Mrs. Ida Porter Boyer,
552 Little Bldg.,
Boston, Mass.

My dear Mrs. Boyer:-

I am sure you know we have just passed through a successful ratification campaign, which I hope, will excuse our failure to organize the work for the memorial for Alice Stone Blackwell. Everything else was of necessity set aside in order that we might make a complete success of this final effort. Some of our women, I hope, have responded to your individual letters. What I want to ask is - is your fund complete or is there still time for the Minnesota women to raise something for the memorial?

There are many suffragists in Minnesota who have a profound admiration and affection for Miss Blackwell and I am sure it would be a pleasure for them to contribute something towards such a memorial.

Sincerely yours,

State President.

Mrs. Raymond Brown,
National American Woman Suffrage Assn,
171 Madison Ave.,
New York, N.Y.

My dear Mrs. Brown:-

As I shall have in charge the publicity for this State for the League of Women Voters in October, I am anxious to know what I may expect in publicity material from the National. I, of course, want pictures of all of the Chairmen and of yourself, if possible, some individual data on their records, if it is available there and any material whatever that you are getting out.

Is it your purpose to send out plates from the National for use on this Conference or shall I arrange for my own plate matter if we should decide to use it? Would much prefer of course, to have the plates used gotten out by your association as we are rather out of the way of doing that sort of thing here. In any case, will you kindly advise me as to material immediately as I want to get under way?

Very cordially yours,

Press Chairman.

Mrs. Peter Schwarz,
Dodge Center,
Minnesota.

My dear Mrs. Schwarz:-

I received your letter some time ago, but delayed the answer owing to the excitement and the stress of work attendant upon the ratification of the Federal Suffrage Amendment and the celebration following. It was a memorable occasion and your absence was regretted by Mrs. Ueland and all your friends.

The Association has been obliged to spend a great deal of money lately, as I am sure you will understand, and are counting on the women in the State to help defray part of the expenses.

Much money has been pledged for October 1st to 15th and I keenly regret the fact that you feel it difficult to act for Dodge County. Your suggestion that I return to the County and see the women you mention is not practicable as my expenses, counting my previous trip and return, would leave so little of the amount pledged as to make it negligible. Cannot you see the women and get them to raise the amount without delay? I very much dislike to report Dodge County out of the running and will not do so until I hear from you again.

I sincerely hope Mr. Schwarz has entirely recovered and that you are comfortably settled for the winter.

Very sincerely,

(Mrs. James Forrestal)

State Agent.

Mrs. Oscar Seebach,
Red Wing,
Minnesota.

My dear Mrs. Seebach:-

Will you kindly send a list of the officers of the Red Wing Suffrage Association to the State office? I am sending the names of the suffragists in Cannon Falls and Zumbrota. Will you please give them to the Secretary as I presume you will need them in raising your pledge for October 1st. Kenyon made a separate pledge of $25.00, making Goodhue County's amount to raise $100.00.

I am sure you are enjoying Mrs. Miller today and sincerely trust she will meet an eager response to what I consider the biggest and most important movement of the day - the League of Women Voters.

With special felicitous greetings to yourself and the appreciation of the Association in your help in securing and in celebrating the Ratification, I am,

Cordially yours,

State Agent

My dear Board Member:-

The accompanying slip is self-explanatory. We will appreciate your registering your votes there-on and returning same to the office at the earliest possible moment.

It now appears that it will be necessary for us to have a Board meeting prior to the Convention before we cease to be a suffrage organization and another one after the close of the Convention to plan for our work as League of Women Voters.

If you will refer to the minutes of the meeting of the St. Louis members of the Board held on August 20th you will see that the Chair was instructed to write Mrs. Catt suggesting that if she cared to have us do so Missouri would be glad to take the responsibility for the Jubilee Program at the next National Convention. I quote from Mrs. Catt's letter which is self-explanatory:

"Your answer to Bulletin No. 71 gave me more thrills of joy than I have experienced for many a day! It is so rare indeed for a State to come back with a really forward moving suggestion that I have ceased to expect them.

The New York Section of the Board of Officers today heard your letter read and voted unanimously to ask Missouri to take over the matter of the Jubilee evening. We will understand that your part will be a one-night affair only. We hope it will be a pageant. The only question arising is the possibility of expense involved; that may require another vote and further consideration. We do not yet know where the convention will be. We have invitations from Chicago, Milwaukee and Baltimore. Some people are anxious to extend one for New York. We will probably receive no others, and when we know that no others are coming, a vote will be taken as to taken as to which place the convention will be assigned. Of course, it would be an impossibility to pay the expenses of a great many people to another city to put on a pageant. It would be more in keeping for the women who wrote it or the director at least to go to that city and find most of her people in the constituency of our suffrage association there. At any rate, you are elected to do the Jubilee night. We will make no public announcement of it until you have taken it up with the people interested and give us a definite acceptance of our acceptance of your idea."....

This is possibly a big responsibility, but we have learned to appreciate our responsibilities and to do our best to fulfill them. I am anxious that we do not fail in any particular and shall appreciate your giving this matter thought and consideration prior to the Board meeting.

Faithfully yours,

Eva Fitchel Parker

Hon. Charles R. Davis,
House of Representatives,
Washington, D.C.

