COME AND MARCH IN THE BRILLIANT TORCH LIGHT PARADE

Saturday evening, Nov. 9th

Woman Suffrage Organizations will celebrate the victories in the Woman Suffrage Campaign States.

Torches, lanterns, electric lighted banners and batons, Greek fire searchlights will make Fifth Avenue a glorious picture of suffrage triumph and enthusiasm. We need you to swell this march of victory.

YOU who have worked with us in the past for the freedom and advancement of women, join this pageant of womanhood.

YOU who will work with us in the future, come and catch the inspiration of this noble comradeship. March in triumph and joy for those, your sister States, which have been added to our present six States where women vote.

March in hope and anticipation that our NEW LEGISLATURE IN NEW YORK STATE will this year respond to the great public demand for Votes for Women.

March with unconquerable determination to do all in your power to get that bill through the legislature this year.

Enroll to march now. One week before the parade marchers will be sent post cards giving full directions assigning you to one of the blocks East or West of Fifth Avenue, between 53rd and 58th Streets. Every suffragist may fall in line without invitation, and without belonging to an organization.

All Welcome!

But if you send in your name we will give you a better place and a chance to obtain desired decorations. Wear white if convenient. Be quiet, dignified, obey your marshall.

HENNEPIN AVENUE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY THIRTEENTH, EIGHT O'CLOCK

BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;
He hath loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible swift sword,
His truth is marching on.

Glory! glory hallelujah! Glory! glory hallelujah!
Glory! glory hallelujah! His truth is marching on.

I have seen Him in the watch-fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded Him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I can read His righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps.
His day is marching on.

I have read a fiery gospel, writ in burnished rows of steel;
"As ye deal with my contemners, so with you my grace shall deal;
Let the Hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel,
Since God is marching on."

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat;
O, be swift, my soul, to answer Him! be jubilant my feet!
Our God is marching on.

In the beauty of the lilies, Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me;
As He died to make men holy, let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.

O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen thro' the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected, now shines on the stream:

'Tis the star-spangled banner: O, long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

O thus be it ever when free-men shall stand
Between their lov'd home and wild war's desolation;
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n rescued land
Praise the pow'r that hath made and preserv'd us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust!"

And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

✓ In this lecture we have a rare opportunity of hearing a most unusual speaker on a subject which is of vital interest to all men and women who desire a more intelligent electorate

Mrs. Schoonmaker makes her subject most interesting. She is a young southern woman and is full of stories told with the droll southern drawl that makes you laugh even before you know what the joke is going to be.

Call to the Forty-fourth Convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association to be held in Philadelphia, November 21-26, 1912

A Summons to Progressive Men and Women

We hereby send out across this great continent, east and west, north and south, a call to YOU, who have so long been our comrades in the crusade for human progress and for women's freedom.

We send a call to YOU, also, YOU thousands who are just coming forward to join us, YOU who are to be our comrades in the great future before us. Come and realize the inspiration that sustains the common advocacy of a great Cause; the exhilaration of soul that rises in everyone who is part of a great united effort.

No suffragist can remain unmoved by the tide of enthusiasm which will carry this convention along when we come in November with hearts beating high with victory. "Failure is impossible," and even temporary defeats become less and less frequent. This will be a triumphant convention. If from any campaign State you cannot come in triumph, you will come with unconquerable determination and undiminished zeal to tell of a new campaign. The corrupt interests and politicians must learn that we cannot be defeated, that their temporary advantage over equal suffrage is petty, uneconomic and futile.

This convention has big problems confronting it, interesting, stimulating problems coincident with the tremendous expansion of our movement, problems worthy the indomitable mettle of suffrage workers. But in spite of hard work, this week will be a gala week, a compensation to you for all the hard, dull, gray work during the past year and a stimulus for still harder work during the year to come.

