A Carolina win would: Improve UNC to 20-11 overall • Give Carolina its third 20-win season in a row and 28th overall • Put the Tar Heels in the ACC quarterfinals for the third year in a row • Make UNC 3-0 vs. Miami in ACC play and 17-13 overall

NOTING THE TAR HEELS

Heels vs. Hurricanes

The Tar Heels and Hurricanes are meeting for the 30th time in a series that dates back to the 1980-81 season. Carolina leads the series 16-13 after winning this year's meeting in Chapel Hill on Jan. 25.

• Carolina and Miami have met on just two previous occasions in ACC play, with the Tar Heels winning both:

2005: UNC, the No. 1 seed, opened tournament play in the quarterfinals with a 64-57 win over ninth-seeded Miami 64-57. The Tar Heels went on to claim the title, the first of four in a row for Carolina

2011: Sixth-seeded UNC made a run to the championship game, upsetting second-seeded Miami 83-57 in the semifinals to get there. The Tar Heels lost to Duke in the final.

First meeting of 2024

Jan. 25 in Chapel Hill:

UNC 66, Miami 61

All five UNC starters scored in double figures as the Tar Heels earned a homecourt victory over Miami, 66-61 at Carmichael Arena. The Tar Heels improved to 15-5 overall and 7-1 in the ACC, their best start in conference play since 2013.

North Carolina led throughout the game and was up by 19 in the second quarter, but Miami battled back, closing within a point with 28 seconds to play.

"It wasn't easy and we still just found a way," UNC coach Courtney Banghart said.

Deja Kelly led UNC with 18 points, Maria Gakdeng scored 13, and Lexi Donarski and Alyssa Ustby added 12 each. Freshman Reniya Kelly scored a career-high 10 points, all in the first half when she was 4-5 from the floor and 2-3 from three-point range. It was the second game in a row that she upped her career scoring high.

"Reniya has grown up right in front of our eyes," Banghart said. "I thought she was huge tonight."

Ustby grabbed 10 rebounds to register her 10th double-double of the season and 32nd of her career.

UNC got off to a fast start, shooting 61.5 percent in the first quarter to lead 22-8 after 10 minutes. Reniya Kelly drained two three-pointers in the first three minutes of the game and Donarski hit another as the Tar Heels were 3-4 from long range in the first quarter.

The Hurricanes made up ground in the second, when they shot 53.8 from the field, but Carolina still led by 10, 38-28, at the half. The Tar Heels

Recently

• Prior to the win over Pitt on Feb. 15, the Tar Heels had lost four in a row for the first time since January of 2023. Three of the losses came on the road, two came to ranked teams and two came in overtime. Carolina then won three in a row, including an upset of No. 6 NC State before falling at No. 8 Virginia Tech on Feb. 25 and again at BC on Feb. 29, both on Senior Days/Nights. Those two games marked the third stretch this season that UNC had lost at least two games in a row.

• Against NC State, UNC shot above 50 percent from the field for the second game in a row, finishing at 50.8 percent after a season-best 52.4 percent at Wake Forest in the previous game. Those were the second and third times UNC has hit 50 percent or better in league play, with the first a 50-percent shooting night against Syracuse on Jan. 4.

Notable Numbers

• UNC is 4-7 this season against ranked teams, with wins over Syracuse (then 25, now 20), Notre Dame (then 16, now 14) and Louisville (then 13, now 24) in January, and NC State (then 6, now 10) on Feb. 22.

Six of the seven losses were to teams now ranked in the top 16: No. 1 South Carolina (UNC is one of three teams on four occasions to play the Gamecocks within single digits), Virginia Tech x2 (now 11), UConn (now 9), NC State (then No. 5, now 10) and Kansas State (now 16).

• Seven players on the roster have at least one 20-point game in a UNC uniform. Deja Kelly has hit 20 points on 32 occasions (11 this season, including eight in ACC play and a season-best 29 at Virginia Tech). Alyssa Ustby has reached 20 eight times (three this year, including a career-high 25 at Wake Forest), Lexi Donarski four times (most recently with 23 against NC State), and Maria Gakdeng twice. Freshman Reniya Kelly has scored 20 once, and Paulina Paris and Kayla McPherson each had a 20-point game during the 2022-23 season.

