Dear Harold,

Just wanted to greet you wherever you are. We miss you very much and now we need you. Remember well the last New Year's Day you were here - you took the time to telephone and you have no idea how good that makes a guy feel. We're all proud of the part your playing out there, but knowing you can't spare yourself we're a little worried too. May this holocaust be over soon but for now I hope you can find

A Merry Christmas

and a

Happy New Year

THEN as now there were marching legions and the noises of battles.
Then as now there were the hungry, the shelterless, the sick, the despairing. But to the humble of heart on quiet hillsides came voices of prophetic hope — the world's undying hope — "Peace on Earth."

It is Christmas again! And shall we not rejoice? For God is, and Christ liveth, and we know that His will shall at last be done.

*At this Christmas season we rejoice gives renewed meaning to life. We are grate-

Dear Harold:

Jesus finds you once again out on the blue Pacific. We are thinking about you a little more at this season, although our thoughts go out to you often. You are constantly in our prayers. We admire your courage and leadership that you have given our nation in this conflict.

At home here we are trying to do more than just pray for peace. There is a battle here on the home front which we are trying to fight. We are giving considerable attention to projecting ~~the~~ leisure-time project and programs for teenage youth who because of the war are facing acute problems. Last summer we sent scores of youth out into war occasioned communities with recreational & religious programs for children. We are trying also to make Christian America, especially our Baptist folk conscious of our responsibility and position in the post-war world. We are determined to do our part out here so that the things you boys are fighting for will be preserved.

You know we have a great deal of faith in you as do a whole host of people in the good U. S. A. It is our hope & prayer that you will some day be our leader.

May God be very close to you and your sweet family during this month in our prayer.

Sincerely Fresh -

Politics hasn't been the same since you departed for sea duty. Our leadership is diffused and we seem to be constantly searching for our bearings. I miss the group discussions, the teamwork, common understanding, and the People ask me constantly if you were behind Ball's indorsement of F.D.R. and are relieved when I tell them that "positively he knew nothing about it". I shudder though when I think of the countless thousands who harbor that ill conceived thought and may have lost faith.

December 5, 1944

Dear Harold:

Midge and I thoroughly enjoyed your swell letter of November 27. The details of my campaign will have to await the telling until I see you. Suffice it to say, it was a very hard fought campaign but with good results. I am sure you will be interested in learning that I headed the ticket in Oregon with a majority of 94,955 over my opponent, whereas Roosevelt defeated Dewey by something over 23,000 votes in the state. It was also my good fortune to carry every county in the state, and that is the first time that has ever happened in the history of the state in a race for either senator or governor.

I thoroughly agree with your observation that those of us in the Republican Party owe a responsibility to the party to work with the other members of the Senate, regardless of their differences and views. I fought my campaign on the basis of a non-partisan approach to the international issue and on the basis of a return to representative government, as contrasted with the development of an all-powerful executive government which characterizes the New Deal.

The job you men are doing in the Pacific not only inspires us here at home, but I hope it also is impressing upon the people of this country the real debt of gratitude that we owe to our men in the armed services. Sometimes when I see living going on at home very much the same as it did in peacetimes, I am very much saddened because I sometimes suspect that there are too many among us who have little appreciation of the real sacrifices that are being made in this war. However, if I get off on that subject I am likely to become both bitter and sentimental, so enough is enough.

Needless to say, Midge and I will be glad when we can see you and your wife again and I hope that day will be soon. I want you to know, Harold, that if I ever can be of service to you personally or politically, you need only ask for it.

With warmest personal regards,

Cordially,

Dear Harold,

I was so glad to get your letter this morning. It was especially welcome today as I had the grandest visit with Esther yesterday and she said she hadn't had a letter for several days. I called her this A. M. and she had received two from you after we came back from Mpls. last evening.

We went on a little shopping tour and Esther insisted on taking me to lunch. She is the grandest person Harold, and I repeat what I've said so many times to you. She is the most wonderful wife any man could have, but she is just perfect for you. The more I see of her the more I respect and admire her and my associations with her even increase my deep respect and admiration for her husband as well.

Little Kathleen is no longer such a little baby, and certainly has personality and pep. Esther no doubt wrote you that she had some of us down to dinner one evening not so long ago. The children were just as sweet as they could be. Glen is really a regular little man.

This is the morning the Governor arrived from Mexico and the press is here full force shooting questions at him. More than likely they will ask him how he liked the Mexican gals etc. He came in looking like a million dollars with a tan on like you can't get in Minnesota in November and December. We have a few changes in the press personnel around here now. Burnett is here from the Times, of course my good friend Mike is still around for the Star, Adolph Johnson for the A Wednesday being Mackay's day off, Prexy Anderson from the UP, Lois Byrd (the little southern gal you all had such a hard time to understand) has been transferred from here to Detroit, Tommy Thompson, now working for KSTP and Lou Parlin from the Dispatch. Can't you just imagine the kind of a press conference they are holding?