My dear Mr. Davis:-

We understand that an effort is being made to bring about the removal of Major Raymond W. Pullman, Supt. of the Police Dept., Washington, D.C.

While we have no interest in Major Pullman personally and have no desire to interfere in any way with the political management of the District, we do know that under his administration a Woman's Bureau has been organized for the safeguarding of the many young women gathered at Washington.

We consider this Bureau of the most vital importance not only to the welfare of the young girls in the District but to the country at large, as an experiment worthy to be followed by all of our cities.

May we remind you that our Association is strictly non-partisan and assure you that our interest in Major Pullman's administration is purely humanitarian. Our women will appreciate any effort that you may be able to make in continuing this high minded official in office.

Sincerely yours,

Corresponding Secretary.

Hon. W.L. Carss,
House of Representatives,
Washington, D.C.

My dear Mr. Carss:-

We understand that an effort is being made to bring about the removal of Major Raymond W. Pullman, Supt. of the Police Dept., Washington, D.C.

While we have no interest in Major Pullman personally and have no desire to interfere in any way with the political management of the District, we do know that under his administration a Woman's Bureau has been organized for the safeguarding of the many young women gathered at Washington.

We consider this Bureau of the most vital importance not only to the welfare of the young girls in the District but to the country at large, as an experiment worthy to be followed by all of our cities.

May we remind you that our Association is strictly non-partisan and assure you that our interest in Major Pullman's administration is purely humanitarian. Our women will appreciate any effort that you may be able to make in continuing this high minded official in office.

Sincerely yours,

Corresponding Secretary.

Mrs. Henry M. Youmans,
Wisconsin Woman Suffrage Assn,

My dear Mrs. Youmans:-

Thank you so much for your kind message for our ratification. It was altogether an exciting and exhilarating day. We have a great deal of work ahead of us with a Conference of the League of Women Voters meeting here probably on October 20th and 21st. Nevertheless, we insist on feeling light hearted because our Suffrage work is about finished.

In regard to our merging our work as a Woman Suffrage Association into that of a League of Women Voters, our idea at present is as follows:

That we keep our Suffrage Association nominally, at least, until the thirty-six states have ratified. We shall probably not have any Convention and may not even have regular meetings, just get together when there seems to be something to do, and when there is nothing more to do, just stop working. To use an old expression we will "let the old cat die." We have consulted a few lawyers and they seem to think this is the best way to get rid of an unnecessary corporation.

In the meantime, we will form our League of Women Voters entirely without regard to a Suffrage Association - picking out the best people, in our judgment, as leaders, whether they have been active in suffrage work or not. In this way we will not be hampered in any way by our old constitution and by our traditions, and may I say it with all reverence and respect, without some of our workers.

I mean to get some further advice from lawyers before we definitely decide upon this method but I believe it ~~is~~ going to be the most satisfactory solution here in Minnesota.

With best wishes and kind regards, I am,

Sincerely yours

State President.

WELLS, MINN., Sept. 17, 1919.

Mrs. Andreas Ueland,
Pres. Minnesota Womens Suffrage Assn.,
Minneapolis, Minn.

Dear Mrs. Ueland:

No doubt you think that the Wells Suffrage Club has ceased to exist, but this is not the case altho it has been rather inactive the past year. Many times I have planned to write you some bits of news concerning the club but the "press of business" has prevented the accomplishment of anything worth while.

As you know, I have been serving in the capacity of President this past year and I am sorry that I had this particular year to serve as it was filled with so much war work that the cause of Suffrage suffered in consequence. At the very out-set I was crippled because of a lack of time to devote to the club. The war took a number of young men out of my father's employ and the question of help became so acute that I went into the office to help as much as I could. The work there, doubled with all the extra government reports, became so heavy that we had to work day and night. I also had all the responsibilities of our home and this, as well as attendance at Surgical Dressing classes several nights a week, left little time for the Suffrage Club. I accepted the Presidency very reluctantly as I knew that I could not do justice to it but everyone seemed equally busy and the women urged me to take it and just keep the Club together for the year. So I said I would just do that--call the meetings and try to keep the club intact as best I could. The women were not taking the interest they had previously taken because the War had centered their interests in other things. We did have meetings, however, and we assigned papers that we thought would prove interesting and instructive as well. Very able papers were read on such topics as, "Primary Law in Minn.," "How a Woman May Prepare Herself for the Ballot"; "State Officers and Their Duties".

I found it nearly impossible to get women to get signatures for the petitions. They all pleaded "too busy" and of course they were busy. In a small town like this a few women do everything. Those interested in Suffrage are also the ones who took charge of the Red Cross work, Influenza epidemics etc. We did get a number of signatures but I did not send them in because

I thought they would make a poor showing in comparison with other towns that went "over the top." I planned to set aside a few days or a week just to get the signatures signed up but every week brought something new so that plan never materialized. However, the Legislature has ratified the Federal Amendment and we can all rejoice in the Victory. The women of Minnesota owe you, and all those who worked so diligently for the cause, a debt of gratitude which they will never be able to repay. Please accept congratulations and hearty thanks from the Wells Suffrage Club. September eighth was a banner day and one Minnesota women will never forget. It will be the regret of my life that I could not be there to help celebrate the event but at that time I was at Rochester undergoing a minor operation and so could not attend. I wish to thank you very kindly for the invitation to attend the festivities and banquet, Mrs. Ueland. I hope in the future, when the opportunity of meeting with the women of this state for any cause presents itself, I shall be able to be there.

