

KUHN, LOEB & CO.

27 & 29 Pine Street,

New York April 20th 1897

My dear Mr. Will,

I tried several times this afternoon to find you at your office, but did not succeed. Stetson was here today & talked freely. He seems to be very much pleased at the confidence you show in him & is apparently anxious to support you in every way. - One thing you should do, while you are here, ~~that~~ this is, to bring him & Lamont together. Stetson says, he has never met Lamont, & it impressed me, as if he wanted to have him introduced to him, before Lamm went into the Board. I think therefore, you will do well to arrange for a meeting between the two men, before you go away.

Adams tells me, Winter is to be here tomorrow, & he thinks he is coming & final out, what is in the air.
