STATE RULES

CALIFORNIA DEPARTMENT OF FOOD & AGRICULTURE • FAIRS & EXPOSITIONS BRANCH
2800 GATEWAY OAKS DRIVE STE #257 • SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA 95833 • (916) 900-5026

PREFACE

1. The purposes of these rules are to:

- Ensure educational and equitable competition;
- Provide state-wide competition consistency; and
- Maximize exhibitor and public safety.

These rules apply to all competitive exhibits conducted by District Agricultural Associations, citrus fruit fairs and county fairs in the State of California.

These rules cannot be waived or amended by anyone, including the fair board, management, or judge.

The Fairs & Expositions Branch (F&E) is the final and absolute interpreter of these rules. Only a fair may request, in writing a variance on their own behalf or on behalf of an exhibitor to a specific rule. This request must be made prior to the start of the fair or specific competition for which a variance is requested. If F&E approves a specific variance request it may approve a conditional variance with specific conditions. Any approved variance shall expire at the conclusion of the annual fair.

Fair Management and/or Board of Directors may grant variances to ownership rule in the instance of deceased animals, submission of late entries and refund of entry fees. Variances may be ruled upon by F&E at the request of Fair Management and/or Board of Directors. F&E will distribute any corrections and additions to these rules to fairs. It is the fair's responsibility to make them available.

F&E does not represent or endorse the accuracy, correctness or reliability of any advice, opinion, statement, or other information displayed by the fair in the distribution of corrections and additions to these rules. True and correct copies of all rules and any additions or corrections are available upon request at F&E during business hours, by mail or at www.cdfa.ca.gov/fairsandexpositions. Fairs may create "Local Rules" that may be stricter than the State Rules but that may not circumvent the State Rules. If a local rule is not printed in the exhibitor handbook the applicable State Rule will apply.

Competition at the California State Fair is not governed by State Rules for California Fairs.

Any return of entries or fees under this rule will be done on a nondiscriminatory basis. The decision of Fair Management under this rule is only appealable to the Chief Executive Officer (CEO), whose decision is final.
3. Fair Management may combine classes of 4 or less entries for meaningful competition.
4. Exhibitors may not submit the same entries to two or more fairs that require them to be on exhibit at the same time unless prior written approval has been obtained from both fairs. A copy of this approval must be submitted with entry forms.

Participation

1. In order to participate in a youth livestock program (excluding horse, cavies & dogs) at any California Fair, all exhibitors 9 years of age and older must obtain annual certification in the Youth for the Quality Care of Animals (YQCA) program or a comparable fair run program approved by the California Department of Food and Agriculture, Fairs and Expositions Branch. Those not certified are not eligible to participate at a California Fair.

The Fair Management shall deny entry or disqualify and remove any exhibit or exhibitor that is ineligible for competition under State and Local Rules or endangers the public or has violated State and Local Rules. The fair may require removal of the exhibitor and/or exhibit (including animals) from the fairgrounds.
3. Exhibitors, leaders, advisors, and parents found, after a chance to provide evidence and be heard before the Fair Management (CEO and staff) of unethical practices as set forth in the State and Local Rules or in actions inimical with the fair program shall result in the exhibit being disqualified and the forfeiture of any awards and/or privileges as may be deemed appropriate to the circumstances by the Fair Management. If the judging for the exhibit has not yet commenced the exhibitor, leaders, advisors, and parents may be denied entry in any exhibitions at the fair. The Fair Management shall report any such incidences of unethical or inimical behavior established by the fair as provided for in this rule, to F&E in writing and such reports may become the basis for any fair to refuse entries from the exhibitor, leaders, advisors, or parents for up to 5 years following the infraction.
4. Exhibits must be on exhibit as specified in the exhibitor handbook. Fair Management may allow late exhibit delivery or early removal of exhibits when it is in the best interest of the fair. Exhibits will not be removed from the fairgrounds before the release date printed in the exhibitor handbook except as determined by Fair Management in cases of sickness, accident, death, disciplinary actions requested by a youth program supervisor, or other circumstances which are in the best interests of the fair.
5. The exhibitor agrees to defend, indemnify, and hold harmless the fair, the county, and the State of California from and against any liability, claim, loss, or expense (including reasonable attorneys' fees) arising out of any injury or damage which is caused by, arises from or is in any way connected with participation in the program or event, excepting only that caused by the sole active negligence of the Fair. The Fair Management shall not be responsible for accidents or losses that may occur to any of the exhibitors or exhibits at the fair. The exhibitor (or parent or guardian of a minor) is responsible for any injury or damage resulting from the exhibitor's participation in the program or event. This includes any injury to others or to the exhibitor or to the exhibitor's property.