What are your plans for the future of the Suffrage Clubs, Mrs. Ueland? My understanding is that the National organization is to be replaced by The League of Women Voters and that our little clubs will become auxiliaries of it. Have the Suffrage Clubs ceased to exist with the ratification of the Amendment in our State or should they be terminated in some formal way? It is past time for the election of new officers for our club and I wondered whether it would be best to call a meeting of the club and elect new ^{officers} members or if the old officers should hold over until the new organization is perfected and the new officers elected to carry on the work of the League? I shall be very grateful if you will advise me as to your wishes in this matter.

I noticed in the Mankato paper that you are planning to visit Mankato sometime in October in the interests of the League. I wish it might be possible for you to visit Wells at the same time. Perhaps we could plan a rally and extend invitations to the other clubs of Faribault County to meet with us here. If you think any such plans feasible please let me know and I shall try to get the women together.

Very Sincerely yours,

My Dear Mrs. Ueland:

Yes indeed we all know of the splendid showing Minnesota has made in ratifying the Federal Amendment! Isn't it glorious to know that in each successive ratifying State the end of the suffrage trail is reached, and the broad highway of constructive citizenship lies before us. Here in Boston we are planning some highly interesting lines which I know will appeal to you as soon as we pass along the suggestions.

We have a most brilliant birthday party for Miss Blackwell. The hoped-for sum of $ 5000 has been secured, and a few straggling subscriptions are still coming in. Your telegram of greeting was read at the reception. We did receive donations from Mrs. Stockwell and from Dr. Margaret Koch, so you see Minnesota is represented on the roster of states. If you think any Minnesota friend desires to contribute it is not too late, but use your own judgment about the matter of further requests.

Following the Michigan campaign, I had a strong inclination to slip into Wisconsin and Minnesota, before returning to take up the Boston work, but found I could not spare the time.

How happy we shall feel at the next National convention, and what a circle of ratifiers there will be!

I have just returned from my annual hay fever vacation and find yours of Aug. 13th awaiting me.

It would indeed have been a very great pleasure to have been in St. Paul Sept. 8th for the celebration of the Suffrage Victory. It was a glorious ending to the long struggle.

The women have shown their appreciation so generally for the large part you played in this struggle - that a word of congratulation from me is unnecessary. The cause was surely fortunate that one possessed of Vision, Faith, Courage and Energy - such as you have shown - was its leader.

Just as soon as possible I will endeavor to secure at least $50 - as Meeker Co.'s quota, but I hardly think I can send it as early as Oct. 1. Could you send me names of those Mrs. Forestal found most interested in the small towns of the county - Cordially

Dear Friends:

In making a survey of the leisure time activities of Minneapolis the committee recognizes the valuable contribution to the recreational and social life of its members made by such an organization as yours as well as the other services rendered by it.

Therefore, we desire to secure a few facts about each organization that will show its usefulness in this particular direction. For that purpose we are enclosing a blank form which it will take only a few minutes of your time to fill out.

This survey is a matter of great importance to the whole city and we hope for your prompt and hearty response to our simple request.

My dear Mr. Belden:-

Complying with your request I have answered some of the questions in the blank which you sent me. Our Association was organized for the purpose of securing suffrage for the women of Minnesota. As our work is practically finished our organization will probably go out of existence before very long.

We expect to form a League of Women Voters which will be a State and National organization. The object of the Association in a general way will be to make all our women citizens intelligent voters.

You have never failed us. The columns of your paper have always been open for our use and in all the crises your vigorous editorials have helped turn the scale.

Your contribution in the effort to turn the public sentiment from indifference and opposition to acceptance has been invaluable. We can never sufficiently thank you, but we want you to know that your help is recognized and appreciated.

Nothing could be said that was more to our liking. So pleased were the members of my Board that they intend to have the article reproduced and framed as a gift to me.

Thanking you for this, and also for the generous space given for our Ratification activities.

Thank you so much for your very kind letter of September 18th. I want to assure you that it is a very great satisfaction to us to feel that we have been able to make such a real contribution to the history of our State as to help in securing Woman Suffrage. All of our struggles, hard work and discouragements are forgotten, leaving only light hearts because our work is finished.

I want to urge your co-operation now in our League of Women Voters. We want to make a great success of this. It will enable us to utilize the power that is coming to the women of Minnesota for the good of the state.

I am very glad that you are going to send us the $50.00 before long. We expect to have a very important Conference with a number of National speakers here in Minneapolis, probably sometime in October. We shall need all of our resources to take care this. My dear Mrs. Stockwell:

Your favor of the 17th instant, touching the alleged effort to bring about the removal of Major Raymond W. Pullman, Superintendent of the Police Department of Washington, D. C., is at hand and contents noted.

So far as I know the creation of the Woman's Bureau in the Police Department of Washington has very little, if anything, to do with the present opposition to Major Pullman's administration of the Police Department. The opposition is in a large measure based upon the failure of his administration in the race riots which took place in this city some time ago and which still spasmodically continue, and to inadequately dealing with the unprecedented crime wave in this city during the past few months.

I only mention these facts because it seems to me proper to take into consideration all of the factors in the case, and that it would be unwise to assume either that the establishment of the Woman's Bureau is alone responsible for the opposition to Major Pullman, or that Major Pullman's removal would of necessity result in the discontinuance of this Bureau.

