Hi Kay,

A quick note while I'm waiting for the truck to come so we can go out to the village. We're going to Lech's house to try to get it started. Also have to take this salesman from Danang out to collect his bows. He bought 26,500 piastres worth (roughly $200.00 worth) yesterday but made many enemies for heavily doing it. Will intervene from now on and do business for him. Will not let him out in the village again.

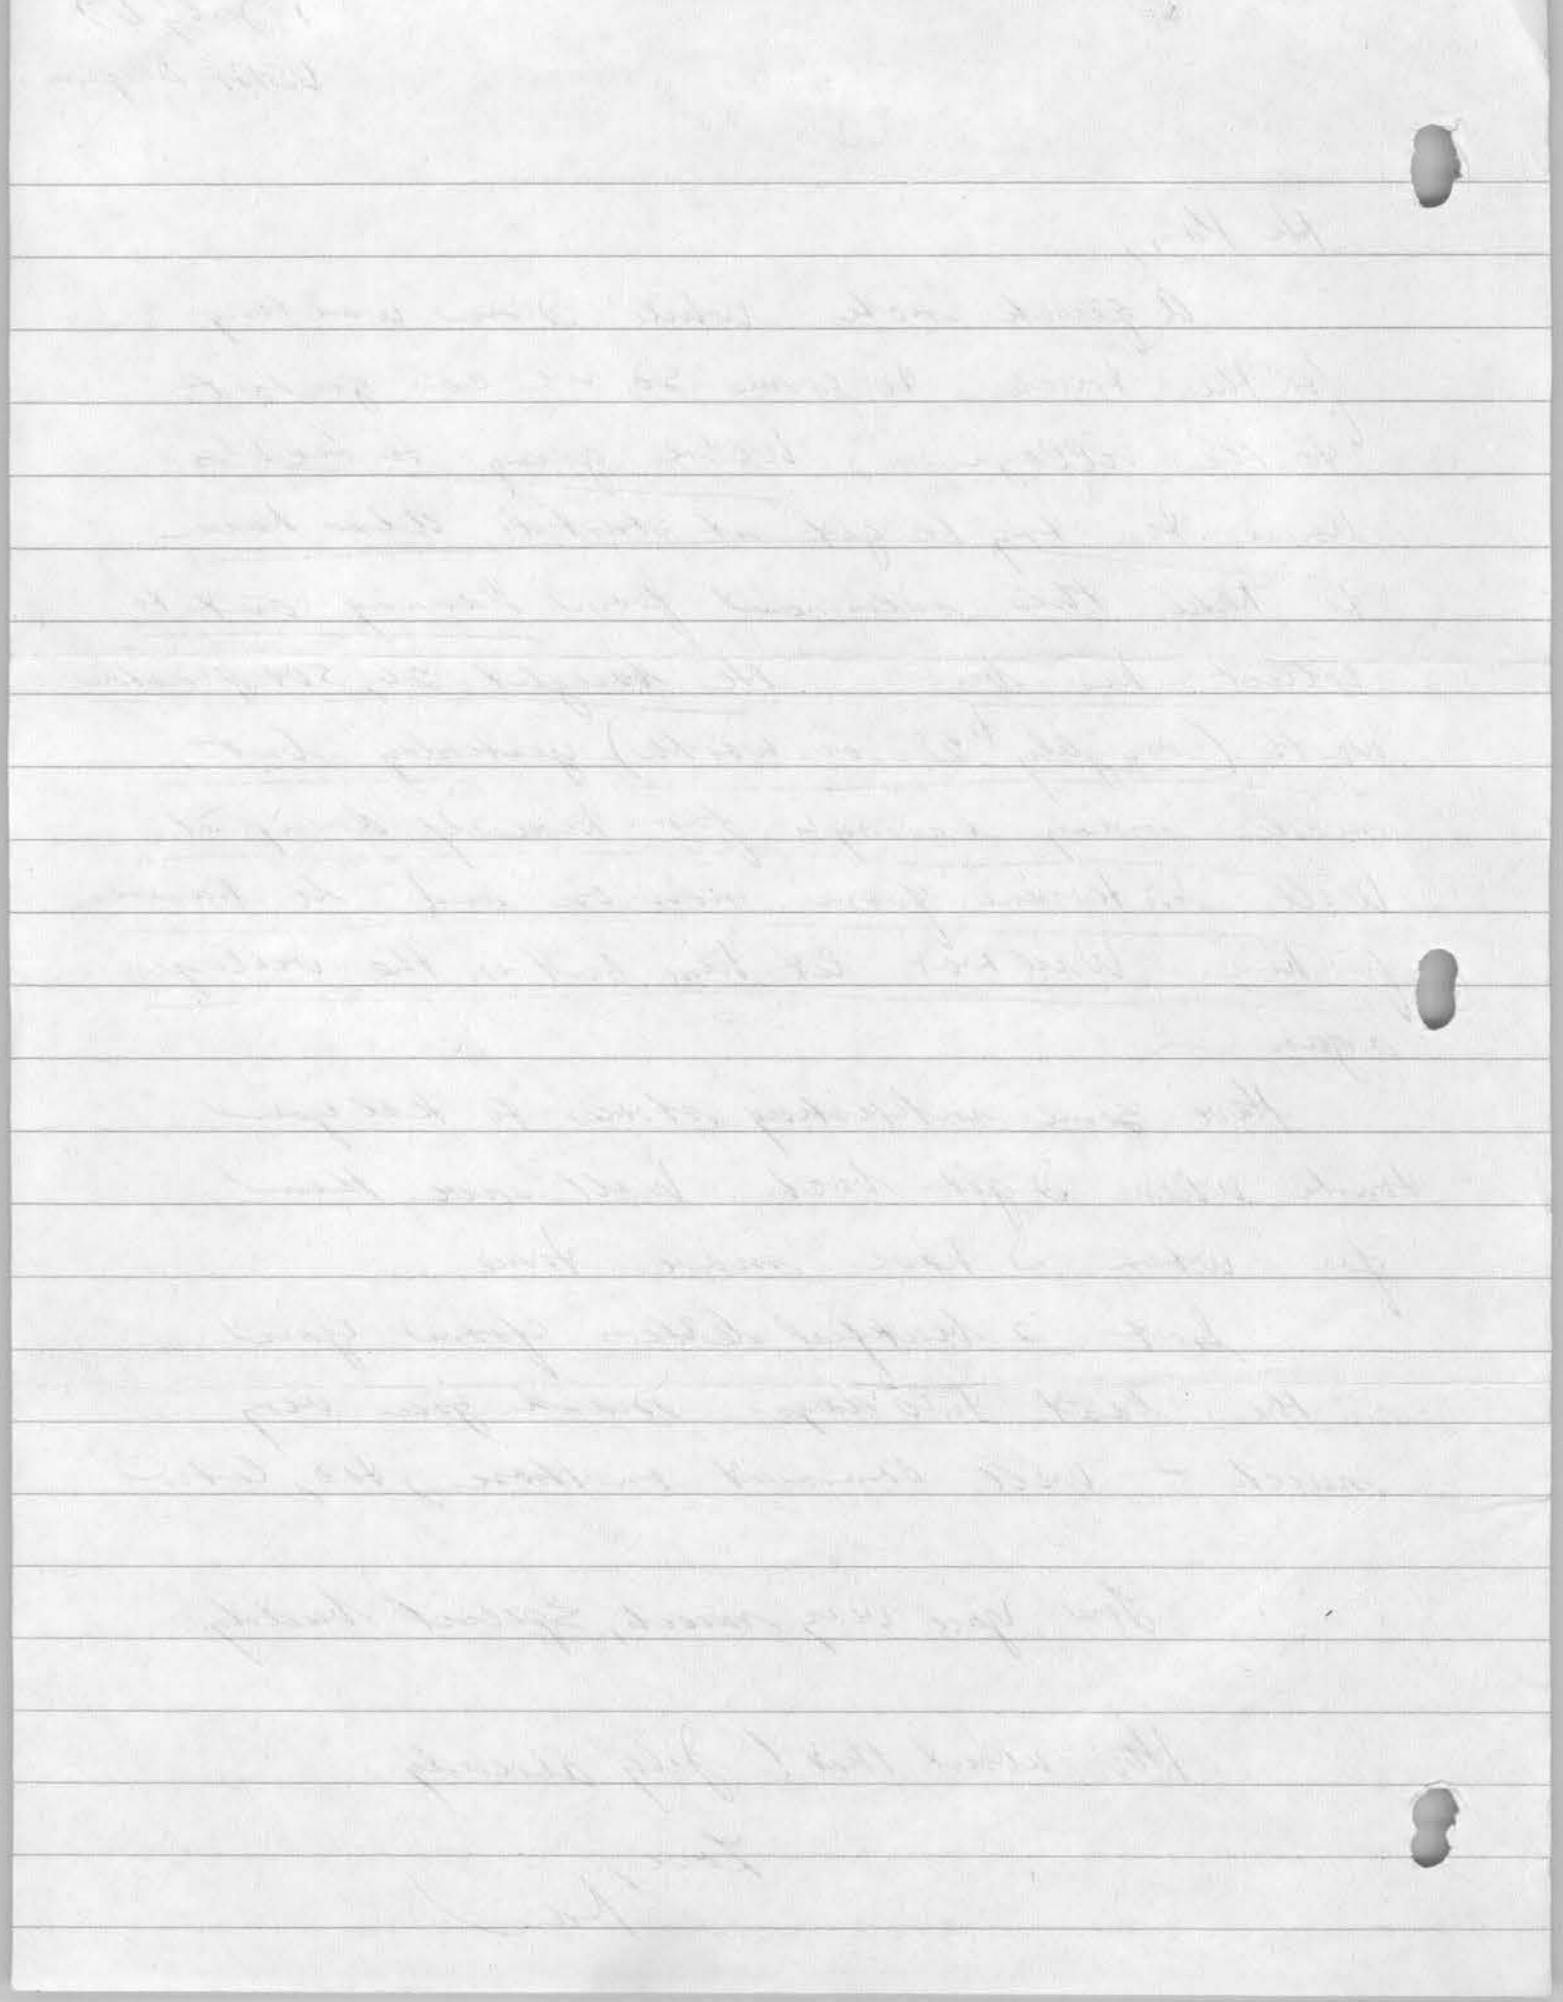

Have some interesting stories to tell you write when I get back. Will save them for when I have more time.

Got 2 beautiful letters from you in the last two days. Thank you very much - will comment on those, too, later.

Love you very much, special buddy.

How about that! July already.

Love,
Dan

Hi Kay,

Let me write you a letter that's worth while for a change. I love you very much. Have been running my ass off for the last 3 days and right now am supposed to be rounding up ply wood, tin, crossbows etc for Tech - also am supposed to go see the Province chief at 2³⁰ pm about salaries for my medics - must also drink rice wine with Tow tonite. - the rat race is here for sure.

Have just closed my door to all intruders and will write a letter to my best buddy and the rest of the world be damned for awhile.

I have received one beautiful letter after the next from you lately - don't know when the last good letter I wrote was but know it was quite some time ago.

Will briefly recount my adventures to you since Friday for our "diary" and then try to answer your question and comment on your comments.

Friday was interrogated by the Special Forces -

NO - Thursday — and was surprised to know that I am the only one that seems to know what the hell goes on north of us. Someone is as close to the people out there as I've managed to get. Was very surprised at this — puts me in a strange position — have never done that ~~007~~ bit before.. Was complemented but confused by their questions.
Made them promise none of my people would get hurt by any information I would give them then or in the future. This they promised.
Furthermore made them promise that any information they acted on with soldiers would be with Montagnard "Mike" force or Special forces only — not Army or ARVN — this they agreed to as well. Have discussed this with Ton & Lick and others
out in Plei Buol and they like the idea.
Gives them a sense of security to know that we will protect them if they give us information that we can respond to — and with Montagnard troops. Unfortunately they neither trust nor like the Army or ARVN and would not supply information if they knew that these people would be involved.

Enough of that. S.F. intelligence guzzled me for 2-3 hrs and I was like a dried up prune when I got out of there.

Friday a man from Danang - a business man who sells Montagnard ~~antefacts~~ artifacts - crossbows, loin cloths,
knives, spears, etc - came up by recommendation
L.C. Olson (head of CIVIC action) to contact me to buy crossbows. He has many good ideas but is a #10 man - I think a little greeat, a little mouse of a man who comes on with too much too fast.
Poses as a Montagnard expert but when I took ~~to~~ him out to Plei Brel he upset
the yards so much with his bargaining
and impatience and down-right selfishness,
he was damned lucky to get out alive.

Went back Saturday and apologized to Ton,
Plo, etc and they were very understanding.
Will never take another man out to Plei Brel
until I study and know him very well.
We don't need ugly Americans out there - at least accom paning me. He did buy 26,000 prades

(about $220.00) worth of bows though.

Went out my self Saturday afternoon and bought 30,000 pastres worth of very good bows. Got their price down from 1200 pastres to 900 pi; from 1000 pi to 700 pi and from 800 pi to 500 pi. Explained I could not sell them at the price they asked — you should have seen me explaining Henry Ford vs. Buick — think I got the point across though — these bows will go like hot cakes at this price — Should be able to TIN all of Plei Boel, Plei Sor, Plei Lung, Plei Kip and then some.

We got a flat tire Saturday night so John Watson and I stayed at Plei Boel in Ton's house. I am now Ton's "ama" — father — yes ME! — There will be a sacrifice shortly to commemorate the event. This makes me Bleo's grandfather so am out of the woods for sure. Think John Watson will be getting married shortly to Bleo, though. Lots of luck, John.

