1992-93 Preview

Following an 8-24 season, it would be understandable if a cloud of disappointment was hanging over the basketball offices at the University of Miami. But for the Hurricane basketball team, the 1991-92 campaign is remembered not as a lesson in frustration, but as a phenomenal accomplishment that will long be remembered as a turning point in the success story of Miami basketball.

There were the obvious victories -- the win over St. John's in the first conference game ever played in Miami and the stunning upset of Pittsburgh in the BIG EAST Tournament at Madison Square Garden. But beyond the final scores there were countless achievements and lessons learned by the young Hurricanes. The victories, defeats and all the experiences in between, both on and off the court, have become the first tangible pieces of the realization of a dream.

Senior guard Trevor Burton

The dream of a championship banner in Miami takes another giant step closer to reality in 1992-93 as Head Coach Leonard Hamilton leads the Hurricanes into their second season in the BIG EAST Conference. It is a well-rounded and flexible squad which will represent the University of Miami as several of the 14 scholarship players on the UM roster are able to play more than one position on the floor.

While still a very young squad that includes a total of 10 freshmen and sophomores, the 1992-93 version of Hurricane basketball has added depth and talent at virtually every position. With newfound diversity and numbers, Coach Hamilton can begin to develop a variety of lineups, strategies and tempos so necessary to compete at the competitive level which fuels the BIG EAST.

Four seniors enter their final season in a UM uniform in 1992-93: Trevor Burton, Anthony Lawrence, Jake Morton and Hammie Ward.

In many ways Burton's career is one of the more significant since the rebirth of the Miami program seven years ago. A native of Miami, Burton grew up just a short walk away from the UM Campus and attended South Miami High School where he led Dade County in scoring three consecutive years. He was the first local star to stay home and help build the UM program, paving the way for teammates Ochiel Swaby and Steve Edwards, and all who will follow in the years to come.

Burton, who can play both the two-guard and small forward, was Miami's No. 2 scorer last year averaging 9.7 ppg, including a six-game stretch to end the season in which he tallied an average of 21.7 points.

The elder statesman of the UM squad is fifth-year senior Jake Morton. Morton, who has logged time at both the point and shooting guard positions, was red-shirted in his third season at UM following a fractured kneecap suffered during an exhibition game. He appeared in 26 contests in 1991-92 and averaged 5.3 points before a broken right hand sidelined him with six games remaining in the campaign. Both outspoken and a leader by example, Morton possesses a keen understanding of the game and was nicknamed "Coach" during his time on the bench with injuries.

Having started all 32 contests in 1991-92, Hammie Ward provides the Hurricanes' frontcourt with experience, leadership and an excellent work ethic. Ward, who has the best shooting percentage of any Hurricane in each of the last two seasons, can play either the power forward or the center position.

Joining Ward at the power forward is Anthony Lawrence who transferred to the University of Miami in December of 1991 and appeared in a UM uniform for 26 contests last season. Lawrence, who at 6'9" and 260 pounds is built for the physical inside play that is often associated with the BIG EAST, was second on the UM squad in rebounding (4.7 rpg) and No. 5 in scoring (6.7 ppg) last season.

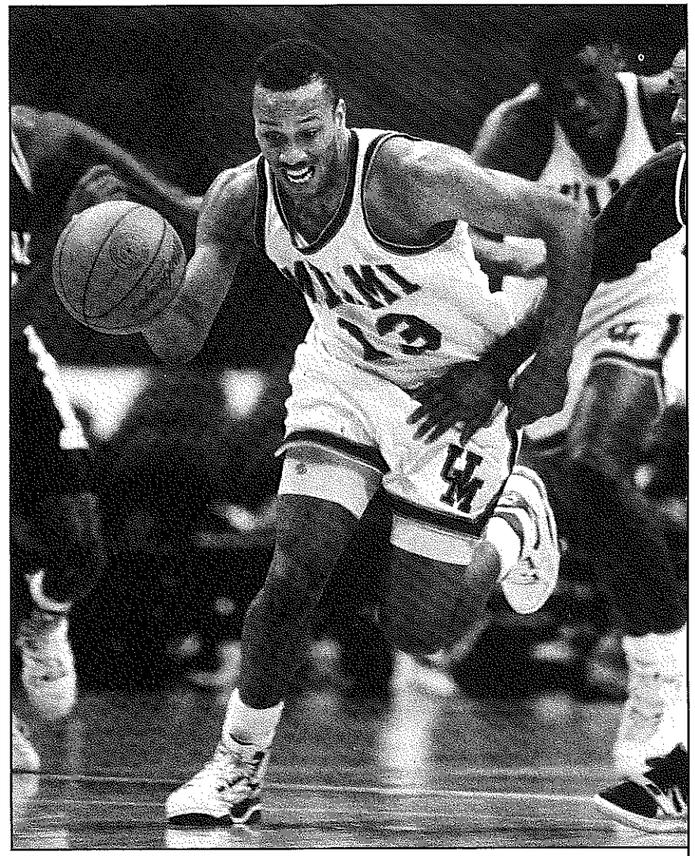

While there are no juniors on this year's Miami squad, four sophomores return following a freshman season of BIG EAST action: Michael Gardner, Pat Lawrence, Constantin Popa and Ochiel Swaby.

As a true freshman, Gardner started 26 games at the point guard position last season and led the Hurricanes in assists with a total of 98 (3.8 apg). The smallest player on the UM team at 5'11", Gardner is joined by another sophomore who is a returning starter -- Constantin Popa, who is the tallest player to ever wear a Hurricane uniform at 7'3".

A native of Romania, Popa earned the 'Canes' "Most Improved Player" award last season. He began on the opening day of practice with little knowledge of the American style of play and a collapsed lung, and ended the season as Miami's leading rebounder (4.8 rpg) and shot-blocker (2.0 bpg).

The younger brother of Hurricane senior Anthony Lawrence, Pat Lawrence returns at both the small and power forward positions. A slashing player with excellent ball handling skills, Pat appeared in 30 contests as a true freshman for an average of 12.0 minutes per contest.

Rounding out the sophomore class is perhaps the most potent scorer on the UM team, forward Ochiel Swaby. Following a brilliant high school career in which he led the entire nation in scoring with a senior season average of 47.4 points per game, Swaby logged playing time in 31 UM contests as a rookie, leading the Hurricanes in scoring on seven occasions and finishing as Miami's No. 3 scorer (7.8 ppg).

Senior guard Jake Morton

The future of any collegiate basketball program rides on the back of recruiting. This past year, Head Coach Leonard Hamilton lassoed a group of six prep stars that together, rank as the No. 4 recruiting class in the nation and the finest incoming class in the history of Miami basketball: William Davis, Steve Edwards, Steve Frazier, Tshombe High, Lorenzo Pearson and Brad Timpf.

For the first time in UM history, Miami will boast two seven-footers as center William Davis, 7'0", joins Popa, 7'3". Davis attended Fork Union Military Academy in Viriginia last season, the same school several Hurricanes have attended including Popa and UM football players Stephen McGuire and Vinny Testaverde.

Hamilton bolstered his power forward position with 6'9" Brad Timpf of Taravella High School in Coral Springs, FL, and 6'8" Lorenzo Pearson from Whitney-Young High School in Chicago, IL. Timpf brings the total of current Hurricanes from the state of Florida to six, while Pearson, who was hotly recruited by several Division I powers, becomes the first Chicago native to join the Miami basketball program.

Three freshman guards will offer Hamilton a wide range of talents and options in 1992-93. Voted "Mr. Basketball" in Florida for the past two years, 6'5" Steve Edwards travels across town from Miami Senior High School to the UM. Edwards is the younger brother of current Florida State standout Douglas Edwards.

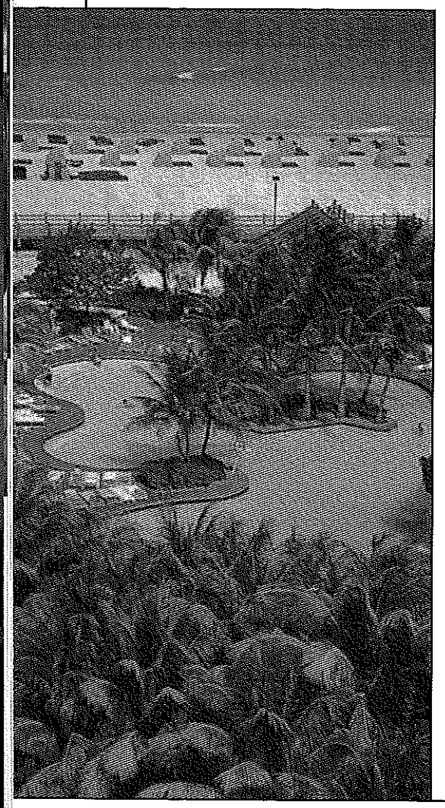

Coach Hamilton tapped BIG EAST territory for the first time in landing highly touted Steve Frazier from Queens, NY. Frazier, 6'2", attended St. Thomas More Prep School in Oakdale, CT this past season following a brilliant high school career at Andrew Jackson High where he led all of New York in scoring with an average of 39 points per contest.

Rounding out the rookie class is 6'3" Tshombe High from Brainerd High School in Chattanooga, TN. One of the more gifted athletes to come through the Miami program, High possesses tremendous leaping ability and is a true crowd-pleaser with his dunking skills.

The University

The University of Miami is the largest independent teaching and research university in the Southeast and, opened in 1926, is among the nation's youngest. The Coral Gables campus, 10 miles from Miami, is the site of most of the University's undergraduate and graduate programs. The University also operates a medical center in downtown Miami, a world renowned marine and atmospheric science school on Virginia Key in Biscayne Bay and a bio-medical research and development center on its South Campus.