I have personally no interest in the matter at all. Major Pullman is appointed and can only be removed by the President, and so far as I know there is very little likelihood of the President's taking any action whatever in the matter.

My dear Mrs. Brooks:-

Miss Wells wired you a few days ago that you were to be on our Federated Club program in Little Falls, Friday, September 26th. She said also that she hoped you could spend Thursday with us here in Minneapolis.

We have had no reply to this telegram and ask if you would please wire us as to your plans.

Looking forward with great pleasure to seeing you, I am,

Sincerely yours,

My dear Mrs. Miller:-

You had hardly left town before I thought of a question which seemed very important to me just now. In the small Citizenship Classes which you formed in your voting precincts - did the members pay anything towards the expense?

Sincerely yours,

My dear Mrs. Stockwell:

I have your kind favor of September 15 in which you convey to me the appreciation of the Minnesota Woman Suffrage Association for the co-operation given by me in securing the passage of the resolution of ratification of the suffrage amendment. I assure you and your association that I most gladly did what I could to bring about the ratification. I am by no means a recent convert to woman suffrage, having been a strong advocate of it for more than twenty-five years. There was never in my mind any question but that it was simply a matter of time when the women would be given that which as a matter of right and justice they should always have had.

Thanking you for your courtesy in writing me as you did, I remain,

Yours most sincerely,

Attorney General.

Fourth Vice President

THE AMERICAN COMMITTEE OF MINNEAPOLIS

Sept. 23, 1919.

Clara M. Heckrich,
City.

Dear Madam:-

Sailor Ryan (Henry J. Ryan of Boston, Massachusetts) "the silver tongued orator of the United States Navy", and "the apostle of the New Americanism", who during the war was detailed for service with the Emergency Fleet Corporation of the United States Shipping Board, will arrive in Minneapolis on Saturday morning, September 27th, and remain a week or ten days for the purpose of delivering a series of addresses here on "The Responsibilities of American Citizenship".

Sailor Ryan has spoken in factories, industrial plants, ship yards, schools, at open forum and patriotic meetings and from church pulpits throughout the entire country, his services being very much in demand. This is his first visit to Minneapolis, however, and we consider ourselves very fortunate in securing his services at this particular time.

If the members of your organization would like to hear an address by Sailor Ryan may we respectfully suggest that you telephone the writer immediately giving the date and hour when your organization will meet and, if he is not otherwise assigned, we will be very glad to book him for your organization.

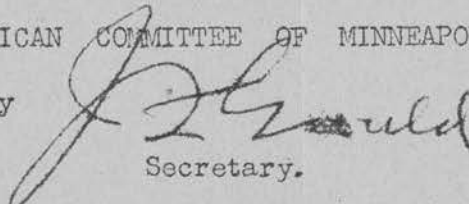

We also beg to inform you that Mr. F.G.R. Gordon of Haverhill, Mass., Secretary of the American Anti-Socialist League, who is without doubt the best student, writer, and speaker on Socialism in the country will be available for a series of addresses for three weeks beginning Monday, October 13th.

We will arrange to bring other speakers of prominence to Minneapolis from time to time and, in addition thereto, have a corps of effective local speakers and therefore from now on will be in position to furnish you with good speakers for most any occasion on short notice. We hope you will not hesitate to take advantage of this opportunity.

Yours very truly,

THE AMERICAN COMMITTEE OF MINNEAPOLIS

By

Secretary.

WHAT SOCIALISTS SAY

ABOUT MARRIAGE

FREDERICK ENGELS:

"Three great obstacles block the path of social reform—private property, religion and the present form of marriage."

BELFORT BAX:

"We ought to combat by every means within our power the meta-physical dogma of the inherent sanctity of the monogamic marriage principle."

AUGUST BEBEL:

"Man and woman being animals, can we talk of matrimony on indissoluble bonds?"

MRS. ETHEL SNOWDEN:

"Under Socialism the marriage service will probably be a simple declaration on the part of the contracting parties before the civil representative of the State."

WILLIAM MORRIS:

"A new development of the family would take place
* * * an association terminable at the needs of either."

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW:

"Unless woman repudiates her womanliness, her duty to her husband, to her children, to society, to the law, and to every one but herself, she cannot emancipate herself. Therefore woman has to repudiate duty altogether."

YET

There are Socialists who will tell you that Socialism does not stand for Free-Love!

amount is to be $75.00. Any money sent in from the county outside of Red Wing is to go toward making up this amount.
We are sorry but we think that it will be impossible for us to change this, as we are just starting our organization and have had some initial expense to meet.

Yours truly,

Grace L. Meyer

Secretary.

My dear Mrs. Thorp :

I am sending you promptly all the material we have in the way of biography and photographs of the various chairmen and leaders of the League of Women Voters.

I hope you will find that these answer your case; if not, will you let me know at once.

I am only sending you six pictures, and can send more if you wish them. I did not send your maximum number as all the chairmen are asking for photographs at once, and I was afraid we would run short, but we shall have more pictures later.

Your question about plate matter I presume has been answered by Miss Young. She has not given me any information as to what her answer was, so I am taking it for granted that you do not need further information on that matter.