6. Exhibitors, leaders, and advisors must be in good standing with the local and state organization(s) (4-H, Grange, FFA) to be eligible to exhibit at the fair.

Conflict of Interest Avoidance

1. Directors, Fair Management, Chief Executive Officer (CEO), and/or their spouses are not eligible to exhibit at their own district, county, or citrus fair except in timed events. Under no circumstances shall a director, fair management, CEO and/or their spouse be eligible to collect awards.

3. Minor children of Directors, Chief Executive Officer (CEO), Department Supervisors, staff and/or committee members may exhibit animals or articles which are the result of the child's own earnings or a gift made to the child, provided the requirements of pertinent rules are met. All other requirements for exhibiting must be met.

III. JUDGING

1. Judges should avoid any appearance of partiality and avoid unnecessary fraternization with exhibitors.
2. No person shall act as a judge in any division in which he/she or a member of his/her immediate family is an exhibitor, is in charge of an exhibit or division, in charge of a group of exhibitors, or a member of a group of exhibitors.
3. No person shall be allowed, under any circumstances, to interfere with the judge(s) regarding their adjudications, or with the fair's staff, or to offer any audible criticism of an exhibit or exhibitor. Violators of this rule shall be excused immediately from the competition and shall be subject to such additional penalties, including cancellations of awards, as the management shall consider proper.
4. The judge has the authority to:
 - a. Disqualify or transfer to the correct class any exhibit that does not meet the requirements of the division or class in which it is entered;
 - b. Disqualify any exhibit not properly cleaned or fitted;
 - c. Disqualify any exhibit that is in his/her opinion hazardous to public safety;
 - d. Examine the animals before entering the show ring; and/or
 - e. Refuse to make award to any animal that shows visible evidence of disease, deformity, or lameness. No award will be made to exhibits eliminated under any of the above instances.
5. The judge may not waive State Rules.
6. The judge's decision is final. Fair Management may not request any changes in judges' rulings.
7. To encourage high standards, the judge shall award first, second, third place, etc. according to merit. If without merit, the judge shall make no award under any circumstances. The judge may award championships or other awards at his/her discretion for superior exhibits. This applies whether there are one or more exhibits in class.

IV. AWARDS AND SCORING

1. Fair Management is not responsible for errors on entry forms. No exhibitor shall be entitled to an award that has been disallowed as the result of his/her own error.
2. All divisions or classes will be judged under the American system and/or Danish system as stated in the fair's exhibitor handbook.
3. State "Judging Standards" are to be used where applicable. Local judging standards may be used if published in the exhibitor handbook.
4. Cash awards will be paid only as recorded on the signed Judging Sheet or judging affidavit and only to the exhibitor.
5. Fair Management shall withhold the payment of awards for exhibits that are determined ineligible under State and Local Rules and may recover awards that have been paid for ineligible exhibits.
6. No exhibitor shall receive more than two cash awards in any one class using American judging system. (See definition of exhibitor.)

- a. When an exhibitor earns more than two awards in a class, the exhibitor will receive the two highest cash awards, and the lesser cash awards will be moved down the placings to other exhibitors; ribbons will be awarded as placed.
 - b. Any difference in payment limits under the Danish system of judging shall be printed in the exhibitor handbook.
 - c. When the fair combines classes, an exhibitor is entitled to two cash awards per each class that was combined. Judges should determine special awards as printed before combining.
7. Sweepstakes shall be awarded as specified in the exhibitor handbook based upon these scoring guidelines:
- a. First award -5 points; Second award -3 points; Third award -1 point.
 - b. Sweepstakes shall be awarded only when at least three separate exhibitors have achieved at least a combined point total of 30.

 - d. Sweepstakes points will be credited only to the exhibitor whose name appears on the entry form.
 - e. There are separate sweepstakes or high point rules for horse shows, which may be determined by the fair.
8. Ties which cannot be broken by the judge will be processed as follows (See also Horse Show Department):
- a. 2-way tie for 1st place: Combine 1st and 2nd place money and divide equally between the two 1st-place exhibitors. The 3rd highest finisher receives 3rd place money etc.
 - b. 3-way tie for 1st place: Combine 1st, 2nd and 3rd place money and divide equally between the three exhibitors.
9. The fair will not guarantee sponsored donations.
10. Placing of ribbons does not guarantee correct judging placement. Only the official placing stated on the judging sheet(s) constitutes the final placement.

