TSOL and Flipper Reverse Rock 'n' Roles

By Byron Coley

the simple fact is that their ideal vision of this beverage probably consists of something equally odious and what the hell—may even know that there's better stuff around, they just aren't interested. Fine by me. A bad experience is worth repeating.

FLIPPER

Well here it is: HOSE, the first 12" record to be distributed by 99.

Why HOSE? Why not HOSE?

It's up to you to tell us if we made the right choice. Flipper seems to think we did. They had their management play an advance pressing of this record on KUSF in San Francisco and KALX in Berkeley as the Flipper EP, Generic II.

Which came first, the Flipper or the HOSE?

Let's talk about the songs on this record. Just when you thought you've heard all you wanted of Super Freak, Fire, and You Sexy Thing, along comes HOSE to add an undeniably new danceable and listening quality to these favorites. Then we have the two original compositions, "Dope Fiend" and "Only the Astronaut Knows the Truth." Now we'll see if Rick James is able to arrange these songs to his style.

HOSE has played with Flipper in New York and San Francisco, so at least we know they are not the same band. Sure hope you will be able to find some merit in this recording so that we will be able to rest easy on our most bold decision to date, to distribute HOSE, the record.

Hardcore Funk the Whiteboy Way

By Michael Hill

During a Black Flag set at the old Pep Lounge last December, "singer" Henry Rollins suddenly felt the funk, interrupting his angry torrent by shouting rap-style, "Wave your arms in the air! And party hearty like you just don't care!" Immediately visions of uptown B-boys and downtown skinheads were dancing in my head—or, more precisely, breaking and slamming . . . together. (I learned in an interview after the show that Henry is a real Renaissance man, claiming to like