Come and hear how your great National Suffrage Organization, sensitive to the laws of demand and supply in the suffrage world, has evolved an important suffrage publication centre; how with its ear ever bent to catch the first footfall of Liberty around the whole earth, the National Press Bureau has received and disseminated wonderful volumes of news relative to the freedom and advancement of womenkind.

Come and listen to your fellow-workers, and listening and sympathizing with the unselfish labor being carried on everywhere, pledge yourself to a flaming loyalty to suffrage and suffragists that will burn away all dross of dissension, all barriers to united effort.

Let us come with high resolve that we shall never waver in our effort to obtain the right to stand side by side with the men of this country in the mortal struggle that shall bid perish from this land political corruption, privilege, prostitution, the industrial slavery of men, women and children, and all exploitation of humanity.

Let us come together, then, in this autumn of 1912, this unprecedented year of suffrage in the United States, consecrating ourselves anew on this, the greatest of all battle grounds for democracy, the United States of America.

Local arrangements and reduced railroad rates for the Forty-fourth Convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, to be held in Philadelphia, November 21-26, 1912

LOCAL ARRANGEMENTS.

The local arrangements for the Convention are being pushed with the fervor which the people of Philadelphia exhibit when they undertake to entertain a convention.

The Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association has appointed a Committee on Hospitality, which plans to find entertainment in private homes for all delegates who wish such entertainment, i. e., lodging and breakfast.

For those who prefer not to be entertained in private homes the following hotel rates are given:

Hotel Walton	Per day
Single room, without bath,	$2.00 and up
“ “ with “	3.00 “ “
Double room, without bath,	3.00 “ “
“ “ with “	4.00 “ “

The Bellevue-Stratford	Per day
Single room, without bath,	$2.50 and up
“ “ with “	3.50 “ “
Double room, with “	4.50 “ “

For information on entertainment, and also about other hotels and boarding-houses, write to

Chairman of Hospitality Committee,
Suffrage Headquarters,
Hale Bldg., cor. Chestnut and Juniper Sts., Philadelphia.

The generosity of the Pennsylvania Suffrage Association, besides the entertainment for delegates, includes providing Witherspoon Hall for the convention sessions, the Metropolitan Opera House for the Sunday afternoon meeting, and badges which are being made from a beautiful original design.

It is confidently expected that the thanksgiving mass meeting to be held in Metropolitan Opera House on Sunday will be the largest suffrage meeting in the history of the United States.

The delegate and visitor to the City of Brotherly Love will find the city unique in that it holds within its environs the birthplace of the United States, Independence Hall, where the Declaration of Independence was framed and ratified, and where "Old Glory," the Stars and Stripes, was first made by Betsey Ross. We now have six stars on our suffrage flag, and hope to have the rare delight of adding five more at the time of the convention, for then the returns will be in and we will know for how many more suffrage States we may give thanks.

Philadelphia claims many "first things," among them being the first medical school, the first hospital, the first lightning rod set up, first waterworks, first law school, first Supreme Court, first piano made, first United States flag, etc., and it is the first time that Philadelphia will have entertained the National Suffrage Convention.

RAILROAD RATES.

A reduction of a fare and three-fifths, on the certificate plan, has been secured, covering the following territory:

(1) Trunk Line R. R. Association.

From Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Suspension Bridge, Dunkirk and Salamanca, N. Y.; Erie and Pittsburgh, Pa.; Bellaire, Ohio; Wheeling, Parkersburg and Kenora, W. Va.; and points east thereof.

(2) Southeastern Passenger Association.

Cairo, Ill., and all stations in the territory south of the Ohio and Potomac and east of the Mississippi Rivers.

(3) New England R. R. Association.

All points in New England States.

As neither the Western nor Southwestern Passenger Associations have at this time joined in this concession of rates, it is better for persons from those territories to purchase round trip tickets, and meantime try to bring such pressure to bear upon these associations that they also will confer the reduced rates for their patrons.