V. PROTEST

1. Protests will be considered only if there has been a violation of State or Local Rules that have not been enforced. Decisions of judges, veterinarians, weighmasters, breed callers, tail dock officials and timers cannot be protested and are final.
2. All Protests must be accompanied by a deposit of $500.00 (cash, money order or certified check made payable to the fair). NOTE: The deposit will be returned if the protest is upheld. If the protest is upheld, the violator may be held liable for any portion of the direct costs incurred by the fair in the course of the protest resolution. Failure to reimburse the fair shall be cause for disallowing future entries in any of the network of California fairs.
3. Given the short duration of the fair:
 - a. The protestor shall make every effort to file the protest prior to judging. All protests must be filed in writing within 24 hours of the time of the cause of the protest and before conclusion of fair.
 - b. The fair will make every effort to resolve protests as quickly as possible. All exhibitors by entering an exhibit and all persons by filing a protest agree to cooperate with Fair Management to resolve protests in a timely manner.
 - c. Protests shall be adjudicated by Fair Management and/or members of Board of Directors.
4. Any exhibit involved in a filed protest before or during judging is eligible to compete until the protest is resolved.
5. Classes that involve a protested exhibit will not become official until the protest is resolved.
 - a. In championship or special award classes that involve the protested exhibit the judge shall also select 1st and 2nd runners-up in case of disqualification.
 - b. In the case of protest, the unofficial judging results may be used to prepare the sale list and other necessary information.
6. At the discretion of the CEO, judging can be delayed to allow time for the fair to resolve the protest if to do so does not unreasonably delay or disrupt the operations of the remainder of the fair judging and auction events.
7. Prior to judging the affected class, fairs may announce that an entry has been protested.
8. All questions concerning competition or non-protestable disputes or differences with staff or the exhibition not provided for under the State or Local Rules shall be referred to the CEO or their designee, whose decision shall be final.

9. Violations of State Rules may be appealed to F&E in writing.
10. An individual may appeal to F&E only after adjudication at the local level and only if:
- a. The decision upholds a Local Rule that circumvents or is not in the spirit of a State Rule(s);
 - b. The individual can substantiate new and credible information that was not available at the time of the local decision; or
 - c. There was inappropriate adjudication at the local level that may have included conflict of interest, lack of due process, or a significant misinterpretation of rules.
11. A fair or state, national or international organization or subdivision thereof which has a significant stake in the interpretation of rules affecting the network of California fairs may make an appeal directly to F&E concerning multiple-fair issues, industry-wide issues, unavoidable conflict of interest or assistance in enforcing its own organization rules.
12. No protest will be accepted unless it:
- a. Is filed or received, in writing, with a signed original and a signed duplicate copy;
 - b. Clearly states which rule has been violated;
 - c. States when the protestor first became aware of the facts and rule violation;
 - d. States the facts relied upon for the basis of the protest;
 - e. States that the protestor will cooperate with the investigation of the protest and that the protestor will be available and agrees to attend any hearing held to resolve the protest at the time and place directed by F&E;

Additionally, the detection of more than one non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drug in either a blood or urine sample is a violation of California rules. Maintaining a current listing of specific prohibited substances is impossible due to the continual introduction of new pharmaceuticals, discontinuation of old ones, off labeled prescription of human products, and utilization of foreign products. Additionally, some exemptions exist.

*Specific information is contained in the "EMMP Medication Guidelines Brochure" found at

A "pending" EIA test result does not satisfy the entry requirement. The requirements apply to horses, ponies, mules, donkeys, burros, and zebras.

Did you know... Jan F. Davis was a Rancher, a Cowboy and a True Gentleman. From 1995-2003, Jan served as a Director of the California Mid State Fair. He served two terms as President of the Board. During his term he was responsible for creating many equestrian events that continue today including the Match Team Roping and the Cattlemen's Day Stock Dog Show. Jan was very involved in the Jr. Livestock Auction. He and his partners owned Templeton Livestock Market and donated all the auctioneer duties for Jr. Livestock Auction. He helped start the Replacement Heifer show and auction that still is a highlight of the fair and was the first such program to be started in California. Jan was the man to go to, and because of his dedication to youth in agriculture, The San Luis Obispo Cattlemen's Assn has established the Jan F. Davis Memorial Fund to benefit youth in agriculture at the Mid State Fair. We take this opportunity to honor this man whose commitment to the California Mid State Fair was truly outstanding.

