables campus. The new all purpose structure — located between the Hecht Athletic Center and the Greentree Track would be funded through a gift from the James L. Knight Charitable Trust.
- The first phase of the 1985-86 basketball schedule was also announced on this day, and the line-up included such perennial powers as North Carolina, Georgia, Notre Dame, Marquette and Dayton.
- October 15, 1984 — The first men's basketball practice session in over twelve years was held on the patio in the center of campus. More than 200 members of the student body participated.

In 1985:

With Everything In Place, Miami Tips Off Again

- April 25, 1985 — Foster announced that the UM's 1985-86 basketball roster would include nine freshmen, one sophomore and one junior as the spring signing period ends for NCAA basketball.
- August 16, 1985 — Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announced that the 1985-86 basketball schedule had been completed and that network television coverage of the Hurricane program would include two games to be broadcast by CBS (Arizona) and ESPN (Notre Dame).
- Jankovich also announced the completion of a local television schedule (on WBFS-Channel 33) that would bring all nine UM road games back to Miami by way of live local broadcasts. Channel 33 would also carry selected home games in the Knight Center.
- WIOD Radio, the radio voice of UM football and baseball would also carry all

- October 15, 1985 — Basketball practice officially begins at the University of Miami in the Knight Sports Complex.
- November 12, 1985 — The Knight Sports Complex was dedicated at a gala banquet that was held on the basketball courts of the new structure. CBS basketball analyst Billy Packer served as the evening's guest speaker for an event which welcomed over 500 guests to the on-campus home of Hurricane basketball. The facility now serves as the practice home to the men's and women's basketball programs while also housing the men's basketball coaching staff offices. In addition, the Knight Sports Complex enabled the athletic program to more than double the size of the existing strength room, while also providing meeting rooms and lecture rooms for all of Miami's student athletes. The structure is located between the Hecht Athletic Center and the Greentree Track.
- November 22, 1985 — The brand new era of Hurricane basketball was ushered in by a young UM squad which defeated The Citadel, 85-77, in front of a sellout crowd of 4,984 at the Knight Center. Dennis Burns (24 points), Kevin Presto (22) and Eric Brown (21) combined to lead the Miami offense, while Bryan Hughes enjoyed the distinction of scoring Miami's first point in 14 years (a free throw with 18:34 remaining in the first half).
- November 30, 1985 — Miami stuns 1985 NCAA Tourney participant Georgia with a thrilling 81-78 victory to capture the first AMI Classic Championship at the James L. Knight Center.

End of the 1980s:

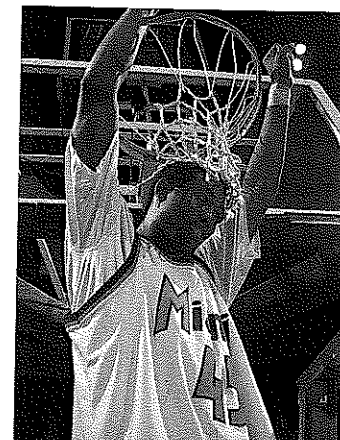

UM Moves Forward, Upsets Top 20 Teams

- March 5, 1986 — An 84-62 loss to Marquette in Milwaukee closed the Hurricanes' first season since 1970-71. Miami finished the year with a 14-14 record, giving Bill Foster his 19th non-losing record in 20 years as a collegiate head coach.
- The 1986-87 season — Though still considered "America's Youngest Team,"

John Salmons celebrates after Miami defeated St. John's 74-70 in overtime to capture the 1999-00 BIG EAST regular-season championship.

- Miami compiled a 15-16 slate — recording upset victories over Marquette, Stanford and Florida State, while losing by only four points to future BIG EAST foe Providence — a team that advanced to the NCAA Final Four.
- The 1987-88 season — Thrilling victories over both Providence and Virginia Commonwealth propelled the 'Canes to continued improvement with a 17-14 record. Following the season, center Tito Horford announced his intention to enter the NBA Draft without completing his final two seasons of eligibility. Miami was left with anything but a depleted roster as ten lettermen, including eight seniors, returned for UM's fourth season.
- April 12, 1988 — Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announces plans to move Hurricane Basketball to the new $56 million Miami Arena. Also home to the NBA's Miami Heat, the state-of-the-art basketball facility signifies a new era in the rise of South Florida basketball.
- December 10, 1988 — A crowd of 6,654 watches the Hurricanes run neck-and-neck for 40 minutes with ACC powerhouse Duke. Blue Devil Danny Ferry needs a superhuman performance to stop the 'Canes as he connects on 23 of 26 shots en route to 58 points. Ferry later calls Miami "a definite Top 40 team."
- January 12, 1989 — Joel Warren's free throw, his only point of the evening, with two seconds remaining clinches Miami's first victory over a Top 20 team as the 'Canes upset defending national champion and No. 16-ranked Kansas, 87-86, at the Miami Arena.
- March 6, 1989 — The Hurricanes post an 89-82 win over Florida International University in the first annual Carnival Miami Cup. The win leaves Miami with a 19-12 slate, good enough for the best record in 24 years and ten seasons at Miami. Eric Brown ends his brilliant Miami career with 2,270 career points, just 28 back of All-America Rick Barry's Hurricane record of 2,298.
- December 6, 1989 — Miami hands an 87-82 loss to eventual NCAA tournament participant University of Dayton as a Hurricane squad that includes six freshmen and no seniors jumps out with three consecutive wins to start the season.

