Vol. 1

The short time we shall remain in the quarters now building would certainly preclude the idea of an annex and from experience the Comd Officer knows that comfort does not require the houses to be lined. He has also been informed that in some instances the floors are not considered sufficient for the accommodation of officers unless the third layer of Boards are put down, — and in others that after the floors and common floors had been laid, 25 lbs of Nails has been used to line off one small room. — This is certainly extravagant, and the Comd Officer would be not doing justice to his position if he did not put a check to it. He therefore orders that no lining, nor table floors, shall be laid in future. — our government wishes to see us comfortable, but the temporary purposes for which this Cantonment has been constituted forbids all thoughts of extra accommodations. — For the sake of propriety and to facilitate the police of the camp each quarter will be labelled in the following manner — To each Room on the Cheek of the Door — Rooms — No Capt. — Comd — Surg. — under Charge of Surg. — or Captain — The Genl Police officer will visit all the Barracks in camp and report the state of them of each Room. — Comd. Y. & Capt. as to their Chambers — Bunk — and Rack — &c. — He will also state generally the state of the sick and all other circumstances which require the attention of the Comd Officer. — All returns for Nails or plank must specify particularly the purposes as well as for whom they are required. — By order. Chas. Hunter

Brigade Order
 Application for wood, is frequently made to the Comd. Officer for the Guard. The Quartermaster of the reputation requires will furnish the officer as Guard of their own Regiments with a Team to haul this wood, when they shall be satisfied that the wood is cut ready for hauling. It is contemplated by the 9th Section of an act to raise an additional Militia force that the Troops shall have the privilege of purchasing clothing the following regulations can be adopted for the benefit of the men, and will likewise be an injury to the Service viz: An Officer Comd. of a Company may make a requisition on the Regt. of Master for those articles which are indispensably necessary for any man of his Comp. This requisition must be submitted to the Comd. Officer of the Regt. who will approve or disapprove as he may deem proper, taking in to view the quantity of said articles on hand and the probable number of recruits he may have to join the Regt. before a fresh supply will be received. If the requisition is approved he will put his signature to the requisition and the 9th Master will deliver the articles. The said requisition will mention the names of the men and have the articles set opposite their names. The Captains shall cause the remarks to be set opposite the names in the Master Hall as follows "Dose $2.77¹/₂ for one pair Woollen Pointed out extra rec. from the 9th of Master &c"

The Privilege of purchasing clothing should only be extended to the Soldier who by unavoidable accident or by some long and arduous tour, shall have worn out his clothing and not to the Cavalry, they go and who is too lazy to mend or keep his clothing in repair. Severity of Punishment must supply the deficiencies in the latter case. 1 sub 2. R. Officer of 12 privates will be reported at the Comd. Officer's Quarters for Comd. at 12 O'Clock.

At a General Court Martial of which Col. Peira was President, convened on Jan^y. 22^o and continued by adjournment to the 28th 1813 — by order of Col. Lill Pike — Was tried Benton W Halsey, surgeons mate of the 15th Infy upon the following charge viz — 1^o Neglect of Duty — Spec. Refusing to attend to the reports of the sick when signed by the commandant of Companies on the 8th Jan^y 1813 and at sundry other times — To which Charge & Spec. the prisoner pleads not guilty — Charge 2^o Embezzling public property. Spec. In converting public hospital stores to his own private use — To which Charge & Spec. the prisoner pleads not guilty — Charge 3^o Disobedience of order Spec. In leaving Camp without permission — and that too, when there was no other surgeon with the reg^t To which Charge and Spec. the prisoner pleads not guilty — The Court after mature deliberation and from evidence adduced on the first Charge and Spec. find the prisoner guilty — There being no evidences on the 2^o and 3^o Charges & Spec. the Court find the prisoner not guilty of the 2^o & 3^o Charges & Spec. — The Court sentence the prisoner to receive a private reprimand from the Commanding Officer of the Brigade

Also was tried Niam Tomy a private of Capt. Scotts Com^y 15th Infy charged with being intoxicated and deserting his post while on guard on the night of the 17th inst. — To which Charge the prisoner pleads guilty — The Court find the prisoner guilty as charged and sentence him to be sent to some Post in the U^s States, then to serve at hard labor with a ball and chain attached to his leg during the remainder of his term of enlistment — rations of liquor stopped during same period — Also was tried Michael Galligan priv. of Capt. Humphreys Com^y 6th Infantry charged with being intoxicated on guard — Spec. for discharging his musket & lying down by his post brastly drunk on the 15th Jan^y Inst. To which Charge & Spec. the prisoner pleads guilty — The Court find the prisoner guilty as charged and sentence him to be confined in the Black Hole for the space of one month & his rations of liquor stopped for the same time — Also was tried Henry Storms private of Capt. Walworths Com^y 6th Infy charged with deserting from Cantonment Savenak on the night of the 20th Jan^y

