The Honorable Max M. Kampelman
Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson
1001 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW - Suite 800
Washington, DC 20004

Dear Max:

On behalf of our colleagues in the Council, may I thank you most warmly for leading the meeting with Madeleine Albright last evening. You handled the session with exceptional grace and set just the right tone for the session.

Les Gelb and I appreciate your taking time from your busy schedule to be with us on this occasion. It was a genuinely memorable evening, and Madeleine acquitted herself very well indeed. I hope we will see you again soon at another Council event, either here or at the Harold Pratt House.

With warm regards,

Cordially,

Alton Frye

REMARKS BY
MAX M. KAMPELMAN
COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS
MEETING AND DINNER WITH
THE HONORABLE MADELEINE KORBEL ALBRIGHT

Washington, DC

January 26, 1995

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. It is my privilege to serve as tonight's "introducer" at this important meeting.

Madeleine, you see before you a room full of friends and acquaintances -- all of whom, critics and supporters, admire you, your experience, and your dedication to public service. Without doubt, in my opinion, the manner in which you are performing your current responsibilities has added luster to your reputation and credit to President Clinton who appointed you. You probably don't need further luster, but the President can use all the credit these days that he can get!

Ambassador Doctor Albright received her graduate degrees from Columbia University after graduating with honors from Wellesley College. She and I met when she was the chief legislative assistant for Senator Muskie, after which she worked with Dr. Brzezinski at the National Security Council, during which she helped me in my transition to diplomacy. She was then awarded a fellowship at the Woodrow Wilson Center for Scholars while I was its Chairman and then joined the Center for Strategic and International Studies. In 1989 she became President of the Center for National Policy and then joined the faculty at Georgetown University as a research professor at its School for Foreign Service, where she served until her 1992 appointment as U.S. Permanent Representative to the United Nations.

As I ask Ambassador Albright to come to the microphone, I remind you that her formal remarks are "on the record," but her comments during the discussion period are "off the record."
