Minnesota Asian Indian Community Directory

THE INDIA ASSOCIATION OF MINNESOTA
Since 1973
(A non-profit organization)

October 1998
Issued as part of the Twenty Fifth Anniversary Celebration
of
India Association of Minnesota

NATH COMPANIES

Nath Companies is proud to support the efforts of the India Association of Minnesota in creating a community directory of the Asian Indian population in Minnesota.

Nath Companies is a family-owned business headquartered in Bloomington, Minnesota. As of August 1998, the company owns and manages 133 Burger King restaurants in six states, 4 commercial office buildings and 6 apartment buildings and employs 4200 people. Revenue projections for the 1998 fiscal year end total $140 million. The company is currently planning to diversify its portfolio into new areas, such as hotels and casual dining.

About the Directory

Several of us active in the India Association of Minnesota have felt for a very long time that a comprehensive directory of the Asian Indian population would provide an enormously useful device to enable us to stay in touch with each other and go some considerable distance in creating a feeling of identity among the population. Hence this past year we set out to bring together in one publication comprehensive information about the Asian Indian population in the Twin Cities metropolitan area.

The current population of Asian Indians in the Twin Cities numbers approximately 20,000, and reflects the enormous diversity of India in language, religion, and cultural interests. The idea behind the directory project was to build a sense of community, solidarity, and identity and thereby a cohesive face to the population of Asian Indians and those who have an interest in India.

With that broader goal in mind, last spring the India Association submitted a proposal to the Asian Pacific Endowment for Community Development of the St. Paul Foundation, a major philanthropic institution in St. Paul, requesting financial support for the project. The APECD deemed our proposed project worthy of their support and we were given a grant for the project. This invaluable support has enabled the production of this directory.

The Directory is organized as follows: in the first part, we provide a listing of community resources, that is a listing of agencies and institutions that provide services predominantly directed to the Asian Indian population. This is followed by "white pages" listing of individuals. This is followed by a listing of Indian owned businesses. The directory also contains a listing of important web pages and condensed information about Indian states which we hope the community will find useful.

The baseline for the "white pages" came from the membership listing of various community organizations. These were compared against the US West web page and the St. Paul and Minneapolis residential white pages. The addresses from the community membership listings were updated. During the updating process, we discovered new names and addresses. These were added. Many new addresses came from the responses we received from "India Town". Finally, we updated the 612-651 area code changes. The community resource directory created by the Asian Indian Women's Association was incorporated with minor revisions.

As is true of similar kinds of publications, the usefulness of the directory is constrained by the timeliness and accuracy of the information contained in it. We have tried to be as thorough and current as we can, but inevitably, particularly for a dynamic and mobile community such as ours, we have missed or mis-reported individuals and organizations. We request you, the user of this publication, to send us corrections, additions, and deletions in names, addresses, and phone numbers. We hope to bring out an annual edition and would like to be as current and accurate as possible. We thank you in advance for your assistance in this endeavor.

Acknowledgments

Our first and primary acknowledgment is to the St. Paul Foundation's Asian Pacific Endowment for Community Development, whose grant enabled us to begin work on this project. Within APECD, Jason Booth and Bruce Corrie saw the merit of our proposal and encouraged us to proceed with the project. We are grateful to them for their support.

From the India Association, Sarat Mohapatra and Vasant Sukhatme were the primary figures behind the Directory Project. These two individuals, both former Presidents of the India Association, wrote the proposal to the APECD and have spearheaded the project. They were joined by two key players in forming an ad hoc directory committee. The key individuals in this ad hoc committee were Shanti Shah and Anil Yenamandra. Shanti Shah had herself recently undertaken the development of a resource directory by the Asian Indian Women's Association and brought her experience in that venture to this project; Anil Yenamandra was our key technical person and brought his considerable computer expertise to our project. We are indebted to Soma Sen-Hawkins of the India Association for her role in identifying a printer for our directory. We are deeply grateful to Tina Mohapatra for her diligent and hard work in numerous aspects of the project; without her contribution the project would have been considerably delayed. The President of the India Association, Franklin Gummadi, was steadfast in his constant encouragement and we are grateful for that. Several members of the Board of the India Association "beat the drums" for this project and we are thankful that their efforts generated numerous leads and ideas.

The project leaders for the Directory Project wrote or contacted the heads of all community groups in the Twin Cities for their membership lists and they received cooperation from all of the community groups. We thank the leadership of all the linguistic groups and all the community organizations for their support of our project. Without their willing cooperation we would not have been able to complete our project.

While the initial seed money for the project came from the St. Paul Foundation, the total production cost of the directory far exceeded the grant we received from the Foundation. The people who worked long hours on the project did so entirely on a volunteer basis, but the costs of production for the directory needed to be covered by gifts and the sale of advertisements. We are grateful to the sponsors and advertisers who made this project a reality.