Went to bed at 9³⁰ pm on my favorite cot in Ton's house — slept like a log and woke up at 6³⁰ AM refreshed. Hitched a ride to the Air Base by lambetta and found a fire, crank, etc - came back to "breakfast" of rice, an egg, onion, salt, and something else mix and water. Tom fixed the flat in the mean time for his "daddy." This is a not but they are very serious about the whole thing.

3 July

101

Have just been interrupted by John Watson (a very very good man) - seems things are crowding in on me again. Sweetie, I'm sorry but must hurry this letter. Hope to be writing better letters soon.

Anyway - we went down to Lech's house yesterday to drink & talk at his house. Got into religion of all kinds. Lech does not believe in a god - believes in Montagnards, spirits, his family, his job, no lie, no steal, etc. John has a God who doesn't give a damn. Tried to describe my God to them - about being a God of love, understanding, a personal every minute God, etc - think some of my thinking got through - have given up trying to convince anyone of my beliefs

— just explain what I think and let it go at that.

We got drunk last night on some of the strongest rice wine I have ever had — wow — like a liquor but gallons of the stuff. Barfed all over the place.

Got home about 10⁰⁰ pm — very drunk
— went to bed as soon as I could.

This morning was up sharply at 6³⁰ am if you can believe it — picked up my yard medics — Binh from Plei Boel, Hanh from Plei Son, Mem from Plei Kep,
Mar from Plei Phung, Chal & Jan Raklan
(Tech's brothers) from Plei Betel. — carried them over to class at S.F. — a real triumph — 3 mos of medical training and they're all going to learn.

Had a hung over morning this morning
— am coming out of it now a little.

That brings us up to date.

A few brief answers to your questions:
No I have not saved any money but will. Yes, I think I can get Mrs. ~~Red~~

Will write a better letter, soon, Sweetie.
Love you very much.

Cannot understand why I go without one - especially since I am good friend and can have any woman in village if I want. I try to explain custom Amerikai but eh bo towel alone (they do not understand). Have settled for fact I am bald and must be very old - so am father Ton I Towel alone? (Do you understand?)

Enough of this shit.

Have not even touched a woman in so long do not know how they feel - am like I was in seminary - vaguely afraid of women because they are so strange.

Cannot remember how a woman feels

Hi Kay,

It's 10⁰⁰ now - have a break on such call so thought I'd start a letter.

We have a surgeon here visiting - is doing a pilonidal cyst right now so have a break.

Missed writing last nite - went to bed about 12⁰⁰ midnite and slept through till 8 AM. Sorry about that drunken letter the nite before. Hope I didn't shock you so much with my comments about John Watson and Tom's daughter, Alex. As Dr. Ballakin mentioned a few times before we left W.F. - The rules of morality here are very different. i.e. The Vietnamese take stealing, lying and corruption as a way of life, feel no qualms about adultery at formulation as long as done without fan-fare or upsetting the order of things. "Face" to them is very important. The Mothagards have very strong feelings about lying, stealing, dishonesty of any kind. Also feel very strongly about "face" but their "face" consists of being more generous and loyal than you are.

They have very strong taboos about adultery, death, entering a man's house, etc but are very casual about fornication especially. Must learn the rules very soon here or get caught in a maze of one mistake after another. Have managed to keep my virginity by one method or another and do not foresee any difficulty now that I am Ton's "awa" ^(father). You will be interested to know that John did not go to bed with Bles that nite and he, too, may be able to avoid it — but that's his problem.

Picked him up at 7¹⁰ AM yesterday morning and we both went to work as if nothing happened. We have two Montagnard lab techs that John is training. Watson is one of the most talented, positive and even minded people I have met — but was even tempered at all. Blows feels right and left like Mike Conlon. But basically a very happy man — converses freely in Jarai and has passed me up a long time ago. Plan on medical school when he gets back to the States. Has a mind like a steel trap and a disreputable mind used to working as well. John, Lick and my self are damned near constant companions lately. If anything Lick and John are better friends than Lick and I - there is a certain reserve between Lick and I based on his immense respect for my title as doctor. Have been able to leave John by himself out in the village and not worry about him - something I can't do for most of the men I take out. There's a delicate sense you develop after awhile of what should be said, what should be dropped - how much you can push these people into doing - they don't change very much - must suggest something, then let it drop - talk about it later, drop it and finally they will take it on as their own idea - and now you have what you want. Like the medics - have been talking about that for the last 3 mos - finally suggested it again and the response was overwhelming as I mentioned.

Wrapped five crossbows last nite - now have to wrap them for mailing and get them on ~~for~~ their way.

Excuse me - want to watch this surgery. Talk to you later.

Okay - it's 11³⁰ now - watched a masculinization of a penoidal cyst - a good friend of mine - AIC John McPherson who sells my bows at the BX - took it wide awake like a good trooper.

Have about $150.00 tucked away in the Montagnard Industries - will get this back easily - we're starting to move now - we're selling them all over the base - John (M.P.) just delivered $63.00 to me after the surgery.

Just had a visitor - Bob Moses -

2⁰⁹ PM - As you see have been interrupted continuously since I wrote this morning. Right now there are 3 people in my room asking about crossbows. The rat race continues.

Aha - they left. Quickly will tell you went to S.F. for a chat - the school for medics going well - my men need watches which will get from C.A funds. S.F. wants to get in on the crossbow act - Col Huller resistant - wants the credit for the crossbows to go to the Air Force. Can't blame him. Will go slow.

Must get plywood today, also gravel, also rice & fin if I can. Will have to hustle - time wasting. Also have to see May Lo & Damja sometime this afternoon. Sorry to always be in such a rush.

Love you very much.

No letter today or yesterday - hope one comes tomorrow.

Hi Kay,

Looks like the mail has stopped again - haven't had any for 3 days or so - miss talking back and forth - may be will have some later on today. Hope my mail is coming okay.

Had a good scrounge day yesterday - got 200# of nails, 2 loads of gravel, 1 load of sand, 36 pieces of plywood wall board, enough tin to tin Lich's house and 3 #100 bags of rice for Lich. Took a little hustling but looks like his house will go up after all.

We celebrated by drinking some more of Lich's deadly rice wine - got fairly well oiled but not stoned like the last time. Maybe I'm getting used to it.

Also bought 6 TIMEX watches for my medics - handed out 2 of them to Lich's brothers - this called for some more drinking - Wow! Am fairly well hung over now. Serves on the ledger bill though. Can't remember when the last time was I bought a round of drunks at the officer's club. In fact only eat 1 or 2 meals of day at the club so this also helps on the grocery money.

Am selling bows pretty well now — I think we're picking up momentum slowly. Can visualize a regular turnover of maybe 50 bows a week, then 100, then more. Eventually hope to have them make many other things for sale but must go slowly. Someone who seemed to know said that the Yards are at the "cottage industry" stage — same the middle ages when a man planted his field and in his spare time made things for sale. That would put these people back about the time of Charlemagne ~ 800 AD — a few years back economically. Roughly that means they have advanced from no industry (about one year ago) ~ 200 AD to 800 AD in a little over one year. Not bad! Eventually they will free up more and more men to specialize and let someone else plant their fields - when

