OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

July 6, 1949

Mr. Harlow C. Richardson
Champlin, Minn.

Dear Harlow:

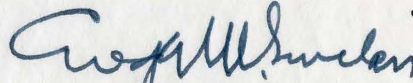

Yes, some friends were kind enough to send me the clippings from the Minneapolis papers, but I am glad to receive yours because I shall send them on to my sister who will undoubtedly care to look at them.

It was certainly a pleasure to see you in Minnesota, and especially to go with you to Allyn Ford's place to see his autographs. Of course, I have heard of Ford through the Autograph Collectors Magazine, as well as otherwise, but I had no notion that his collection was so rich as it is. When I think of my poor collection in comparison to his, I realize that mine is that of a very poor man. Still, I have had fun getting certain things together, -- and yesterday, I got one that I wouldn't sell for $25.00 -- a personal letter from Jawaharlal Nehru.

Marjy is working hard on her book, and hopes to have it ready by October. I haven't read even the first draft. I have been too busy with the Philosophers. I enclose a program that will show you that we are trying to do things.

With all good wishes to the Heards, and the Fords, and any inquiring friends. . . .

Sincerely yours, ^

Gregg M. Sinclair
President