Purchase your ticket on the certificate plan whether by so doing you save little or much, and you will help those who wish the reduction in rate; and IT IS BETTER TO SAVE MONEY FOR THE CAUSE than to give it to the railroads.

Be sure and get a certificate when purchasing your ticket whether you intend to use it or not, because the reduction for the return journey is contingent on an attendance at the meeting of not less than 100 persons holding regularly issued certificates.

Tickets and certificates at the regular full one-way first-class fare for the GOING journey may be secured within three days (exclusive of Sunday) prior to, and during the first three days of the meeting. The convention opens November 21 and closes November 26, consequently you can obtain your GOING ticket not earlier than November 18 nor later than November 23.

Your certificate must be validated at the convention on November 25 by the railroad secretary (for which the railroads collect a fee of 25 cents), after which you will be entitled to buy (up to and including November 29) a continuous passage RETURN ticket by the same route over which you made the going journey, at three-fifths of the regular one-way first-class fare.

Any desired information may be obtained from Mrs. Lawrence Lewis, 1820 Pine street, who is State Chairman of Local arrangements.

Chairman Local Arrangements and Railroads for N. A. W. S. A.

Women Have Voted This Store The Style-Centre of Philadelphia

THIS STORE has been elected Philadelphia's principal Outfitting Store for women. Its office is to serve—in presenting the new and the authentic; in offering merchandise of integrity only; in sharing the trade benefits accruing by reason of its pre-eminence in wholesale and retail circles, with the tens of thousands to whom economy stands for quality at lowest prices.

The same principals which are factors in the woman-movement of today are the governing forces of this Store—fair play, the spirit of a progressive age, and recognition of a duty and a privilege. Of special interest is our presentation of—

Women's Suits Variety unsurpassed; many styles that have no rivals. Every fashionable material is represented, every favored color in evidence. Particularly good value in Suits at $25.00, made of diagonal, wide-wales, broadcloth, cheviot, serge, fancy suitings and mixtures, in black and lovely autumn colors. Strictly tailors modeled vie with Suits beautifully elaborated with braid, velvet and buttons.

Elegance in Coats From plain-tailored Jackets for women who cannot or do not desire to wear Long Coats, through varying lengths—Three-quarter-length Coats and others falling just below the knee, to Top Coats suggesting perfection in line and tailoring—everything is here. Variety unequalled in styles, materials and colorings.

Magnificent Furs High-class in every particular—in the expert treatment of the pelt, the wonderful skill used in fashioning them, the artistic inspiration of the varied and graceful styles. Not only are these sumptuous Coats and Wraps fit for royalty, but Muffs, Stoles and Sets of every fashionable fur, priced far below what women usually expect to pay for Furs of the highest quality.

For Woman's Suffrage—Incidentally

- ¶ The North American believes in and advocates Woman Suffrage, of course. It is a Progressive newspaper, and that is a Progressive policy.
- ¶ But this is not a conclusive reason for reading the North American. It is for Woman's Suffrage incidentally—because it is for all policies which promote better government, better citizenship, a better race.
- ¶ Its news columns—and its advertising columns, too—are clean, honest, comprehensive. Its editorials are clear, informative, helpful. It is not only a reflection of the world's life, but a daily record of uplifting activities.
- ¶ It aids not only in home-making, but in race-building.
- ¶ It is a day-by-day history of movements in sociology, education, public health, humanitarianism—those things in which woman's influence is most potent.

¶ Women who think, women who feel, women who have interests in life beyond the routine of the home — these find The North American a source of information and inspiration.

"FAITHFUL"
The Equitable Cat, A Heroine, Survivor of Big Fire
"Faithful" was rescued half starved from the ruins of the Equitable Building ten days after the fire. This had been her home for five years, and there she chose to stay—ruins or no ruins, for two months after the fire. She will go down in history as the model of feline devotion to home—and as for friends! There was scarcely a man working on those blackened walls who hasn't saved a bit of his lunch for "Faithful" every noon time since the fire. "Faithful" now belongs to Miss Lewis, of the Woman's Insurance Department, 500 Fifth Avenue. Miss Lewis is an adept on insurance and is fond of pets. She has for years been connected with the Equitable Life Insurance Company, and in "Faithful" she found a mascot who represented both.

