TENANTS DON'T VOTE?

People say we aren't concerned about our community. That we don't care about political issues. That we don't use the ballot box. That's why many politicians have ignored us and our problems.

But Emily Staples has made the problems of tenants her special concern. Emily, the DFL-Labor endorsed candidate for our State Senate District 43 puts it this way:

"There's no excuse for such a large segment of our community to be so underrepresented. The needs and fears of apartment tenants are of primary importance to me. I will be listening and visiting with you these next few weeks, and with your help, the next four years."

We need to elect a person who will represent us.