(104) (2) 6 July

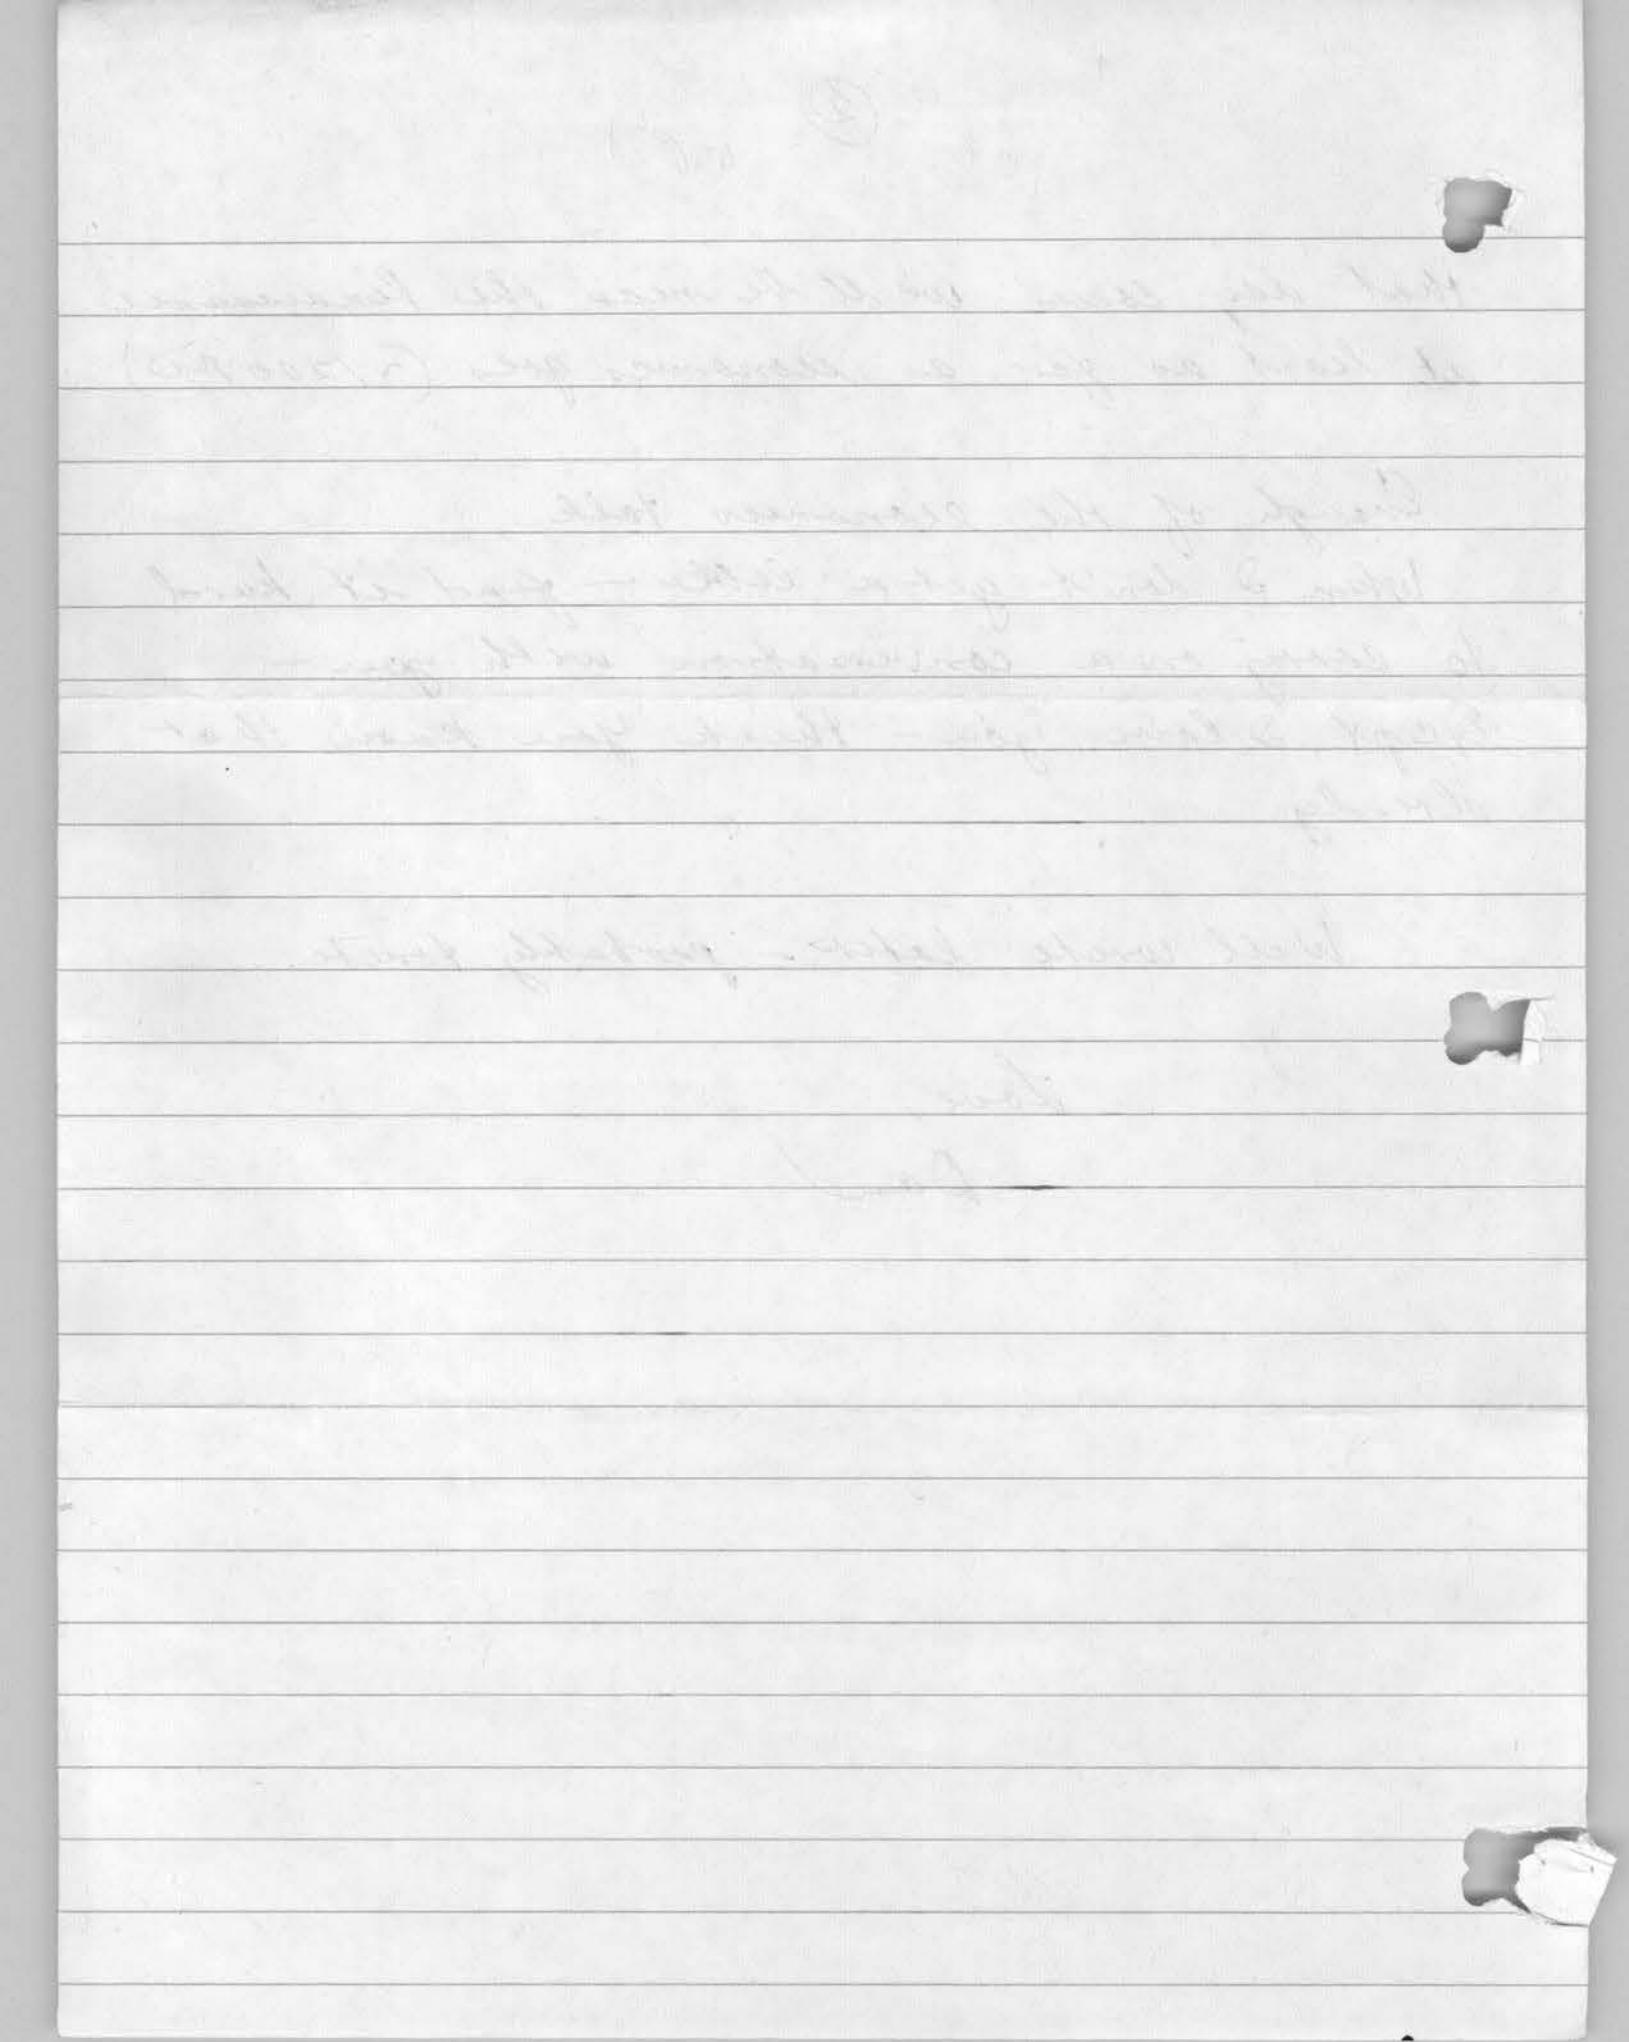

that day comes we'll be near the Renaissance
at least as far as economics goes. (~1200 AD)

Enough of the economics talk.

When I don't get a letter - find it hard to carry on a conversation with you - Except I love you - think you know that already.

Will write later - probably tonite.

Hi Kay,

Just got an excellent letter from you just now - am much refreshed - thank you. Think I'll take a ride off from my gallavanting around the country side and relax tonite, write you a letter, read a little and go to bed early. I do have lots to do out in Plei Broi but think I'll let it ride - am really hung over and tired. Slept from 12¹⁵ this noon till 1³⁰ in what was going to be a short nap. My stomach is talking back to me - mostly am tired. Your letter did much to recharge my battery.

Hope the weather is settling down a bit in Impo. Sounds like you've had a wild time for yourselves.

Your comments on the kids, especially Colleen and Kaela and how they're progressing, Colleen's little problem with the pennies and whether or not to let them have freedom brings me back to reality. Thank you. That's just what I need. Please discuss these problems with me - sometime feel like you people are on another planet. I agree with your decisions about freedom. Kaela must be really changing for you to feel free to send her across the Xerxes street and to the park by herself. Am proud of her and tell her so please. A little hard for me to give any meaningful advice since I'm so far away but appreciate being included in the discussions. Have patience with me when I get back - am a little out of practice with kids. However have a few special buddies out in the village that am allowed to play with - must be special concession to me because this was frowned on when I first came here.

That couch sound very colorful. Wonder how long it will last this time. Finally got the rocking chair fixed. Remember when I started on that in 1963 - just about this time, too. Does it rock any better than it did? - the ① rocker was square or something.

Didn't even know Erin & Karla had the chicken pot - that's how much in the dark I am.

Could I register a bitch? Okay, just short & sweet. — I WANT SOME PICTURES!! Also would enjoy a CARE package or two. Soap is great and I appreciate your sending it. (got a box of it today) but it ain't the same as a care package Towel lin? (understand?) Enough of that. Know you're busier than hell and it's very difficult to gather materials, get to the post office, mail it, etc. But would appreciate a package nonetheless. Do Megan & Jimmy have the chicken pot also? There's another adventure I'm missing — you have all the fun.

Am happy you've gotten to know the Almers — could never seem to get so far in knowing those people. May be because of my erratic hours. Tom Kelly seemed to like them very much and the people provides to us were very close to them.

I agree completely with you, Weezer & Betty A. about letting go of the umbilical cord. These "minor" decisions you talk about are the things that make or break your relations with your kids — they're the stuff parenthood is made out of. Our ability to communicate with the kids later will be based on this trust & mutual respect we show them now. Well done, sweetie. You're nice.

Mike & Mary Ann will probably be getting in shortly after this gets to you. Hello from me — hope they have a good time. Wish I could philosophize a little with him over a bottle with Ed's help. Have a very good hunting bow already broken down for Ed and the kids — included the shivs, arrows and bowstring & trigger. Suggest that this is no toy but a loaded weapon — same same rifle. Once cocked — this is a lethal weapon - used to shoot tigers, elephants, people and air planes (yes!). So respect it. Would also suggest getting a U.S bow string, a plexiglass trigger, etc if they plan to use it for shooting.

6 July

Might even ~~to~~ lead tip the arrows if they want to hunt with it — need to track + sneak up on game with this.

If Ed wants one for each of the boys, let me know — it's my business and am whole saler + retailer so can get beaucoup (very many).

Also have one saved out & broken down for Mike + Tim Conlon if they are interested. Curtie Shannon also has one — slightly smaller but still a lethal weapon + must be so warmed before I'll send it. A FAC plane (forward air controller) landed 2 wks ago with an arrow in its tail assembly he picked up somewhere over the jungle west of here.

Glad you like kids again. A few letters back you sounded morbid as hell about them. Was almost sure it was a phase — glad to know you've recovered again. What would you do without them? — don't think you really be happy as another Marie Kischner. I understand that you need stimulation and an intellectual outlet and a feeling you're growing intellectually, etc — but don't think ~~as~~ either one of us are made for this social bit all the time.

Never heard of Fr. Kavanaugh. Also who are these people wandering around with the strange hats & clothes — really am out of it lately about what's going on in the U.S.A. From where we sit over here, looks like the good ol' USA is going crazy and to hell at the same time. Hope it is just another fad but sounds pretty organized.

We get Look magazine from May now — Time & Newsweek come about & wh late — newspapers I see maybe once, may be twice a week if lucky. Looked at the best seller list and haven't heard of most of the books on it.

(4) 6 July

Will sum up my reaction to your weather news. The coldest, snowiest winter on record, the 2nd worst floods, the coldest, wettest early summer, the worst mosquitoes ever, and the most violent storms including tornadoes in the month of June. You guys have all the fun. Even the monsoon hasn't been very bad here so far.

Have looked over the selection of single pearl rings & diamonds. Only saw one & the price wasn't on it. Will wait till the selection gets better.

Let me know if Erin liked her birthday present - this is not Vietnamese silk - think it's either Hong Kong or Thai silk - supposed to be the best in the world. Can get you some beautiful material if you'd like and let you make up whatever you like in the States. Let me know.

Couldn't care less if we have the money saved for Hawaii or not - we'll take a loan out as we discussed last December from Dr. Bernard and live it up - you fight wad! You only live once, sweetie. Maybe you'd rather wait till we're too old to ~~enjoy~~ afford it, come over to Hawaii by wheel chair and cane. Some day, sweetie, you and I will have some money believe it or not. But by that time we'll be so old & decrepit the ~~we~~ our idea of a big time will be swinging on the back porch swing telling stories. Same - same marshmallows in a piggy bank.

If I want an R&R in October, must apply not earlier than 25 Aug or later than 10 Sept. Should get a date sometime in middle of September. When I get this will let you know. There's a half fare from S.F. to Hawaii & back for wives of Vietnam veterans going to meet husbands in Hawaii (something about the gold drain, etc). Please check into this, let me know how far in advance

6 July

You must make reservations, etc. Feel that 10 October - 17 October would be good dates or there about. Don't want an R&R earlier - have seen too many good men (e.g. Greek) go to hell counting the days after their R&R's. Want the rest of the time to be down hill - may even get a trip to Tokyo~~to~~, Bangkok or Manila after that. I can ask for particular days for R&R and am told usually get what you ask for.

Just finished your beautiful love letter dated 25 June 67 - it was beautiful - thank you very much. These thoughts you and I put down on paper daily should make up an interesting little book for ~~to~~ our family, years from now.

Have just read all of your letters back to June 21 - have been in such a rat race lately that hadn't really studied them as I usually do. They are all beautiful, happy and you. Enjoyed them

Very much — especially the descriptions of the kids. Jimmy sounds like a good little rascal — would like to pretend I don't like that but do.
Will not hesitate to tan his butt literally but enjoy the fact that he's got enough gumption to need it.

Will sign off now, sweetie. — This is my second letter today, believe it or not. Will pass up the village tome, get some letters written and some sleep.

Love you very much.

Hi Kay,

It's cold here believe it or not - am wearing a jacket and am still chilly. The rains have started again almost continual now as promised. Started 2 miles ago - can expect them until September now. We did have a beautiful April and June though and I think that's abnormal for this area from what I've heard.

After my demanding letter last note for a care package and pictures, I got your letter dated 28 June in which you told me about sending both. Also this evening received your care package with Colby cheese and sausage ; Mom's sausage, candy and soap ; and some two more boxes of soap from Mary Whitlock. Am very grateful and so are "my" men - we all had a feast in Bob Reid's place (S/Sgt James R. Reid). Find myself spending more and more time with the enlisted men - rarely if ever share any thing with the officers in the dispensary. When I want any thing or even need any thing, these guys bust their asses for me to get it done and the officers just sit around and listen to tape recorders, play tennis or, in general, look out the window. Consequently when any rounds of beer are in order or a care package from home comes or a case of steaks or chicken finds its way to me, I would prefer to share it with ~~me~~ the men who get the job done. They respond in kind - think we have a very good crew of medics here - I know we can work together and have in the past. Any way - most of your care packages are making good sounds in their stomachs right now - we all thank you very much.

Have wrapped one large crossbow in a cylinder ready for shipping to Ed, another package with a small "pistol" crossbow for me, and one slightly ^{larger} ~~smaller~~ for Leslie Shannon some fatigues, my "Go to hell" hat with many memories, your letters up to end of May, and a special present to me from ASC Duffy that I want saved. Will be sending a collection of stereo records home in the near future and also more crossbows. Looked into some silk items sold in the BX - decided it is inferior - will go down to my favorite shop downtown Pleiku and get some Thai silk to send you — let you decide what you want to do with it. Have a number of very good slides from Dak Pek — after we get a number of copies of these made for John Watson, & Roy Worthington — will be sending them along also — may take months.

That ring for Mr. Bradell well cost at least $20.00 — checked the price today sorry. If she wants to pay that much will gladly send it to her. She can adjust the ring size in the States.

Got a beautiful little letter from Kathy Conlon today — will answer tonite — will send it to ~~your~~ ^{your} address hoping she'll be coming up with Mike & Mary Ann. Kathy has certainly developed into a young lady. Have missed most of her growing up in my various activities and travels — hope someday we see more of Mike & Mary Ann and learn their children — maybe we're too late to follow some of their developments — Kathy, Tim and maybe Peggy are already quite grown up.

Received a letter dated 23 June today and another dated 28 June. The good ol' P.O. really does it's best to screw things up, doesn't it?

You described Colleen's missing a daddy and the other kids reactions in your 23 June letter - am anxious for the chance to be a daddy again - every now and then really turns me on. Seems like a long time since I've squeezed ~~the~~ ^{one} of those guys and talked to them at nite. - Something to look forward to, but not too much or the time begins to drag.