My country 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing.
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the pilgrim's pride,
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring.

Let music swell the breeze,
And ring from all the trees,
Sweet freedom's song.
Let mortal tongues awake,
Let all that breathe partake,
Let rocks their silence break,
The sound prolong.

Our fathers' God, to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing.

Long may our land be bright,
With Freedom's holy light,
Protect us by thy might,
Great God, our King.—Amen.

William Dean Howells at a luncheon at Kittery Point said of a certain popular novelist: "There is about as much poetry in him as in McMasters. McMasters, you know, was walking with a beautiful girl in a wild New England wood. 'What is your favorite flower, Mr. McMasters?' the girl asked softly. McMasters thought a moment, then cleared his throat and answered, 'Well, I believe I like the whole wheat best.'"

A prominent Philadelphia judge, who is an enthusiastic golfer, was examining a boy witness in a criminal suit.

"Jimmy Farley, sir."

"Are you sure, James, you understand the nature and significance of an oath?" the judge inquired.

The Onward March of a Republican Form of Government in the Nation

A Republic is a form of government in which the laws are enacted by representatives elected by the people.

This is the accepted definition of a Republic; in consequence the only republics in these United States are the ten white States in the map above, where the people, men people and women people, elect their representatives.

The sweeping victory for Votes for Women in the States of Kansas, Arizona, Oregon and Michigan is but an indication of the growth of suffrage sentiment throughout the nation, wherever our question is not sacrificed by manipulating interests in order to carry some other measure desired by those who possess the suffrage, as was the case in Ohio.

The far-reaching influence of this greatest triumph ever won for woman suffrage cannot be measured. The bond of interest and sympathy which unites all suffragists is better understood by a message from Mrs. Henry Fawcett, of England, who says: "A victory in only one State will mean much to us, but success in several will mean victory for us." This feeling is shared by all the nations of Europe.

The Call

By ELLEN GLASGOW.

Woman called to woman at the daybreak!
When the bosom of the deep was stirred,
In the gold of dawn and in the silence,
Woman called to woman and was heard!

Steadfast as the dawning of the polestar,
Secret as the fading of the breath;
At the gate of Birth we stood together,
Still together at the gate of Death.

Queen or slave or bond or free, we battled,
Bartered not our faith for love or gold;
Man we served, but in the hour of anguish
Woman called to woman as of old.

Hidden at the heart of earth we waited,
Watchful, patient, silent, secret, true;
All the terrors of the chains that bound us
Man has seen, but only woman knew!

Woman knew! Yea, still, and woman knoweth!—
Thick the shadows of our prison lay—
Yet that knowledge in our hearts we treasure
Till the dawning of the perfect day.

Onward now as in the long, dim ages,
Onward to the light where Freedom lies;
Woman calls to woman to awaken!
Woman calls to woman to arise!

The Boy

W. H. PIERCE

I wouldn't be a single thing on earth Except a boy; And it's just an accident of birth That I'm a boy; And, good gracious! When I stop and think That I once trembled on the very brink Of making my appearance here a girl, It fairly makes my ears and eyebrows curl— But I'm a boy.	And "Here, do this—do that—the other thing!" And, worse than all, there's girls—oh, holy smoke! Are they a crime, or are they just a joke! Upon a boy? And then, there's always somebody to jaw When you're a boy— Somebody always laying down the law To every boy; "Pick up your coat; see where you've put your hat; Don't stone the dog, don't tease the poor old cat; Don't race around the house"—why, suf- ferin' Moses! The only time you have to practice things like these is When you're a boy!
Just think of all the jolly fun there is When you're a boy! I tell you, you're just full of business When you're a boy. There's fires to build in all the vacant lots, Go swimmin', tie the fellers' clothes in knots, Tie tin cans on the tails of dogs—why, gee! The days ain't half as long as they should be When you're a boy.	And yet, I don't believe I'd change a thing For any boy; You've got to laugh, to cry, to work, to sing, To be a boy; With all this thoughtless noise and care- less play, With all his heartfelt trials day by day, With all his boyish hopes and all his fears, I'd like to live on earth a thousand years, And be a boy.
There's lots of foolish things that make you tired When you're a boy; There's heaps of grouchy men that can't be hired To like a boy; There's wood to chop at home, and coal to bring,

