"The great advance of Women in the last century—moral, intellectual and economic—has been made without the vote. Therefore, we believe the vote is not needed for their further advancement."

Men made great advance without the vote. They believed and have proved that the vote was needed for their further advancement. Women should have the same opportunity for advancement.

"In the large sense, women now stand outside of politics and are therefore free to appeal to any party in matters of Municipal and State Welfare, including Charity and Reform, in a non-partisan spirit. However, women have the privilege of voting for the School Board and the Library Board. Last year, these two Boards received from taxes and bond issues the sum of $2,993,962.27, or about one-third of the city appropriation. As only about 6 per cent of the women voted on the administration of these funds, why give them further representation?"

Where a single issue is involved the vote of men is always light. At some special school elections the men's vote has been less than 2 per cent. "Matters of Municipal and State Welfare, including Charity and Reform," are now for the most part non-partisan measures. The women's vote in suffrage states is for the most part non-partisan. If it were true that those outside of politics had more freedom of appeal to parties, then groups of men, such as railroad men or laboring men, would seek disfranchisement in order to gain this added influence.

"The basis of Government is Force, its stability rests upon its physical power to enforce its laws. Therefore it is inexpedient to grant the vote to women who cannot so enforce the laws they may enact."

The basis of Government is not force but the consent of the governed. Its stability rests upon public opinion. Physical disability does not disfranchise men.

"Voting is only a small part of Government. The need of America is not an increased quantity but an improved quality of the vote. We consider the interests of the Community to be more important than those of the Individual."

Voting is the source of all governmental authority. The need of America is a broader basis of Government. Less than one-fifth of the population has the right to vote. The class which comprises all of the mothers and most of the teachers cannot fail to improve the quality of the vote.

"The vote is not a natural right, nor is it a right bestowed upon tax payers. It is not a question of right, but of expediency for the public welfare."

There is no such thing as a nature given right. Rights are granted by the state. The vote is a right which is no more natural nor artificial than any other right. Woman suffrage is expedient. Its adoption by neighboring states is the best evidence of its expediency.

"Woman's suffrage is the demand of a minority of women. The majority of women are not asking for it. According to the last U. S. Census report obtainable, there are 24,555,754 women of voting age in the United States and the Suffrage Party claim three to four million of this number. Should the minority rule the majority?"

Four million women are already entitled to vote in the suffrage states. If these women did not wish the vote they could at any time elect to disfranchise themselves. They have not done so. Those who believe in it and are asking for it in other states have not been counted. The women who are organized to further the cause of equal suffrage outnumber more than fifty to one those who are organized against it. In addition to the suffrage organizations, which number more than one thousand, approximately six hundred organizations have endorsed woman suffrage. Among these are:

International Council of Women
World's W. C. T. U.
National W. C. T. U.
Society of Friends
American Federation of Labor
National Consumers' League

National Educational Association
National Federation of Women's Clubs
National Women's Trades Union League
National Grange
National Child Labor Committee X
National Conference of Charities and Correction

"Woman's vote is not a factor in the Prohibition movement, because out of their eleven suffrage states, Kansas is the only one which has Prohibition and that state had Prohibition many years before women had the vote. Eight Non-Suffrage States are Prohibition States."

Local or County Option, and not Prohibition, is the form temperance legislation has taken in suffrage states. This is their record:

Idaho and Wyoming, 90 per cent dry.

Colorado with 50 out of 62 counties dry. — dry 1914

Utah with 110 dry towns, 2 wet.

Washington with 115 dry towns, 18 wet.

California with 682 dry towns, where she had but 200 before women voted.

Illinois with 1,000 saloons closed as the result of the first election in which women had a voice.

The liquor interests everywhere acknowledge woman suffrage as their enemy, and support liberally with their money movements against it.

"Wages depend upon the markets, upon labor competition, upon skill and permanency, upon quality of output; wages are determined by supply and demand, not by the ballot."

Wages can be and are modified by legislation. The minimum wage law is an example.

The late Carroll D. Wright, National Commissioner of Labor, said, "The lack of direct political influence constitutes a powerful reason why women's wages have been kept at a minimum."

"Suffrage states do not show better laws governing Prostitution than non-suffrage states. The enforcement of these laws shows no improvement in suffrage states. Public Opinion is the real remedial agent. Women banded together, as disinterested and non-partisan workers for the public good, can mould public opinion better than voting women divided by party politics: just as men have organized non-partisan Clubs and Commissions for purposes of improvement and reform."

It is easier both to obtain and enforce laws against prostitution and similar evils in states where women vote. Five out of ten suffrage states have passed the Injunction and Abatement law, acknowledged the most effective weapon against commercialized vice. Only five of the thirty-eight non-suffrage states have such laws. Just as men have organized non-partisan clubs and commissions for purposes of improvement and reform, so voting women may and do. The majority of leaders among women engaged in civic work have agreed that Public Opinion backed by the power of the vote is much more effective than public opinion without that power. Among these women are:

Jane Addams

Clara Barton

Julia Lathrop, head of Children's Bureau

Frances Willard

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Commission on Industrial Relations

Katherine Bement Davis, Commissioner of Corrections of New York City

Caroline Bartlett Crane

Florence Kelley

Mary McDowell

Ella Flagg Young

The laws of suffrage states are among the most progressive in America. The Inter-Parliamentary Union pronounces Colorado's laws relating to the child to be "the sanest, most humane, most progressive and most scientific in the world."