Secretly I'm glad there are guys like Rod Dachel around to make husbands like me look good.

Am reading The Ambassador now - Knew me by Morris West that Bill Kreel objects to - seems very good so far - am about $\frac{1}{3}$ of the way through it. Can't find much to object to so far. Can't remember why Bill objected to it. Just finished that article about Primitive people in Time you recommended - Time just arrived and it the BX today — my attention span isn't so hot but agreed with what I understood Hurray for Erin! — now if she can just bluff her way through long enough to buffalo Megan.

My you've certainly become the philosopher in your old age — enjoy hearing your theories — most of the time when I'm home am so busy talking you never get a chance to say what you think — and by the time I do let you talk, have hammered my idea home so you're unsure of yours. How's that for an explanation? This Psychology Today you're getting is making your head work — psych is your cup of tea for sure — just lay off the old man when he gets home — at least till I get a chance to adjust.

Thought I'd send along a sample of the Stars & Stripes for your inspection. Also am going to send along 2 big folders full of articles I've saved since Jan — suggest reading the accounts in the "paper" — the Stars & Stripes and see how they coincide with the report you get in the States.

Have had two days & nights of sobriety. - same - same vacation. Spent last night being quizzed by a full colonel from the 360th up from Saigon - seems he didn't know anything about the Montagnards and their problem. Of course yours truly was more than anxious to enlighten him. Am constantly amazed at the almost total ignorance of people not associated directly with the Yards and many that are directly dealing with them. And the yards constitute ~~3,000,000~~ ^{18,000,000} or $\frac{1}{6}$ of the total population of Vietnam and effectively control over $\frac{1}{3}$ of the land area of this country. Until the Yard problem is solved, there will always be a fatal weakness in the strength of this country and a foothold for communist subversion. Amazing to me that the brass in Saigon is totally unaware of this - it's crystal clear to anyone working with the Yards, such as the S.F., me, Jack Peudy, etc. Anyway, think this lowly captain gave this Colonel something to think about.

(4) 107 8 July

Fell asleep almost immediately after talking with this Colonel — played hooky as planned from the villages. Tonite I'm on call and can't go. The only trouble is that all I want to do is sleep. Will have to get off my butt tomorrow and get to work. Will dash off a note before going to Leck's house, Plei Boel to buy bows; Plei Sar, Plei Pheng and Plei Kep to present the watches and finally end up drinking a large am't rice wine some where.

Say Kay — will you do me a favor? please try to explain to people impatient for answers to their letters that almost every minute of my day & is tied up doing something. I wash dispensary, crossbow sales, scavenging and local neurotics, alcoholics and liaison with the S.F about training yard medics, lab techs, etc every morning until noon — if not on call, spend time scavenging a vehicle, collecting supplies and medicine and go out to the villages — usually out "supps" out there, talk politics and drink a great quantity of rice wine — usually don't get back till 10³⁰/_{PM} 11⁰⁰ lately if at all —

try to write you, get a bite to eat, settle down and it's usually 2-4^{PM} when I hit the sack. Have only slept in my bed 3 nites out of the last 7 - (3 nites in the village, 2 nites on my examining table at the dispensary - have to be up and at 'em at 7^{AM} every morning or I lose my right to roam on my free time. Have many obligations here as you know and must deliver most of the time. Consequently when I do take a "day off" like yesterday and today usually find a quiet spot and sack out as long as I can. My Companions are very careful to protect me - monitor telephone calls, see the sick they can and wake me only when absolutely necessary. Am watched after so well feel guilty at times - am humbled by their loyalty and concern for me - especially since I really haven't done a damn thing for them personally - just keep asking them to do favors for me and sharing a CARE package with them and beer now & then.

Must be very careful not to take myself too seriously. This is a small town essentially - find there are many people whom I've never met who know me by reputation. And very flocked but deep down know I'm getting credit for what other people have done for me. Try to point this out but this just blows up my image more - makes me look generous to boot. 4% - guess the main thing is that we've got momentum going now and, I think,

are getting something positive done.

Hello to Mike and Mary Ann - Kathy,

Will call it a night, Kay - It's also a short note to Bob Bonin & Kathy C.

Hi Kay,

After my marathon Friday night (wrote 6 letters) didn't write anything yesterday. Again haven't had letters yesterday or today — they're still coming erratically but will probably get here tomorrow.

Had a good day yesterday but again got shot down at Plei Boel after ~~buying~~ buying 40,000 pi worth of bows (roughly $350.00 worth) — ended up at Ton's house in a pouring rain — stayed over till 4⁰⁰ AM with Leck, John Watson, & 2 new men (Tom Show and Jerry Diamond — airmen, don't know their ranks, appear to be good men). We set out through the mud and just ~~as~~ barely made it ~~to~~ out of Plei Boel loaded down with 60 Crossbows, medicine bags and five big (correction 3 big men, myself + Leck) in the cab of the pickup. Ol' Charlie Brown made it though. We got stuck going into Leck's road but got out of that, too. Got home in a pouring rain by 5³⁰ PM — slept till 9⁰⁰ AM and have been inventorying the bows with Bob Shultz all morning.

Was touchy and nervous as hell — same same

I am at home at times - remember? - was getting mad at every thing & everyone - when got out to the village relaxed completely. My headache and aches & pains cleared up and had a good time. The one thing that gets me is the volume of rice wine I'm required to drink. Even with turning down half the rice wine offered me - must still take down 2 or 3 quarts in a nite - most of the time consume up to 4 or 5 quarts. Gives one hell of a hangover. The yards have a custom (may be same-same taboo) that serious discussion or even friendly conversation should never be conducted without drinking. Have tried to get an idea across out there without booze being passed back and forth and I was told very politely but firmly to save that for numpai (rice wine drinking). That ended my one-sided conversation abruptly.

Had a new dish - bamboo shoots. Very very good. Same-same sprinkled through Chinese chow mein but this was by the handfull. Tastes like a cross between asparagus and mushrooms. - crisp. Ate like a pig. also inevitable rice (which I don't particularly care for) something else I couldn't identify and buckets of rice wine.

Forced myself to vomit to make room - am getting in the habit of doing that now - otherwise the hangover next day leaves you stretched out on the bed all day.

Got involved in local politics. Nhuit wanted us to drink rice wine and started preparing it when Ton came storming in - chewed Nhuit out for keeping us at his house when Ton had invited us, first. Also chewed Nhuit out for selling crossbows at his own house instead of Plo's. Nhuit took it humbly as coming from the chief but feel we put everyone in a spot because of my stupidity.

Must apologize today if I get a chance. Still seem to be the ugly American even though my intentions are good. Must follow Lich more closely. Have been having too many independent ideas of my own lately - may be good ideas but that doesn't mean they are good for this particular set of circumstances.

The group is getting up outside now to go to Lech's house and start building his house. We have an engineer, a carpenter and many willing workers.
Hope we can get something done today.

Will write again tonite, I hope if can avoid the nice wine.

Love you very much, Sweetie.
Hope for a letter tomorrow

Love,
Dan

Hi Kay,

Just slept from 6³⁰ till now
and will go back to sleep shortly.

There has been no mail since Friday, lots of magazines - even got some medical ones like the Consultant, MD and 2 life - but no letters. Am mildly worried especially with news of all the storms in MyL. Bob Shultz and many others have not had mail either so will cool it a while.

Have had a very tired, depressing
day so this won't be a very stimulating letter, I'm afraid. Got a huge box of soap from Elma
Junior High today - mailed 27 May 67 - think I'll send thanks with a cross bow - may be by slow mail so it'll get there by September in time for school again.

Packed crossbows and this and that today - will be sending them out in a day or two - should cost of fortune

for mailing - very heavy things the contains - the next bunch I send will be less exotically wrapped.

Curtie Shannon's crossbow is in the big box with the hat, my small revolver-type crossbow and letters, etc.
Haven't found anything appropriate for ~~another~~ our anniversary yet, but want you to know am looking. When I find something worthwhile will send it along.

Just finished The Ambassador - a very disturbing psychological novel about the mess here in Vietnam - I think a very ~~too~~ accurate description of
of the confusion here - morally, politically,
etc.

Had a $1\frac{1}{2}$ hour talk with Col Hullar and Dave Dulany this morning in which I outlined my activities, plans, etc with the Montagnards.
Have been given considerable freedom within specified limits, to do what I feel is necessary out there. One new requirement is that I must check in more frequently with Col Hullar as to what is going on out there. Told him didn't want to bug him with unnecessary tidbits since he had enough on his ~~and~~ mind - "Let me be the judge of that," was his answer. He came in to my room last night - had some of your sausage and cheese and related. There is much personal friend ship here which flatters me but at the same time am very aware of the great burden of responsibility he carries pretty much by himself. He has great difficulty opening up to others - may be just a natural difficulty - but also a problem here of people who will take advantage of his confidence to use him and compromise his command. A very sensitive man. Paid me a compliment today - can't remember the words - made me blush for the first time in a long time. Think I can do a job for him.

John Watson

Had a long talk with ~~John~~ today - if he had his way he'd stay out in the villages all the time. Is darned near fluent in Jarai by this time - has great enthusiasm and much talent - and a Mike Conlon temper. Must constantly tell him to hold back - he'll tell a guy off he thinks is a phony or who makes a stupid comment about the montagnards, etc. Have to constantly warn him that the guy he is telling to go to hell now may be the one who can help him scrounge a few days later. I'm afraid too many things are still black and white to him - have definitely reached my "gray" period myself.

Think I'm about ready for another R+R to Saigon. May be will try to get to Ban Me Thuot soon also - the home of the Rhade - want to see if there are any new ideas down there for me to dig up. The Rhade are closely related to the Jarai - same Polynesian background, same type language, etc. a little paler skinned and not quite so rugged looking pictures. They've had the advantage of 2-3 generations of intensive French teaching and military training. Most of the teachers in the villages, including Kat at Plei Brel, are Rhade.

Want to see if I can borrow Lick to go down there and look around for awhile - he's got a fertile mind and picks up a lot of things I miss.

Just looked up Dengue fever in my Father's day present - finally stumbled to what Lick's boy has. Have been treating him for malaria and he hasn't recovered. - if it's dengue fever (also called break bone fever) then I'm golden. He's got a huge headache, bones ache, very such,

high fever - all the symptoms of dengue
fever - also transmitted by our favorite mosquito (Aedes Aegypti) - same one that carries malaria here. Will check him tomorrow again - should be getting well by then if I'm right. Who would have thought I'd ever have to remember all these exotic diseases when I was learning them in basic and preventive medicine? I knew them for the test but then promptly forgot them because I thought I'd never have to use the knowledge.

Not a very stimulating letter, I'm afraid - miss communicating with your letters in front of me. Hope

There's some mail tomorrow...

Butch House (Dts, Special Forces) came over today - wants me to set up a daily medical patrol in September to the villages as a training exercise for the montagnard medics he's training.

Will discuss it with Ton soon - think it will work out. - messt go abd but think 2 mos will be enough time.

Sweetie, I'm beat in spite of the fact I've had 6 hours of sleep already. May be a little depressed but will get over it. Much to do. Feel a little frustrated cannot do it all in one day or even one year.

Love you very much. Oh, yeah - hi to Nuke, Mary Ann and all the kid - hope their trip up was okay and you're all

Ki Kay,

Have a few tales to tell you — hope I can put it all together before I fall asleep. Have been on the go since ~~6:30~~ yesterday morning. Am pooped. You didn't get a letter yesterday because I didn't write one — never stopped long enough to do it. Started three times to write and all I got done was Ki Kay — three times. Sorry.

Got three sort of negative letters from you — sorry am being interrupted again — Damn it, Well write this anyway — am choosing to ignore my new visitor — a Charlie Brown — in charge of news releases, information officer. If he's like all the rest, the stories will continue to get as goulded up as they have been since I've been here. Will never be able to read a newspaper or magazine article with any confidence after the way I've seen them messed up since I've been here.

Don't know if I've made any sense so far — oh yeah — Thanks for your letters — got three yesterday marked 3 July, 7 July and 8 July. You sound a bit tired and depressed yourself. Hope Mike & Mary Ann's visit helps. Think we may be going through another phase in this thing.

About the last 1/2 days - have been base psychiatrist for sure. Had two people who wanted to commit suicide; another who was visibly shaking, another who has been drinking 2-3 fifths a day for the last 3 mos and wants help to quit, another one who hates everyone and has been in PACAT 18 mos without an R&R — got him a standby R&R — spent at least an hour with each one of these guys — came up here very tired last ~~the~~ nite — right into a party for Owen Haddock & Ralph Schowalter — two of the finest boys we have — do the loudest asses bit from their little airplanes all over this area — got shot at yesterday but live a charmed life. Got called out by Col Hullar at 1⁰⁰ pm — they had caught a Montagnard "VNC" wandering around the base — don't know how he got in. Hullar called me down to help interpret for him — we finally decided the yard was either very stupid or scared or both. As close as we could gather he was from Bam Me Thuet or nearby and either Rhade or a Southern Jarac. Anyway

at Col Nullar's request, took the poor guy over to the dispensary, fed him supper, gave him a Librium and bedded him down on my examining table. Slept nearby fitfully all night just to be sure. This morning at 5³⁰ pm we fed him breakfast and kept guard on him until Dick showed up about 8⁰⁰ pm to identify him & talk to him. Turns out he's a crazy man who wanders all over this part of the country. Think I've seen him before myself in some of the villages. The OST people came this morning - handcuffed him and blindfolded
him and took him down for interrogation.
Guess they're finding out he really is crazy and not just using him as a cover to do V.C. work.