And some day YOUR Boy will be a great big man, and then when you think of his happy golden boyhood days you will prize among your dearest treasures the one thing that can recall them most vividly to your mind

Votes for Women

Compliments of

Strawbridge & Clothier

A woman lately wrote an editor of the personal column and said:

"I have lost three husbands and now have the offer of a fourth. Would you advise me to accept him?"

The reply came: "If you have lost three husbands I should say you are too careless to be trusted with a fourth."

An artist who occupied a studio on the top floor of a large building was always friendly with the woman who cleaned his rooms.

"How many children have you, Molly?" he asked one morning as she was polishing the floor.

"It's seven I have, sir, thankin' ye for askin'. It's lucky I am, sir, bless 'em. I have four by the third wife of me second husband, and three by the second wife of me first."

"Equal suffrage for Missouri in 1914," was the slogan adopted at a special meeting of the State Association recently. A systematic plan to raise funds has been put in effect, headquarters established in St. Louis, and organizers will be sent into all the cities and towns throughout the state.

From Vancouver, B. C., comes the assurance that the women of that province will undoubtedly secure political enfranchisement within the next 15 months, when the new Legislature convenes.

Hawaiian suffragists are sending huge orders for literature to the National Headquarters, are holding meetings and organizing societies in parts of the country, and report that equal suffrage is admitted to be the most important subject now before their people. The Hawaiian Republican Convention, in recent session, adopted a Woman Suffrage plank in its platform to do all it can in support of the cause.

An editorial in the New York Journal says: "The women of this country will have the right to vote and that right soon. The politicians have laughed at woman suffrage, and those who would not even mention the subject for fear of seeming ridiculous are suddenly interested in women and their opinions. Every candidate running for President of the United States in 1912 has declared himself in favor of votes for women, either at once or 'bye and bye.'"

John L. Mitchell, of the American Federation of Labor, in a recent interview referred to the cause of Woman Suffrage as gaining ground throughout the entire world. He said in part: "The various political parties have come to recognize that it is a great issue, and are therefore introducing the plank in their platforms. It is a live issue in the Eastern States, and is making great headway in the West. The American Federation of Labor has gone on record as officially endorsing woman suffrage."

"What is it, asked the teacher, that binds us together and makes us better than we are by nature?" "Corsets," said a wise little girl of eight.

"The vacuum," said a student in one of our large institutions of higher education, "is a large empty space in which the Pope resides."

Though Woman has but lately understood

The burden of democracy.

The daily irony of strife

In which her saving sense is overdue,

She watches now and grows aware—

Holding a child more dear than property.

That the many perish to empower the few—

That homeless politics have split apart

The common country of the human heart.

We have been too long reluctant to equip

With opportunity.

Her waking will strip

From us accustomed profit and corrupt increase

Gifts of war that masquerades as peace,

We have been in awe

Too long of garments and of beds.

We are in need

Not merely of the lips that kiss and hands that feed,

But of the hearts that heed,

And of the minds that speed like rain.

The woman we have loved as mother or as wife,

We need her counsel early and again

No more in Colorado than in Maine,

And not her counsel only, but her law:

The very life of life.

These changes make democracy,

And like a whisper from the shore,

Which we are ever nearer than before.