• With UNC's guard ranks slimmed by injury, Deja Kelly ranks second (35.85) and Lexi Donarski third (35.59) in the ACC in minutes played. In conference action, Donarski played 38.1 minutes per game and Kelly 37.4

Stats Notes

• Deja Kelly leads the nation in free throw attempts with 220. She's taken double-digit free throws 11 times this season and seven times in the past 13 games.

• Maria Gakdeng is shooting .624 from the field, a percentage that would comfortably lead the ACC if she had the required five makes per game to be ranked. (She has 3.9 per game.)

Gakdeng's career FG percentage of 59.2 ranks 15th among all active DI players.

• Against No. 25 Syracuse on Jan. 4, Alyssa Ustby became the first player in Division I history to register 15 points, 15 rebounds and 10 assists against an AP-ranked opponent. (ESPN Stats and Info).

• Against Virginia on Jan. 14, Deja Kelly became the first Tar Heel since at least 2009, the furthest back the stats track, with 25 points, 5 rebounds, 5 assists and only 1 turnover. (HerHoopStats)

Milestone Watch

• Against BC, Deja Kelly became the 11th player in program history to score 1,800 points as a Tar Heel. She enters the postseason with 1,823 career points, which ranks eighth on UNC's career scoring list.

• Lexi Donarski passed the 1,500-career-points mark against Pitt. She has scored 322 of her current 1,573 points in a Carolina uniform.

• After Anya Poole played in her 100th career game on Jan. 14 vs. Virginia, the Tar Heels have four players on the roster with 100 or more career games. (Deja Kelly, Lexi Donarski, Alyssa Ustby and Poole.)

• Alyssa Ustby has 108 assists this season, already 34 more than she's had in any previous season as a Tar Heel. She also has a career-best 40 blocks (10 more than her next-best season) and is one away from a career-best season in steals.

were up by 17, 51-34, with five minutes to play in the period after an Ustby layup, and they held a 13-point advantage heading into the fourth quarter.

Miami continued to chip away at the lead, and Shayeann Day-Wilson hit back-to-back-to-back threes to get her team within six points with 1:49 to play. Her jumper with 57 seconds remaining made it a four-point game, 62-58, then she hit a free throw to make it three.

A steal and layup by Lashae Dwyer made it a one-point game, 62-61, with 30 seconds to play. But Deja Kelly was 4-4 from the foul line in the final 15 seconds to score the last four points of the game and make it a 66-61 final.

Miami finished with 12 three-pointers, a season-high by a Tar Heel opponent, on 30 attempts. Day-Wilson made five of those and finished with 18 points. Jaida Patrick was the only other Hurricane in double figures with 10.

It was Jersey Night at Carmichael and Banghart coached in a jersey that read "204," the sum of all her players' jersey numbers. "For Jersey Night I figured I should celebrate my favorite team and my favorite player," Banghart said.

"This is a true team. You add up all the jersey numbers, you get 204. And that's kind of what this team has become. We need every one of the numbers in 204 to collectively get wins. I said that before the game and we've gotten it every night."

For Jersey Night on Jan. 25 against Miami, Banghart wore No. 204, representing the sum of all her players' numbers.

ACC Action Notables

Tar Heels put up impressive numbers in league play this season:

- Alyssa Ustby grabbed at least seven rebounds in all but two ACC games (she had four at Georgia Tech and six at home vs. Duke) and ranked fourth in the league with 10.0 rebounds per game in conference play. Along with her 12.4 points per game, she averaged a double-double in ACC action and is one of just four players who did so.
- Lexi Donarski was 13-29 (.448) from three-point range through the first three games of the ACC season, including six threes in UNC's conference opener against Clemson. She cooled off to go 29-93 (.312) over the other 15 games but still shot .344 from three in conference play. Her average of 2.33 makes per ACC game ranked fifth in the league.
- Deja Kelly ranked eighth in the ACC with a 1.43 assist/turnover ratio in league play and is ninth in assists per game (3.89). Ustby is 10th with 3.78 assists per game and is 14th in assist/turnover ratio (1.31).

Last Time Out

March 3: UNC 63, Duke 69

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. – Beat your biggest rival on your home court in front of a sell-out crowd? Pretty good for Senior Day.

The North Carolina women's basketball team topped Duke 63-59 at a packed Carmichael Arena Sunday afternoon, celebrating the win then celebrating four seniors – Deja Kelly, Anya Poole, Alyssa Ustby and Alexandra Zelaya – in a postgame ceremony. In the final game of the regular season, the Tar Heels (19-11, 11-7 ACC) avenged a loss to the Blue Devils in Durham three weeks earlier.