Worked such call in sort of a stupor and thought I was through. Came into my office to find a T/Sgt sobbing away. Told a story of his wife spending all the money, his boy becoming a delinquent and every thing going to pot back home. He's 16 yrs in the Air Force and has somehow never been separated from his wife before. Talked to him for about an hour and got a compassionate 30 day leave for him (I hope). More damned people falling apart around here than you can shake a stick at. Must be the weather. Notice tho that the tough time is usually about 3-5 mos after being here (remember my problem a few mos ago?). Happens to often to not be a pattern.

Anyway, here I am tired as hell and have to be out in the villages 30 minutes ago. Am going to Saigon tomorrow with Lieb and Maj. Neeson. I need another R&R so will do it this way. We're officially going down to Saigon to sell crossbows and scrounge for Cwic action but we can usually do that in a day or two. Will stay until Monday next and be back refreshed I hope. Can't remember ever being this tired but sure I have been - especially in intern ship.

Will close now. Love you very much.
Hope the mail situation improves.

Dan

Ni Kay,

As you can see, we didn't get off the ground today. Couldn't get a plane that would carry our 50-60 crossbows and no too to Ton San Nhat - will have to wait till Sunday morning now.

Sent some things in the mail - most of it regular mail. It came to 10⁰⁰. Found some eggs in the arrow ~~sh~~ holders - suggest soaking the quiver in kerosene when you get them. Send a large one to Ed. Have 3 more to send. Also two boxes to you. Your anniversary present is in the bottom of one of them - hope you like it - will probably get there middle of August.

Got some sleep finally. Slept from 10³⁰ PM to 1³⁰ this afternoon on my examining table. Feel great. Had a wild discussion among 8 of us about the war, our policy here, Communism vs. Capitalism, sociology of customs, taboos, morale, etc. Went late into the night with lots of beer.

Got a letter today dated 10 July 67

You have been goofing up, haven't you.
No sweat - understand the rat race you're in. Also know how the P.O. like to play its games. Suspect I'll get some for the days in between. July so far looks like this 3 July, 5 July, 7 July & 8 July + 10 July. Not so hot. And three of those came on the same day.

Mike & Mary Ann should be there by now. Will say hello for everyone to Lynn Bechlin when I finally get to Saigon. Have to inventory the crossbows in the meantime in the next few days.

Have to run now. Will write tonite.

Hi Kay,

Another quick note - - came into Saigon with Tech, Major Howard Koenen, an African Comman + 68 crossbows yesterday AM - sold the crossbows in about 4 hrs - big demand here. Stayed with Lyn Bechlin and friends last nite. Took Tech down to "Cheap Charlie" restaurant - ate some more Chinese food - having another little R&R. Today we look for tools, anvil, color fast thread, etc. Slept till 11⁰⁰ this AM after drinking 1/2 cases of beer with Lyn and some of the bays here. Got many of the world problems solved. Will try to write later. Am being pushed to go out now.

The letter supply from you has been poor to nil in the last week - guess that's why my output has been poor. Must apologize again. This lousy P.O. has to be the worst outfit in the good ol' U.S.A.

We discussed Mike & Mary Ann's visit - last nite. Understand you guys are planning to visit Betty and the kids - should be a good get-together.

Also talked about Bob Wilson - Lynn's comment was the same as mine - can't find one little fault in his whole makeup - irritates the hell out of both of us.

Lick is seeing the sights, keeping his mouth shut - hasn't made many comment about anything. He got thoroughly tired out last nite and went to be about $11\frac{oo}{pm}$ - woke at 6 $\frac{am}{ay}$
this morning. Looks pretty good today.
Yesterday was hung over all day from Saturday nite when 2 friends brought jugs of rice wine and got him smashed.
Was pretty hung over when I picked him up at 6 $\frac{am}{ay}$ Sunday morning.

Expected him to get sicker than hell on the plane down but he took that real well.

It's very hot here in Saigon and muggy. Will be glad to get back to Pleiku weather-wise. - It was ~~at~~ about 60° when we left Sunday morning in Pleiku. Lick is dying of the heat here. He's used to the cool mountain country and so am I by this time.

Hi Hoy,

Have had a good day. A wild day but a good day. Had a fight with a couple of Vietnamese at USAID — probably an international incident but 4/0. Those damned Vietnamese have a warehouse on the docks of Saigon that is unbelievable. They have about 10,000 carpenter kits, 300 #5,000 looms, literally thousands of rice gardening tool kits, huge crates of blacksmith tools, anything & every thing that we can use including lots of jeeps and trucks. Yet they're so busy making lists and filling out forms of that stuff that none of it ever gets out of the warehouse. Instead they just build more warehouses — they now have about 15 of the damned things and yet we never see any of the stuff up in Pleiku. Well, I raised hell — tried to cut through the red tape — took us all morning long — finally started loading the stuff on my self (and Dick and Andy Comeau & Maj Hevern) — as fast as we loaded, they unloaded the stuff. Finally I got mad a la Mike Conlan and pushed them all away and finished loading. Didn't know I could get that mod - but we got the job done. Got 10 sewing machines, 25 carpenter sets, 5 blacksmiths complete outfit - a promise (we'll see) of 1,000 kilos of thread, and a firm promise (I hope) of 5 looms. Also got a chance to inspect their damn warehouse for the first time - now know what to ask for. Next time won't peddle around asking for 5 or 10 of each item - will ask for 50 or 100 instead.

You should have seen the comedy on the way down to the dock. I'm directing a Vietnamese driver who has lived all his life in Saigon how to get to the warehouse and next to me is a Montagnard (Tieck) who is translating for me. Talk about the blind leading the blind.

We did the town for Tieck again last night - took him to a sin spot - live entertainment dancing girls, prostitutes, the whole bit. He just sat there with his mouth open. Didn't even make a pass. The big city really has him buffaloed. Am sure he'll think it all over when we get back to Pleiku - next time he'll be an old pro. Already knows the city pretty well.

I wish you could be here and share my impressions. The Vietnamese women are truly beautiful - slim, small boned, delicate.

18 July

When dressed up in their "ao dai"'s, black gloves, sunglasses and riding their motor scooters or on the back of motor scooters are a beautiful sight.

I'm sure if the S.D.'s were ever allowed to know the decent Vietnamese they would respect and admire them as I do for John. By the way, haven't had time to see John this time. — too much running around down here.

Have to be back in Pleiku tomorrow AM — hope we get a plane out in the morning — we have lots of pink to bring back. It's been a good trip — haven't seen Lynn very much — have been put up royally by these people — very hospitable — but I'm usually too tired at the end of the day to drink much past 2-3 PM.

Lick and I have had some good talks — are comfortable being together — we talk when we have something to say — otherwise we just keep silent.

Think he's having one hell of a time just watching what's going on. — right now he's watching television. Last nite we ate a cheeseburger and a malt up in the ~~the~~ Ref hotel downtown while watching "Who's Afraid of Vergine Wolff" of all things. The elevator up to the 5th floor was what really got him - couldn't figure out how we could press a button, the door close and when it opened out we stepped 5 floors up. When explained to him, of course he understood but he still thinks that's pretty swift.

He's meeting prejudice here of course, but is smart enough to take it in stride. Tells me to calm down and not to get my wates hot. Have developed quite a temper lately - must watch that - don't make any friends that way.

We're sitting in Lynn Becklin's villa waiting for the down pour to slow up if it's going to. - has been pouring buckets for the last $\frac{1}{2}$ hr - hope it slows down long enough to make it to the USO club.

Am anxious to get your letters when I get back tomorrow. Expect there should be a few. Will get a good night's sleep tonite I hope and be fresh for the rat race in Pleeku.

Wish you were here, sweetie. Find myself talking to you and pointing things out to you when I see them. Really like this city - so many beautiful things - a capital city of the world — once called the Pearl of the Orient, the Paris of the Orient — now over crowded and very dirty in parts but you can see the original beauty still. Palaces, beautiful statues, Hindu temples, Buddhist temples, many oriental beautiful Catholic churches, the Buddhist monks in their saffron robes, the very feminine beautiful Vietnamese women, the strong legged pedicab drivers, the children scavenging in the garbage, the violent traffic with no traffic lights or signals but no accidents as very few, the ugly Americans standing 2 foot above the people, the nightclubs and Saigon tea at $2.00 a clip for the prostitutes who sit down (have learned not to catch their eye and you can sit all night and enjoy the sights and smells without buying a single drink). It's an exciting city — full of activity and strange sights for this mid westerner (and for Dick I might add) — wish you could see it.

(3) 18 July

Am running off at the mouth — bought a few things of course. Think you'll like them - will send them on when I get back.

Will close for now. Talk to you later.

I love you and miss you so much I ache. Miss you, sweetie. And lonesome as hell to come home to you - must get busy again and may be this will wear off. Am doing fine - don't worry - Didn't mean to let that last part sound that bad.

Hi Kay,

Just a short note now so I can get this in the mail by 10⁰⁰ AM. Will continue to write after this but want you to know I'm with you, back in Pleiku and the rat race again.

Finished the dispensary at 11⁰⁰PM tonight - if you will believe that. Missed lunch & breakfast and had 2 hr for supper before running back to the dispensary again for a spinal tap.

Have many things to report to you but want to settle back & philosophize a bit while doing same.

Had a good time in Saigon but very little R&R - worked my tail off instead. Only saw Lynn a couple of times and was too tired to stay up all night and talk. Will go down again soon to get some of the things we scrounged.

Sounds like you're in for a long busy happy two weeks with Mike & Mary Ann. Too bad I can't make it to get drunk and philosophize with those guys.

Had two letters waiting for me when I got back. Enjoyed them. None today. Looks like you're on an every-other-day routine. Know you're busy but appreciate those every-day letters even though they usually come in bunches.

Will throw this in the mail bag and sit down & write a decent letter.

Love you,

Hi Kay,

Just got a phone call from the dispensary - an artisan cut his wrists and is bleeding all over the joint - wants an early out from the war - that's the kind of day it's been.

As I mentioned 5 hr ago - sick call went till 11⁰⁰/_{PM} today and is still going on.

Have had a hilarious time at the dispensary today - will report it as well as I can.

Just finished reading all about Viet-Nam in the Newsweek edition you mentioned. Very interesting. Think I'm one of Johnson's boys but would like to see more emphasis on civic action than killing. Don't see how we can kill all 3,000,000 Montagnards any time soon no matter how much bombing we do. Will have to go out in the villages & win them one by one like the V.C do, provide them protection, help educate them, teach them industries, train medics, improve their ~~to~~ health, win them as friends first of the U.S and eventually of the South Vietnamese. A long hard road I'm not sure the Americans have enough jobs for but see no alternative from my back's & eye view. Either that or head over the Montagnard country and —

— sorry, have to run — this guy apparently did a good job on both his wrist.

— well carry this down to the dispensary & conference from there.

— 2 $\frac{5}{8}$ in — yes he did — get the medical
~~the~~ nerve, the finger policies longer segment and a few assorted veins and arteries on his ~~extremest~~ only a small laceration on his left. He'll have a metal bunch of fingers for a while but won't check out this time. What a wired day! Must have something to do with the moon.

— and (to continue my lecture) in the process
that, Cambodia and So Vietnam go to Chi Minh and Saigon. Eventually Thailand will go after Burma goes in to the Chinese and then we next defensive position will be the Philippines, India or Australia. It's crystal clear to me from where I sit but reading newspaper didn't enlighten me a damned bit. They in the U.S. think we're playing with baps over here — they're wrong.

as good as our best in open combat and certainly better than us at their brand of warfare. And they have a dedication that would startle a weakner — can you imagine a guy from Hanoi setting out with two artillery shells on his back walking to Pleiku over muddy roads, bombed, napalmed, strapped, no food, rained on, dirty, few if any place to sleep, hiding in the day time, walking at nite — may be 3 mo of this — arriving → giving his 2 or 3 shells to someone and turning around over the same lousy roads, etc to go back and do it all over again? Hell, even in a battle zone we insist on riding as many places as we can.

Just talked to the O.S.T man Lee Hitchcock (for the 3rd time tonite) — we've had one hell of a day. Now it's $3\frac{30}{PM}$ — This rat race has been going on since I got back to Pleiku Wednesday afternoon at $3\frac{30}{PM}$ — finally arrived in my room at $11\frac{30}{PM}$ last nite and didn't get unpacked till this morning. Didn't shave till noon — no breakfast, no lunch and 10 minutes for supper tonite — got interrupted by Col Muller wanting me to talk with the kitchen cook and kindly about the opium addict that walked in this morning and asked for help. Also had two alcoholics come in voluntarily today for help - the best kind. Also destroyed Col Boruchy after 19¹/₂ yrs — he's been drunk since Dec 1966 — has had many chances and finally used them all up. One of the hardest things I've had to do thus was allow so every one that if we didn't see him out of the service the morale here would really suffer. That's the second man I've been responsible for discharging — both alcoholics with months & months of threats, pledging, threatening, etc. Both master sergeants, too. Both constantly drunk on the job, etc. As long as we played footsie with them, they looked as a cuttmore here amazed when we finally lowered the boom. Smart thing, though, it turns out because many other alcoholics (some in their early 20's) are coming in for help now that they know we're playing for keeps around here.

The opium & "pot" smoker was a shocker to me — haven't had one of those yet. See the symptoms of withdrawal — nausea, cramps, runny nose & eyes, dizzy, uncoordinated, trouble breathing, etc. Told me his life story in brief - got a V.N. girl pregnant, family disowned him, wants to extend in Vietnam indefinitely to get away from it all or be near the cheap marijuana and opium, has been AWOL in a combat zone (desertion), has been drinking heavily off since 13 yrs old - drunk on booze, beer & opium every night — a large gaping black hole he's been falling into for the last 9 mo — talked to him for a long time — think I convinced him it's not hopeless.