BIOSECURITY

2022 California Mid-State Fair Swine Influenza Vaccination Program

Below are a series of questions, answers and requirements for this important Animal Health Program. These requirements are part of our Bio Security Protocol Program as well as our Livestock Show Competition Handbook requirements. Vaccination is mandatory in 2022.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation and participation in this critical program.

What are the vaccination verification requirements to qualify my hog to come to the Fair?

For Exhibitors: Vaccination is mandatory in 2022. Your 4-H Leader or FFA Advisor MUST verify in writing to the Fair that you, your breeder or your representative have vaccinated your hog according to Fair requirements and vaccine label instructions. Your Leader/ Advisor must provide your name, the hog's ear notches, and DNA Fair tag number as required by the Fair along with the name of the vaccine. Work directly with your Leader/Advisor to provide such proof. Your Leader/Advisor will compile a single list for the Fair of all exhibitors with hogs from your club/ chapter. Upon arriving at the Fair with your hog, such proof (provided to you as a list from your Leader/Advisor) is required to be presented to swine officials on arrival day and before unloading your hog. Your name must appear on that list. You must provide that proof of vaccination to your Leader/Advisor no later than July 10, 2022 or you are not eligible to bring your hog to the Fair. Independent Youth must have their Parent or Legal Guardian provide this proof to the Fair in writing with proof of purchase and vaccination of the approved vaccine.

For 4-H Leaders/FFA Advisors: A single comprehensive list (on the Fair's official form) of each club/chapter of swine exhibitors which provides proof of purchase of approved vaccines and that they were administered appropriately and timely for each exhibitor must be provided to the Fair. This list must be signed by the Leader/Advisor and must include exhibitor's name, vaccine used, official DNA Ear tag number and ear notch for each animal. This signed list is due to the Livestock Department no later than 5:00 pm on Monday, July 18, 2022. An official form will be provided to Leaders/Advisors by Fair officials.

Finally, provide this list to each of your exhibitors for them to bring to the Fair in order to unload their animal. It is recommended that you have plenty of extra copies on arrival day.

For further questions and answers please contact our Livestock department by emailing livestock@midstatefair.com

Bio-Security Commitments and Expanded Health Protocols

Animal Health and Welfare are critical components of any competitive Livestock, Equestrian or animal event.

These types of animal activities are challenged from a Bio-Security standpoint since most exhibition Livestock have been transported over several miles in their life while originating or being transported to and from multiple fairs, shows, sales, counties and states.

Exposure to animal health challenges via mixed populations, stress and compromised environments is commonplace. In addition, these animals are exposed to bacteria's or viruses through being housed and exposed to all other animals at the fair. If the animal is healthy upon arrival to the Fair, it certainly has a better chance of not getting sick. If the animal is not completely healthy or not cared for properly before arrival at the Fair (and during the Fair) they are at greater risk.

Pro-active solutions to this challenge start at home and include proper animal care education, Best Practices and common sense in addition to good environment, proper care, high quality feed, fresh water and a vet-client relationship with a licensed Veterinarian. If this happens at home, the Fair experience has a high percentage opportunity of being very positive. Although all animals are susceptible to health concerns, Swine and Poultry tend to have a greater propensity to health problems because common and complicated health conditions tend to spread more rapidly in these populations.

The California Mid-State Fair has excellent facilities for housing horses and Livestock. The Fair to identify a lead Veterinarian to be on call. Other licensed veterinarians working with exhibitors at home are welcome to assist during the Fair as well.

Relative to veterinary costs, Fair management will only be responsible for livestock arrival day inspection and a single inspection call each day of the show and auction. Any costs related to health-related treatments, additional inspections, emergencies and any medications approved and/or prescribed are the responsibility of individual exhibitors. Exhibitors may call upon their own licensed Veterinarian however; the Livestock Superintendent must be notified prior to their arrival and that Veterinarian's report must be filed with the Livestock Superintendent prior to their departure from the Livestock facilities.

2018 posed a challenge with the H1H2 strain of Swine Flu that plagued many Fairs across the mid-west this past summer and fall. In 2019 the California Mid-State Fair instituted an aggressive Bio-Security Protocol and Plan for all animals at the Fair. It was very successful and well received by animal owners and our community.