Following goals established in its nationally acclaimed strategic plan, the University of Miami recently completed a five-year fund raising campaign that raised $517.5 million for endowment, facilities and equipment.

Enrollment at the University of Miami has grown from a few hundred when classes were held in a remodeled Coral Gables Hotel to 13,153 credit-seeking students including about 8,270 undergraduate, 2,691 graduate, 1,479 law and 576 medical students. Representing all U.S. states and 110 foreign countries, the student body is composed of 50 percent Florida residents, 41 percent from other states, and 10 percent foreign nationals.

Academics

The University offers 130 undergraduate and 175 graduate degree programs through schools of Architecture, Business Administration, Communication, Continuing Studies, Education, International Studies, Law, Marine and Atmospheric Sciences, Medicine, Music, Nursing, the Graduate School, and colleges of Arts and Sciences and Engineering.

The Rosenstiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science is recognized as one of the top three marine science schools in the country. The University offers graduate as well as undergraduate degree programs in marine affairs and marine sciences.

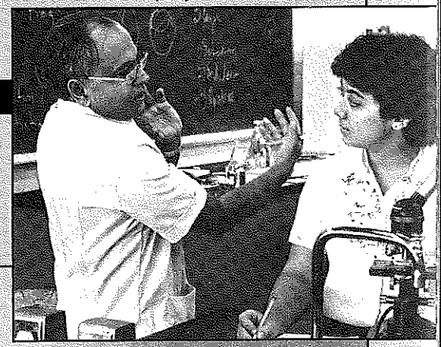

Established in 1952 as Florida's first medical school, the University of Miami School of Medicine is the hub of the UM/Jackson Memorial Medical Center, the second largest such complex in the country and one of the hemisphere's major centers for teaching, research, diagnosis and patient care. The hospital was recently ranked the best in medicine based on peer review by 300 physicians across the country.

In addition to schools and colleges, many institutes, centers and interdisciplinary units attract national recognition for research and other programs. Among them are: Bascom Palmer Eye Institute, Innovation and Entrepreneurship Institute, Institute for Molecular and Cellular Evolution, Institute of Soviet and East European Studies, Law and Economics Center, Miami Project to Cure Paralysis, Mailman Center for Child Development, and the North-South Center Research.

Research

As it has for more than a decade, the University ranks among the top three percent of 2,600 universities and colleges receiving federal research and development grants. During the 1989-90 academic year, the faculty were awarded more than $133.7 million in separately budgeted grants and contracts from federal, state, local and private sources.

In addition to basic research in science, medicine, engineering and social sciences, current projects cover a wide spectrum of global concerns including climatology, oceanography, population and resource studies, spinal cord injuries, diabetes, AIDS, cancer, productivity, technology transfer and international relations.

The Community

A crossroads where cultures and commerce of Latin America, the Caribbean, Europe, Asia and North America merge, the greater Miami area is one of the most dynamic regions of the country. Coral Gables hosts hemispheric headquarters for many multi-national corporations but maintains the Mediterranean charm envisioned by George Merrick, the city and University founder, 66 years ago.

Academic Excellence

In striving to meet the challenges facing the student-athlete in today's complex society, the University of Miami Athletic Department along with UM's Developmental Services Center has established a unique academic support program that serves to enhance the life of the student-athlete. This cooperative effort between the academic and athletic communities reflects the commitment of the entire university to the complete development of the student-athlete.

Dr. Anna Price

Dr. Anna Price, assistant athletic director for academics & student services, administers the academic support and student services programs. The programs were designed to encourage students of all levels to best prepare themselves for a career after athletics.

"We want to facilitate the true personal development of the student-athlete by establishing a strong fundamental background," said Price. "We provide support in helping them develop the balance between academics and athletics as well as proper time management and mental attitude in order to realize and build on their strengths."

The recent results of this program have been very impressive. The overall graduation rate for all UM athletic programs exceeds 60% and the success rate of the Hurricane Basketball program has been at or near 100% since its rebirth in 1985.

Head Coach Leonard Hamilton's commitment to academics is demonstrated by two very important facts:

1. Every Hurricane who has completed his athletic eligibility in the Hamilton era has received his bachelor's degree, including all four seniors from 1992.

2. Since Hamilton took over the Miami program in the Spring of 1990, the grade-point average of the Hurricane Basketball team has increased in every semester.

Hurricane Traditions

The Hurricanes:

It began in controversy. Some reports say that the '27 football team held a team meeting to select Hurricanes, hoping they would sweep away opponents just as the devastating storm did on September 16, 1926. Another version holds that the Miami News columnist Jack Bell came out to the field the day before UM's freshmen team played Rollins in '26 and asked end Porter Norris what the team should be called. Told that the local dignitaries and University officials wanted to name the team for a local flora or fauna, Norris said the players wouldn't stand for it and suggested "Hurricanes" since the opening game had been postponed by such a storm. From time to time, opposition has arisen to the name that would "reinforce Miami's negative reputation as a weather-beaten community living constantly under the threat of destruction." But as one UM official rationalized in the 60's, "Does anyone think Chicago is overrun by bears just because the town has a football team by that name?"

Orange Green and White:

The school colors were selected in 1926 by a committee of Ruth Bryan Owens (daughter of famed attorney William Jennings Bryan), Harry Provin and Bertha Foster. Owens was a member of the board of regents and taught speech at the University. From her suggestion, the colors of the Florida orange tree were to represent UM -- orange for the fruit itself, green for the leaves and white for the blossom.

The "U":

In 1973, the UM Athletic Federation, the fund-raising arm of the athletic department at the time, commissioned a local public relations expert to develop a distinctive logo. The University had gone several years with a variety of helmet and uniform changes and the Federation noted that a number of major colleges have the initials UM. Miami designer Bill Bodenheimer suggested the "U" idea, which lent itself to inserting silhouetted athletes in the middle of the "U" to establish distinctive logos for each sport as well as slogans like "U gotta believe" and "U is great."

The Miami Maniac:

Serving as the official mascot at all Hurricane basketball home games is the Miami Maniac. Having been originated by UM Baseball Coach Ron Fraser in 1983, the Maniac also performs at Miami baseball games as well as special performances as the official mascot of the College World Series. The maniac inside the costume since 1984 is John Routh, who also portrays Sebastian The Ibis, the official mascot of Hurricane football. Routh is in his 10th year in the mascot business, having begun as "Cocky," the mascot of the University of South Carolina, his alma mater.

Sebastian The Ibis:

The school yearbook adopted the name "Ibis" with its inception in 1926, and the local marsh bird was considered UM's first unofficial mascot. In 1957, San Sebastian Hall, a UM residence hall, sponsored an Ibis entry in the homecoming celebration. The next year, student John Stormont performed at games in a glued, sewn and pinned together costume that was the forerunner of today's bird. Folklore has it that the Ibis, a symbol of knowledge found in the Everglades and Egypt, is the last sign of wildlife to take shelter before a hurricane and the first to reappear after the storm.

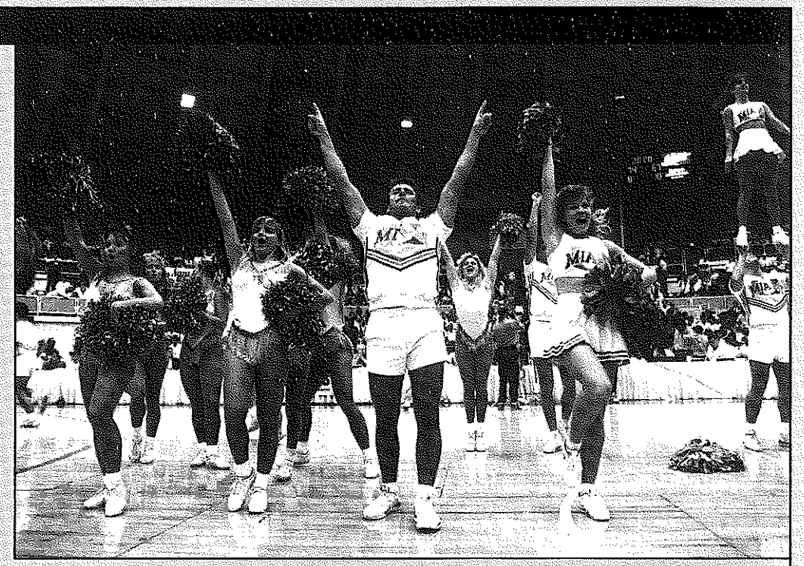

Hurricane Spirit

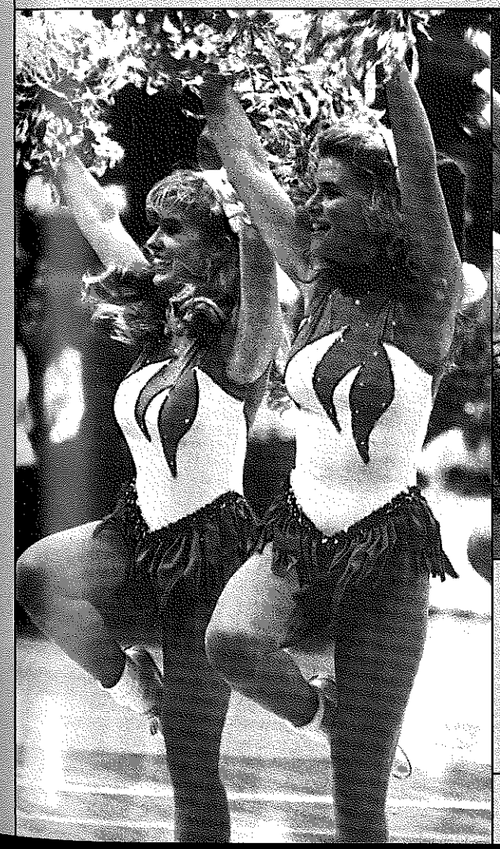

Cheerleaders:

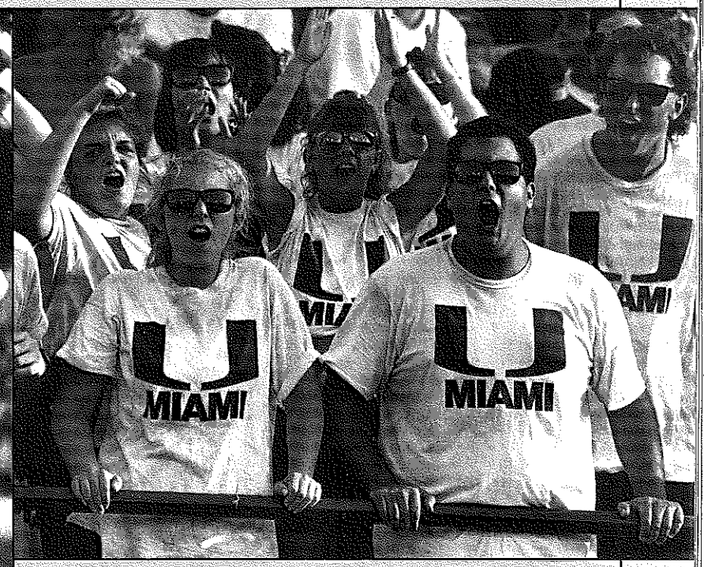

The University of Miami cheerleaders perform at all home basketball contests and the BIG EAST Tournament as week as all home and away football games. The squad also provides a valuable public relations function for the University by promoting season ticket sales, participating in recruiting events and appearing at many charity functions. The squad, which has travelled to both Japan and Europe, is under the direction of Coach Dan Reynolds and has been nationally ranked on a consistent basis.

Sunsations:

Now in their seventh year of entertaining Hurricane fans, the University of Miami Sunsations dance group is a squad of enthusiastic and talented performers that was developed specifically for Hurricane Basketball events. The Sunsations now perform at all home UM basketball and football contests. The squad is coached by former member Natalie Latronico and have received national recognition for their work.

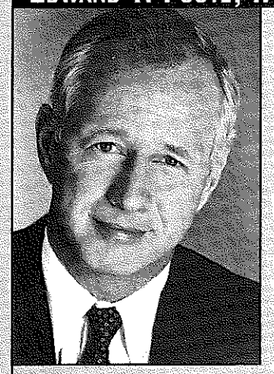

Storm Front:

Now in its third season, Storm Front is a student organization dedicated to raising the spirit of fans at all home men's and women's basketball games as well as all home football contests. The group participates in carrying the "MIAMI" flags, leading cheers and promotional activities. Storm Front began with a small, yet extremely enthusiastic group of 15 members and has grown to over 40 strong for the 1992-93 season.

Edward T. Foote, II -- University President

Edward T. "Tad" Foote, II became the fourth president of the University of Miami in 1981.

After graduating from Yale University in 1959, Foote served three years in the U.S. Marine Corps. In the early 1960s, he worked as a journalist for the Washington Star. While in law school, he worked for the Washington Daily News and later was assistant to the chairman of the Pennsylvania Avenue Commission in Washington, D.C.

Following graduation from Georgetown University law Center in 1966, Foote practiced trial, appellate, and labor law in the firm of Bryan, Cave, McPheeters & McRoberts in St. Louis, Missouri.

In 1970 he became vice chancellor, general counsel, and secretary to the Board of Trustees for Washington University in St. Louis, then served from 1973-80 as dean of the Washington University School of Law, where he taught constitutional law and legal ethics. Before coming to Miami, Foote was special advisor to the chancellor and Board of Trustees for Washington University, while he chaired two federal court-appointed citizen's advisory committees which helped design and implement school desegregation plans for greater St. Louis in 1980 and 1981.

Upon his arrival at the University of Miami in 1981, Foote introduced corporate-style strategic planning. Among his top priorities were reducing the number of students while increasing the number of faculty. Approximately three-quarters of the current faculty were hired by Foote, and the University's research productivity has expanded dramatically under his leadership. The 1,775 faculty members attracted $134 million in sponsored research for the 1990-91 academic year. Ranked 39th among the institutions receiving federal research funding, the University of Miami is the largest, most comprehensive, private research university in the Southeast.

During the past decade under Foote's leadership, the University of Miami added the School of Architecture, School of Communication, and Graduate School of International Studies, bringing to 14 the total number of schools and colleges. He also launched an ambitious $400 million five year fund-raising campaign, at the time the second largest capital campaign in the history of higher education. The campaign ended in 1990 with $517.5 million in commitments, including endowments for 45 chairs in various academic disciplines.

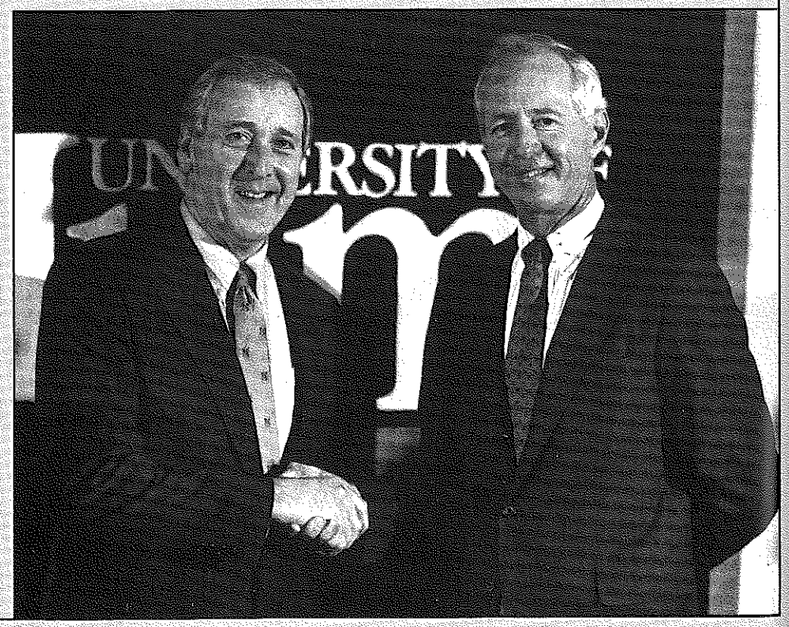

Most recently, the University secured a $10 million federal appropriation for the North-South Center, an international academic center that promotes the exchange of ideas, technology and research between the United States and the nations of Latin America, the Caribbean and Canada.

Foote also introduced the residential college concept at the University of Miami to enhance the undergraduate experience. Following a tradition established at universities in England and at a handful of institutions in the United States, each residential college is directed by a Master and faculty fellows, tenured senior faculty members who live at the college and are actively involved in planning a series of academic, social and recreational programs for resident students.

Active in a number of civic and educational organizations, Foote is a director of Ryder System, Inc. and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations. He is founding chairman of The Miami Coalition for a Drug-Free Community, a nationally recognized broad-based community organization committed to reducing the problems of illegal drugs. The Coalition has served as a model for community based anti-drug groups in over 193 cities and 41 countries, including Colombia.

Foote also serves on the President's Drug Advisory Council Steering Committee for a National Organization of Community Coalitions.

Among other awards, Foote has received honorary degrees from Washington University (1981), Tokai University in Japan (1984), and Barry University (1991). In 1982, the president of Peru presented him with that country's highest honor, the Order of the Sun.

UNIVERSITY of Miami
A GLOBAL UNIVERSITY

Dave Maggard -- Director of Athletics

"Dave Maggard is as respected as anybody in this profession in the United States. His name was recommended to us by countless people, always with the phrase added on the end that 'You would be very lucky if you could get him.' Well this is a very lucky day for the University of Miami. We could not do better than Dave Maggard."

With those words on February 11, 1991, University of Miami President Edward T. Foote introduced Maggard as the man destined to lead UM athletics into a new era as the sixth UM athletic director.

In just one short year, it's obvious that the Maggard era has begun full force as he has already left his imprint on the University of Miami athletic program. It's not that Maggard is making sweeping changes in a program regarded as one of the nation's best, but rather he is implementing new philosophies while refining and upgrading existing ones.

One of Maggard's primary goals at UM is to make the program financially secure and stable for the long term. Toward that end, he established Miami's first endowed scholarship, the Walt Kichefski Football Scholarship Endowment Fund, in honor of the Hurricanes' number one supporter. The Kichefski Fund, with a goal of $400,000, was established in the fall of 1991, just prior to Walt's death in early 1992.

Maggard's first year saw enormous success both on and off the field. The football Hurricanes captured their second national title in three years, and fourth in nine. The Lady 'Canes basketball team went to the "Sweet 16" after completing the Big East's first-ever undefeated season in conference play by a men's or women's team. Two other Hurricane teams, men's golf and women's tennis also captured league titles in their first year in the conference. Ron Fraser's final Hurricane baseball team finished third in the College World Series.

Following the season, Maggard made his first major hiring decision a popular one, when he named long-time Fraser assistant Brad Kelley as head baseball coach.

Around the Hecht Center other changes were clearly visible as lockerrooms, hallways, the weight room and other facilities received a much-needed facelift and updating.

In the classroom, success continued as well when 22 Hurricane student-athletes were named to the Big East All-Academic team and three received District Academic All-America honors. The football team was one of only 16 schools in the country to receive honorable mention academic honors from the College Football Association (CFA) for a 70% or better graduation rate.