However, he will be investigated and the dope ring possibly rounded up. At least 30 other Armen on the stuff. Probably a V.C. fuck — they make great defectors or informers because can be blackmailed very easily — and it's a known fact that most of the prostitutes up here are V.C. or V.C. sympathizers.

It's 4^{PM} now — was going to try to get some sleep but looks like I'll have to settle for a few hrs again.

Yesterday when I got back → went to Ton's house — gave him a set of knives picked up in Saigon and had a good chat with him, fuck and John Watson. Think we're rolling now - we'll see. As soon as we get the looms up here and the blacksmith tools should be able to start quite a factory in Plei Brel and other villages. Hope I'm not aiming too high. — we'll see.

Sweetie, am really beat. Must apologize for not writing more regularly.
If things slow down a bit will get on the ball. Am tired but hopped up on the coffee I've been pouring into my self. tonite. Will try to read a little and get a couple hours' sleep.

Love you very much. Hope my letters are coming through.

I'm horny as hell.

We both seem to need one off son.

Hope the letters to the kids arrived okay.
Will try very hard to get Erin's present in the mail tomorrow - hope it fits - it was the only one I could find.

Have been considering an answer to L's overwhelming letter - will try to begin to answer it tonite.

Have now had 3 days away from the villages and miss it - plan to go out to Plei Phung and find their an ya draz (doctor) and ask if he wants to go to S.F. for the medic class - also will ask if Bing (Plei Brel) wants to go. Hope I can get at least these two to go.

The potential is there in each of these villages to train a medic or maybe two to learn the rudiments of medical care. The Special Forces (S.F.) have a real good training course for them and I'm hopeful can start with at least two.

As I may be mentioned - the rain is here again - and boy does it ever rain! - sideways, straight down, almost as if you are caught in a flood. - wild! and I like it - the only trouble is that it makes it hard to get in & out of the villages. But so far haven't gotten stuck.

Got our pictures back from Dak Rep - some good ones - will send them along when we get them divided up and copies made of the good ones for all three of us.

Your schedule as outlined sounds wild - get tired just reading about it. You certainly are on a merry-go-around, aren't you? Am happy you're back with your friends even though they keep the pace hot & heavy for you. You would have shovaled like a prine down Texas. Ed and Weeg make all the difference in the world. Will have to figure out something for their birthdays - maybe can send them some opium or a jug of rice wine - understand opium is cheap over here.

Had all kinds of things to say to you when I sat down - am actually thinking of how to answer Ed's letter. He posed some serious questions - will give my opinions as just that.

Hope I don't sound too much like a heretic. Went to Church yesterday and listened to Father Barks' sermon on saints - can't help being critical even though I know it's mostly pride.
Haven't thought of birth control, euthanasia,
the church, etc. for a long time mostly because not involved too much in that.
Mostly my thoughts center around people,
their real values, what is important for their happiness, what exactly constitutes a good man vs a Catholic,
Lutheran, Baptist, Buddhist, Ananist, etc. The purpose of a man's life is much more simply stated here I think in spite of the great confusion and suffering all around us. As I see it, a man is great or small in proportion to the manner in which he meets the challenges

118

he sees - with what intensity he lives and with what motive he does what he does. Very important questions here.
Not so important is whether he believes in my God or even in a God. Each man has a God whatever he calls Him
— he may even have a number of God's.
— the central point is — is he true to himself or is he a phoney. Can he be trusted or will he try to screw you to the wall out of jealousy (Americans) or fear (Montagnards) or envy of your wealth & size etc (Vietnamese) or for whatever reason. There is a constant searching by each man here to re-examine his own motives but also to read the next man. As I mentioned months ago — at first it's a great disappointment to find so many apparent friends
not that way at all — but looking for glory on a medal or to hear the next man down to make himself look good, etc. And always here we have the stupid, smug, well-meaning but very arrogant UGLY AMERICAN who constantly fucks things up (I'm not necessarily excluding myself from any of these categories). Can get very carried away with activity here and forget what you're original reason for doing these things was. And to further confuse this "simple" situation — we are all combinations of many motives and we pick and choose the one most acceptable to us and call that our motive.

Have really fouled up that "simple" thought, haven't I. To retread:— a man would be an absolute ass here to think of himself as a Catholic, or protestant or Jew here — he is above all — an American, also Air Force it, we lose. As the S.F. lieutenant at Dak Pek pointed out - if the NVN used any one of the villages in the valley for a mortar attack on the command post, he'll take exactly one second to decide to blow the whole village right off the map - men, women & children. And the Jets know this. Consequently, any sign of [redacted] near the village is instantly relayed to the command post and a patrol is sent out before they get a chance to set themselves up in the village.

Likewise, we have adopted a plan at Plei Boel, Plei Phung, Plei Son and related villages about sending a runner over here when they get wind of V.C in any of the villages near by. We'll then relay the message to S.F and have a "Mike" force go out and look around, set up an ambush, etc.

Am getting very wendy. Must close and talk to Ed and weez.

* Love you very much.

Talk to you again tomorrow
Sorry for this very wendy,
serious letter.

Hi Kay,

Got 3 very good letters today - last one dated 18 July. The other two had it's date blurred but think it was 15 July - had the pictures in it. The other one was 14 July - also with a picture in it. It's been a long day spell until this morning when got a fourth letter dated 13 July. Think I'm finally caught up. The pictures were just great. Colleen is very changed - had to recheck the other picture of her to make sure it was really her. The others look very good but approximately as I remember them - Kaela is a doll. Would like a close up of Evan if I could. You can buy a roll of color prints - don't have to buy slides you know - that would eliminate the problem you were talking about. Of course, ol' buddy, it would cost a little more - but let it all hang out - oops!

Have ten letters in front of me dating back to 3 July that I haven't marked down as answered. Will begin to answer them now so can put them away.

Haven't been golfing at all - not even to practice swinging - will have to learn all over again, I guess.

Has the power been put back for you in the back part of the house. How about the stereo, TV, radio, etc that was broken - did they get fixed? Have two boxes of stereo records to send you soon. Many good ones - and they are stereos not hi-fi. Did we ever get the records back from Joe Misra? - especially that French talking one with what's-his-name talking. That's a favorite of mine.

You have to be the best washed woman in the world - end all of your letters by saying you're hopping in the tub, taking a bath, popping popcorn, jumping into bed, reading the newspaper or magazines or books, etc - You're a nut. When I get home will disrupt all of that nice neat routine - sorry about that.

Congratulations to the Murphy's - don't think I ever did write and answer Kay or thank her for the soap.

1192nd July

Don't remember the 4th of July at Sheppard — what did we do? Oh yeah — we sat in that crowd and watched fireworks at the parade place — and chased Megan all over hell. Now I remember.

I'm glad my letter to Ed and Weez was well taken — meant every word — you're right — it took a lot of effort and thinking to write. We think these thoughts but putting them into words is something else again.

Will be sending along a few more odds and ends in the next few days — glad to see the pipe, PD's and such arrived okay. About the ao dai — I do need your measurement, doll — don't know Teggy's. May be when that material arrives (in about a month) you do can have one made for yourself. You really look good in your pictures — may be because they're taken so far away. You can't believe the gift they gave me. "A picture is worth a thousand words..."

You sound upset by my drinking and defensive about your own. And not aware that my drinking has cut down on my effectiveness at work or my ability to perform. Appear at 7⁵⁰ AM each morning in the dispensary and work like hell until 1-2 PM each nite. There's isn't one hell of a lot to do other than have a few drunks to relax around here. Of course the rice wine routine in the villages is part of the work (I'll bet I can hear the rebuttal from Dad & Mom right now) out there. No one discusses any thing without rice wine out there - part of the social life - an integral part - think I told you my experience with trying to talk politics without drinking rice wine - was cut off politely but firmly and informed there was a matter for "mumpai" and was to be discussed apart from that. Am not worried about your drinking - we can both dry out together, okay?

About John Watson - one of the freshest, most enthusiastic and highly motivated men I have ever worked with. Also one of the smartest. No he's not the bicyclist - Is newly married and quite in love with his wife. A young man who knows how to get things done. Is tracking 3 Montagnard medics in the lab on his own initiative. Has been adopted into the Montagnard families out in the Plei Brel - is Ton's "ana" (son) - speaks damn near fluent Jarai both "correct" and the vernacular. Love these people and ~~he~~ is loved in return. Has taken the burden of being the lone Ranger off me considerably. We work in tandem well - he has the ear of the young men and I talk with the older men due to my rank and "wisdom" (an automatic credit given me because I'm a medicine man, etc). Couldn't care less about his personal sex morales - That's his problem, not mine. Here you look at the man - his sincerity, the reason why he will stick his neck out for these people - he's not out for glory or a medal or a pat on the back. Doesn't need me to constantly pat him on the back, etc. He's a strong man who attacks a situation on his own initiative, is sensitive to the people - makes mistakes, honest ones - but has the humility and good will to change when he sees he's wrong. His enthusiasm is contagious. He's conscious of the ugly American as am I and is trying very hard to win these people for us as am I without trampling all over their culture and pride. He's one in a million. He has a good heart and that's what counts in my book - loves his God and his fellow man e.g. saturation ethics - from strength. His relationship with his wife or girl friends is his problem, not mine (although, incidentally, he's been absolutely faithful to her as far as I know since he's been here in spite of a few tight situations he's been in) - I have my own code of conduct which we've discussed before. This is getting very serious all of a sudden but you're letter of the 6th July was serious and that's the one I'm answering now. About this sex thing . . . — as horny as I am don't think I could ever go to bed with any of the women here drunk or sober. I'm exactly like me in country (DEROS 22 Jan at the very latest) and haven't been seriously tempted so far. Don't mean by that that I've gone homosexual or anything like that but think that the same sex act without any thing else would fill me with disgust. There have been some sexy gals at times but for this pride that ain't the same as a love affair

so have been able to ignore them without too much trouble. Think that without the knowledge of what we've experienced,
would have succumbed a long time ago.
After that, the stuff around here would be pretty 2nd rate I'm afraid.
Besides, there aren't that many women roaming around the base; rarely if ever go to town, and haven't seen the inside of a bar or "laundry" in Pleiku yet nor do I plan to. The women situation out in Plei Boel and the other villages you know about already. So you can see I've got myself pretty well insulated so far.

John Watson's problems are his problems and he's handling them pretty well by my standards — and they aren't necessarily his at that. Enough of this.

No body's asking you to change your or my value system & sweetie. Just try to be more tolerant of other's value systems. We ain't necessarily right for everyone — e.g. Buddhists, Moskamedians, etc etc have a very involved value system but I don't particularly buy the thing for myself. That doesn't mean I have to condemn it, either. John Watson's value system in matters that don't affect me, I couldnt care less. Now if I couldn't trust him when he works with me, that's another thing because that does effect me — howellian man? (understand?). Enough.

Just read over the last 4 pages - very confused writing - sorry - won't re-write - hope you can figure it out for yourself.

Suppose you're wondering how I can be sitting down and writing for so long - well, I've closed my door to all intruders and I have had a nap on the examining table and am determined to write to the point of nothing to say or sleep ~~with~~ which ever comes first. Finished up at the dispensary at 6³⁰ PM last night in spite of the fact that I was off all afternoon - have been working like hell here since getting back from Saigon. Went up to MRCV, had a few gin tones, shot the breeze with a few of my buddies and hit the sack at about 12⁰⁰ midnite. Woke up at 6⁴⁵ AM and have been going strong ever since. Have arranged a meeting hall for the AA that's starting to bloom again, have almost finished with drawing my opium addict and have been running sick call almost steady up till ~~when~~ I started this letter at 8³⁰ PM

Right now it's 10⁰⁰ PM and I'm going to get another cup of coffee. Talk to you in a minute.

- Now it's 10¹⁰ PM - have a cup of coffee
in front of me - have had half a Vietnamese pineapple, have my $8⁵⁰
Japanese Sony radio on to a Taipei
Chinese station and am ready to write again. Is there really a place called the USA?

You know, Sweetie - you've been sort of a lousy letter writer ~~this month~~.
No real complaints from me ~~after the~~ ^{have} ~~way~~. I've been at times but gone 4 days 2 or 3 times this month without a letter - then got 3 at a time or 4 like today. Adding them all up like today I find ten letters dating from 3 July to 18 July, and most of those are short notes which you apologize for. End of beef.

Jimmy really looks long and quite a bit thinner than he was. The kids really look good - have their pictures out on my desk now. Have been staring at them off & on since I got them today.

Know how you feel about the clinic - most of them by now don't amount to good friends. May be Ruth at the desk and the doctors and Will and DeLores but all the good friends other than those are gone by now. Leo Tonnato warned me about that war story bit - will make the rounds with a few stories at first but if I'm smart will soon shut up like he did. Couldn't pry a war story out of Leo if you had to at this point. I'll have my memories and these letters and will know a lot more than I did and that should suffice.

Have happy that Dick Howland and Dan Woodley are still making an effort to keep in touch - like both of them very much. You never did comment on the Clinic picnic - did you make it this year?

Glad Mike & Mary Ann stopped at Sam & Margaret's — they're some of our favorite people. Will have lots to talk over with them when we get back. Will try to write M + M, the clinic and Sam & Margaret tonite.

There is a fellow by the name of Matt (John) Dillen who will be calling you in ~~not~~ a while — he just left Gleenna for home last Thursday — comes from Faribault — dated Katie Boeger at one time I guess — don't get all upset — asked him to call and say hello for me. He was the CO of the Air Police here for a year — a good man in a tough job.

Sounds like Erin & Mike's birthday parties were a success — good — would like to see that group together sometime — it's been at least 2-3 yrs since I've seen all of Mike's kids. We'll have to take a trip when I get back and get together with them — maybe impossible if Mike will be heading for Viet Nam after I get back.