We are all so proud of you for the citation you received although we weren't a bit surprised. I knew when I read the newspaper write up that you certainly had lots to do with the planning of that attack. Some of the strategy sounded so much like some of the planning I've seen you do around here.

I wont go on to tell you how badly I felt about the "Ball" situation that arose during the campaign, because I know that you know what your friends feel for you in any kind of a situation that might hurt you. We all felt it very keenly and it really made us sick at heart. I hope that some day there will be an explanation of some kind for it.

They still hold raspberry and trukey festivals in Minnesota and the public is still just as hard to convince that the Gov. cannot be in four places at once as they were in 1939 to 1943.

Mr. Badger had a very serious attack of bronchial pneumonia just before election, in fact he was in bed election day, but made the doctor let him get up long enough to go to the polls to vote. He was very sick and had to take a lot of sulpha drugs which has left him very weak and I am afraid it has had some effect on his heart. This is the first week he has been coming back to work regularly, and at the end of a full day he is really all worn out and quite nervous. It's awfully hard for him to take things easy as you well know. The Doctor wants him to take from six weeks to three months vacation, but he can't see how he is going to do it with the legislative session coming up. He may take some time between now and the first of the year, but that is not certain as yet.

Dick Purcell is now in ~~Kansas City~~ Kansas City doing the same kind of work as he was in Des Moines.

I don't know if I wrote you that Webb Coffee is back in this country again. He is now located in Casper Wyoming. I am expecting my brother Joe to be shipped across about the first of the year. He had been in Field Artillery until last April when they transferred him to the Topo. Section of the Engineers and is at Camp Robinson, Ark. at the present time. I may take a short run down there to see him before he goes if I can find out in time. I'm sure he wont get a furlough before going over because he was home in October.

Blanche's husband is now stationed in Camp Swift, Texas and she left last Monday to go down there with Tom and they have a house in Austin and he expects to drive back and forth from Camp each day. (about 35 miles each way).)

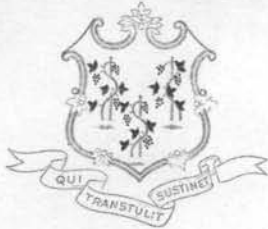

I just must get to work now and I send you my very best wishes for at least a pleasant holiday season even though you are away from the ones you love so much. If my wish would come true you would be here for those days with them.

Sincerely,

Katy

HARTFORD

RAYMOND E. BALDWIN
GOVERNOR

December 7, 1944.

Dear Harold:

Your note of congratulation was very gratefully received, and I am happy and proud that you should think of me. While the national election was a keen disappointment, I do feel that we have made much progress. I think the Party is more strongly united and energetic than ever before. I think also that some of the ultra-conservative elements that have been bothering us in the past have been pushed further into the background and their power and influence consequently lessened.

Here in Connecticut we vote in large part by voting machines with the straight party lever. By pulling the lever the voter can vote for everybody from President right down to local justices of the peace. This holds true in every town of 10,000 population or more and in many towns of less population if they desire to have voting machines and many of them do. In addition to that where we vote by paper ballot you can vote the straight party ticket by marking X in the column above the candidates of one of the respective parties. This discourages splitting and it was the thing which licked me in 1940. However, this time I fortunately survived. If we had not had the party lever, I think we would have chosen a Republican state ticket and probably at least two more congressmen. As it was, we only succeeded in electing a Republican Governor and two Republican congressmen, Clare Boothe Luce and Joe Talbot. The President's majority was substantially less than it was in 1940 although the total number voting in Connecticut was larger than in 1940.

I do not believe that the Republican Party can simply take the attitude that between now and the next national campaign the administration is bound to have so many difficult problems with which it is bound to make so many mistakes that we will in turn be bound to win a Republican election in 1948. We will never get anywhere unless we get around on the positive side of every issue.

I believe that Dewey waged a very energetic and able campaign. Frankly, I can't think of anything that might have been done differently. Several people have said to me that they thought that Dewey assumed the role of a prosecutor again. Perhaps he did. But on the other hand in 1940 Willkie was criticized for being too much of a "yes, yes" man, simply saying that he believed in all of the things the New Deal was doing except that we will do them better. Dewey, on the other hand, took the opposite track. Somewhere in between these two extremes lies the correct method. You would know better than I what that method is. Personally I believe that the best tactic is not to mention the other fellow but to state one's own position very positively and contrast it with the mistakes that have been made by the other side, leaving personalities out. These are just a few observations after a campaign in which you from your long activity in public affairs must have been tremendously interested.

What Dewey will do in 1948 is anybody's guess. Obviously now he is the titular head of the Party. There has been some talk of Herb Brownell resigning and some other talk of his continuing with an executive assistant. Herb did a very good job indeed. He is able and energetic. I have not talked with him but I believe his personal inclination is to continue his law practice. I many times wish I had continued mine.

I have heard many favorable comments about you for the future. At the New England Governors' Conference in Boston in the middle of November which was a joint conference with the so-called New England Council of manufacturers and businessmen your name was mentioned by a captain, whose name I can't recall, but who made an excellent impression upon everyone. He told about some expedition which you and he had been engaged and your name was greeted with hearty applause.