Without the cooperation of all of the above, this project could not have been completed.

India Association of Minnesota

The India Association of Minnesota, formerly the India Club of Minnesota, has been in existence since 1973 as a non-profit organization that seeks to build a sense of identity and community among people who are of Indian origin or who have an interest in India.

The 1990 Census shows that there are about 10,000 people in the Twin cities who are of Indian origin. This number has grown considerably in recent years. In addition, there are many others who have an interest in India, such as parents who have adopted children from India.

From an economic standpoint, this population is a fairly prosperous group as measured by income and levels of education. Indians rank in the top 10% of the metropolitan area and state population in terms of income. The population of Indian-Americans is dispersed throughout the metropolitan area.

There is, however, enormous diversity among Minnesotans of Indian origin. The population here reflects the country of their origin - in language and religion and cultural interests. The diversity manifests itself in the large number of associations or groups. Each state in India, each linguistic group, has representation in the Twin Cities; for example, the Kannada Koota, the Gujarati Samaj, the Marathi Association, the Bengali Association, the Oriya Association and so on. There are cultural associations (for example, the Indian Music Society and the Nritya Jyoti dance group) and religious center groups (the Hindu Mandir and the Geeta Ashram). In recent years, there has been the formation of groups affiliated with major political parties. There are now Indian-American affiliates of both the Republican and the Democratic parties.

The India Association of Minnesota also seeks to represent the Indian population to the broader community. The Association draws people from all parts of India and tries to put a comprehensive face on the Indian population. The Association sponsors or participates in a variety of activities designed to foster cohesiveness among the Indian population. Some of these are listed on the opposite side of this pamphlet.

In addition to these events, the Association has supported the activities and mission of LAMP, an organization devoted to increasing literacy in India. The Association also co-sponsors a 55-Plus Group, a group of older Indian people who share common interests and concerns, and the Asian-Indian Women's Association which has the charter of developing awareness of various socio-cultural issues facing Asian-Indian women. The India Association has been listed in First Call for Help. That is yet another way of extending our community service activities within and beyond Minnesota.

Every year the Association nominates candidates from the community for the Asian Pacific Leadership Award for their outstanding services to the community.

The Association has undertaken charitable projects, such as the collection and transmission of funds to India for relief work following devastating events like an earthquake or flood. The Association has also been a vehicle for a range of fund raising efforts to help community members in emergency situations.

The Association collects and distributes canned food items to local food shelves. Volunteer services at the Harvest Food Bank and Soup Kitchen are some of our regular community outreach activities. Members have gone to nursing and senior citizen homes to provide music and dance performances to residents there, and serve as ambassadors of the Indian community to the population at large.

The Association has been working to develop a slide show and video film show, and to provide volunteers to local schools and churches to give an introduction to India. This is an on-going activity of the Association's sub-committee on education and community service.

Ultimately, then, the India Association seeks to build solidarity and a sense of purpose among the Indian community here in the metropolitan area and to represent the Indian community to the population at large.

The Association has a twenty-one member board of directors which coordinates the activities of the Association. The names of these board members appear on the reverse side of this pamphlet.

The Association depends on volunteer work from the Indian population and on annual membership dues which are modest.

Events and Activities

The Festival of Nations. This is an annual event in the spring, held at the St. Paul Civic Center, sponsored by the International Institute of Minnesota. The India Association operates a food booth selling Indian food, provides dance and entertainment programs representing the diversity, and subcontracts a bazaar featuring Indian artifacts.

The Festival of India. This annual event is held in the early fall at the Landmark Center in St. Paul showcasing music, dance, and food from India. This is the single most visible event of the association for reaching out to the broader community.

The Oral History Project. This project of the Minnesota History Center involved the India Association in recording the history of the earliest immigrants to Minnesota. This culminated in the publication of a collection of ethnographies or oral histories of a representative group of the earliest newcomers from India. An oral history of the second generation Indians has recently been completed. An oral history project on Indian professionals has started.

Annual Picnic. This is held in mid-summer to celebrate the independence days of both the U.S. (July 4th) and India (August 15th).

Community Directory. The association is completing a project to compile a community directory of Indians. It will include residential white pages, business white pages, yellow pages and a resource directory.

A Newsletter is published about 4 times a year. An enthusiastic and talented Youth Group arranges dances and social get togethers.