"Please take the trouble to look up the laws of Minnesota governing Child Labor, Hours and Protection for Woman's Labor, High Saloon License, Restricted Saloon Districts, Factory Laws, Health Laws, Mothers' Pensions, Juvenile Court, Equal Guardianship Laws, Property Right and Inheritance Laws. You will find them in most instances superior to those in Suffrage States and in no instances discriminating against women."

Minnesota laws are not superior to those of suffrage states, and do, in some instances, discriminate against women. Many of Minnesota's good laws are laws which Minnesota's women have worked hard for years to obtain. Other equally good laws, for which they have worked equally hard, they have not been able to obtain.

"We do therefore, respectfully, protest against the granting of Votes for Women in our State. We believe that Political Equality will deprive women of special privileges hitherto accorded to her by law, and would be a menace to American Womanhood and to American Government."

Experience proves that Political Equality has not deprived women of special privileges and we do not believe that American Womanhood can be a menace to itself, nor the influence of daughters, wives and mothers be a menace to government.

BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;
He hath loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible swift sword,
His truth is marching on.

Glory! glory hallelujah! Glory! glory hallelujah!
Glory! glory hallelujah! His truth is marching on.

I have seen Him in the watch-fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded Him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I can read His righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps.
His day is marching on.

I have read a fiery gospel, writ in burnished rows of steel;
"As ye deal with my contemners, so with you my grace shall deal;
Let the Hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel,
Since God is marching on."

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat;
O, be swift, my soul, to answer Him! be jubilant my feet!
Our God is marching on.

In the beauty of the lilies, Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me;
As He died to make men holy, let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.

O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen thro' the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected, now shines on the stream:

'Tis the star-spangled banner: O, long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

O thus be it ever when free-men shall stand
Between their lov'd home and wild war's desolation;
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n rescued land
Praise the pow'r that hath made and preserv'd us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust!"

And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

A faint, monochromatic illustration serves as the background for the page. It depicts a figure, possibly a person in a long coat or a small boat, positioned in the lower center. The figure is surrounded by a misty or watery environment, with a dark, vertical shape on the right side that could be a tree or a rock. The overall style is ethereal and atmospheric, with soft, blended tones.

"That which we have done but earnest
Of the things which we shall do."

IMPORTANT

The Board of the Hennepin County Woman Suffrage Association wishes the Association and its friends to understand fully the necessity for such activities as the White Elephant Sale at this time.

First—Last year's sale proved to be of great benefit to many people of small means. This fact is attested by numerous requests for a similar sale this year and statements that many women would have been unable to clothe their children properly if it had not been for this sale.

Second—Suffrage activities must continue and the chief activity of the Hennepin County Woman Suffrage Association since April 15th has been War Relief work.

The Headquarters at 930 Nicollet has been maintained, to the exclusion of all other work including meetings, as a Red Cross Station. Time and service of the secretaries have been used for the executive work of the station.

Exclusive of overhead expenses which include rent, salaries of secretaries, light, telephone, etc., close to $1000 has been spent during the last five months for War Relief.

Third—The Hennepin County Suffrage Station includes nine Red Cross groups meeting weekly in different parts of the city.

10138 completed articles have been turned in to the Red Cross Headquarters to date by this station.

This station is the only one where yarn is given out freely on request of knitters who are thereby enabled to make their work a contribution to the Red Cross.

The value of this station to Red Cross work lies in its location and the spirit of service and helpfulness which prevails.

If you wish the suffrage organization to maintain its high standard of national service in addition to its rightful work for democracy, this is the time for you to come to the front with interest and sympathy for the present undertaking.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye!

Once again we call to the women of Wisconsin to come together and consider ways and means for attaining their own political freedom and the political freedom of the women of this nation.

Remember that in spite of delays and defeats, in spite of the patriotic activities which are absorbing so much of our time and thought, suffrage marches on. Great victories are reported in other countries and in this country, since our last annual convention. We are coming nearer to the final complete triumph—the passage of the Federal Amendment.

We must not drop down, nor lessen our efforts now. We must work, plan, raise money, in a supreme final effort that shall sweep all the women of this land into their complete heritage.

The Annual Convention of the Wisconsin Woman's Suffrage Association will be held at MILWAUKEE, NOVEMBER 14-15, 1917.

on invitation of the Milwaukee County Woman Suffrage Association.

Mrs. Nellie McClung of Edmonton, Canada, who was so popular when she was in Wisconsin last autumn, will appear on the program for one of the principal addresses.

We want every local league in the state represented. Each organization will be entitled to one delegate for every ten members. Send the number and names of your delegates to Mrs. C. C. Hamilton, Suffrage Headquarters, 428 Jefferson Street, Milwaukee.

