

Albemarle Hotel
Madison Square,
New York.

The Hoffman House having acquired control of the "Albemarle Hotel," so famous for many years as the resort of Europeans, Foreign Ministers and Ambassadors who have visited this country--beg to inform its former patrons that the "Albemarle" has been thoroughly renovated, refurnished and decorated, and will still retain its name, and solicits the patronage of those desiring all the comforts of a quiet family hotel.

Dear Mr. Hill

The more I get acquainted with the Cambridge the better I like it and the Wharfedale guests who came up here, are delighted with the change.

Thanking you again for your your past favor, I remain

Dear Sir

In presenting the following point - to you for consideration I wish you only to decide with reference to the business interests of the road.

You favored my building mills and manufacturing lumber at Crookston & Grand Forks - feeling that it would give other business to the road sufficient to compensate for the loss on lumber shipments into that area.

The facts fully justify that conclusion I think.

If in the constructions on your roads - either new work or repairs - you take any portion of my lumber - then the parties who would otherwise take this ^{or} some of my lumber - would have to send out to Minneapolis or Duluth & ship in at full freight rates over your lines.

Dear Sir

This would not have a tendency to increase my lumber cut - as the figures which I gave Mr. Morrison do not show any profit - it about returns me the money I have put in to it - and leaves so much less to find a market for.

I called to see you about this - but found you so busy that I thought this method would bring the matter before you with the

Jas. J. Hill, Esq.,

Dear Sir:-

Acknowledging your telegram of the 31st. ulto., reading as follows:-

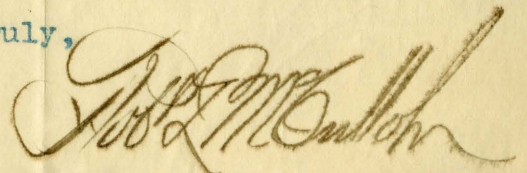

"Letter 27th., received. Matter is entirely in your hands. Extend option until May first if you wish to".

Clark's option expires on the 15th. inst. Fifteen days longer will not give him time enough to effect the purchase, or do not imagine he would ask for sixty days: Have wired you as follows:-

"Do not think extension to May first will benefit Clark: He wants sixty days to June 15th. Am disposed to grant it, or will propose May 15th., or June 1st., if you prefer limiting him to shorter time".

Although the property may turn out valuable, the present uncertainty about silver, coupled with the knowledge that I could not expend money in development work, and assuming that you would not be inclined to do so, creates a desire that the property should be disposed of, especially so in my case, as the Estate needs money, otherwise assume from Clark's telegram that he has not succeeded in development work, as he expected, and if he does not take the property eventually, we wish him to put it in such shape that it may be presented to others and for that reason alone, an extension of time to him, such as he asks for, would seem to be policy; still, with good weather, he may accomplish this in a shorter time.

Yours very truly,

JOHN DALQUEST.
