THE DELINEATOR

LONDON · PARIS · NEWYORK

THEODORE DREISER, EDITOR

New York, April 15, 1910.

My dear Reedy:

I see by the morning paper that you and the editor of The Century are working to get the mysterious John Carter released from the Stillwater, Minnesota, Penitentiary. Do you know whether this man has any unpublished poems, and do you know anything about his private history? I would like to see some of his verse, and I thought that possibly I might get them from Justice John W. Willis, but I wanted to know if you wouldn't write Willis and ask him to give my letter immediate attention. I should like to look some of them over, and if I find a group that is satisfactory I will make a return to the writer which will be entirely pleasing to him.

Very sincerely,

Theodore Dreiser

Mr. William Marion Reedy,
c/o The Mirror,
St. Louis, Missouri.

The idea is to publish them in Everybody's.