Dave Maggard more than passed the test of time at the University of California, serving as his alma mater's director of athletics from 1972 through 1990, during which the Golden Bears produced a total of 22 national championships in five different sports.

Under Maggard's direction, the California program served as a prototype for contemporary collegiate athletics--a successful broad-based program dedicated to academic integrity through the development of one of the country's most comprehensive academic support programs for student-athletes and backed by a vigorous fund raising organization which established endowment programs for 13 sports and enabled facilities to be upgraded and maintained.

Maggard has served on more than 20 athletic governing bodies and most recently was named to the NCAA post-season bowl committee. He is also a member of the CFA's Board of Directors as the representative from the Big East Football Conference and has taken an active role in the Hurricanes' new conference home as a member of the Big East Football's Executive and Bowl Committees. He has also served nationally as chairman of the NCAA's Council for Eligibility Appeals, a member of the NCAA Basketball Selection Committee and on the United States Olympic Committee Executive Board from 1979-86.

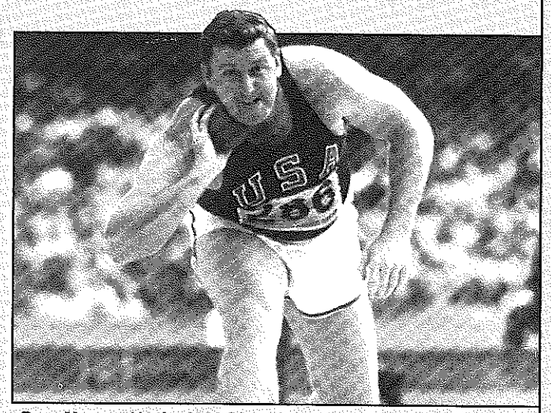

While at California, Maggard was chairman of six different Pac-10 Conference committees. Since 1983, he has served as the Director and Chairman of Operations Committee on the board of the San Francisco Federal Savings Bank with 44 branches in Northern California and assets of 3.5 billion dollars.

As a student-athlete at California, Maggard earned one football letter as a fullback and three in track and field. He set a school record in the shotput that stood for more than 19 years. He was the recipient of both the Brutus Hamilton Award for outstanding leadership in track and field and the Jake Gimbel Award as Cal's senior athlete exhibiting the best attitude toward athletics.

He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education and social science in 1962 and worked at several Bay area high schools as a teacher and coach while a member of the U.S. National Track Team that traveled to several countries. His years of training paid off at the 1968 Olympic trials where he posted what was then the fifth-longest throw in history. He went on to place fifth at the Mexico City Olympics that summer.

In 1969, Maggard returned to his alma mater as an assistant track and field coach and became the head coach the following season. In just his second year, Maggard was named "Coach of the Year" in the Pacific Coast Region when his Golden Bear squad brought home the NCAA championship. In 1972, at the age of 32, Maggard vaulted into the position of athletic director where he stayed for 18 years before joining the Hurricanes.

Maggard was born January 12, 1940, in Turlock, California. He and his wife, the former Carolyn Johnson, have three children: David, 29, Darin, 26, and Dana, 22.

Leonard Hamilton -- Head Basketball Coach

Some people believe that Leonard Hamilton does not dream. They come to that conclusion by reasoning that in order to dream, you must first fall asleep, and Leonard Hamilton often appears not to have time for a luxury such as sleep.

With a regimen that begins early each morning and does not end until the early morning hours of the following day, Hamilton attacks each day with a pride and passion few can match. His intense daily routine is focused on a very specific task — to raise the level of Miami basketball to compete with the best the nation has to offer.

When he was hired as the new Hurricane coach on April 2, 1990, Hamilton knew that to compete with the best, he must play the best. But no one could have predicted how swiftly or emphatically the best competition would appear on the Miami schedule. After just six months at Miami, Hamilton was presented with one of the most difficult challenges a collegiate coach has ever faced — to compete in the BIG EAST Conference.

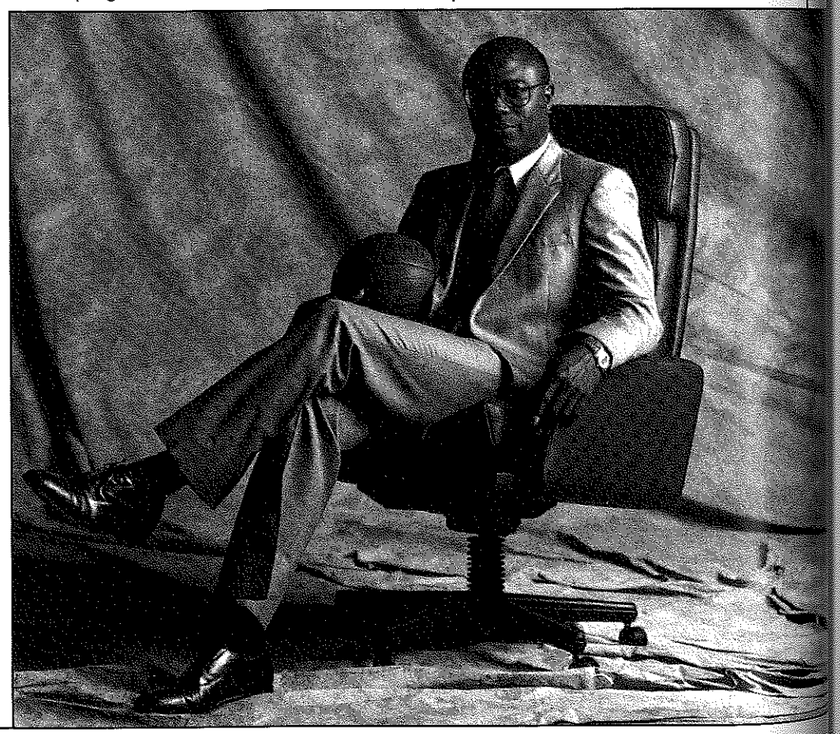

In order to raise the Hurricanes' level of competition, it was obvious that Hamilton was required to raise the level of talent flowing into the Miami program. Tremendous strides were realized in this area during the Fall of 1991 and Spring of 1992 signing periods. Having long been recognized as a brilliant evaluator and recruiter of high school talent, Hamilton continued his legacy by producing what many consider to be the finest class in Miami history and a group that is ranked No. 4 in the nation by recruiting expert Bob Gibbons.