All persons interested are invited, whether delegates or not, whether suffragists or not, but only delegates may vote.

A meeting of the Executive Board will be held on the evening of November 13, preceeding the opening of the convention.

The following amendments to the constitution are offered:

Amendment proposed by Miss Robinson to Section IV, Article 3: The Executive Board shall consist of the State Officers, the Chairmen of Standing Committees, and one member from each auxiliary County Association, to be selected by said County Association.

The Executive Board shall hold a meeting immediately prior to the assembling of the State Convention, and another meeting at the close of the convention. It shall elect the standing and special committees, and act upon all business referred to it by the convention.

Amendment proposed by Mrs. Thanhouser: That the words Executive Board be substituted for the words Official Board wherever these appear in the constitution; namely, in Section III, Article 3; twice in Section IV, Article 3; in Section II, Article 4.

JANE P. ROGERS,
Secretary

THEODORA W. YOUMANS,
President

CALL TO THE 36th ANNUAL CONVENTION of the

MINNESOTA WOMAN SUFFRAGE ASSN.

THE ANNUAL CONVENTION of the Minnesota Woman Suffrage Association will be held in the CITY OF ST. PAUL - - - - - AT THE ST. PAUL HOTEL FRIDAY AND SATURDAY - - - - - NOVEMBER 16th and 17th.

All men and women who believe in "the right of those who submit to authority having a voice in their government" and who wish to further the cause of democracy are invited to attend this meeting.

SINCE OUR LAST MEETING America has been drawn into the world war. Women are facing new duties, and are called upon to make the greatest sacrifices. More than ever they need the political power to safeguard their interests.

DEMOCRACY FOR WOMEN has made great gains the past year. In nineteen states of the United States women now have the right to vote for president. More than eight and one half million women of voting age live in these states. Five of the Canadian provinces have now enfranchised their women. Russia, England and France have joined the progressive group who recognize that women are entitled to all the privileges of citizenship.

Suffragists by their organizations and as individuals are earnestly aiding and co-operating with the government in Red Cross Work, Food Conservation, the Liberty Loan and other war activities. Along with this they must give thought to plans bringing about the complete and final liberation of women by urging the passage of the Federal Amendment, in order that they may give effective aid in bringing about a "DURABLE PEACE."

COME, and aid us in our Councils, that we may have wisdom and strength for the coming year.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given of an amendment to Article VI of the Constitution of the Minnesota Woman Suffrage Association by the addition of a section, numbered V, which shall read as follows:

"The Chairman of the Congressional Committee of each county in the state shall be entitled to a vote at any meeting of this organization."

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

Oh! say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
 What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
 Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
 O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
 And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
 Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there;
 Oh! say, does the star spangled banner yet wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore, dimly seen thro' the mists of the deep,
 Where the foe's haughty hosts in dread silence reposes,
 What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
 As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
 Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
 In full glory reflected, now shines on the stream;
 'Tis the star spangled banner; Oh! long may it wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore,
 That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion,
 A home and a country shall leave us no more?
 Their blood has washed out their foul footsteps' pollution;
 No refuge could save the hireling and slave
 From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave.
 And the star spangled banner in triumph doth wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh! thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
 Between their loved home and the war's desolation;
 Blest with victory and peace, may the heav'n-rescued land
 Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
 Then, conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
 And this be our motto, "In God is our trust!"
 And the star spangled banner in triumph shall wave
 O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

National American Woman Suffrage Association

Call to 49th Annual Convention Washington, D. C.

POLIS THEATRE
December 12th-15th

THE CALL

For the forty-ninth time in its history the National American Woman Suffrage Association issues a call to its State Auxiliaries to send their elected delegates to meet with officers, committees and life members in annual convention. The place selected is Washington, D. C., Poli's Theatre, December 12th to 15th, 1917.

Since last we met the all engulfing world war has drawn our own country into its maelstrom and ominous clouds rest over the earth, obscuring the vision and oppressing the souls of mankind. Yet out of the confusion and chaos of strife there has developed a stronger promise of the triumph of democracy than the world has ever known.

Every allied nation has announced that it is fighting for democracy and our own President has declared that "we are fighting for Democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own government." New Russia has answered the call; Great Britain has pledged full suffrage for women and the measure has already passed the House of Commons by the enormous majority of seven to one. Canada, too, has responded with five newly enfranchised provinces; France is waiting only to drive the foe from her soil to give her women political liberty.

Such an array of Victories gives us faith to believe that our own government will soon follow the example of other allied nations and will also pledge votes to its women citizens as an earnest of its sincerity that in truth we do fight for democracy.

This is our first national convention since our country entered the war. We are faced with new problems and new issues and the nation is realizing its dependence upon women as never before. It must be made to realize also that, willingly as women are now serving, they can serve still more efficiently when they shall have received the full measure of citizenship. These facts must be urged upon Congress and our Government must be convinced that the time has come for the enfranchisement of women by means of an amendment to the federal constitution.

Men and women who believe that the great question of world democracy includes government of the people, by the people and for the people in our country, are invited to attend our
