Northwood, Oct-15th 1858

Dear Wheeler;

When I wrote you the other day I said I would either write you again in a day or two or be on my road up.

Since then I have been terribly afflicted with a cold - the worst I ever recollect having suffered I I could neither write or think.

I am a little better to-day, but when I shall leave I cannot say.

I merely drop you this line to explain why I have neither written or left.

Very truly

S. Medary
