Dear Mr. President:

Minnesota Social Service Association wants you to join them as their keynote speaker at their annual conference on Wednesday, March 14, 1990 in Minneapolis, Minnesota at 9:00 a.m.

Minnesota Social Service Association is the dominant human service association in our state with more than 2200 members. MSSA is a unique partnership of line staff, directors, elected county and state officials and private agencies. They are the oldest ongoing active social service association in the country. MSSA plays a major role in human service advocacy, developing social service legislation, and fostering local public and private networks. They have given their highest award in past years to Hubert Humphrey and to me.

Each year over 2500 people attend their annual conference. This year MSSA has chosen as its conference theme "1990: A Great Opportunity Begins." This conference theme was carefully chosen because they understand the great challenge ahead for our society.