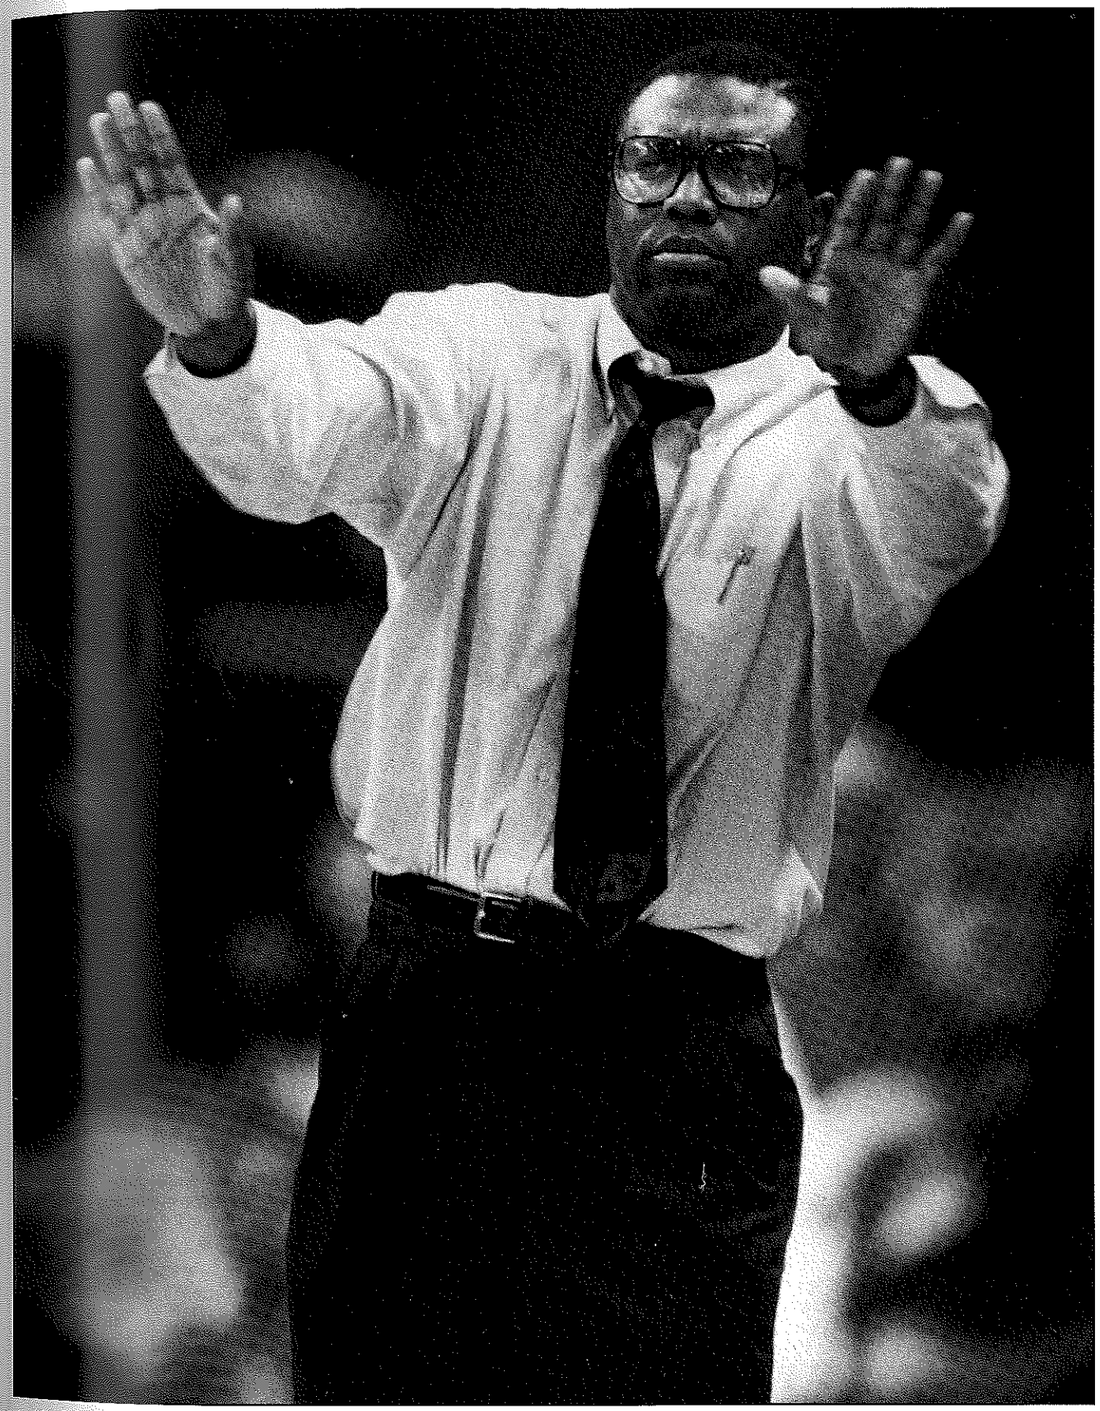

During the 1991-92 campaign, Hamilton continued his lofty expectations in the academic realm as all four Hurricane seniors earned their degrees by June of 1992. On the court, Leonard Hamilton scoffed at the critics who claimed he would not even come close to a victory in his inaugural BIG EAST campaign as the Hurricanes defeated St. John's in their conference home-opener—a victory that would prove to cost the Redmen the outright BIG EAST Championship.

Along the way, the Hurricanes surprised their opponents, fans and media as they battled every opponent with the intensity and perseverance which their head coach both demands and instills. Miami proved to be especially tough toward the end of their first BIG EAST campaign, losing their final five conference games by an average of just 6.8 points, including a 90-82 overtime loss to eventual No. 1 BIG EAST Tournament seed Seton Hall.

The Hurricanes earned the respect of the entire college basketball world in their first BIG EAST Tournament appearance at Madison Square Garden when they upset Pittsburgh, 83-71, in the opening round of action at The Mecca. Miami threatened to repeat the upset in the second round of action as they led co-BIG EAST champion Georgetown, 34-33, at the half before dropping a 77-64 decision to Alonzo Mourning and the Hoyas.

Hamilton was granted one year of coaching at Miami before entering BIG EAST competition. Determined to make the most of the Hurricanes' final season as an independent, Hamilton quickly laid the groundwork for the future of the Hurricanes. Off the court, Hamilton saw to it that both seniors on his 1990-91 squad would graduate by spring. On the court, he directed the development of Joe Wylie, who was selected in the second round of the 1991 NBA Draft, and inspired his Hurricane squad to produce their absolute best at all times. The efforts paid off as Miami finished the season with their highest final ranking by USA Today since the rebirth of the program.

Head Coach Leonard Hamilton directed the Hurricanes to slow down St. John's in Miami's first home conference game. The result was a 45-42 UM victory. In 1992-93, look for Hamilton to give the 'Canes the green light to run.

Hamilton came to Miami from Oklahoma State University where he directed the Cowboys to consecutive appearances in the National Invitational Tournament, marking the first back-to-back post-season tournament appearances for an OSU team since 1953-54.

The 1989-90 OSU squad earned a No. 49 national ranking by USA Today, finished the year with a 17-14 record and advanced to the second round of the NIT before dropping a decision to tournament semifinalist New Mexico. Offensive firepower was a key for Hamilton's corps as the Cowboys averaged more than 80 points for the second consecutive season and just the third time in school history, while also setting school records for most points and most three-point goals.

Hamilton's last two Oklahoma State teams both won 17 games, marking only the fourth and fifth OSU squads to reach the 17-win total in the last 32 years. And of the 14 losses during the 1989-90 campaign, seven came against teams ranked in the nation's Top 10 at the time of the game (UNLV, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas). The overall schedule was rated one of the toughest in the nation and included a total of 17 games against teams that went on to post-season play, with wins over Ohio State, Memphis State, New Orleans and a 2-1 record against Kansas State (one of those wins coming in the Big Eight Tournament).

Prior to Oklahoma State, Hamilton served at the University of Kentucky where he spent 12 seasons with one of the top programs in the country. From 1974-80, he served as assistant coach (the 'Cats won a national title in 1978), and in 1980 he was honored by being named the first associate head coach in Kentucky basketball history, a post he held until moving to OSU. In his 12-year tenure at Kentucky, seven recruiting classes were ranked among the nation's elite and 23 former Wildcat players were drafted by the NBA. Additionally, 83% of the seniors (30 of 36) earned their degrees.

His proficiency in the recruiting game carried over to Oklahoma State where his first two classes were rated 12th in the country by different services. He has signed four of the last five Oklahoma High School Players of the Year and has been involved with the recruitment of 30 high school All-Americans. Of his first recruiting class at Oklahoma State, two will graduate on time and the third has another year.

Hamilton played collegiate basketball at Gaston (N.C.) Community College, where he set a school record by scoring 54 points in a game, and at Tennessee-Martin, where he is a charter member of the school's Hall of Fame. His coaching career began as a graduate assistant (1971-72) and full-time assistant (1972-74) at Austin Peay State, where he received his Master's degree.

BIG EAST Profile

With soaring success shortly after its birth in 1979, The BIG EAST Conference seemed to skip the crawling stage in its infancy. Now, one of the nation's premier athletic leagues, the BIG EAST stands tall, maintaining its strong stride as a leader and innovator in college athletics. The league reflects a tradition of successful, broad-based programs, led by administrators and coaches who place a constant emphasis on maintaining and improving academic integrity.

Today, The BIG EAST Conference enjoys a leadership role nationally. Its student-athletes boast significantly high graduation rates and their record of scholastic achievement notably reflects a balance between intercollegiate athletics and academics.

A prime example of a model BIG EAST student-athlete is Georgetown University's Steve Holman who was named the 1991-92 BIG EAST/Right Guard Academic Challenge Scholar-Athlete of the Year. Holman won the '92 NCAA outdoor track title in the 1,500 meters. He also made the U. S. Olympic Team in that event. Now, he attends Georgetown University Law School.

Mike Tranghese
BIG EAST Commisioner

The BIG EAST began the nineties with new leadership. Michael Tranghese, the league's first full time employee, and for 11 years the associate of Dave Gavitt, took over as Commissioner in June, 1990, after Gavitt left to take a position with the Boston Celtics.

Already, Tranghese has administered the addition of Miami and the formation of The BIG EAST Football Conference. His first year at the helm was a microcosm of what the BIG EAST had become - a respected and aggressive player in the world of collegiate athletics.

While the amazing growth of the league was the story of its first decade, the BIG EAST began this decade with still more bold advances. On October 10, 1990, the University of Miami became the league's 10th full member. The largest private institution in the Southeast, Miami is a prized addition to a conference already noted for a successful co-existence of academics and athletics.

BIG EAST sports attract the interest of followers in the nation's largest media markets within New England, the New York metropolitan area, Washington, D.C., Pennsylvania and Florida. Innovative concepts in promotion and publicity, particularly regarding television, have resulted in unparalleled visibility for BIG EAST student-athletes. Exclusive long-range television contracts with CBS and ESPN, as well as the unique operative known as The BIG EAST Conference Television Network, provide BIG EAST basketball with more television exposure than any other conference.

Additionally, BIG EAST championship events in track, soccer, women's basketball and baseball are seen on various cable networkds across the country.

While BIG EAST basketball games are regular sell-outs at campus and major public sports buildings, including the annual BIG EAST Tournament Championship in Madison Square Garden, attendance figures also are significant at BIG EAST soccer, women's basketball and baseball games.

More than 200 BIG EAST athletes have earned all-America recognition, and dozens have won individual NCAA national championships. The BIG EAST has been well-represented in U. S. or foreign, national and Olympic teams, with several athletes earning gold medals in the summer Olympiads in Seoul in 1988 and Los Angeles in '84.

Some feats of note since the inauguration of the league in 1979-80:

* Six Final Four appearances and NCAA men's basketball titles by Georgetown in 1984 and Villanova in '85.

* 1991 NCAA Women's Final Four appearance by Connecticut.

* Three straight NCAA women's cross country titles by Villanova (1989-91).

* Representation on 1992 Olympic Teams (U.S. and others) in men's track and field and women's swimming.

* Representation on 1988 U. S. Olympic teams in baseball, men's basketball, women's track and field, and men's track and field.

* 1987 women's basketball Wade Trophy winner (Shelley Pennefather, Villanova)

* 11 top five NCAA team finishes in men's indoor track and field.

* 12 NCAA individual event champions and five relay event champions in women's track and field.

* 19 NCAA individual event champions and seven relay champions in men's track and field.

* Eight top 10 NCAA team finishes and six top 10 individual finishes in men's cross country.

* 11 top 10 NCAA finishes (three in 1989 and '91) and eight top 10 individual finishes in women's cross country.

* 1984 Olympians in men's track and field, women's swimming, and men's basketball.