The following continued commitments provide an improved Bio-Security program for 2022 for all animal shows.

- ✓ Clean and disinfect all pens, stalls and wash rack facilities before and after each Livestock show.
- ✓ Provide for visual Veterinary inspection of livestock prior to unloading to ensure good health. Treat, under Veterinary direction, sick animals and/or release any animal that Fair Veterinarians consider compromised from a health standpoint. Monitor livestock health throughout the livestock facility each day of the Fair utilizing professional Veterinary services under the direction of the Lead Vet.
- ✓ Provide secure and comfortable housing for all livestock.
- ✓ Monitor the current condition of the Southern California Newcastle outbreak within the Poultry population of four California counties. The intent is to offer a Poultry Show in 2022, depending on the statewide status of the disease. Final decisions will be made in the spring.
- ✓ Continue strong Poultry Health inspection program at the Fair for 2022 and beyond.
- ✓ Provide (on the Fair's website) to all exhibitors, leaders and Ag teachers prior to the Fair, a significant amount of educational materials developed by the USDA, CDFA and universities on proper care of animals and specific disease concerns targeted at each specie where appropriate. This also includes other related animal care tips and resources.
- ✓ Provide educational signage during the Fair for the public and exhibitors addressing the topic.
- ✓ Provide handwashing stations in and around the livestock area.
- ✓ Monitor the availability and practicality of vaccines that may be readily available for control of certain health conditions in advance of Fair arrival while working with the exhibitor base to utilize these products.
- ✓ Continue protocol for providing an isolation area for sick or injured animals.
- ✓ Develop a strong checklist for the Fair and exhibitors titled "Protecting Guests, Exhibitors and Animals".
- ✓ Maintain the terminal show policy for market animals.
- ✓ Continue to support the national campaign of "Youth Quality Care of Animals" (YQCA) and the training that is required by all animal exhibitors.

2022 Biosecurity Training and Protocol

Purpose: The purpose of the biosecurity training is to educate our exhibitors about the correct practices to ensure the health and wellbeing of their animal projects while entering, exiting and housing their project before and after the California Mid-State Fair. The intent is to educate all parties at the Fair regarding good animal husbandry practices that will help keep animals, exhibitors, parents, leaders, advisors and fairgoers healthy.

The California Mid-State Fair further encourages exhibitors to adopt these practices at the location where projects are housed prior to and after the fair.

How this works: This process is intended to be educational, simple to conduct and easy for leaders and advisors as well as the fairgrounds staff to be able to account for each exhibitor to have completed the training.

All advisors and leaders turn in ONE form (TO BE FOUND AT: <https://www.midstatefair.com/fair/livestock-info.php>) per species club leader or project advisor. Please DO NOT turn in a form for every exhibitor.

Exhibiting at the Fair: Animal agriculture is an important component of the United States agricultural industry. The quality and diversity of California animal agriculture is evident at livestock exhibitions and fairs throughout the State and nation. Many hours of training and hard work are invested to prepare healthy, high-quality animals for competition and in most cases for the food chain. Exhibition of animals is a rewarding experience. Unfortunately, even healthy animals entered in fairs are at risk for exposure to disease, stress or other negative health conditions.

Fairs and expositions may pose a potential threat to individual animal health. The commingling of animals of different species, breeds, and ages, from multiple premises and herd management backgrounds, creates an environment for potential exposure and spread of animal diseases. The stresses of travel, close confinement, and a changing environment, may compromise an animal's resistance to disease. People attending the Fair also contribute to potential disease spread. At the end of the fair, animals that return to their home premises may also pose a risk of disease spread to their home herd or flock mates.

Fair Biosecurity: Biosecurity refers to measures taken to prevent the introduction of new disease agents into a herd or flock. Commingling of animals, multiple human contacts, and contaminated equipment represent the greatest threats for disease exposure and spread at a fair. To minimize risks, Fair exhibitors can implement a Fair biosecurity plan.

The objective of a Fair exhibitor's biosecurity plan is to minimize potential exposure to disease and to prevent or limit disease spread from the Fair to the home premises. Even the best biosecurity plan may not eliminate all risk of disease exposure; each step taken will reduce the potential.