Lev Saltonstall made an excellent run, his plurality being upwards of 500,000, although Roosevelt carried the state. I shall miss Lev very much in the meetings of the Governors' Conference. With one exception every Republican Governor running for re-election was elected. That Governor was Governor Langlie of Washington. I am keenly disappointed about his defeat because I liked him tremendously. He was a very able fellow. I hope he doesn't leave public life.

Massachusetts elected a Democratic governor but put in all Republican state officers other than the Governor. The other New England states with the exception of Rhode Island stayed in the Republican columns so far as their state tickets were concerned. As you know we lost Ohio, Missouri and Washington but picked up Indiana, thus reducing the Republican governors from 26 to 24, a lot better than we stood in 1940.

It was mighty nice of you to write, Harold, and I hope you will drop me a line again.

Your wife is a good soldier and did a very noble thing in the campaign. I was tremendously disappointed about Ball's attitude and can't yet understand how he got off on that tack.

With kindest personal regards to you and to your good wife, I am

Yours very sincerely,

REPUBLICAN PARTY OF WISCONSIN

STATE HEADQUARTERS

HOTEL LORAIN

MADISON 3, WISCONSIN

Dec. 7, 1944

Dear Harold:

I enclose a clipping which explains my new set-up here. I returned to Minn. after the election and was offered my old job back at the Tourist Bureau but I had been offered a much better deal down here and it seemed a better spot for me to take. So I have moved down here with my family with a great deal of regret that I left Minn. for & enjoyed it was with a great deal. But as the phrase went in the my work there a great deal. "It was time for a change".

last campaign. Naturally I enjoy working with Tom Coleman who is outstanding in my opinion. Also Cy Phillip the national committeeman from Milwaukee. They both give me every opportunity to carry in the kind of work I want to do. I will work very closely with the legislative here in January and will also carry on intensive organizational work. We got by good in the post election - carried for Dewey and the state ticket but we are already working in 2 & 4 yrs. from now.

I realize that you must be surfeited with the Joe Ball subject but in spite of this I want to pass on a few observations. Joe spoke in Milwaukee last week to "The Friends of the Soviet Union" a newspaper man who covered the event told me about it. All the "lunatic fringe" were there - Communists, of both black & white colors and really quite a nondescript gathering. My informant said he had not seen such a motley crew for some time at the reception.

Of course this brings up the very subject which grieves me the most about Joe's actions. He has destroyed all usefulness to the Republican party because he has cut himself off from it. Had he not taken the course he did he would now be a dominant figure in rebuilding the G.O.P. along more liberal lines and he could be effective in any future plans which you might have. But now ~~that~~ the way the thing stands you might have. But now ~~that~~ the way the thing stands no friend of yours should be seen with him.

(I was a little concerned while home to overhear a remark that ~~Joe~~ Joe + Warren Burger were working on a Federal Judgeship appointment which is now open. - This it seems to me would be bad.) I may take an extreme view on the Joe Ball matter - some of our friends in St. Paul explain that Joe is "Conscientious" that he "means for the best" that he is sincere. I have no patience with these explanations - ~~but~~ it seems to me that in Politics ~~you must~~ one must have some group he can trust "his own gang" and when anyone "rats" on the gang he is through. Joe did exactly that - ~~for~~ my opinion his actions are inexcusable. Incidentally the newsmen in Milwaukee asked Joe if he had heard from you - He said he had not - He pointed out however that he was a "free agent" and had been elected by the people of Wisconsin and could make decisions on his own.

In the course of my work I expect to be in Washington every two months at least - If I find out anything of interest there I will report it to you - There is considerable comment about you in the press from time to time - Here in Madison there have been several mail bag letters like the enclosed.

Best Regards - Vic -

Dear Commander Stassen:

Talking at the Press Club the other day, a friend of yours said he was sending you a book. That reminded me that I would like to send you a book -- even if you already have a book.

So, under separate cover I am sending you a copy of The Gentlemen Talk of Peace, by William B. Ziff, which has just come out and which is stirring up quite a bit of controversy. The ideas in it are pretty big and no one seems to approve of all of them, but some of them are pretty stimulating.

Anyway, I thought I would like to have the privilege of sending you this.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Harold,

It must seem rather queer for a Minnesotan to spend a "hot" Xmas - I mean weather, of course. Somehow or other the whole thing is incongruous, unless we say (as you are) you fellows are fighting for "a peace on earth and good will toward men". We all think of you so often and especially at this season.

I mailed a pathetic Xmas box to you which undoubtedly will catch up to you by May day, even more pathetic!

We read of your "travels" daily. You're doing great things - May Providence protect you and bring you safely home to Esther, Kathleen & Glen, and the rest of us.

I was sorry not to have seen you last summer. You were "aw, in great shape" and "muscle bound", they tell me, but I imagined what little time you had was to be spent with your family ~~and~~ ^{and} not ^{as} having to many of us pestering you.

I trust you'll be home soon, Harold, to live in Best of all possible world again.