Kelly finished with 18 points and a team-best seven rebounds. Ustby finished with 17 points, 13 of which came in the first half when she was 6-7 from the field.

In the first matchup of the season, Carolina led by 14 points late in third quarter but watched the advantage evaporate and fell in overtime. Sunday, UNC again took an early lead, up 17-7 after the first quarter, after shooting 53.8 percent to Duke's 20 percent. The Blue Devils flipped the advantage in the second quarter, outscoring Carolina 24-13, including a 15-2 run, to take a 31-30 lead into halftime.

Neither team led by more than three throughout a tight third quarter and the game was tied heading into the fourth, 46-46. But the Tar Heels took the lead just over a minute into the period on a three by Zelaya and never gave up the advantage. They were up by nine after a second-chance bucket by Maria Gakdeng with 6:37 to play, 55-46, but that was the widest the gap ever got.

UNC led by five in the closing seconds but Ashlon Jackson was fouled taking a three-pointer and got her three anyway, hitting all three free throws to make it a two-point game, 60-58, with 15 seconds remaining. After a free throw by Kelly made the margin three again, Duke's Taina Mair went to the line and hit one, but missed the second. The Blue Devils grabbed the offensive rebound and Kennedy Brown went up for the tie but Ustby blocked her shot, grabbed the rebound and got the ball to Kelly, who was fouled.

Kelly hit two free throws with five seconds on the clock to make it

Welcome to the Hill

In addition to the season-opening win, Nov. 8 was a big day because it marked the signing of two new Tar Heels, Blanca Thomas and Jordan Zubich. They'll arrive on campus next summer, ahead of the 2024-25 season.

"At the University of North Carolina, we want the most talented student-athletes who can make an immediate impact and whose best basketball is still ahead of them," coach Courtney Banghart said. "We recruit great teammates and great people. We want people that want to wear the Carolina uniform and to help us do something special together.

"As a staff, we aim for players that fit our programmatic needs at the right time. Blanca and Jordan are a home run for all the right reasons. I clearly want to recognize my current players who have attracted such high-quality players, people, and families, and we all can't wait to have both Blanca and Jordan here."

Thomas is from Charlotte, N.C., and attends Charlotte Catholic High School. A 6-5 post, she has led her team to the state's final four in each of the past two seasons after reaching the state quarterfinals in 2021. She was a first-team All-State pick as a junior after earning second-team honors in her freshman and sophomore years. The Charlotte Observer named her its Defensive Player of the Year in 2023.

Zubich is from Mountain Iron, Minn., and attends Mountain Iron-Buhl High School. A 5-11 shooting guard, she helped her team to a state championship in 2023 and has earned all-state honors in each of the past two seasons. A two-year team captain, she has already scored more than 2,000 points in her high school career.

She plays for Minnesota Fury, the same club for which current UNC senior Alyssa Ustby played.

- Both Thomas and Zubich were nominees for the 2024 McDonald's All-American Game.
- Thomas was named to the Jordan Brand Classic.
- Zubich recently passed 3,000 points for her career.

Hull, Toomey to Sit This Season

Coach Courtney Banghart announced on Oct. 10 that two freshmen, Laila Hull and Ciera Toomey, will redshirt in 2023-24 while continuing to rehab injuries from high school. Both players underwent surgery over the summer as part of their continued rehabilitation, and by taking a redshirt year, each will retain four full years of playing time.

"When any player that you are excited to coach redshirts, there is obviously an element of disappointment as their process is a bit delayed," Banghart said. "But this decision also means that they get a year to rehab, build strength, and better prepare for the collegiate game, so in many ways it's a win. I've already been really inspired by the work ethic and dedication of both Ciera and Laila and am thrilled with their decision to get four full years with us on the court. I know we will continue to get their best as they work hard to return even stronger."

Hull, a wing from Zionsville, Ind., was Indiana's Miss Basketball and Gatorade Player of the Year in 2023. She averaged 22.4 points per game as a senior and finished her high school career as Zionsville High's all-time scoring leader.

Toomey, a forward from Dunmore, Pa., was named Pennsylvania's Miss Basketball as a senior, when she helped Dunmore to the 2023 state title. She was ranked as high as No. 3 among the players in this year's freshman class.