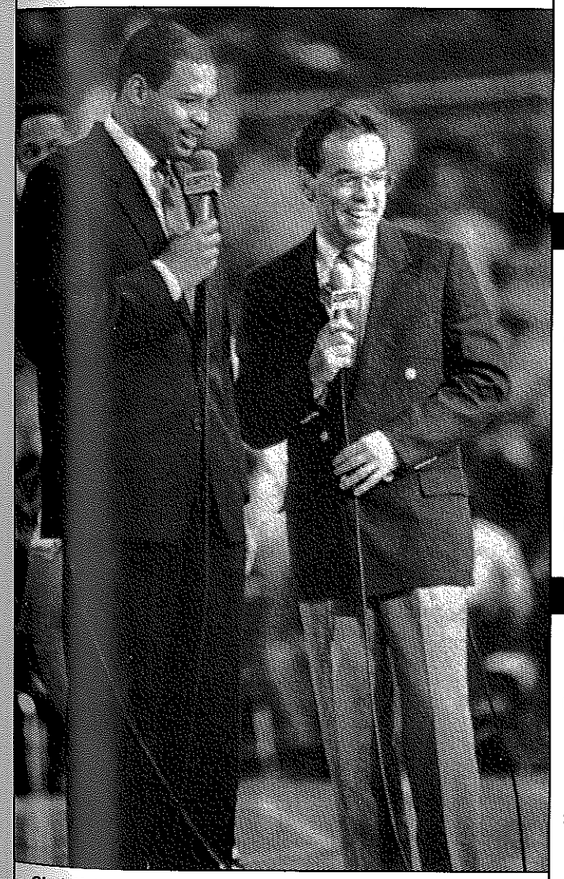

* All-Americas in soccer (16), baseball (15), and women's swimming and diving (8).

The Nation's Most Televised Conference

Once again, the BIG EAST will be the most televised basketball conference in the nation. BIG EAST teams will receive more national exposures than any other league and the BIG EAST Television Network, the nation's largest regional college basketball network, will continue to produce games on a regional basis.

The BIG EAST has long been an innovative leader in its approach to negotiating and approving television packages for the league's member schools. BIG EAST schools are located in six of the top 17 markets and seven of the top 23. BIG EAST television markets include almost one-third of the nation's television homes.

The league was the first to sign an exclusive contract with a major network (CBS) and national cable network (ESPN). In 1985, the BIG EAST became the first league to act as its own syndicator by forming The BIG EAST Conference Television Network. Under the supervision of Commissioner Mike Tranghese and Associate Commissioner Tom McElroy, the BIG EAST Network produces games for telecast in each school's local market.

Currently, the BIG EAST is in the second year of a new four-year agreement with CBS. The BIG EAST and CBS have been television partners for the past nine years, the last six on an exclusive basis. The initial agreement was made in 1985. The current contract calls for 24 appearances per season. Included are seven conference games, four intersectional contests and the semifinals and championship of the BIG EAST Tournament.

The BIG EAST and ESPN have grown together. In 1979-80, ESPN began the "Monday Night Game of the Week" concept which was also the first year of existence for the BIG EAST. ESPN and the BIG EAST are also in the second year of a new agreement which will run for five seasons. ESPN will televise 18 conference games in the Big Monday and Wednesday formats along with four intersectional games.

It lay silent for 14 years. Collecting dust and going unnoticed, the Miami basketball program was the Rip VanWinkle of college basketball from 1971 to 1985.

Now, Hurricane Basketball is back. In a big way.

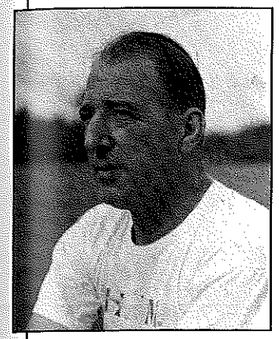

Since 1985 the Miami program has undergone such dramatic and frequent changes, it seemed that the Hurricanes were continually entering "a new era." First came the "Era of Miami Basketball" itself. Then came the "Bill Foster Era," followed by the "Tito Horford Era," "The Leonard Hamilton Era," and finally, "The Big East Era."

The latest step taken by the blossoming Hurricane program serves as the most dramatic in the 41 seasons and 66 years since the team's formation. With the entry into the Big East Conference, the University of Miami not only sheds its previous life-long status as an independent, it enters the ranks of the most competitive and successful basketball conference in the nation.

The road to conference affiliation in the Big East has not been an easy one for those who have thirsted for basketball in this continually prospering section of the country. Moreover, the previous path traveled by Miami basketball players, coaches and fans was dotted by flashes of brilliance, color and sometimes disappointment.

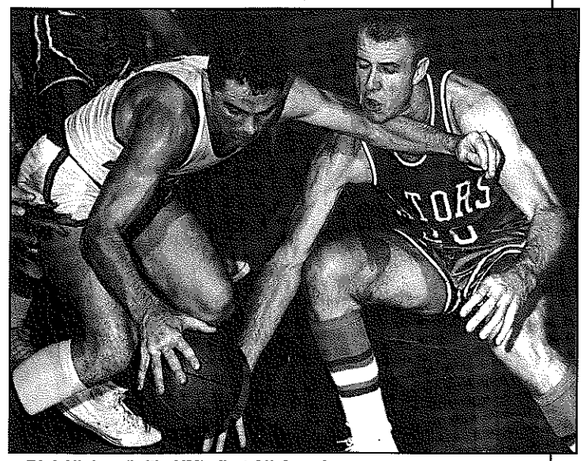

Here is a capsule summary of the 66 years of Miami basketball that have intermittently played a part in the history of the athletic program at the University and its neighboring community.

* The Hurricanes fielded a freshman team in 1926-27, finishing 7-1 under Head Coach Art Webb.
* In 1927-28, the first official varsity basketball team at the University of Miami posted an 8-4 mark, knocking off Rollins, 51-15, in the opener.
* Miami records list no official results from 1932 through 1938. During that period of time, representatives from the school played local AAU and church sponsored teams under Coach Tom McCann.

Head Coach Hart Morris

* The Hurricanes returned to intercollegiate competition in the 1938-39 season, posting a 4-6 record under Head Coach Hart Morris.
* Like many other institutions across the nation, Miami dropped intercollegiate basketball during the war years of 1942 through 1945.
* Morris returned as head coach along with the program in 1956 and was the UM mentor until 1952 when Dave Wike took over for a two year stint as the UM coach.
* In 1954, the University named Bruce Hale as its head basketball coach. The retired Air Force captain and former professional basketball star held the UM head coaching post for 13 seasons, leading the Hurricane program through its glory years of intercollegiate basketball. Before the end of Hale's tenure in 1967, the Hurricanes won 220 games and lost 112 for a .663 winning percentage. Hale's first Miami team turned in a 9-11 record, but there were no other losing campaigns in the next 12 years. The streak of non-losing seasons extended in the 1968-69 season -- marking 14 consecutive campaigns of .500 basketball or better for the UM.
* Hale's 1959-60 club was the only UM men's basketball team to ever advance to the NCAA Tournament. That 1959-60 edition ran its record to 23-3 before bowing to Western Kentucky, 107-84, in the first round of the tournament.

Dick Hickox (left) - UM's first All-American

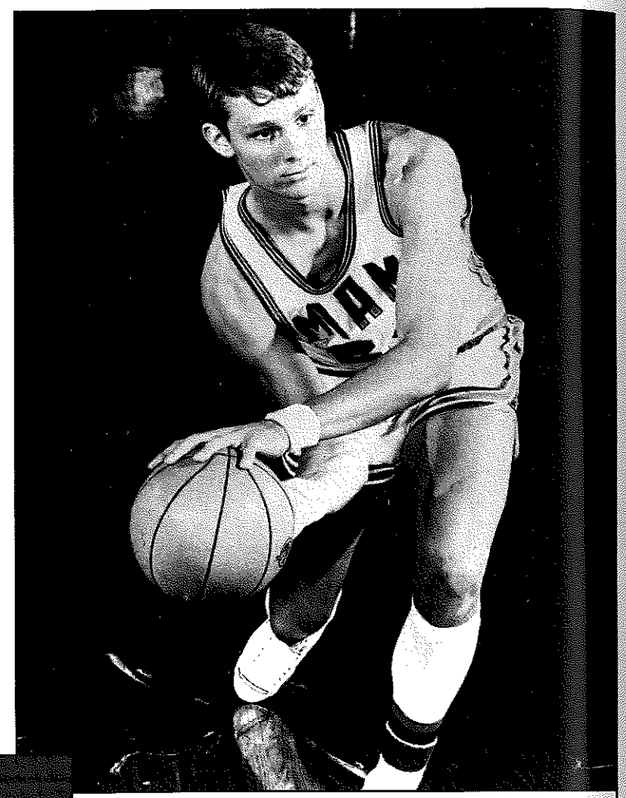

* During that historic '59-60 NCAA Tournament year, junior guard Dick Hickox became the first UM basketball player to earn All-America recognition. Hickox averaged 22.1 points per game during that season en route to becoming a second-team AP and UPI All-American.