The citizen in whom I most have seen

The old and new unite to teach

The final common lot,

Is woman, mystical, serene.

WITTER BYNNER

AS THE TIDE TURNS.

They came out of the house together and crossed the sidewalk to a waiting automobile. The girl, who was young and charming, was wrapped in furs. At the side of the motor she paused.

"Good-bye, Jimmy," she said, holding out her hand to the young man beside her. "Be sure to come out on election day. There will be a hunt breakfast and a dance at night."

He flushed like a conscious child while he answered, "I am afraid I can't get off. I must vote, you know."

"Vote! you! Oh, Jimmy, really? Are you really twenty-one? But never mind. Come any way. You can vote next year. And you know everything goes on just the same, no matter who you vote for."

"Perhaps so, but it is our own fault. With the ballot we can do anything we like; it's a great power." He spoke with pride and a conscious dignity. "I think I ought to vote, Amy; there are several important issues this year."

"For instance?" queried the girl.

"Well, woman suffrage, for one thing."

"Woman suffrage—oh, Jimmy! If you stay to vote for that I'll never ask you to Hillcrest again."

"I won't vote for it, Amy; I'll vote against it. I've got some sentiment and sense left. Politics is no subject for women to meddle with; they should stay at home and leave politics to us. I know I would not want my wife hanging 'round the polls."

"Your wife!" When you have one, she may want to decide that for herself. I guess there are worse places than the polls. Only I, for one, want to be free to go hunting instead of voting. But I suppose I must let you off. Only be sure to vote against woman suffrage. Vote twice, once for me."

She waived her hand at him gaily as the motor slid away into the melee of vehicles that filled the street.

But somehow that last phrase stuck in the young man's mind—"Vote twice; once for me." So then she had a decided opinion of her own that she wanted expressed at the polls, but how could any one express it for her? He himself, for instance, agreed with her on the subject, but he could express his own opinion, not hers. There were two people and only one vote. He walked slowly along pondering over this and trying to solve the difficult mathematical problem of making one voice obey two minds. He was also vaguely resentful that Amy should treat his new power so lightly. To him it seemed a very important thing to cast a vote; there were so many questions to be decided and it was so fateful how one voted. It was no light thing to help decide the policy of a nation.

The crowd was growing denser about him, and he found himself roughly jostled and shoved to one side. A policeman came toward him, holding a young woman by the arm, her hair was flying about her face, her skirt and shoes were muddy. She came reluctantly, so that the officer of the law almost dragged her along through the crowd.

"Going to the workhouse, kid?" screamed a girl at his elbow with a shrill laugh. "My, but they're fools, them girls!"

"What has she done?" the young man found himself asking in disgust.

"Oh, swiped a quarter, I guess. She ain't had no job this three weeks. Got fired because she tried to organize the girls, catch? It wasn't no cinch, e'ther; $3.50 per week. But they can't stand no strike leaders, so she got fired; now she's blacklisted, and that's the finish of Katy-Did, see? Now she's Katy-Can't all right."

The crowd passed on; Jimmy was soon clear of it. But the face of the arrested girl and the harsh voice of the other one, even their dirty down-trodden shoes lingered in his mind, wiping out the memory of lovelier girlhood that had been with him before.

The scene was brutal, he thought. Surely, such conditions were intolerable. But what was the remedy? What could they do, girls like that? And suddenly it flashed to his mind, "They can't even vote, those girls." Poverty and dirt and underpaid work was their lot, and yet they had not even man's weapon—the ballot. "And, by George, they need it; if any one needs it, they do."

There were millions of girls like this who had no chance in life. "I can help give them one weapon," he reflected. "It would be dastardly of me to deny them any help I can give. Of course, they will have to learn what to do with it—but the ballot is a weapon, and they ought to have it."