You're right — there is a lot of fighting going on up here — and it's a rough variety — this is the hard core NVA Vietnamese regulars who picked the shot out of the French. All thoroughly professional "hard core" soldiers. So far it's a draw and, with our superiority in the air, we should eventually win — but they're no pushovers. So far it's all up in & around Kontum with only an occasional diversionary fight going on down here. We expect some activity shortly down here (in fact have had some probing west of here lately) — but again, we're ready for them — it's the waiting that's getting the men — they'd all like to go on ~~as~~ a search and destroy campaign instead of sit here in a defensive posture like we've been doing. We're having some morale problems because of it

lately but this will all pass over when the actual fighting begins.
The villages are feeling the pressure I'm sure but they're used to this and life goes on pretty much as it always has.
Nothing overtly changed

That's too bad about the championship game - can see the looks on all the faces concerned when they blew it

There's a gap between Sat AM 15 July and Monday 17 July midnite - may be another letter lost in the maze the P.O.
has set up. You're letter of the 17-18th where you reminisce said what I'm thinking perfectly. Happy anniversary yourself, sweetie! We've been very good for each other, I think.
I know that I can date the start of my useful life from the time I met you in the El Paso. Every thing before that was preparation, a warm up, a charging of the battery. I was full of ideals, bitterness, naivete, and fears of the "outside" world. I had no idea where I was going or what I would do with my life. Had a fear of the "real" world, felt inadequate to meet the challenges of the social world, person-to-person contact — would have much preferred to go into the monastery and hole up for life and live in an insulated world apart from people. — just pray for them and theorize about their problems from my garret or cell. You were and are the key to the door to the world of people! Through you I've come to live with, love and understand PEOPLE instead of books, ideas, theories, etc. There's a big difference. Now I fully enjoy people and am not afraid of them any more as I used to be. In short, have enough strength within myself (from you, doll) that I can meet people as a free man — not as a scared & insecure boy with all sorts of bitterness and theories as you found me one hundred years ago at least. Somehow you saw more in me way back when (nearly 11 years ago now) than I saw. Am deeply grateful for this — don't know if I've ever said this before to you. You big shit — you never would treat me as the little boy I wanted to be treated as — you always insisted on treating me as a man. You gave me little choice in the matter. Who ever heard of a bald headed little boy anyway? Am in a very sentimental mood, sweeties, and have been for the last few days. Someday will be able to tell you all the things you mean to me — Moon River is playing on the radio, I'm shivering — same same as when I talk religion — & it needs saying — if I can get it on paper.

Have answered these few letters in front of me as best I can.

You know, a long time ago I fashioned a general philosophy of life when I was about 18-19 yrs old — based on love of God and my fellow man for God's sake and I find it wears like leather. Haven't had to revise it radically. Find it gives me strength and energy when all kinds of people run out of gas around me. Add your influence and love and a little effort and think you and I have a pretty good motor working for us. Am pleased and proud of us and our family so far. We still haven't had any real tragedies - but we have done pretty well with the problems presented, I think.

"Moments to remember" of all things as on the radio at this very minute. How about that for a coincidence. Have good people all over me. Will take a break, have another cup of coffee - I love you, goofie. (It's 11³⁰ PM now - have been at this for ~~3 hours~~ hours)

Hi It's 12⁴⁵ AM now - Sunday early AM - got involved in a fist fight between 3 of my best medics and an Air Policeman - seems like a full scale squadron war brewing between the new AP's and my medics - just made the rounds of the medics barracks and the AP's shack to see what I could do. All this associating with the airmen is paying off little by little - can talk to them without them saying sit every other word - in fact had to turn down 4-5 beers on my rounds.

To boot, we have some racial tension lately on the base - has also been building up slowly for some time. Have only caught a little of it - but plan to pick Tom Bracey's brains on the subject tonight before I turn in. He's my chief medic on nite shift every other nite - he's on tonight - takes care of me like a wife - feeds me coffee and food all nite - has been out with me to the village - a good man - sat and talked with him about you and marriage, Hawaii, etc - in fact I'm writing you with his pen right now. He's a Negro as you guessed - know him well enough to get the straight scoop from him - or at least an idea. Hell, we don't need the V.C to drop mortars on us - we'll destroy ourselves at the rate we're going. Units fighting, alcoholism, marijuana, opium, racial tension, boredom - we're too small a community to afford all this shit. Col Hullar is worried but is too far away from the problem to really know what's going on.

7³⁰ PM - well, talked till 5³⁰ PM after trying to patch up the small scale war building up between the Air Police and my medics. This little started very innocently at 8³⁰ PM last nite and here it is 11 hrs later.

Will talk to you again today.

Hi Kay,

Don't know when you'll be getting that long wended letter I just mailed so thought I'd send a short note in case the post office screws up again.

Have received 5 letters in the last 24 hrs - Up till then had received a total of 6 letters for the month of July. This one was dated 19 July so think we're finally caught up.

Started the letter I just put in the mail at $8\frac{30}{PM}$ last nite - finished it after many interruptions at $7\frac{30}{AM}$ this morning. Don't even know if it makes any sense. Sacked out from $5-30$ till $7-30$ this morning. Had a good talk about Negro philosophy and aspirations with my good friend Tom Bracey for 2-3 hrs in the wee hours of the morning and wrote you between other problems. Think my letter is self-explanatory.

Good luck to Dick in his adventure with school again.

Am still waiting for that long -

Thoughtful letter you keep promising time after time. Actually am much less paranoid than I was now that these 5 letters have arrived. You have to admit that 6 letters stretched over 18 days and some of those coming 2 and 3 at a time leaves a person wondering.
Enough said.

What's this new word "Kibitzing"
you keep using? That's what you do when you offer unwanted advice
at a card game isn't it?

Will try to grab a few hours' sleep
this morning — sick call goes on with deadening monotony. Won't be able to go out to the villages until Monday afternoon. Have had 2 hrs sleep in the last 24 — need more than that — hope call is light today.

Got a good letter from Colleen today also with Dad's handwriting addressing the envelope.

Miss you very much, sweetie — the pictures really help. Went down to the BX right away to see if I could get a colored Polaroid for you. They're sold out but will keep trying. Think that's the only way I'm going to get any pictures. Most of my comments have an acid tinge I find. Am not better or angry or depressed. Guess I'm just pooped. A little sleep and I'll be just fine.

Hello to Gretchen & Bill. Does he want a crossbow or any nick-nack for his library-den?

Must apologize for the lousy letter. Will do better tonite.

Love,
Dan

P.S. Have read over this worst of all letters and must apologize. To philosophize:

for a minute, guess I'm just feeling sorry for my self. Know you are doing one hell of a job - keeping the kids happy and in line, keeping active and busy - but lately have gotten the feeling that I'm definitely a chore you save till ~~10pm~~¹⁰⁰ when you're completely beat - fall asleep after a few lines and then write a hurried note in the morning with a promise of a better letter the next nite that never comes. Add to that the almost total lack of letters during this month as I've mentioned (no fault of yours as it turns out) and guess I've allowed myself to get suspicious and slightly depressed over the whole damned thing.

Add to that the constant morale problems we have here, the long long lines of non-sick sick-call people, the dope addicts, the neurotics, the alcoholics, the negro tension and you can see what frame of mind I've been in lately. Almost 90% of the

(3) (12) 23rd July

problems on this base right now can be traced to poor morale for whatever reason. We've had attempted suicides, broken fees from smashing lockers and walls, fights, AWOL's, too much drinking, etc — none of which is caused by Charlie — and then the constant news from the states of these hippies, race riots and the ever louder and almost overwhelming criticism of what we're trying to do over here. I believe in free speech — but think the first guy I talk to back in the states that mouths off without putting his mind in gear will get a face full of knuckles from me or any of the guys here. We're really pissed off at all the nuts at home who just don't know what they're talking about — including Eugene McCarthy, Fullbright, Robert Kennedy and all the way down to the draft card burners & hippies. Sorry to make such an oration about this but needed to ventilate — Thanks for putting up with all my moods.

Will write a fresher, more cheerful letter latter.

Happiness in Viet-nam is still a dry fast.

Hi Kay,

Just a short note to let you know I'm okay and thinking of you. Have been working my tail off on the base lately - about 10 hrs of sleep in the last 4 days total. Haven't even shaved since yesterday morning (or was it Saturday morn?). Feel like a real doctor for a change - many injuries (caused by brawls, etc - not by V.C.).

The war about 10-20 miles north of us is really something. Helic. copters have been coming overhead from there every 15 minutes for the last 2 days full of dead & wounded. We're keeping the hell out of them but at a fearful toll to us. Many think this is the last gasp; desperate by the No Vietnamese to get a victory - they are also fighting like hell up near the DMZ.

Have earned my pay lately - feel good about it but very tired, nerves raw, etc. Wrote the Clinic a very candid letter yesterday - came to my usual book of over at eight page. Hope I don't shock any one — when I'm very tired.

often say things I don't necessarily think out before hand.

Love you very much sweetie. Wait to get this in the mail this morning. Hope to write again tonite.

Think about you more & more lately — thanks for the pictures

Hi Kay,

No mail for the last 5 days - in fact only 3 pieces of mail and one tape for the last 2 wks - hope this doesn't mean something is wrong back home. Assume it's only the damn P.O. doing their best to wreck morale. Refuse to believe you haven't gotten any mail yet - have unfailingly written every day since arriving from Dak Pek - 11 June - that makes nearly 2 wks - time enough for you to get the letters and write in return.

Watched myself last night and didn't get very drunk at Plo's and Huu's houses - John Watson got himself smashed and Lou Brocey did likewise. Felt pretty good this morning - had an inspection by outgoing Col Brannon and incoming Col Baer - new chief surgeons of Vietnam area. The new Col is as good as the old one - both number one men. Col Brannon is going to be the commander of Travis hospital - asked him to stop and say hello to Bill Lawson and Terry when he gets there.

we talked and talked last night till I was exhausted, believe it or not. They are loosening up - especially Dick. Talked about the eventual solution for the Montagnards - most are convinced their only salvation is to go with the Communists after the U.S leaves the area. Pointed out to them that we are not likely to leave, any more than we ~~were~~ ~~haven't~~ have left Korea. A truce might very well be signed but we would stay on as an occupying force. Pointed out that we have a 99 year lease on Cam Ranh Bay and have spent billions of U.S dollars on Pleiku we are not likely to relinquish. The Yards feel as do the no Vietnamese that the vast majority of the U.S is against the war, that we do not have the moral strength to continue to fight and that Pres. Johnson will have to end the war and pull out by 1968 or lose the next election. You see what all these nuts in America are doing to our war effort? They're just giving the enemy hope to persevere. Actually, if they would just shut up and let us go about our business we could probably finish this thing shortly. The only thing keeping the NVN going is the hope that we don't have the guts to keep fighting the war. Once convinced that we will see it through, most of them would lose heart and give up — because they're desperate and losing all the time now. Am convinced in my own mind that all these demonstrations are communist inspired, including R.F.K., Fullbright, Luther King, etc. Am not saying these people are communist — am only saying that they are listening and being influenced by a group that at least have backing from the Communists. Very disheartening for us here to know that the enemy at home is fighting a much more effective war against us than the so-called enemy in front and all around us. I say "so-called" enemy because the V.C here are actually ^(SMC) Montagnards who are being misled into believing they will have an independent country if they join hands with the Communists. Actually they will be victimized worse by these people than they ever were by the Vietnamese.

It's very hard to get this point across to them however. Must read more about the Communist tricks, etc to know how to contradict them.

You must be wondering how safe I am talking like this to these people. Again want to point out a few things: As long as we are here in strength - most Montagnards will not come out openly in revolt. The people I talk with are my friends, have a religious obligation to protect me based on these bracelets I wear and their solemn word to that effect. They must warn me when the time comes that they can no longer talk to me or protect me. This they will do and have done before. (e.g. Plei Bong Bao.) As I mentioned, Ton feels more obligated about my safety than does anyone on this base - I check with him before I go anywhere. Usually Ton goes with me when I go anywhere he feels is not perfectly safe - sort of a safe conduct pass, you might say. In other words, relax. As Leo Tonnato pointed out many times - the most protected man in any service or war area is the medic or doctor.

Have read over this letter so far and find out it is very solemn. Pop mongi
— ^{we} had many laughs last nite and much good times. John Watson is a riot when he gets drunk — he's a happy drunk.
We sang songs, called each other names, chug-a-lugged Vietnamese ^{rice} wine (like regular booze) beer, and rice wine. Told stories about Jack Rudy, talked about how the cross bow prices were getting too high and would have to cut them down. Discussed building a forge and getting scrap metal from the base to make hoes, shovels, picks, plows, knives, etc ("beat your swords into plowshares" — somewhere in bible) —

Hey, happy day — got your solemn tape and a good letter dated the 17th so maybe things are picking up a little. It's about 8-9^{PM}
now — have organized all your letters since last January — read a few of them over for the 3rd or 4th times — have them all in two cigar boxes.