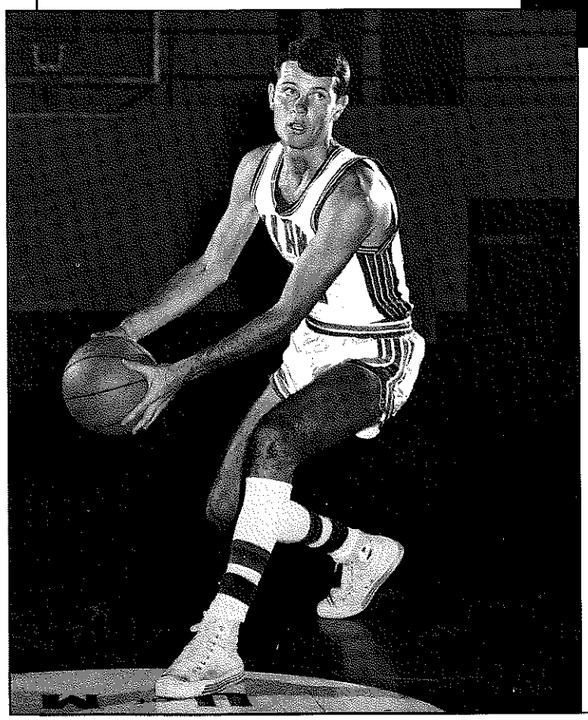

Bruce Hale (center) was the Hurricane head coach from 1954 to 1967.

* The Dick Hickox-led Hurricanes of 1960-61 returned to post season play -- falling in the first round of the NIT to St. Louis, 58-56. The 1960-61 squad compiled a 20-7 record.
* In 1962-63, Miami advanced to the second round of the NIT before falling to Providence, 106-96. An opening round NIT victory over St. Francis, 71-70, marks the only Miami victory to date in post season play.
* From 1962 through 1965, Miami recorded three consecutive twenty-win seasons, rolling up a composite record of 65-16. The star of these Hurricane glory teams was a brilliant scorer named Rick Barry.
* In 1964-65, Barry became the Hurricanes' only consensus All-America selection. The 6-7, 200-pound native of Roselle Park, New Jersey led the nation in scoring with a 37.4 average in his senior season. He later went on to become the only player in basketball history to win single-season scoring titles in the NCAA, the ABA and the NBA.
* The 1964-65 Miami squad, led by Barry's scoring brilliance, established a new NCAA offense record by averaging 98.4 points per game. The 'Canes, however, were not allowed to participate in the NCAA Tournament that year -- after posting a 22-4 record -- because of recruiting violations.
* Bruce Hale resigned as head coach after the 1966-67 season and UM assistant Ron Godfrey assumed the head coaching responsibilities.

Rick Barry (above) is the all-time UM-scorer with 2,298 and the only Hurricane to have his number retired - #24.

* Don Curnutt closed out his Miami basketball career in 1970 as the Hurricanes' third and last player to receive All-America recognition.
* February 27, 1971 -- The last victory by a University of Miami men's basketball team came in the second to the last game of the season, a 100-94 triumph over Florida State at home in the Dinner Key Auditorium. The 'Canes shot a season-high 62.5% from the floor as all five Miami starters scored in double figures.
• March 1, 1971 -- After posting a four year record of 47-56 at Miami, Ron Godfrey resigned his post as head basketball coach, effective following Miami's final game of the season against nationally ranked Jacksonville.
• March 2, 1971 -- The last basketball game played by a University of Miami men's team until 1985 took place at the Dinner Key Auditorium where one of the largest UM home crowds in years turned out to see the Hurricanes host nationally ranked Jacksonville. The Dolphins handed Miami a 94-75 loss that would remain as the UM's last contest for the next 14 years.
* April 22, 1971 -- The University of Miami Board of Trustees voted to drop the sport "temporarily until such time as a permanent field house can be constructed on the main campus." Sagging attendance figures and serious financial losses were also believed to contribute to the discontinuation of basketball at the UM.

* July 15, 1983 -- Sam Jankovich was named athletic director at the University of Miami. Coming to the UM after a successful stint as the athletic director at Washington State, Jankovich immediately announced that the resurrection of men's basketball at Miami would be his primary priority in the early months of his tenure, enabling the UM to have "one of the nation's most complete and visible overall programs in the country."
* October 12, 1983 -- The University of Miami Board of Trustees unanimously voted to reinstate men's basketball at the University of Miami. The Board made the decision after reviewing a report submitted by newly hired Athletic Director Sam Jankovich which stated that men's basketball can be a revenue-producing venture. Moreover, nearly $500,000 had already been raised in support of bringing intercollegiate basketball back to the University. It was also announced that the Hurricanes would be ready to compete on the Division I level in the 1985-86 season, and the downtown James L. Knight Center would serve as the home court for the reborn program.

"This is an exciting day for the University and for the athletic program," UM President Edward T. Foote, II said at a press conference. "And we are keeping in mind the priorities of academics first and athletics second ... we are pleased that the changes in the economics of intercollegiate basketball allow the University to resurrect one of the country's most popular sports ... and the rise in television income during recent years makes basketball a money-maker at universities like ours. We look forward to welcoming these Hurricanes home again."

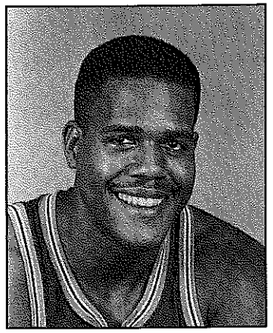

Sam Jankovich and Head Coach Bill Foster - March 21, 1984

* March 21, 1984 -- Bill Foster, a 47-year-old native of Hemingway, South Carolina was named the seventh men's basketball coach at the University of Miami. Foster came to Miami after 19 years as a head coach at three different institutions: Shorter College, North Carolina-Charlotte and Clemson. Foster also announced on this day that Clint Bryant, a long-time assistant at Clemson, would also join the Miami staff in a similar capacity.

* April 9, 1984 -- Bill Foster announced the hiring of a second assistant coach, Seth Greenberg, who was serving as an assistant coach to Terry Holland at the University of Virginia.

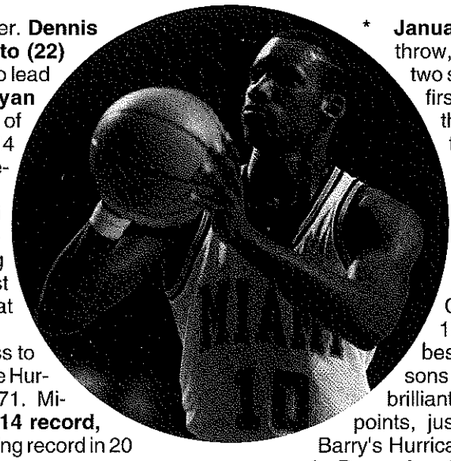

Tim Harvey

* April 16, 1984 -- Tim Harvey, a 6-10, 240-pound center, became the first basketball player to commit to the University of Miami in over 14 years. The Plainfield, New Jersey native announced that he would transfer to Miami after spending two seasons in the Georgia Tech University program.
* July 1, 1984 -- A third assistant coach was hired to complete the basketball staff as Miami native Cesar Odio returned home after serving as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Florida Southern College.
* October 11, 1984 -- Nearly one full year after the announcement that basketball would return to the University, Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announced that a million dollar-plus practice facility would be constructed on the Coral Gables campus. The new all purpose structure -- located between the Hecht Athletic Center and the Greentree Track would be totally funded through a gift from the James L. Knight Charitable Trust.
* The first phase of the 1985-86 basketball schedule was also announced on this day, and the lineup included such perennial powers as North Carolina, Georgia, Notre Dame, Marquette and Dayton.
* October 15, 1984 -- The first men's basketball practice session in over twelve years was held on the patio in the center of campus. More than 200 members of the student body participated as Foster and his assistants searched for prospects under the warm Florida sun.
* April 25, 1985 -- Foster announced that the UM's 1985-86 basketball roster would include nine freshmen, one sophomore and one junior as the spring signing period ends for NCAA basketball.
* August 16, 1985 -- Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announced that the 1985-86 basketball schedule had been completed and that network television coverage of the Hurricane program would include two games to be broadcast by CBS (Arizona) and ESPN (Notre Dame).
* Jankovich also announced the completion of a local television schedule (on WBFS-Channel 33) that would bring all nine UM road games back to Miami by way of live local broadcasts. Channel 33 would also carry selected home games in the Knight Center.
* WIOD Radio, the radio voice of UM football and baseball would also carry all Hurricane basketball games with veteran Hurricane announcer Sonny Hirsch at the microphone.
* October 15, 1985 -- Basketball practice officially begins at the University of Miami in the Knight Sports Complex.
* November 12, 1985 -- The Knight Sports Complex was dedicated at a gala banquet that was held on the basketball courts of the new structure. CBS basketball analyst Billy Packer served as the evening's guest speaker for an event which welcomed over 500 guests to the on-campus home of Hurricane basketball. The facility now serves as the practice home to the men's and women's basketball programs while also housing the men's basketball coaching staff offices. In addition, the Knight Sports Complex enabled the athletic program to more than double the size of the existing strength room, while also providing meeting rooms and lecture rooms for all of Miami's student athletes. The structure is located between the Hecht Athletic Center and the Greentree Track.
* November 22, 1985 -- The brand new era of Hurricane basketball was ushered in by a young UM squad which defeated The Citadel, 85-77, in front of a sellout crowd of 4,984 at the Knight Center. Dennis Burns (24 points), Kevin Presto (22) and Eric Brown (21) combined to lead the Miami offense, while Bryan Hughes enjoyed the distinction of scoring Miami's first point in 14 years (a free throw with 18:34 remaining in the first half).