Season Ends for McPherson

UNC announced on Jan. 6 that redshirt sophomore guard Kayla McPherson will miss the rest of the season after sustaining a knee injury requiring surgery. McPherson appeared in seven games this season, starting three.

"I continue to be amazed and inspired by Kayla's resilience," UNC coach Courtney Banghart said. "We are all heartbroken on her behalf as she faces more time away from playing the game she loves and excels at, but her mindset remains so positive. While she attacks this setback, she is determined to impact our team in every way she can. We're a better team with Kayla, even when she is on the sidelines. Our entire program is behind her as she faces this new challenge."

McPherson sat out the 2021-22 season, her first in Chapel Hill, while continuing to rehabilitate a high school knee injury. She made her collegiate debut midway through the 2022-23 season, playing in 13 games and earning ACC Freshman of the Week honors.

After dealing with a knee issue in the preseason, she sat out the season-opener against Gardner-Webb then returned to the court against Davidson on Nov. 12. She played in the next seven games before being sidelined again.

"While I'm devastated to miss the rest of the season, I know that I can play an important role on the team even when I'm not in uniform," McPherson said. "I'll be cheering for my teammates from the bench and continuing to work hard to get back on the court. I want to thank our sports medicine team, our coaching staff, my teammates, my family and all of our fans for their support."

STORYLINES

- The Tar Heels returned three starters, five of their top seven scorers, and seven letterwinners from last season's squad. They added eight newcomers, the most of any season during fifth-year coach Courtney Banghart's tenure in Chapel Hill.

- Of the newcomers, five are freshmen and three are transfers – Lexi Donarski (Iowa State), Maria Gakdeng (Boston College) and Indya Nivar (Stanford).

- With eight new faces on the roster, offseason bonding was particularly important. The Tar Heels held a team pickleball tournament, played wiffleball and water polo as part of their conditioning, tried axe throwing, and went whitewater rafting during a day trip to the U.S. National Whitewater Center in Charlotte.

- Over the summer, the entire team and staff read "The Energy Bus," by Jon Gordon. The book emphasizes the importance and impact of a positive attitude in team dynamics.

- Deja Kelly spent part of her summer with Team USA as part of the squad that won silver at the FIBA Women's AmeriCup in Mexico in July. She also interned with SLAM magazine. She is now producing a podcast, NILosophy.

- Alyssa Ustby was selected to serve as the ACC's representative to the NCAA DI Women's Basketball Student-Athlete Engagement Group for 2023-24. She is part of UNC's Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC), in addition to serving as a team captain, along with Deja Kelly.

- In July, Courtney Banghart started a two-year term as president of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA).

- This year, UNC is celebrating the 30th anniversary of its 1994 NCAA title. The team was recognized at the home game against Virginia on January 14th.

- Deja Kelly, UNC's No. 25, was named one of the top 25 players in the nation by ESPN.com during the preseason.

- Deja Kelly and Alyssa Ustby were both named to the Naismith Trophy Watch List and the John R. Wooden Award Watch List. They also both were named preseason All-ACC, marking the first time UNC has had two players on that team since 2014.

- Three Tar Heels were included on the watch lists for their respective positional awards: Deja Kelly for the Nancy Lieberman Point Guard of the Year Award, Alyssa Ustby for the Cheryl Miller Small Forward of the Year Award and Maria Gakdeng for the Lisa Leslie Center of the Year Award.

- Freshman Reniya Kelly had her No. 10 jersey retired by Hoover High School over the holiday break. Kelly was part of four state championship teams at Hoover and was MVP of three of those championships. As a senior in 2023, she was Alabama's Miss Basketball and Gatorade Player of the Year.

BY THE NUMBERS

#0: ALEXANDRA ZELAYA

Zelaya wore No. 3 in middle and high school, but it wasn't available at UNC. Within the family, her older sister (Adriana) had claimed No. 1 and her younger sister (Avalyn) had No. 5. "I brought up zero and at first my family didn't really like it – you think, 'Is zero even a number?'" she said. "It's just really different. And I want to be different so that kind of highlighted everything I wanted it to be. So I picked zero and it's really grown on me."

#1: ALYSSA USTBY

Ustby wore No. 21 in high school but it was already taken at UNC so she picked No. 1. It had extra significance because it had recently been vacated by Taylor Koenen, a 2020 graduate who, like Ustby, is from Minnesota. "I'm keeping the Minnesota legacy going," Ustby said.

