

The Daily National Hotel Reporter,

F. W. RICE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER,

NO. 7 MONROE STREET, EAST,

CHICAGO.

Feb. 16, 1893.

S. S. Breed, Esq.,

St. Paul, Minn.

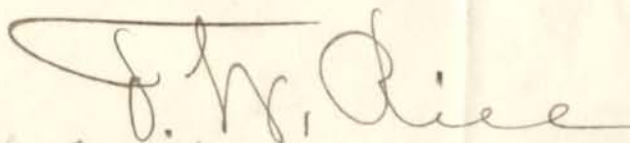

Dear Sir:

Your letter is received. Our price for the advertisement which you send occupying two inches display in single column under head of "For Sale" and "To Rent" is $16.00 for one month (twenty-six insertions.) This would include two reading notices calling attention to the advertisement.

The National Hotel Reporter is more largely read by hotel men than any other publication in existence.

Hoping to hear favorably from you in response to the above proposition, I am,

Yours truly,

Advertisement to be paid by limitation at end of the 26 insertions
