

Thomas Montgomery and family papers.

Copyright Notice:

This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code, Title 17). Researchers are liable for any infringement. For more information, visit www.mnhs.org/copyright.

The U. S. Christian Commission sends this as the soldier's messenger to his home.
Let it hasten to those who wait for tidings.

(78)

"There is a Friend that sticketh closer than a brother."

1864

Morganza La. Octr. 27th

My Dear Mother:-

I received two letters last night one from you, father & Bro. Jas. C., and one from Cousin Thos. Cockhart, also Brother Jas. Charles' picture. I felt proud in receiving so much for my self, but before I got through reading your letter I felt rather grieved. Cousin Thomas, & family are well. He works for Mr Chas. Hendrie in a planing or machine shop. He gets $3 per day; but he says it takes it all to support him. He does not hear by letter from Cousin Andrew Cassidy in Pikes Peak, but he hears from them occasionally, from men who come from there. One of his old bosses at the Peak, estimates that he has $4000 or $5000 in his possession. He has not heard lately from other friends. He & family send kindest love,

I praise God to hear once more that you are all well and doing well. I am extremely sorry to hear that Elizabeth manifests such an unsettled disposition. Surely she don't know her best interests if she wants to leave you now. It was her earnest desire to go up there at first, and when I had completed the arrangements, she was rather inclined to stay, but of course I was not to be thwarted in my plan after promising to send her. It is my firm belief that she would suit you if she would be contented to stay.
One thing is certain, If she leave you now, it will be her ruin, as she has no means to take care of herself any more than she can with you, and it will be running great risks of life and liberty, in fact it will be utterly impossible for her to come here again, again her pass provided that she was never to return to this place,

It is my desire, for her good that she remains where she is, it is her husband's best desire also. Mr. is well satisfied that she should stay there, till his time is up and then he will go there to her. Meanwhile he will send her money &c,

Tell her that I say, she must stay where she is till I come back, I will do the fairest thing with her, if God spares me to return, I will shortly send up her Shawl Hood &c, She must not be so homesick as it were she must remember that she is no longer a slave, but if she attempts to leave Minn, ten chances to one she will be kidnapped & returned to Slavery, or be arrested by Govt. & put on some plantation. It is impossible for her to get back to St Louis, or even to leave the state, we are not yet paid and consequently we can't send her money yet, Again if she would get back the women have left the Reg. and she would just be as lonely as ever.

I think her discontent will soon wear off, unless she has some private reasons for leaving you, if she has I would let her go; but I would keep the valise and other articles in your own possession. It will no doubt be a grievous disappointment to you to lose her services, but take it not to heart, I feel perhaps as much, I care nothing for loss of time or money so much as the disappointment to you. If she is with you when you receive this give her my respects tell her she will make me feel bad, if she leaves you now, after all my expense & trouble for her present & future good. Tell her, I say, she is a hundred times better off there, than here, or elsewhere. Try to divert her mind, let her ride on horseback or anything else till this wears off. It is madness in her to think of leaving and going among strangers. She promised me to stay with you till I returned at least. I want her to be contented & fulfill her promises to me, but if she is bound to leave, I would let her go, perhaps she is best judge of her own feelings. If she does leave however, I want you to forthwith hire another girl to do your work, never mind expense, you can afford it now & if you can't I can. I will write soon again. Thanks for your kind letters, except the love of your Son T.M.