In 1990:

Hamilton Hired, UM Joins The BIG EAST

- January 18, 1990 — Nearly 5,000 fans turn out to watch one of the most exciting Hurricane games ever as Miami edges Florida State in two OTs, 101-97.
- February 19, 1990 — Miami storms back to post a 62-59 victory over the University of Florida, ending the Gators 11-game win streak over the 'Canes that began during the 1964-65 season.
- March 6, 1990 — The Hurricanes send Head Coach Bill Foster out on a winning note as one of the most successful and respected collegiate coaches in the nation leaves Miami following an 83-55 win over Florida International. Foster's six-year rebuilding record at Miami stands at 78-71 (.523) while his overall career mark tallies up to 431-247 (.636) in 24 seasons.
- April 2, 1990 — UM Athletic Director Sam Jankovich ends a national search for a new coach that spanned an entire season with the hiring of Leonard Hamilton from Oklahoma State University. "After meeting with Leonard Hamilton for just five minutes," said Jankovich, "with that smile and that enthusiasm, there was no question who I wanted as coach of the University of Miami."
- October 10, 1990 — On the combined recommendation of President Edward T. Foote and Athletic Director Sam Jankovich, the University's Board of Trustees unanimously votes to accept an invitation to become the tenth member of the BIG EAST Conference. The Hurricane Basketball program will begin BIG EAST play in the 1991-92 season.
- December 28, 1990 — The Hurricanes rebound from back-to-back double overtime defeats to upset No. 28-ranked Mississippi State, 74-67, in the consolation contest of the Eastern Airlines Palm Beach Classic. Joe Wylie is voted to the all-tournament squad after breaking seven tourney records including total points with 60 in the two games.
- January 3, 1991 — Joe Wylie becomes the 17th player in the history of UM basketball to score 1,000 career points. Wylie would later go on to finish his UM career ranked No. 8 for both scoring and rebounding in the UM record books.
- March 6, 1991 — Leonard Hamilton's inaugural season ends with a 9-19 won-lost mark. However, there were large doses of success layden throughout the year as the 'Canes were victorious in six of their final nine contests and fin-

Retired Jerseys

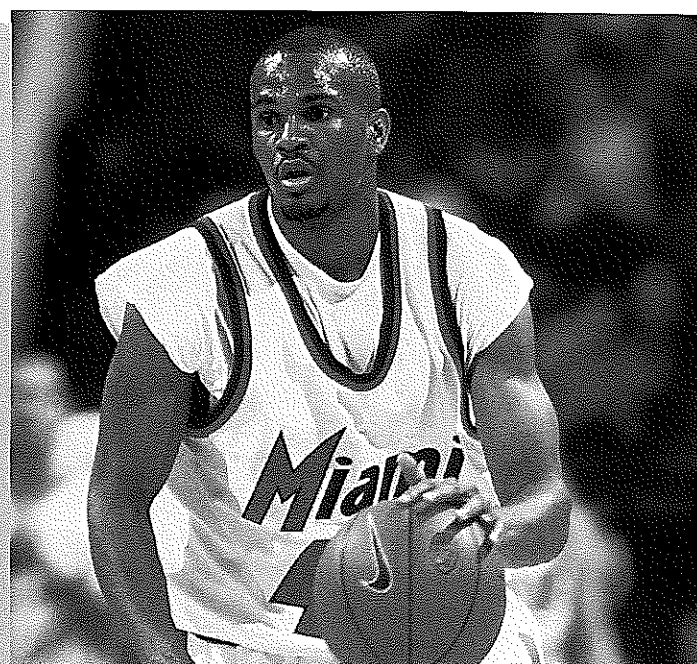

#24 Rick Barry

The first basketball jersey to be retired at the University of Miami was number 24 in honor of Rick Barry, the Hurricanes' all-time leading scorer. Barry, UM's lone consensus first team All-American, led the Hurricanes to a 65-16 record and a pair of post-season berths in his three years. Barry, who finished his UM career with 2,298 points and 1,274 rebounds, is the only Hurricane to top both the 2,000-point and the 1,000-rebound barrier. He still owns five UM career records and numerous single-season records. Barry was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA in 1986. He is the only player in basketball history to win single-season scoring titles in the NCAA, NBA and ABA.