Very cordially yours,

Mary Ogden White

My dear Mrs. Gellhorn:-

Thank you for your kind letter of congratulation. It is, indeed, a wonderful relief to feel that our suffrage work is practically over. We are up to our ears now in getting ready for the National Conference of Women Voters, which is to be held October 27th and 28th.

I am going to ask you to send me one or two of Mrs. Bulkley's books on Citizenship, also any other material that you St. Louis women are getting out. Please, also, put us on your mailing list. I enclose $1.00 for postage.

We had a wonderful visit with Mrs. Miller. She is a splendid woman, -one of our big national women, we think.

We shall need all we can raise in order to make this a great success.

In regard to the mis-

that leaves $50.00 to be raised in Red Wing

Dear Madam:

I have your letter of recent date written in behalf of Major Pullman.

The Police Department of this city is now being subjected to an investigation by the

the investigation is confined for the present at least, to that side of the Congress.

I am enclosing herewith some clippings in which I have no doubt you will have an inter-

PULLMAN ON STAND

House Inquiry Reveals Campaign to Retain Police Chief.

MRS. VAN WINKLE NAMED

Chairman Gould Promises to Find Source of Propaganda.

[ca Sept 23, 1919]

Commissioner Brownlow Accompanies Superintendent to Hearing and Also Is Questioned by Members of House District Subcommittee—Both Officials Now Favor Increases in Pay for Men.

The first flare of the coming light on the administration of police affairs in Washington appeared yesterday at the meeting of the subcommittee of the House District committee, of which Representative Norman J. Gould is chairman. It was the flareback of resentment reflecting the views of members of both houses of Congress over the organized propaganda set in motion from Washington with the object of making safe the jobs of Raymond W. Pullman as major and superintendent of police and Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, of Newark, N. J., as chief of the woman's bureau of the police department.

It appears that the attempt through nation-wide propaganda to coerce Congress in its dealings with the purely local affairs of Washington has had exactly the reverse of the desired effect.

Score Political Activity.

It now also becomes a subject of investigation and members of Congress mean to find out why the heads of the department and officials of the District government carry on a propaganda, or countenance such political activity on the part of the head of the woman's bureau while the patrolmen, underpaid, are not even permitted to make a personal appeal to Congress without the sanction of the commissioners.

Some one has been guilty of a serious breach of discipline and regulations, some legislators insist, and Chairman Gould announced yesterday he was going to find out who it is.

Mrs. Van Winkle promised some time ago to lead personally a nation-wide campaign against any or all members of the House or Senate who would interfere with her in her work with her bureau.

Following this have come evidences of propaganda which have annoyed and incensed many representatives and senators.

The propaganda has taken the form of letters and telegrams to members of both houses, as told in The Post some weeks ago, but Chairman Gould, who has been the chief target, has received complaints from his colleagues of the House and from senators about this attempt to coerce Congress, and he will try to find out who started the thing.

Many members have urged Chairman Gould to sift this matter for the double reason that it is first a threat against them in the performance of their sworn duty and unwarranted meddling in affairs that concern only the people of Washington, and that it is propaganda of a personal nature to preserve the positions of two employees of the District government.

Important Phase Today.

Another important development at the committee hearing yesterday, with Maj. Pullman as witness and Commissioner Louis Brownlow as chief coach, was the declaration of Chairman Gould of his intention to take up today the important phase of the inquiry, which is to learn about the administration of police affairs under Commissioner Brownlow and the major and to find out what members of the police department deserve and should be given an increase in pay.

Just at the close of the morning session, cut short by the early convening of the House, Chairman Gould announced that numerous complaints in writing had reached both Chairman Mapes, of the House District committee, and himself and other members of Congress, about the administration of police affairs under Commissioner Brownlow and Maj. Pullman, and that he believed these matters should be gone into before the subcommittee made any recommendations.

Question of Scope.

Representative Wheeler, of Illinois, a member of the subcommittee, asked whether the subcommittee could make such inquiry inasmuch as it had been named for the purpose of inquiring into the matter of increases in pay for members of the police department.

"I intend to go into these charges and complaints to determine whether the salary increases are justified, and to whom they should be given, and whether or not they should be granted while the present city administration is in authority," replied Chairman Gould with a show of determination that apparently reflected the views of other members of the subcommittee.

When Mr. Wheeler announced that he believed that the officials of the administration of police affairs should be fired from their jobs if they had failed in their duty, the major nodded his head vigorously and said, "That's right, congressman; sir, that's right."

Heard Some Rumors.

Commissioner Brownlow, questioned by Mr. Wheeler, insisted he had known of no complaint or report by a member of the board of police surgeons that the sleeping quarters of patrol drivers were insanitary and unfit for human habitation. Finally he admitted that such rumors had reached him.

He said he had sent Mrs. Brownlow to make an inspection of the sleeping quarters of the men in the several station houses, and that she had reported that in only one place had she found everything not spick and span, and in that one case it was the fault of the man who was supposed to look after his own quarters.

Subject Laid Aside.

Mr. Wheeler asked some questions about this inspection, evidently not satisfied that Mrs. Brownlow had actually played the part of a sanitary inspector to the degree that the complaint warranted, and the subject temporarily was laid aside.

Major Pullman admitted he had received an oral complaint about the sleeping quarters of some of the patrol drivers, but did not vouchsafe any information about action taken in the matter.