#2: PAULINA PARIS

Paris wore No. 23 growing up but it's retired at UNC – for Charlotte Smith, who hit the three-pointer to win the 1994 NCAA Championship – so she went with the first digit and decided to wear No. 2. (She writes "23" on her shoes to keep that number as part of her uniform.)

#4: LAILA HULL

Has worn 4 throughout her basketball career (since age 7) and says it's her favorite number.

#5: MARIA GAKDENG

Wore 5 throughout middle school and high school and also through her two years at Boston College. She says it represents stability to her, even through a lot of change.

#10: RENIYA KELLY

Wears 10 because her birthday is in October, the 10th month. The number was retired in her honor at Hoover (Ala.) High School.

#11: KAYLA MCPHERSON

Switched to back to 11, the number she wore throughout high school, this season after two years of wearing 14. (The number was worn by Ariel Young when McPherson arrived at UNC.)

#13: TEONNI KEY

Has worn No. 13 since she started playing basketball and says it's her favorite number.

#15: SYDNEY BARKER

Is repping a new number this year because none of the others she'd worn were available.

#20: LEXI DONARSKI

She's always worn 21 but since it wasn't available she went with 20 as a fresh start in a new place.

#21: CIERA TOOMEY

The number was passed down to her from a family friend at the beginning of high school and she's worn it ever since.

#22: RYLEE GRAYS

Her father wore 23 in college and her mother wore 21, so she picked the number in between. Also, she's the second child in her family and the second girl.

#24: INDYA NIVAR

Chose it as a new number because her traditional number, 12, is retired at UNC for Ivory Latta.

#25: DEJA KELLY

Kelly wears the number in honor of her father, Darren, who played at the University of Texas and overseas. "Growing up watching him play inspired me," she said. "I decided to pick his number at a young age and it stuck."

#31: ANYA POOLE

The number was handed to her as a seventh grader and she's stuck with it ever since.

COURTNEY BANGHART*Head Coach • Fifth Season at UNC, 17th Season as a Head Coach

The 2023-24 season is the fifth at UNC for head coach Courtney Banghart, who has transformed the Tar Heel roster and led the team to NCAA Tournament appearances in each of the past three seasons, with a Sweet 16 appearance in 2022.

Banghart was announced on April 30, 2019, as North Carolina's fourth head women's basketball coach, and the first new face in the position since 1986. She came to Chapel Hill after 12 years as the head coach at Princeton, where her teams won seven Ivy League crowns and made eight NCAA Tournament appearances. (Before her arrival, Princeton hadn't reached the tournament even once.)

A New Hampshire native, Banghart was a three-year starter at Dartmouth, where she twice earned All-Ivy honors. She still holds the Ivy League record for career three-pointers (273) and as a senior competed in the three-point shooting contest at Butler's Hinkle Fieldhouse during the men's Final Four in Indianapolis.

Including a WNIT appearance at Princeton, Banghart has led her teams to 12 postseason appearances in 16 seasons as a head coach.

More on Banghart

- In July she began a two-year term as president of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA).
- She was the 2015 Naismith National Coach of the Year and is the only current ACC coach to have won that honor.
- A player she coached was picked in the top 10 in back-to-back WNBA Drafts (Stephanie Watts from UNC 10th in 2021, Bella Alarie from Princeton 5th in 2020)
- In 2015 she was named to Fortune's list of the World's 50 Greatest Leaders. Also on the list that year: Pope Francis, Bill and Melinda Gates, Chief Justice John Roberts Jr., LeBron James, Elon Musk and Taylor Swift.
- She holds a bachelor's degree in neuroscience and a master's degree in writing and leadership, both from Dartmouth. Her graduate thesis was on sport leadership.
- She hitchhiked through Alaska after college (after ditching the outdoor leadership course in which she was enrolled) and has bungeed off a jump in Switzerland that was then the highest in the world.
- Right around the time she got the Princeton job, she and her brother were finalists to appear on "The Amazing Race."
- A four-time soccer state champion in high school, she planned to play that sport at Dartmouth until a coaching change made her rethink her path and talk the women's basketball coach into giving her a spot. (She also won two high school state titles in basketball and three in tennis.)
- She's a mom to three kids under the age of 10.
