Pro Christo et Humanitate.

"Puget Sound Academy is of immense importance in the cause of evangelical religion. Investments made in that direction will abundantly repay."

REV. JOSEPH B. CLARK, D. D.,

Sect'y American Home Missionary Society,

Bible House, New York.

PUGET SOUND ACADEMY,
Coupeville, Wash.

How important, my friends, one cannot know unless he has lived where infidelity, so-called Liberalism, and Sabbath desecration prevail, with little to counteract.

We must save these young people. We must save this school of ours in Washington for Christ and his work. We must have within the coming year thirty thousand dollars, an endowment fund.

What grander opportunity than this for raising a monument, far outshining costly marble? What more acceptable offering than laying this upon the altar, a thanksgiving sacrifice to our Heavenly Father?

Many christian schools are at work, but this, the Phillip's Academy of the west, the only one of its kind in a region comprising twenty-two thousand square miles, and populated by more than two hundred thousand souls, calls to us. It needs our support. Will you give it?

Such men as Dea. Ezra Farnsworth, of Boston, David Whitcomb, of Worcester, Chas. P. Whitin, of Whitinsville, and many other noble persons, some of whose names have been transferred from the roll-call of earth to that of heaven, contributed liberally for its founding six years ago.

Are there none to save it now in its time of need—a crisis in its history? Pray for us, help us, find those who are willing, nay glad, of this opportunity to further the Master's cause. Exceeding great shall be the reward, for he who is instrumental in aiding this school will save immortal souls for usefulness here, for eternal happiness hereafter.

REASONS FOR INVESTING.

1. It is already on a fine site with good buildings, free from debt, and what is best, it possesses an excellent name.
2. We dare not wait for the College and Education society to reach us. It will be too late.
3. It is an opportunity of securing compound interest throughout all time.
4. It reaches young people who might not otherwise receive such instruction. The value of a practical education is recognized by all.
5. The name of the one securing to us the necessary amount will be given to the institution as a memorial.