"Do you know how long the patrol drivers who went to work yesterday afternoon were on duty?" asked Mr. Wheeler.

"Yes, sir, they went to work at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and were relieved at 8 o'clock this morning."

"Thirteen hours for $75 a month?"

"They had their sleeping hours."

"Yes, and they might as well have slept out in the streets."

Mr. Wheeler then asked why the patrol drivers, when there was plenty of room in the station house dormitories, were not permitted to sleep with the men on reserve, in order to have sanitary quarters and be protected from the cold. Commissioner

Brownlow and Major Pullman then declared the awakening of a patrol driver to answer a call might interfere with the sleep and rest of the patrolmen on reserve. The answer caused Mr. Wheeler to laugh.

Commissioner Brownlow and the major appeared before the subcommittee yesterday in an entirely different attitude from that which had characterized their appearance before the full committee some weeks ago, when they presented their bill to increase the pay of the superintendent $500 a year, with the same increase to the other higher paid officials of the department, and providing for an increase of only $240 a year for the privates of the force, and not a cent for those classed as civilian employees, the poorest paid of all District employees.

Now Favor Increases.

Yesterday Commissioner Brownlow and the major were in favor of all the increase that could be granted members of the force and the civilian employees.

"I believe that the policemen should be the highest paid of municipal employees," said Maj. Pullman, "and that you gentlemen will live to see the day when policemen are drawing $2,000 a year."

"I agree with you," remarked Chairman Gould.

Yesterday Commissioner Brownlow and the major, acting on the suggestion of Chairman Gould, presented recommendations for increased pay for the civilian employees of the department. They started off with a $500 boost for the chief clerk, who also is the property clerk, who they claimed should have a substantial increase because he is charged with the custody of all stolen property.

Has Whisky in His Keeping.

"Are you afraid that the policemen will steal it?" asked Mr. Wheeler.

"No, sir," answered Commissioner Brownlow, "but just now, for instance, he is charged with the custody of about 9,000 quarts of good liquor."

"Is he bonded?" asked Mr. Wheeler.

"Oh, yes, sir."

"Then the case is all right."

Questions about bringing the police force up to its authorized strength skimmed the surface, showing that there have been hundreds of resignations, "desertions" and retirements on small pensions at the request of policemen of long service, until the force, from a strong organized body of men, has degenerated in many respects to a skeleton of what it was.

List of Recommendations.

Recommendations received by the committee yesterday for pay increases for certain employees of the department were as follows:

Police surgeons, from $840 to $2,500 a year.

Chief clerk, $2,000 to $2,500 a year. Increases for clerks in the offices at police headquarters.

Patrol drivers, $900 to $1,200, or to take rank as members of the metropolitan police, providing those who have come in within the past two years can pass the physical and mental examinations.

Telephone clerks, $900 to $1,200.

Police matrons, $720 to $900.

Janitors, $600 to $1,080.

Laborers, $900 to $1,080.

Messengers, $660 to $900.

Guards at House of Detention, $900 to $1,080.

Engineer, harbor patrol, increase to $1,500 a year.

Watchmen, firemen and deck hands, $660 to $1,080.

Pullman Figures Up.

Maj. Pullman was asked what the sum of the increase recommended would do. He said it had not been summed up. He was asked to take a pencil and piece of paper and add it up. He arrived at two results. It would mean $200,000 to $280,000 increase in appropriations for his department.

FEARED FOR WOMEN'S BUREAU

[Ca Sept 24, 1919]

"Who Is Mrs. Catt."—Not a Hunger Striker, Committee Learns.

Assisted by Commissioner Brownlow and Superintendent of Police Witness Gives Details of Her Work—Girls Undergo Physical Examination—Promotion System Is Revealed.

The task of explaining the propaganda to influence members of the House and Senate to continue Raymond W. Pullman as major and superintendent of the Washington police and Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, of Newark, N. J., as chief of the women's bureau of the force, was assigned to Mrs. Van Winkle yesterday before the subcommittee of the House District committee, which is investigating the police situation.

Chairman Norman J. Gould brought the matter to the attention of the committee as soon as it had assembled and Maj. Pullman and Commissioner Brownlow had taken their places at the table as joint witnesses.

Tells Why She Did It.

He called attention to the number of communications received by members of Congress from their home districts and from other parts of the country as evidence of the propaganda, and asked for an explanation.

According to Mrs. Van Winkle's testimony, this nation-wide campaign in behalf of the present Washington police system and the peculiar activities of its woman's bureau was the result of the part played by that bureau in the case of a young girl patient in a Washington hospital, who had been befriended by residents of this city who became interested in her story.

At the suggestion of Commissioner Brownlow that Mrs. Van Winkle was present and could explain, she was called to the stand, and after that she and Maj. Pullman and Commissioner Brownlow had a joint session of testifying, and spent some uncomfortable moments. Mrs. Van Winkle said, in part:

"A particular gentleman here in the District, after I was chief, said to me that he was going to close up the woman's bureau."

Asks Brownlow's Advice.

Mr. Gould—Who was that?

Mrs. Van Winkle (to Mr. Brownlow)—Shall I tell?

Mr. Brownlow—Certainly, go ahead.

