THE PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

This department is maintained to furnish instruction for those who are not sufficiently advanced to enter the Freshman class.

The course of instruction offered covers a period of two years, and aims to give a sound training and such development as will enable the student to carry any of the college courses successfully.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must be at least thirteen years of age and be able to pass a satisfactory examination in reading, in arithmetic (to percentage), in English grammar and language far enough to show familiarity with the different parts of speech, and ability to analyze sentences with ease and accuracy.

He must also show, in general, such thoroughness in these branches and such development as will indicate ability to pursue the preparatory studies of the first year creditably before he will be received.

For admission to higher standing it will be necessary, in addition to this, to pass an examination in the studies taken by the class entered.

Tuition is free in this department as in all others. The only college charges are those indicated on page 15.

FARMERS' INSTITUTES AND READING CIRCLES.

It is the desire of those in charge of the institution to make it serviceable to all classes, but particularly to those engaged in agriculture and other industrial pursuits.

We believe the College should do something for those who may not be able to pursue a resident course of study, and that it can do this without impairing its usefulness in the least as a scientific and technical institution of learning.

It is the intention, therefore, during the coming winter to arrange for several Farmers' Institutes in different parts of the state. Here the objects and methods of the institution may be presented to the farmers, and topics discussed of practical value to all engaged in that important vocation. At the same time an effort will be made to organize Reading Circles among those engaged in agriculture. A list of books will be suggested and a systematic course of reading offered along lines which have direct bearing on all agricultural interests.

Some plan, it is hoped, may be adopted by the Regents, at an early date, whereby free scholarships can be offered those young men who show special fitness for and a desire to obtain a college education. This can easily be done in connection with reading circles, the scholarships offered as a premium to those who excel in the readings of that course.