He walked faster; he felt excited, as though this great intruding tide was carrying him to new realms of thought and action. He was consciously working out some problem for himself, consciously deciding an important issue from facts, not theory; consciously leaving the ranks of the past generation and definitely taking his place in the new. "By George, I'll do what I can for them," he thought. "I'll vote for woman suffrage." And he did—poor Amy!

JESSIE ASHLEY.

One of the most attractive transparencies carried in the great procession in New York City on Saturday evening, November 9, read "Connecticut will be the first suffrage star in the East."

A lady there was who said, "Why Should men have the vote and not I? To call this democracy Is naught but hypocrisy—I'll get me the ballot or die."

DISAPPOINTED.

Small girl at a football match scans the scene with eagerness; then in disappointed tones: "Mother, I don't see any cripples!"

"Of course, not yet, my dear; the game is young. What did you expect?"

"Well, where are the quarterbacks and halfbacks who were to play?"—Judge.

QUICK WIT.

"Alert?" repeated ex-Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks, when questioned concerning one of his political opponents. "Why, he's alert as a Providence bridegroom I heard of the other day. You know how bridegrooms, starting off on their honeymoons sometimes forget all about their brides and buy tickets only for themselves. That is what happened to the Providence young man. And when his wife said to him, 'Why, Tom, you bought only one ticket,' he answered without a moment's hesitation, 'By jove, you're right dear! I'd forgotten myself entirely!'"—Lippincott's.

A system of identification whereby delegates may know each other's names and home town by use of numbered buttons will be used at the Convention.

The Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association has doubled its membership during the last year, and now ranks third as to number of delegates in the National Convention. There seems to be no question but that the State is on the eve of a campaign, and that Votes for Women may be obtained in 1915. May she become the first suffrage star in the East!

Now is the time to subscribe to all magazines through the National Suffrage Association. Miss Pope, at the literature table, will tell you all about it and gladly take your subscriptions or renewals.

Mr. Hammond will also speak at Hamline College on Monday morning and at Macalester College on Tuesday morning, and will speak at one noon shop meeting and one men's club luncheon.

No admission will be charged at any meeting, but some collections will be taken. It is your chance to hear one of the great lecturers and leading workers on this burning question of the day: the vice, lawlessness and white slavery, and what the world is doing about it. John B. Hammond, famous author of the "Iowa Law," has moved the world. Invite everybody to hear him.

Mr. Hammond has carried his message into every state in the Union and into every province in Canada, and has been received everywhere with the greatest enthusiasm. His addresses are warnings to parents and girls against the terrors of white slavery, appeals to boys for a pure life, exposures of corrupt officials who tolerate dens of infamy, whether high or low, from president down to policeman, a defiance to the grafters who use this means to fill their money-bags, whether it be through rent, loans, threats or brute force, an exposition of the rights of the people under the Red Light Injunction law, and the annihilation of the doctrine of "segregation" as a method of handling the social evil.

Hammond's Red Light Injunction and Abatement Law, adopted by Iowa and Nebraska, is attracting the attention of reformers throughout the world.

Mr. Hammond's Lectures Have Been Endorsed by the Following Societies:

The World's Purity Federation,
The Chicago Vice Commission,
The Moral and Social Reform Council of Canada,
The International Reform Bureau,
The Illinois Vigilance Association,
The Law and Order League of Chicago,
The W. C. T. U. of a number of states.
The Board of Public Welfare of Kansas City, Missouri,
The National Christian League,
The Good Citizens' Association of New Mexico,
The Indiana State Civic Union,

and is being championed by that great national magazine, Leslie's Weekly, which has been leading the fight in the United States against the white slavery crime, and The Light, the official organ of the World's Purity Federation.

BULLETIN No. 1

As a part of the nation-wide celebration on the 2d of May, the Suffragists of Minneapolis in conference Saturday, March 21st, decided to have a parade and a mass meeting on that day.

Suffragists from St. Paul and other towns in the state are invited to take part in this celebration.