Some practices to keep in mind:

- Provide fresh, clean water and feed
- Restrict animal contact with other animals, people, and livestock equipment,
- Clean and disinfect equipment, and tools
- Isolate and remove sick animals.
- Keep pens, stalls and surrounding areas clean and dry
- Communicate immediately with your specie superintendent or the official veterinarian when you suspect your animal is sick. Signs include listlessness, not eating, not drinking water, appears to have a high temperature, the animal is injured, heavy coughing and heavy sneezing, heavy mucus discharge from eyes, nose and/or mouth.

Biosecurity Before the Fair: Disease prevention and Fair biosecurity start before exhibitors leave home. Only healthy animals should be entered in the fair. Before animals leave the home premises, the herd or flock veterinarian should examine each animal to ensure healthy animals enter the fairgrounds. To help with this process the fairgrounds will be enacting vet checks before each trailer is unloaded, this check will be a visual check to assess, quarantine or remove any animals that are actively, or visibly ill or those that display other health conditions of concern before they enter pens or stalls.

Tools and equipment may harbor disease agents. To minimize potential disease spread from the home premises to the fair, before packing for transport, clean and disinfect:

- Feed equipment: buckets, feeders, and hay racks.
- Cleaning utensils: shovels, pitch forks, and wheelbarrows.
- Grooming equipment: clippers and brushers.
- Vehicle and trailer (inside and outside).

Biosecurity at the Fair: To protect Fair animals and minimize disease transmission risk while at the fair:

- Limit animal-animal contact,
- Limit animal-human-animal contact,
- Avoid sharing equipment with other exhibitors unless you thoroughly clean and disinfect between use,
- Cover feed and equipment to reduce risk of contamination, and
- Change clothing, hats, and shoes used at the Fair before doing chores at home.

At the end of the Fair disinfect all equipment before loading the trailer. Unused feed, hay, and bedding should be discarded at the fairgrounds, not taken home.

Biosecurity After the Fair: The possibility of animal exposure to disease agents can occur with even the best biosecurity practices at the fair. Since they may be harboring disease agents without clinical signs, animals returning from the Fair should be isolated from other animals and pets. Monitor animals in isolation daily for signs of illness and contact your veterinarian if any unusual symptoms are observed. To minimize the possible chance of disease spread to the main herd or flock, modify your chore routine to care for isolated Fair animals last. Change your clothes after completing chores for isolated animals. Consult your veterinarian to develop an isolation plan suitable for your premises and herd or flock.

Help Protect Fairgoers: Animal show barns are one of the most popular areas of fairs. Fairs are great places to learn about different livestock species. Fair exhibitors have an opportunity and responsibility to educate fairgoers about animal safety and biosecurity practices. Animal diseases such as ringworm, E. coli, and Salmonella may cause significant problems in humans. It is important the people visiting Fair show barns wash their hands after contact with animals. Handwashing or use of hand sanitizers, reduces possible disease transmission from animals to humans.

Handwash Stations: Please make parents, exhibitors, leaders, advisors and fairgoers aware of the locations around the barns where handwash stations are located. This is a proactive approach to good Biosecurity practices.

Veterinary Inspection upon arrival at the Fair

Veterinarians and their assistants will inspect all livestock upon arrival prior to unloading into pens and stalls. Each animal owner must have veterinary clearance for their animal to be penned or stalled. Animal health will be monitored throughout the Fair as well.

ROUND ROBIN SHOWMANSHIP

Sunday, July 31
No Entry Fee

All Animals used will be arranged by Fair staff. Exhibitors may not bring their own animals or arrange animals to use during competition.

All first-place winners of beef, sheep, swine, dairy cattle, dairy goats and meat goats, are required to compete in Round Robin Showmanship. Exhibitors may compete if they have placed in Round Robin in prior years.

Any youth who is exhibiting more than one (1) specie of livestock and wins first place in the earliest advanced showmanship class entered will be eligible to compete in the other showmanship class with the other species of livestock. If they win first place in a second specie of livestock, he or she will be allowed to choose which specie they will represent in Round Robin. For example, if an exhibitor wins sheep showmanship and then later wins beef showmanship, he or she can represent either sheep or beef in round robin and the second-place exhibitor of the specie not selected will compete in round robin.

If a junior showman wins both junior and senior showmanship, he or she will have the choice of determining which round robin class they choose to compete. The second-place showman in the non-chosen showmanship class will then compete in the appropriate round robin. For example, if an exhibitor wins junior swine showmanship and then wins senior swine showmanship, he or she could choose to compete in either junior or senior round robin. If they choose junior round robin the second-place senior showmanship exhibitor would represent swine in senior round.