Am having a ball on my day off (spell that "on call")

About your depression and tiredness — try to take it in stride — get all the sleep you can and don't push yourself too hard until it wears off. Luckily have been through this myself and find there is another end to the tunnel. ~~that~~ one day you'll come around a corner and sunlight will be just ahead.
Damn — that's almost poetry! May be I missed my calling. You're right — the novelty has worn off and now it's just a matter of putting your head down and pushing on. It's called perseverance I think. To get religious for a minute — found that a chat with the good Lord at times gives me strength. May be that's what grace is all about. Remember our chats about each minute of every day is an opportunity given by God to grasp and act out as we see the light and have the strength to do? Well, that helps me — hope it does the same for you. Gives me a reason to carry on when I'm not particularly excited about doing anything but

Curling up in the fetal position & sleeping. Don't push it though, sweetie. As the montagnards say - bia bia (little bit by little bit) - things will clear. No big problem figuring out the why of your depression - after the way I behaved early in June - you worked so hard to be brave and understanding - when you found out I was just inconsiderate → your natural reaction was discouragement, anger and depression. Don't worry, it won't happen again. Yes, sweetie, I love you - more than anything in this world - think about you constantly - know what you mean about physical touch - miss that very much. Almost like being back in the seminary again wondering if all those good times lying next to each other in bed or just sitting next to you in the car ever really happened. We have a refresher course scheduled for the fall - don't plan on seeing much of Hawaii.

Colleen is a doll - am so proud of her I could burst. We are very fortunate to have children like her and the others.

Have collected a few things so far that will try to get in the mail this weekend. Have a montagnard pipe given me by Ton, a Malayou scintillas I got at Dah Pek, some crass bow gifts from my bow makers. Also pushed up a present for Erin think she'll like - hope so. Won't tell you what it is - tell her it may come a little late but to be patient if she can.

I received the most beautiful letter I have ever received in my life from a friend today. Ed wrote me a two page letter that brought tears to my eyes and make them well up as I'm writing now. Will treasure this as long as I live. Must sit down thoughtfully and answer it tonite after the confusion around here has died down. Must also write the kids, Bob Bonin (never did answer his letter) and perhaps more. Am really enjoying my vacation with all this time to myself.

Noted my idol Spencer Tracy died - would like to see a write up of his life if you find one - admired him as you know for the man he was. Noted also in Time that Joe Drew (Paulist, one class ahead of me) got himself in a peck of trouble trying to do what he thought was best. A good man - better than most - full of enthusiasm and good will. Seems to happen with frequency, doesn't it sweetie. Ft. Gallatin also had a habit of getting in trouble.

- Am going to get something to eat, then will come back and chat a little more with you.

Thanks for your tape - appreciate your willingness to communicate with me even when you're afraid it will wreck my morale. Need to know that we're keeping the lines open. Talk to you later,

Hi, sweetie - it's now 11⁰⁰ pm or so. Had a big dinner but couldn't eat it all - no one here apologizes any more for leaving food on the plate. We all eat as much as we can before we get nauseated, then simply stop. Cramps, diarrhea & nausea & vomiting are a constant companion here so no one pushes the heavy food very hard.

Have just sat here for the last 4-5 minutes just day-dreaming. Guess I'm out of news - will write again tomorrow.

Sweetie, our adventure is now 5 mos old and we're entering the doldrum - count-the-days-stage.

Continue as you have - take each day as a fresh experience and don't look ahead or behind if you can. Each day has enough in it to keep us busy and happy in the knowledge we're doing something worth while, at least. Let the days count themselves. Perhaps after the R&R we can count in earnest.

Love you very much. Be good to yourself and take care of yourself for me. Miss you very much but that's part of the price of being an American right now.

Love,
Dan

Hi Kay,

Have been up most of the nite and spent the rest of the nite sleeping on the examining table as usual.

Have had a wild couple of days - nite before last out in the village - last nite here at the dispensary. Don't know when the rat race stops but am all for it slowing down so I can get off temporarily and get some rest.

Got the blacksmith tools out to Plei Boel along with ten sets of carpenter tools, some flour and some clothes - bought 66 more crossbows and received a sword as a gift - and then the rice wine began to flow — seems it's been a long time since I've been lapping on the hose — finally left Plei Boel at about 9⁰⁰ PM with a pig (yes!) 2 bundles of bananas, 2 jugs of rice wine, my sword and cross bows and plowed through the rain. Was fairly sober when I left — but by the time I got all my goodies unloaded was smashed. Went to bed after talking very loudly to anyone for about two ~~the~~ hours — don't remember many of the

going to hell - please comment.

Talked, yelled at, and reasoned with a Negro boy till 3 PM this morning. Started with him about 11³⁰/_{PM} last night. He's been riding the sick book ^{since} ~~till~~ he got here in March 67 - many times comes in 2-3x a day. Thought it was time he and I understood each other. Gave him a complete history and physical he's not likely to forget for awhile. He does have disease it turns out - a chronic prostatitis that's giving him fits - but got into his hide, helped him work out some of his hostility. That's exhausting but very satisfying work - same kinda Dope. Would have liked to sit down and talk over the problem with you like old times. Instead chatted with John Watson instead about it - explained my philosophy on general practice to him, etc.

Before the above, showed the slides of Dan Peck and saw some of Phil's slides - made some trades Will send some along now & then for your entertainment - some I have to make prints of to share with the rest of the guys.

Broke Phil in on rice wine again
 After a month's absence - used the Jugs I brought in from Pekin
 He ate before. Had a good talk with him — a real solid citizen (also a Negro, did I mention that?)
 — have gotten to know quite a few Negroes very well — find Rudney etc
 to be all over in his theory of inferiority. It just ain't so in my experience. A different culture and language yes; less education
 yes; a sense of frustration, anger and a desire to burst out of their shells — like existence yes; but inferior to us in brains and integrity and emotional stability and in guts —
 No. Have learned some things very important here that I hope I never forget — Thanks to the Negroards.
 Look at the man to least — check him
 out for phoniness, lying, cheapness,
 his reason for living, courage, etc
 and accept him or reject him on this basis — and to forget all the labels
 of race, religion, politics, etc.
 An important lesson I have sketched to learn - hope it sticks. Much easier to do this here I suspect than back in the states.

Will get this in the mail now.
Am sorry for the two day dry spell.

Love you very much, sweetie.
You're a doll.

Dan

Hi Kay,

Look at the time! This is the first time in over a month I have sat down at this card table to write a letter. Just came back from digging John Watson out of a ditch out on the perimeter. Am on call so hadn't intended to go out but John would still be out there if someone hadn't gone to get him.

Lieh and all the montagnards were out there puffing & puffing but couldn't budge the truck. The Vietnamese — maybe 50 of them — were standing around 11⁰⁰ PM — anyway, it looked like I could sit down & write — usual interruptions — crossbow buyers, people stopping in to chat — then an airman who severely lacerated his wrist deep to tendon & bone on a landing gear glass — so here I am as usual working late — and here comes another interruption.

— Okay — another ^b$35.00 to add to our collection — now where was I.

Oh yeah — these Vietnamese were standing around throwing insults and rock and spitting on John - some actually came up and started pushing him until the Montagnards showed up - then they withdrew a little and just threw verbal insults instead. John has a temper - nearly hit a few of them but controlled himself. Got a taste of our "allies" for sure. Can't say I'm in love with the little bastards myself - have only found a few Vietnamese that I could like - make a friend of one of them and before you know it - becomes clear why they've chosen you for a "friend" - they want something - make you feel cheap and like a sucker - have nothing but contempt for the vast majority of them. The Montagnards by contrast don't act this way for the most part - they are open, loyal and honestly friendly to us in general. Overwhelmed me with their affection. Did I tell you about the other nite - cried real tears like a sap - they started telling stories about me as if I wasn't even there - gave me a sword (which I'll send as soon as possible) - wouldn't let me pay for it. They can express affection and say embarrassing things like cao cap Conlon lu bia mat - Giang ma al - "I love Conlon with all my heart - my good friend" - that I have trouble saying - same - same Jim Ned.

Sunday is going to be a very interesting day for me - this is the day they've

(125)

chosen to make me Ton's father
— a very serious occasion from what I can gather. Will be a Montagnard sacrifice of a pig and all the drumming
— I am to be out there at 12 o'clock noon.

John Watson, T. I. Harris, Lich and myself are the only ones invited. The whole village is aware of it and men from Plei Sor and Plei Phung
are also invited — am a little apprehensive
about what goes on but am game
for anything.

Had a serious talk with Ton, Lich + Hien (a very intelligent man from Plei Sor I suspect is an important man in Fuchs) yesterday
— asked them point blank which way
the Montagnards would go, what would happen to the Montagnard when the American leave. They said they would take their land back. I asked if they would go with the No Vietnamese,
do they consider the No Vietnamese their friends — they said no, No Vietnamese same-same Vietnamese. (they call the No Vietnamese "Viet Minh" — the name the French gave them). Lich explained that the No Vietnamese stink and lie same as the So Vietnamese, that the Montagnard hates them both - that the only foreigners they can trust are the Americans and the French before us. They feel bad and are confused because the Americans insist on bringing in their ancient enemy the Vietnamese, but at least they feel they can trust certain Americans to help them become strong

e.g. myself, John Watson, Col Hullar, Jack Rudy Special Forces, etc. They are determined to have their own country which I certainly sympathise with - find it very hard to try to talk them into becoming friends with the So Vietnamese but see no other way out for them under the present conditions. A huge frustrating problem that makes me very sad "in my heart" (as they say here) - The only thing
I can do ~~is~~ is try to make them strong,
train them to be as self sufficient as they can be so when the time comes for a solution (whatever it may be) this generous courageous and honest people won't be eliminated either by pressure politically or a suicidal war. Right now don't really see a solution that will do any thing but screw these people.

(3)

28 July

12⁵

Get very involved in this as you know but it's hard not to once you've sampled the goodness of these people.

Have another thing I'd like to chat about. Got to talking to John Watson about you the other day to explain why the women here don't really turn me on. As Ed can tell you, a lot of very good men when they're away from their wives and families for a long time — eventually succumb to the need for physical female-type affection (even though they know it's not real or lasting or even very satisfying). These are not evil men, even dishonest men — they are often some of the best men here as far as the job they're doing is concerned. The Achilles heel of many of these men is the kind of relationships they've had with their wives before they came. They are happily married men — yes — but they can also get along very nicely without their wives — as long as another affectionate pretty girl is available. Their wives function as bed partners, mothers of their children, social assets and if

and then convenient soft shoulders to cry on — but, by and large, almost any woman could fill this bill. You can tell the men who are deeply in love with their wives here — they admire
the girls and are as horny as hell
(as I am) but that's as far as it goes.
Feel that the difference is that their wives are extremely important to them — that the woman they have married makes a real difference in the way they live their lives. They could cheat on their wives and they would never know but they would also have to go back and live with this woman and remember their cheating. It's more than that — (am) having trouble saying this so have patience)
— will change this to the 1st person and may be I'll be able to say it better. — find that none of these women could do what you have already done for me — opened many doors of my personality to the light. You've allowed me to ventilate, empty myself to you on many occasions (as I'm doing
now) and have been sort of a mirror of myself without destroying me with criticism, disgust, laughter, etc. Think you know most of my weaknesses and choose to ignore these for my strengths.
A long time ago you made me a man by

28 July

accepting and loving me as no other human being had before - in spite of the fact you knew me better than anyone had ever known me. This love I've tested in many ways as you may remember - took me a long time to really believe a love like yours was possible. Once I was convinced of your love - and I am - all kinds of wonderful things happened to me. Became able to accept other people's affection and friendship without suspicion. Opened up myself to others. Gained confidence in my ability to mingle with others on an equal footing without constantly pinching myself to make sure what was going on was really real. In short, I joined the human race starting from the time I became ~~conf~~ convinced you loved me. Could not have done this if you had mothered me or I had fathered you - could only have done this if I was convinced you were a strong woman yourself, capable of standing on your own two feet. Did not want to marry a mother or a little girl - and didn't.

Now back to the problem I started with — most of the men who have all the trouble here don't have this kind of thing going for them — in fact I dare say most of the married people we know don't have such a thing going for them — don't understand what real love is — we've talked about this before. Some do I'm sure and are just having a little fling for themselves but most don't. Consequently don't think the judgement on their behavior here can be made on the same basis as judgement on mine can be. Am I making any sense? Hope so. Wanted to write this down while I was thinking it — same-same diary — hope I'm not boring you.

Haven't had a letter now for five days again. Everyone is complaining about the lousy mail service. Hope yours is better. You'd think they'd make that priority one — it's an important morale factor. Shouldn't really complain — the grunts out in the field don't get mail for weeks on end sometimes — mostly because they can't be found or move around too fast.

28 July

175

Have discovered a few more marijuana users on base and have uncovered two of the Negroes who are making all the agitation race-wise here. Another Negro Master Sgt came in today and identified them for me - want them sent out of the service. This is too small a family here to tolerate that sort of nonsense.

One of the things that is really getting to the men here is the confinement, the boredom and the apprehension they have that we are about to be attacked. The best thing for them is a 12 hr or 16 hr day with a day or two in between to get drunk and go to bed. Makes the time pass and the mind busy. The grunts out in the field have better morale than we do in spite of the fact they're under more strain and real danger of being shot — at least they get to fight back, have no time to day dream (day-dreamers often get very dead) and very little time to do anything but worry about how to get Charlie before Charlie gets him.

My rambling around the village is a good tonic for me — may be why my morale is pretty good generally. Have managed to keep from counting the days like so many do. Will start counting in earnest when October and the R&R comes around.

Just read over your last letter from the 20th July — thanks for giving me those comments about the kids — sounds like you have your hands full keeping up with our 5 personalities. Wait till they hit their periods, first dates, etc — then we'll really have our hands full — am glad I'm getting this thing out of the way now. That was a very good letter, sweetie. Know how hard it is to sit down and spend the time writing a long "soul brother" letter (am learning the Negro terms, too — have been able to pick a lot of brains over here — men tend to open up a lot better here than they could in the U.S.A.).

Will send along a few slides you may be interested in — Dak Pek was a real experience. Will tell you all my "war stories" later.

Will close now & get this in the midnite mail. Love you, doll — Dan
