

I am humbly thankful to the people of Wisconsin for their exceptional vote. It will be my constant effort to see to it that they never have cause to regret this early and valuable support.

I sincerely regret that the action of a group of citizens in entering the name of a great General, Douglas MacArthur, in the primary made it necessary for me to be in a position of rivalry on the ballot, as I have a very high personal regard for this distinguished leader of our armed forces.

My deep appreciation also goes to the people of Minnesota, including hundreds of volunteers who have assisted thus far in this campaign.

We will now redouble our efforts to build a truly liberal Republican Party with the twin objectives of winning expanding liberty without another world war, and maintaining a dynamic free economy without a depression.