Rick Barry was named one of the 50 Greatest Players in NBA History in 1996.

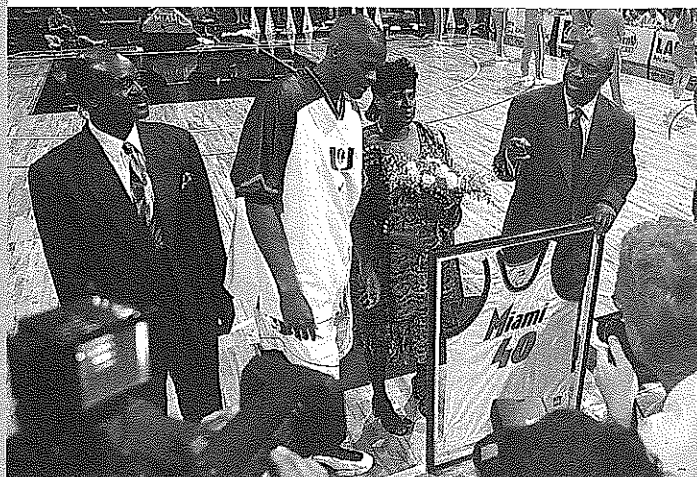

#40 Tim James

On February 27, 1999 Tim James became just the second Hurricane to have his number retired. During his four seasons at UM, James was a positive influence both on and off the court. A Miami native, James was very active in the community working with the "Join a Team, Not a Gang" program and speaking to local youth groups on the importance of staying in school and saying no to drugs.

James, the only player to record over 1,500 career points, 800 career rebounds and 200 career blocked shots, helped lead the Hurricanes into the national spotlight. During his four seasons Miami registered a 68-41 (.624) record, four consecutive winning seasons and three consecutive post season appearances including the school's first NCAA Tournament bid since 1960. The 6-7 forward ended his UM career ranked fourth on Miami's career scoring list (1,713 points), fifth on the career rebounding list (856 rebounds) and second on the career blocked shots list (224 blocks).

James, a two-time first-team All-BIG EAST selection, was named third-team All-America by both the Associated Press and National Association of Basketball Coaches as a senior, as well BIG EAST Co-Player of the Year in 1999.

Tim James had his jersey retired in a ceremony prior to the Hurricanes regular-season finale versus Rutgers on February 27, 1999.

Interview Policy

All interviews with UM players and coaches should be scheduled through the Sports Information Office. Players and coaches are available for interviews prior to the start of practice upon request. THERE WILL BE NO PLAYER INTERVIEWS ON GAME DAYS.

Post-Game Interviews

Miami players and Head Coach Frank Haith will retire to the locker room immediately following each game for a 10-minute cooling off period. Following the meeting, Coach Haith will conduct his post-game radio show prior to addressing the media in the media interview room. Once Coach Haith exits the locker room it will be open to the media. A member of the UM SID staff will be there to assist the media. Following his post-game radio show, Coach Haith and select Hurricane players will address the media in the interview room. Members of the media requiring specific players are instructed to inform a UM SID representative of their request.

Photographers

NCAA rules limit the shooting access areas to BEHIND THE BASELINES ONLY. NO PHOTOGRAPHERS WILL BE PERMITTED TO SHOOT ALONG THE SIDELINE OR BENCH AREAS. Photo requests should be made in writing at least one week in advance on letterhead stationery. Direct all requests to Assistant Sports Information Director Sam Henderson or Administrative Assistant Carol Recicar in the UM SID office.

Press Credentials

Credentials for UM home games are to be used by the working media only and should be requested in writing at least one week in advance on letterhead stationery. Direct all requests to Assistant Sports Information Director Sam Henderson or Administrative Assistant Carol Recicar in the UM SID office.

Telephones

Six complementary phone lines will be available for media use in the Media Work Room. It is recommended that media with deadline concerns order phone lines. For Convocation Center phone lines contact Valeria Henderson with Global Spectrum at 305-284-8244. Media who order lines are reminded to bring telephones with them to the arena.

Parking

Media parking for University of Miami home games is in the Ponce de Leon Parking Garage located on the corner of Dickinson Drive and Ponce de Leon Boulevard. There is no charge for media parking.

Statistics/Services

Complete game statistics including play-by-play and shot charts will be available at all UM home games. In-game statistics are available to radio and television announcers via television monitors on press row. A meal is served approximately 90 minutes prior to tipoff at a cost of $5 per person.

Practice Attendance

Working media may attend the first 30 minutes of select practices upon request. Media scheduled to attend practice should first check in at the SID Office. THE UM LOCKER ROOM, DORMS, WEIGHT ROOM AND TRAINING ROOM ARE OFF LIMITS TO THE MEDIA.
