GAR MEMORIAL--- Bronze tablet inside the south entrance to the State Capitol. Erected and dedicated as inscribed.

Memorial. John A. Logan. Day Orders. General Orders, no. 11. Headquarters, Grand Army of the Republic, Washington D. C. May 5, 1868.

I. The 30th day of May 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers, or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in the defense of their country during the late rebellion, and those bodies now lie in almost every city, village, and hamlet, and church-yard in the land. In this observance no form or ceremony is prescribed, but posts and comrades will in their way arrange such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit. We are organized, comrades as our regulations tell us, for the purpose among other things, "of preserving and strengthening those kind fraternal feelings which have bound together the soldiers, sailors, and marines, who united to suppress the late rebellion." What can aid more to assure these results than by cherishing tenderly the memory of our heroic dead, who made their breasts a barricade between our country and it's foes? Their soldiers lives were their reveille of freedom to a race in chains and their deaths a tatoo of rebellious tyranny in arms, we should guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the nation can add to the memory of her slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread rudely on such hallowed grounds, let pleasant paths invite the coming and going of reverent visitors and fond mourners, let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic.

If other eyes grow dull and other hands slack and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it well as long as the light and warmth of life remains to us.

Let us, then, at the time appointed, gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds, adorn them with their choicest flowers of springtime; let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us in this solemn presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left amongst us a sacred charge upon the nation's gratitude, the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan.

II. It is the purpose of the Commander-in-Chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades. He earnestly desires the public press to call attention to this order, and lend it's friendly aid in bringing it to the notice of comrades in all parts of the country in time for simultaneous compliance therewith.

III. Department commanders will make every effort to make this order effective, by command of John A. Logan, Commander-in-Chief; N. P. Chapman, Adhutant General. A tribute to the memory of the Grand Army of the Republic Department of Minnesota, by it's auxiliary, The Woman's Relief Corps, dedicated June 4, 1928.

WAR MEMORIAL--- Onyx statue of an Indian 36 feet in height on the first floor of the Ramsey County Courthouse. At the foot of the statue is a good framed paper marker. Erected by the city of St. Paul and Ramsey County.

This memorial represents Indians sitting around a camp-fire, the smoke from their pipes taking the form of a God of Peace. This god embodies the dignity, strength, and repose to be found in a great and peace loving people. When completed the statue and concourse will make the most impressive peace shrine ever placed in a civic center.
