Dear Fritz:

Congratulations upon the formation of a partnership with Harry MacLaughlin. I am sure every good lawyer aspires to the freedom and challenge of his own practice.

I do believe that you and I ought to follow up the comments that we made the other night regarding the organization of a liberal political seminar group. I noted just the other day that there are something like thirty states in the country that are now dominated by the Democratic Party. When one discovers that the legislative leaders in our state, which is reputed to be one of the leaders in the liberal movement, have closed their formal education with college it becomes imperative that some way be devised that new ideas may be injected into the liberal stream. I sometime get the impression that the thoughts and values of most Democrats have terminated with the New Deal where as, of course, times have changed so much since then.

Perhaps we can get together at the victory dinner and review this matter once again. Again, congratulations, and my fond respects to Harry.

Yours truly,

Eugene P. Foley