Leela Prabhu Theater Arts

Classical Theater for the new millennium

Phone: 612-836-1223

e-mail: lptheaterarts@hotmail.com

Visit our informational web-site at: http://www.skypoint.com/~anu_anil

Leela Prabhu Theater Arts is a registered non-profit organization dedicated to the perpetuation of classical dance, drama and music that originated in the Indian sub-continent. We endeavor to enrich the culturally inclined mind, by presenting original, innovative and intellectually stimulating programs that bring the heritage of the East to the West. Our work brings antiquity to the present by exploring mythologies, literature and ancient scriptures for the stage. We are also committed to using the highly evolved medium of classical theater to produce works that are socially relevant, and our area of emphasis is non-violence. Yet another area of focus, is creating experimental works which combine the brilliance of science, mathematics, and philosophy with the virtuosity of dance, drama and music. Our presentations always follow a multilingual format, which allow for a deeper understanding of the content of our programs.

Leela Prabhu Theater Arts (LPTA) offers full-length performances, lecture demonstrations, workshops and classes, and residency activities. We perform through out the United States.

Artistic Director: Anu R Sharma

Anu is not only a versatile performer and choreographer, but also a scholar. Her research interests include dance anthropology, ethnomusicology, Indology, dance history, and Sanskrit literature, among others. The works she has created for LPTA include: Trident - Exploring the Dance of Shiva; Revelation (A journey through the metaphysics of the ancients); Chipko Andolan (Non-Violent Environmentalists); Deva Dasi - The Temple Dancers of India; & When Their Eyes Met (Episodes from the immortal Ramayana).

CLASSES OFFERED:

(Classes are for children, adults & refresher courses for those who want to come back to the world of dance.)

Bharatha Natyam: The sophisticated and beautiful Kalakshetra style of Bharatha Natyam.

Kuchipudi: Andhra's outstanding contribution to the world of classical dance theater.

Mohini Attam: The kaisiki style of classical dance from the state of Kerela.

Dance theory: Studies from the Natya Shastra and other Sanskrit scriptures. (All students who learn dance are automatically part of this class).

Advanced Studies in Bharatha Nrityam: This class is reserved for the company members of Leela Prabhu Theater Arts. Students will be absorbed into the company when deemed appropriate by the artistic director.

Dance Exercise and Meditation: This class is designed for adults who want to improve their flexibility and stay limber. The therapeutic effects of low-impact movement will be explored.

Karnatic Music for Dance (Vocal): Exploring the specialized genre of classical music for dance.

The Hindu Society of Minnesota

to help make the Temple of Dreams into reality

The Hindu temple is the focus for all aspects of everyday life in the Hindu community - religious, cultural, educational and social. Hindus believe that their lives are merely stages in the progression to ultimate enlightenment. The temple is a place where God may be approached and where divine knowledge can be discovered. All aspects of the Hindu temple focus on the goal of enlightenment and liberation- the principles of its design and construction, the forms of its architecture and decoration, and the rituals performed.

The goal of the temple is to serve and fulfill the religious, cultural, educational and social needs of the Hindu community.

The temple will provide a place for religious worship.

The temple priest will provide religious services based on Hindu principles. The temple priest will conduct special rituals, poojas, ceremonies for the community.

The temple will offer priestly services for individuals and groups for celebrations such as weddings, poojas etc.

The temple will continue satsang to meet the educational and cultural needs of the community.

The temple will provide a learning center for Hindu culture, traditions, philosophy, yoga, meditation, art and music.

The temple will provide a forum for exchange of ideas among various religious organizations

The temple site:

The Hindu Society of Minnesota purchased 80 acres of land for the construction of a traditional temple in Maple Grove, Minnesota on 8/21/98 at a cost of $550,000.00. The site is located at 105th Ave. N. & Troy Lane near I-94 expressway, 4 miles from the I-694 and I-494 interchange. The land is surrounded by 100 acres of public wetland. Two creeks flow through the site. The temple can be built facing east on the elevated place for visibility.

The temple construction:

The proposed traditional temple will be completed by Oct. 2000 and consist of two levels built on a square footprint with a main entrance (gopuram) and 81 mandalas or grids to accommodate many mini temples. The outer grids will house various dieties and the inner grids house a big hall. The hall will be used for multi-purpose activities- satsang, weddings, poojas, festivities etc.

The lower floor will house a large dining hall, kitchen, multi-purpose rooms, utility rooms, classrooms etc.

Fundraising:

Rome was not built in a day. In the same way, our Temple of Dreams can not be built without the support of the entire community. EVERY penny from every individual counts, and we need to make sure that we each take the responsibility to contribute our share,

Tax deductible donations will be used for the construction of the temple.

The donations are divided into several levels.

Below	$250	Contributor
$	251 to $1000	Member
$	1001 to $3000	VIP member
$	3001 to $5000	Founding member
$	5001 to $7500	Donor
$	7501 to $10,000	Patron
$	10001 to $25,000	Grand patron
$	25001 and more	Benefactor

The names of all donors, patrons, grand patrons and benefactors will be etched on a marble stone and displayed at the temple entrance.

Please send your tax deductible contribution to