Mrs. Van Winkle—It was Mr. Edward McLean, of the Washington Post. He said he was going to close up the bureau for the simple reason that he didn't think it was an essential feature in the general scheme of work in Washington, and that he generally disapproved of everything.
I am really glad to be here, gentlemen, because you would never have known about the work of the woman's bureau if they had not made such a fuss about it, and we are going to need an appropriation for protective work for girls, and I think the only way you would be interested is to be well aware of our enterprise.

Some Good Advertising.

Mr. Gould—It got you some good advertising.

Mrs. Van Winkle—Yes, and some very undesirable advertising. Now with those facts in mind, I believed that I ought to get busy, and I was busy before I reported to Maj. Pullman that I was busy; and one day
I went to his office and told him what I had done, and I said, "Now if you want me to go, I will resign, because I am going to do this work, willy-nilly. I am going to tell the women of the country that this work is a necessary feature, not only of Washington, but of every other city."

So he told me that it was all right
—at least I showed him the correspondence and he saw nothing objectionable. It was educational correspondence; it was constructive correspondence. So I really wrote to the leading women of the country and I went before every organization that would permit me to come before it.
I didn't invite myself; I have been invited, but I engineered it so that I would be invited, and I am still being invited. I have a great many dates ahead of me. I am to speak in October before the National Association of Social Hygiene and before the National Association of Women Voters, and the Prison Association, juvenile section, because they believe that we are on the right track.

Being Done Elsewhere.

This work is not new that we are doing. It is being done in a great many cities. It is being done by private organizations tacked on to police departments.

Mr. Gould—May I interrupt you just a moment, please? From your experience and from talking to other people, do you feel that work of this nature can better be done by a branch of the police department or might it better be done by the Associated Charities or something of that kind?

Mrs. Van Winkle—I don't believe in associated charities. I worked in the Associated Charities for three years, and the aim of all private charity is to make the municipalities do the work, to teach the municipality that the work is good and that it is an essential feature in municipal life. I worked for seven years to make the Newark board of health take over the infant hygiene department, but here we have the blessing of being permitted to start right, to start in the police department.

Now I can announce to you that I have made a list of all the people that I have addressed and all of the people I have appealed to, so that I could make a full confession if you want it.

Mr. Johnson—The letter that I got was clearly based upon the presumption that I was not capable of dealing justly with Maj. Pullman.

Mr. Brownlow—Some of those that I got were the same way.

Mr. Johnson—That such a letter as that should have been inspired from the women's department of the police department I resented very much. I did not answer it, however, because a woman wrote it; if a man had written it, I would have expressed myself quite freely about it.

Mrs. Van Winkle—Pardon me, but I may say, to explain this still further, that at one time—and I still am doing this—I am clipping articles from The Washington Post and sending them to Mrs. Catt, and if you will look back at the propaganda against the police department and Maj. Pullman in The Post you will find that they distinctly say that you gentlemen are going to remove him, that he has got to go.

"Who Is Mrs. Catt?"

Mr. Johnson—Who is Mrs. Catt?
Mrs. Van Winkle—Mrs. Catt is the president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

Mr. Johnson—Is she the one who went on the hunger strike over here?

Mrs. Van Winkle—No; she would not be so foolish as to do a thing like that.

Mr. Johnson—Didn't a woman of that name do it?

Mrs. Van Winkle—No.

Mr. Brownlow—No, indeed; Mrs. Catt is the head of the opposite organization; very much opposite.

Mr. Johnson—Was it a Miss Paul?

Mr. Brownlow—Yes; Miss Paul.

Mr. Johnson—Mrs. Van Winkle, do you mind going back to the visit of Mr. McLean to your office and give the reasons, if any, that he used looking toward the abolishment of the women's bureau?

Made White Slavery Charge.

Mrs. Van Winkle—Yes, I could give you that reason. He was interested in a girl whose case we were looking into and he believed that we were interfering with that case; that we had no right to investigate, although we had had a charge of white slavery in the matter, and of course sometimes we are between the devil and the deep sea; if we don't do it, if we don't investigate the case, everybody will talk about us, and if we do investigate the case some people will talk about us, but when it is a case of white slavery, the women's bureau is obliged to investigate and we did investigate. I sent two workers out. One of the investigators was a sister of Senator Harding, at present senator from Ohio, and Mr. McLean had gone so far as to tell me to discharge the two women, and he told me he liked me very much.

Mr. Johnson—To discharge what two women?

Mrs. Van Winkle—These two women, investigators on that particular case. And of course we could not humor him to that extent at all. The women had done their duty and I felt I had to do mine toward them, and the women are still with us and still doing good work. Does that cover your question?

Expresses Some Doubt.

Mr. Johnson—Well, I don't know whether he wanted it abolished because it was inefficient or not, or a useless bureau.

Mrs. Van Winkle—He thought it was useless, unnecessary.

Mr. Walters—Did Mr. McLean indicate how he proposed to go about abolishing the bureau?

Mrs. Van Winkle—He said he would fight it in The Post and on the Hill.

Mr. Johnson—You mean in Congress?

Mrs. Van Winkle—Right here where we are today; yes, sir.

Mr. Woods—Was he more interested in that particular case than in other cases, or was he against your whole system?

Mrs. Van Winkle—No, he was particularly interested in that case, and that is what drew his attention to us. Up to that time I don't think the newspapers were aware of our existence, because the quieter we can do our work the better it will be done. Our work is not the kind of work that ought to have a lot of publicity. It hurts us with those we are trying to help, and it hurts our investigations. It would be much better if no newspaper would take notice of us. With woman's suffrage it was exactly the opposite—we wanted publicity.