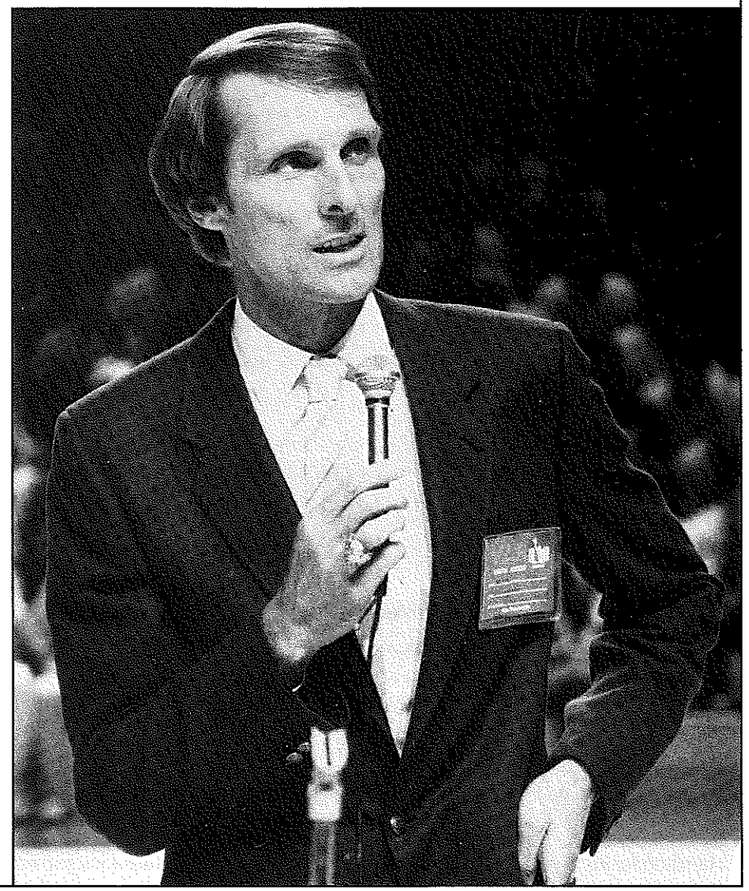

Dennis Burns thrilled Miami fans on opening night with six dunks.

* November 30, 1985 -- Miami stuns 1985 NCAA Tourney participant Georgia with a thrilling 81-78 victory to capture the first AMI Classic Championship at the James L. Knight Center.
* March 5, 1986 -- An 84-62 loss to Marquette in Milwaukee closed the Hurricanes' first season since 1970-71. Miami finished the year with a 14-14 record, giving Bill Foster his 19th non-losing record in 20 years as a collegiate head coach.

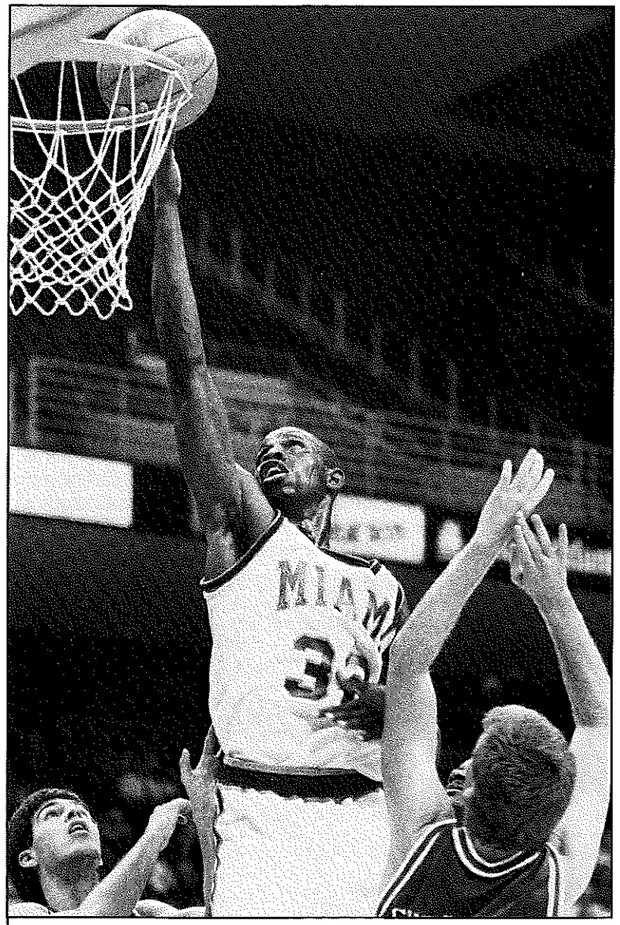

Bryan Hughes

* The 1986-87 season -- Though still considered "America's Youngest Team," Miami compiled a 15-16 slate -- recording upset victories over Marquette, Stanford and Florida State, while losing by only four points to future BIG EAST foe Providence -- a team that advanced to the NCAA Final Four.
* The 1987-88 season -- Thrilling victories over both Providence and Virginia Commonwealth propelled the 'Canes to continued inmprovement with a 17-14 record. Following the season, center Tito Horford announced his intention to enter the NBA Draft without completing his final two seasons of eligibility. Miami was left with anything but a depleted roster as ten lettermen, including eight seniors, returned for the UM's fourth season of basketball.
* April 12, 1988 -- Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announces plans to move Hurricane Basketball to the new $56 million Miami Arena. Also home to the NBA's Miami Heat, the state-of-the-art basketball facility signifies a new era in the rise of South Florida basketball.
* December 10, 1988 -- A UM record crowd of 6,654 watch the Hurricanes run neck-and-neck for 40 minutes with ACC powerhouse Duke. Blue Devil Danny Ferry needs a superhuman performance to stop the 'Canes as he connects on 23 of 26 shots en route to 58 points. Ferry later calls Miami "a definite Top 40 team."
* January 12, 1989 -- Joel Warren's free throw, his only point of the evening, with two seconds remaining clinch Miami's first victory over a Top 20 team as the 'Canes upset defending national champion and No. 16-ranked Kansas, 87-86, at the Miami Arena.
* March 6, 1989 -- The Hurricanes post an 89-82 win over Florida International University in the first annual Carnival Miami Cup. The win leaves Miami with a 19-12 slate, good enough for the best record in 24 years and ten seasons at Miami. Eric Brown ends his brilliant Miami career with 2,270 career points, just 28 back of All-America Rick Barry's Hurricane record of 2,298.
* December 6, 1989 -- Miami hands an 87-82 loss to eventual NCAA tournament participant University of Dayton as a Hurricane squad that includes six freshmen and no seniors jumps out with three consecutive wins to start the season.

Rick Barry addressed the opening-night Knight Center sellout crowd of 4,984.

Eric Brown finished his UM career as the 'Canes' No. 2 all-time scorer with 2,270 points. Above, Brown scores two of his 23 points in Miami's 87-86 upset of No. 16 Kansas on January 12, 1989.

smile and that enthusiasm, there was no question who I wanted as coach of the University of Miami."

* October 10, 1990 -- On the combined recommendation of President Edward T. The Hurricane Basketball program will begin BIG EAST play in the 1991-92 season.

* December 28, 1990 -- The Hurricanes rebound from back-to-back double overtime defeats to upset No. 28-ranked Mississippi State, 74-67, in the consolation contest of the Eastern Airlines Palm Beach Classic. Joe Wylie is voted to the all-tournament squad after breaking seven tourney records including total points with 60 in the two games.

* January 3, 1991 -- Joe Wylie becomes only the 17th player in the history of UM basketball to score 1000 career points. Wylie would later go on to finish his UM career ranked No. 8 for both scoring and rebounding in the UM record books.

* March 6, 1991 -- Leonard Hamilton's inaugural season ends with a 9-19 won-lost mark. However, there were large doses of success layden throughout the year as the 'Canes were victorious in six of their final nine contests and finished ranked No. 128 in the USA Today computer rankings -- Miami's highest finish since the rebirth of the program (including 1988-89 when the 'Canes produced a 19-12 record).

* April 10, 1991 -- Leonard Hamilton's first recruiting class is completed with the signing of Ochiel Swaby of Miami, the nation's leading HS scorer with 47.1 points per game. Added to Hamilton's three signees in the Fall of 1990 -- Michael Gardner of Fredericksburg, VA, Pat Lawrence of St. Petersburg and 7'3" Constantin Popa of Bucharest, Romanina -- the freshmen class for the 1991-92 season is ranked in the Top 25 by recruiting expert Bob Gibbons.

* January 2, 1992 -- Miami tips off in its inaugural BIG EAST contest at the University of Connecticut's Gampel Pavilion. It is a baptism by fire for the young Hurricanes as the game at UConn is the first of four consecutive conference games in 10 days for Miami.

* January 14, 1992 -- In the first home conference game in UM history, the Hurricanes shock the nation with a stunning 45-42 upset of perennial BIG EAST power St. John's. The UM victory would ultimately cost the Redmen the outright conference championship as they completed the regular season in a tie with Georgetown and Seton Hall.

* March 12, 1992 -- Miami turns the Big Apple upside down with a convincing 83-71 victory over Pittsburgh in the BIG EAST Tournament at Madison Square Garden. The Panthers had beaten Miami in the two regular-season contests by a total of 52 points, but Jerome Scott (30 points) and Trevor Burton (25 points) led a spirited Miami squad past Pitt and into the second round of the conference showcase. Earning the respect of the league and nation, Miami led Georgetown, 34-33, at the half of their quarterfinal contest before dropping a 77-64 decision to the Hoyas. The 1-1 performance in New York ended the Hurricanes' 1991-92 campaign at 8-24 and conjured visions of the tremendous future that awaits the Miami program. For his individual performance, Jerome Scott is honored as a member of the BIG EAST All-Tournament Team.

* January 18, 1990 -- Nearly 5,000 fans turn out to watch one of the most exciting Hurricane games ever as Miami edges Florida State in two OTs, 101-97.

* February 19, 1990 -- Miami storms back to post a 62-59 victory over the University of Florida, ending the Gators 11-game win streak over the 'Canes that began during the 1964-65 season.