A parade, if it is a successful one, is probably the best method of attracting attention and arousing enthusiasm, and all who believe in votes for women are urged to help. Will you not sign one of the enclosed pledge cards, and if possible get others to sign?

The committee is conferring with the artists of the city and expects to adopt plans that will result in a beautiful and impressive spectacle.

Please state in which one of the following general divisions you wish to march.

Pioneers.

Suffrage organizations.

Cavalry.

Home-makers.

College women—(In cap and gown).

Students—University, high schools, private schools, business colleges, etc.

Professional women—Doctors, lawyers, teachers, social workers, stenographers, nurses, etc.

CALL TO THE FORTY-SIXTH NATIONAL SUFFRAGE CONVENTION

The National American Woman Suffrage Association issues this year the Call for its forty-sixth Annual Convention. It summons the delegates of its sixty member-associations to meet together for inspiration and for counsel.

Being met, they are to hear from each other of victories won, of progress rapid and ever more rapid towards our mighty goal, of the nation's constantly widening sympathy with our high aim. Our task will be to formulate judgment on those great issues of the day which nearly concern women; to choose the leaders who, during the coming year are to guide the fortunes of our cause; and finally, to deliberate how the whole National body may, on the one hand, best give aid and succor to the states working for their own enfranchisement, and, on the other, press for federal action in behalf of the women of the nation at large. May our resolutions and conclusions be born of wisdom and power, be inspired by that deep sense of kinship and sympathy, potent to warm the heart and fire the will to further effort, which springs from intercourse with fellow-workers gathered together from far and wide.

Since the last Convention met, all the horror of a great war has fallen upon the civilized world. The hearts of thousands of women have been torn for the death and wounds of those they bore, of those they love. Yet never has their will and power to help been greater, never man's need of such help been more clearly seen. We, who are spared the anguish of war, well understand that, as weight is given in the world's affairs to the voice of women, moved as men are not, by all the tragic waste of battles, the chances of such slaughter must perpetually diminish. Now is the time, when all things point to the violence that rules the world, now is the very time to press our claim to a share in the guidance of our country's fortunes, to urge that woman's vision must second and rectify that of man.

Let us, then, in Convention assembled kindle with the thought that, as we consider methods for the political enfranchisement of our sex, our wider purpose is to free women and to enable woman's conception of life in all its aspects to find expression. Then woman's horror of war and of all needless misery, woman's indignation at the exploitation of her sister-woman, woman's care for and wise stress upon the needs of the child will become operative. Let us set a fresh seal upon the great new loyalty of women to women; let our response be felt in the deep tide of fellowship and understanding between all women which to-day is rising round the world.

Suffrage Association.

Headquarters,
505 Fifth Avenue,
New York City.

The Convention will be held by invitation of the Tennessee Equal Suffrage League in Nashville, Tennessee, November 12th to 17th, inclusive.

It will be in many respects the most important Convention in the history of the National Association. Plans must be made for winning the enfranchisement of the women of the whole country in the speediest, most practicable manner possible.

Team work and far-sighted intelligence are needed, as never before.

Will all those who can serve as delegates please notify the officers of their local associations as promptly as possible, in order that the delegations from every state may be full and representative of the very best suffrage activity.

RAILROAD RATES:

The Committee on Railroad Rates for the 1913 Convention found that the railroads would make concessions in rates for the Convention in a small section of the country only. The southern roads would make no concessions at all. The rate, where it was secured, was a deduction of two-fifths of the return passage, and recently those roads have decided not to offer that any longer. Therefore, there is practically no work for the Railroad Rates Committee to do. However, all the roads have a standing arrangement by which ten people traveling together from any one place on one special ticket may secure a reduced rate, which, in most cases, is about the same as that previously secured by the Railroad Rates Committee.

Delegates from any one state can use local tickets from various towns and cities to the nearest big city en route, and there join others in the purchase of the ten-person tickets to Nashville.
