Your Highness;

The National Presbyterian Center is constantly sensitive to events that shape the course of peace in our time.

We have felt that it is particularly appropriate on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of the signing of the United Nations charter to have time for recollection and for vision into the future of this great institution.

We, therefore, have set aside the evening of June 25, 1970, when there will be a dinner in the hall of the new National Presbyterian Church and Center. As one of the signers to be honored on this occasion, we sincerely hope you can come. We invite you most warmly. If, however, you find it impossible to be with us, we would be honored to receive a message from you.

We have the assurance that Governor Harold E. Stassen, the only living member of the United States delegation that signed the charter, will be present, as well as many other distinguished United Nations personalities.

I truly hope that you will find it possible to accept this invitation and, not alone to be present, but to make comments about whatever is in your heart and mind regarding this great instrumentality for peace and understanding in our modern world.

Most cordially yours,

Lowell R. Ditzen

Dear Mr. Ambassador:

Thank you for your gracious letter of May 25 concerning the United Nations celebration at the National Presbyterian Church and Center on June 26. We have sent a letter of invitation to Dr. Luis Manuel Debayle.

We are so sorry you will be unable to attend the celebration here, but feel sure the anniversary celebration in San Francisco will be most inspiring. Would you be kind enough to designate some member of your Embassy to represent you? We would be happy to send him an invitation to the dinner here.

Thank you for your help in this.

Yours most cordially,

I was away from Rio for over a month and my mail was not That accounts for this tardy acknowledgment of your courteous letter and for my long delayed thanks for your kind invitation to the Dinner party on the 25th. anniversary of the signing of the United Nations Charter.

Nothing would please me so much as to be present at the National Presbyterian Center on that occasion, had I been able to leave Brazil at that time.

I feel sincerely sorry to be thus deprived the pleasure of encountering again Governor Stassen. whom I remember well, and some other of the former Delégates to the San Francisco Conference, who might have attended to your call.

It would have been a fine occasion to compare notes with them after so many years. I trust that I would not be the only one to praise the United Nations for the good work it has accomplished in the social, economic and the cultural fields referred to in the Charter.

I doubt though whether I could find amongst the former Delegates any one holding an optimistic view concerning political activities of the Organization. It cannot blamed though if its unceasing efforts to bring peace and security between States have in most cases come to nothing. The blame should be laid rather on some of the member States, which are notoriously bent in undermining the United Nations action whenever and wherever there is a chance to acheive peace and stability.

For the present we can see no prospects of blotting out the margin of mistrust that divides the world in two camps. If "there is a tide in the affairs of men", we must await confidently until the "flood that leads on to fortune" will bring peace and freedom to mankind.

Estimado Señor Ditzen:

Con mucho agrado, he recibido y leído la atenta comunicación que Usted se ha servido dirigirme con fecha 3 del corriente, a nombre de "The National Presbyterian Center", invitándome finamente a la cena que ofrecerá el 26, con motivo de cumplirse el XXV Aniversario de la suscripción de la Carta de las Naciones Unidas en la que consta mi firma como Presidente de la Delegación del Ecuador. Añade Usted que seguramente asistirán el Gobernador Harold E. Stassen, único sobreviviente de la Delegación de los Estados Unidos, y muchas otras distinguidas personalidades de las Naciones Unidas.

Créame Usted que, de ser posible, experimentaria vivo placer al concurrir a una ceremonia tan importante y volver a reunirme con los líderes de la paz mundial, a cuyo esfuerzo e idealismo se debe la Carta de las Naciones Unidas que, en la mejor manera pesible, ha preservado los altos destinos de la Humanidad durante veinticinco años y que, pese a fallas inevitables y a reveses naturales, ha impedido una nueva conflagración mundial.

Aún conservo vivo el recuerdo de la movilización popular, sincera y emocionada, del pueblo de San Francisco de California, que representaba al Mundo entero, clamando por la paz y porque, en el futuro, ninguna causa volviera a verter los torrentes de sangre, dolor y destrucción que se habían vertido entre 1939 y 1945. Fiel a esa consigna, sigo propugnando la tesis de la paz mundial, sustentada en la justicia y en el derecho de todos y para todos, a la vez que formulo íntimos votos porque Dios salve a los hombres de la amenazante tragedia que les rodea. Que los próximos veinticinco años de vida de las Naciones Unidas sean aún más fecundos de los que acaban de transcurrir.

My dear Mr. Ditzen:

It was my pleasure to receive and read your most kind communication that you sent me on June 3, in the name of "The National Presbyterian Center", with your corteous invitation to the dinner that will be held on June 26th, to commemorate the XXV Anniversary of the subscripcion of the Chapter of the United Nations, where my signature appears as President of the Delegation from Ecuador. You also state in your letter, that probably Governor Harold E. Stassen, the only survivor of the United States Delegation will be present, besides many other distinguished personalities of the United Nations.

Believe me, if it were possible, it would be a great pleasure and delightful expirience to attend to such important ceremony and rejoin with the Leaders of the World Peace, to whom idealism and effort we owe the Chapter of the United Nations which in the best possible way, has preserve the high destinies of Humanity during twenty five years, and that in spite of inevitable deficiencies and misadventures, has prevented a new world war.

I still have live momories of the popular demostrations, sincere and full of emotions of the people of San Francisco, California that was representing the whole world, demanding for peace, and also that in the future no cause could make the world spill the river of blood, that was shed in the years of 1933 and 1945. Loyal to that commitment, I am still preaching the Gospel of the World Peace, based on the justice of right for everyone and for everybody. At the same time I extend my highest consideration that God may save mankind from the threatening tragedy that sorround's them, That the next twenty five years in the life of the United Nations, will be even more fruitful that, the previous ones.

I have your letter of May 25, and I appreciate very warmly indeed your invitation to me, but I am sorry to say that I shall be unable to accept - on the 26th June I shall be in mid-Pacific enroute to England.

regret this the more as there is, it seems to me, very much that could and should be said in examining why, despite undoubted successes in many fields - successes sufficiently valuable in themselves to warrant the whole-hearted support of right-thinking people the world over - the United Pations has so dismally failed to achieve the high hopes of those who helped to create it, that it would provide, as its main objective, a system of collective security for the preservation of peace and the defence of liberty, an organization which could, and would, resist and prevent aggression of every kind.

There is, I believe, far too much reluctance to face facts in this connection, and one plain fact, I fear, is that the world is not yet ready to pay the necessary premium for insurance against war, and that is the acceptance of third-party judgment by all nations in all disputes - combined with the necessary corollary, adequate means of enforcing such judgments.

It distresses me beyond measure that in the present state of the world I see no prospect whatever of estab-