Mr. Brownlow—Mrs. Van Winkle, I think, in order to clarify it, you ought to say what interest Mr. McLean had in this case of this young woman.

Purely a Benevolent Matter.

Mrs. Van Winkle—Mr. McLean had a financial interest in the case. He was paying the girl's board in a hospital. It was purely a benevolent matter. He had never seen the girl; he didn't know the girl. It was really Mrs. McLean who was paying the bill, and in that way Mr. McLean was interested in the case and they just felt that we hadn't any business in the case at all, nor would we have had if this element of delinquency had not appeared. The girl had run away from home with a married man who had a wife and two children, and had been living here in a hotel with him for three months.

Mr. Gould—How could a case like that be brought to the attention of the woman's bureau, through the parents?

Mrs. Van Winkle—This case was reported to us by the nurse in the hospital; also by the probation court at Williamsport, Pa., the town from which the girl came. In addition to that, it was reported from another source, I can't remember—the Associated Charities.

Mr. Wheeler—Your object, then, was more particularly to ascertain the facts and prosecute the man in the case?

Mrs. Van Winkle—That was all we were interested in.

Sought to Punish Man.

Mr. Wheeler—To prosecute the man in the case?

Mrs. Van Winkle—Yes, sir.

Mr. Wheeler—And not the girl?

Mrs. Van Winkle—And not the girl.

We seldom prosecute a girl. We try to help her in other ways, and if she was not in a hospital, we would have placed her there ourselves.

Mr. Brownlow—You did get a warrant for the man in the case.

Mrs. Van Winkle—We got a warrant for the man and we made an original case before the grand jury, but they threw it out because we had not established the evidence in Williamsport. They told us to go to Williamsport and get witnesses there, showing that he had been seen leaving in the company of this girl; and that we have done since. We have not reopened the case because the jury was not sitting, and we will now do it.

Maj. Pullman—May I ask a question?

Mr. Gould—Certainly.

Maj. Pullman—Did Mr. McLean threaten to bring about the dismissal of any one else besides myself, and perhaps two members of the woman's bureau. Did he make any threats to bring about the dismissal of the nurse?

Doctor Scored Nurse.

Mrs. Van Winkle—No, sir; he did not. The doctor in the hospital did. The doctor in the hospital said he would dismiss the nurse, and I begged him not to do it. I told him he would regret doing it; that the girl had done her duty. He said she violated the ethics of the hospital in telling the police about this case. Well, I didn't think a woman in the country would stand by the doctor and I don't now. It was a police case, pure and simple, and it was proven that she had been taken away from her home and she was a girl about 16 years of age.

Maj. Pullman—You had numerous and rather heated conferences with Mr. McLean?

Mrs. Van Winkle—Yes, but Mr. McLean did not threaten to get rid of you, Maj. Pullman. He simply wanted me to discard the two women, the two women investigators.

No Right to Interfere.

Mr. Woods—Did he claim inefficiency in your investigation of this particular case?

Mrs. Van Winkle—He did.

Mr. Woods—In what way? In what did the inefficiency consist?

Mrs. Van Winkle—That we interfered in a case with which we had absolutely no business.

Mr. Woods—And was that the only ground that you know of for his seeking to abolish your department?

Mrs. Van Winkle—That was all, sir.

Mr. Woods—You know of no other charge from him?

Mrs. Van Winkle—None other, except that, on general principles, he does not believe in the work.

Mr. Wheeler—Nothing has been said by Mr. McLean, has there, by himself or his paper, since that particular time?

Mrs. Van Winkle—Yes, sir; I have a great many clippings here that began on July 26, in which he is constantly attacking the woman's bureau.

Mr. Wheeler—But he perhaps was not against the woman's bureau prior to that time?

Mrs. Van Winkle—He could not have been against it, because he didn't know that it existed. He simply heard of it through this case.

Mr. Wheeler—You don't know that he didn't know that it existed?

Mrs. Van Winkle—No.

Mr. Wheeler—But you think he did not?

Mrs. Van Winkle—Yes, I suppose that. I inferred that.

Girls Must Be Examined.

Under frequent questioning by members of the committee Mrs. Van Winkle entered into a long discussion of the work of the woman's bureau, including the physical examination of young girls who come into the hands of members of the bureau, although there is no law authorizing such procedure. She said that the girls sign a request for examination before it is given. She praised the work of herself and her bureau.

Mr. Johnson directed attention to the fact that a photograph of members of the woman's bureau had recently appeared in one of the local papers, and asked if that was considered good policy.

"I don't know that the picture was taken for the press, but it was printed," said Mr. Brownlow.

Chairman Gould also questioned the witnesses about the promotions by which Mrs. Van Winkle was given the rank of detective sergeant almost as soon as she joined the force, while usually policemen have to wait eight years to reach the rank from which detective sergeants usually are drawn.

Her Promotion Explained.

There was no explanation except that Mrs. Van Winkle had to be given a higher rank than the other members of her bureau in order to assume command.

Chairman Gould also went deeply into the matter of appointments, promotions and retirements and obtained some valuable information which showed favoritism and not merit rules under the present system.

The committee adjourned to meet at 10:30 o'clock this morning.