To which charge the prisoner pleads not guilty — The Court from the evidence adduced find the prisoner guilty & sentence him to be confined in the Black Hole for two months & his rations of liquor stopped during that period — and to pay the expenses incurred in his apprehension — Also was tried Israel Richards a priv. in Capt. Ewens Com^y 16th Infy. charged with desertion on the 17th Instant To which Charge the prisoner pleads not guilty of desertion, but guilty of absence without leave — There being no evidence adduced on the part of the prosecution; but the Court conceiving the plea of the prisoner to amount to the Charge of desertion: — Therefore find him guilty as charged and sentence him to be confined to the black hole for the space of 3 months his rations of liquor stopped during that period — and during one month of that time to receive no other sustenance than bread & water — Also was tried Joseph Squid, musician of Capt. Reynolds Com^y 15th Infy charged with attempting to desert on the 11th inst. To which Charge the prisoner pleads not guilty — The Court find the prisoner guilty as charged and sentence him to be confined in the Black Hole for one month & his liquor stopped during that period & to pay the expenses of his apprehension — Also was tried Sgt. Wm. Cammon of Capt. Brooks' Company 3^o Artillery charged with stealing — To which charge the prisoner pleads not guilty — The Court after mature deliberation find the prisoner guilty as charged and sentence him to be confined in the Black Hole for three months and during one month of the time to receive no other sustenance than bread & water — Also was tried Christopher A Gage a private of Capt. Barons Com^y 15th Infy charged with desertion and disobedience of order — Spec. Having deserted from the Cantonment Savenak on the 19th Inst. and attempting to escape from the Heights against the order of Lieut. Moor — To which Charge the prisoner pleads not guilty — The Court after mature deliberation & from the evidence adduced find the prisoner guilty as charged, of desertion and sentence him to be shot to death — Also was tried Peter Wood of Capt. Rossells Com^y 15th Infy charged with spending the money of soldiers of said reg^t that was placed in his hands by his officers to pay the same, 23^o Jan^y 1813 — To which Charge the prisoner pleads guilty — The Court find the prisoner guilty as charged and sentence him to be confined in the Black hole for two weeks and the amt. by him spent of the soldiers money to be stopped out of his wages by his Officers and refunded them — Also was tried Thomas Mc Smith of Capt. Brooks' Com^y 3^o Artillery charged with stabbing George Wellis of same Com^y three times in the back & once in the back — all deep wounds — the 24th Jan^y inst. To which Charge the prisoner pleads guilty — The Court find the prisoner guilty as charged & sentence him to be confined 3 months in the black hole — and during one month of that time to receive no other sustenance than bread and water —

Also was tried Miles Blay a private of the 11th Regt. Infy charged with deserting from the same Regt on or about the 10th Nov. 1812 - To which Charge the Prisoner pleads that on the 26th Oct. 1812 he recd from the Com^d Officer of the Com^d a furlough for twenty days, & that he has not joined the Regt. since. The Court find the Prisoner not guilty of Desertion but guilty of absence without leave & sentence him to pay the expenses incurred in his apprehension and order his return to his Regt.
Also was tried John Fellow a follower of the Army, charged with disobedience of orders - Spec. In selling whiskey to Sgt. Shield of Capt. Hopkock's Com^d 15th Infy on the 26th Jan^y inst. To which Charge the prisoner pleads not guilty - No evidence appearing in support of the Charge, the Court found the prisoner not guilty.
Also was tried Mr Bartlett a follower of the Army charged with disobedience of orders - Spec. In selling whiskey to Sgt. Shield on the 26th Jan^y inst. The prisoner pleads guilty of selling liquor but in extenuation ignorance of its being against order - The Court find the prisoner guilty of the Charge & Spec. and sentence him to be dismissed from the service of the U.S. Army - Also was tried James Cook and Sam^l Ashton privates of Capt. McEwen's Com^d 16th Infy charged with Desertion - To which Charge the prisoners plead not guilty - The Court find the prisoners guilty as charged and sentenced each of them to be shot to death - but as consequence of this being the first offence of the kind ever committed by the prisoners the Court recommend them for pardon.
Also was tried Francis Allen a private in Capt. Brooks' Com^d 3rd Battery charged with stealing on or about the 27th Dec. 1812. To which Charge the Prisoner pleads not guilty - The Court find the prisoner not guilty - Also was tried Joseph Chapman a follower of the Camps charged with disobedience of orders - Spec. In selling spirituous liquor without permission to various soldiers of the First Brigade, between the 20th & 27th Jan^y 1813 at Cantonment Saurah - To which Charge the prisoner pleads not guilty - The Court find the prisoner not guilty. - The Commanding officer approves of all the foregoing sentences except in the cases of Israel Richards - Sgt. James Cameron & Miles Blay on whose particular sentences he will express his opinion more at large - The sentence of St. Halsey being completed he is liberated from arrest and will return to duty in the Regt. to which he belongs - The Com^d is pleased to pardon Mr Tany who will return to his duty with a hope he will refrain from that heinous vice of Intoxication in future - The sentences passed on Gilligan - Storms - Squire - Woody - Smith will commence tomorrow morning and be continued until completed in time and measure - John Fellow Francis Allen and Joseph Chapman are released from confinement - Mr Bartlett will be dismissed from the U.S. service from the date of his confinement in conformity to his sentence and may thank his youth for its being so favorable - The Com^d Officer disapproves of the sentence of Israel Richards as there is no evidence of (even admitting the plea of the prisoner was rec^d) to prove the crime of desertion - From usage and other authority Court Martial may find a crime less than the plea of the prisoner when there is no other evidence adduced - but never greater - Richards is therefore ordered to be released from confinement and will return to his duty - Sgt. Cameron was convicted of stealing and was sentenced to confinement - yet is not reduced to the ranks and still retains his station as Sgt. - But the Com^d of the Brigade unwilling that so great an offender should escape punishment orders that he be confined in conformity to his sentence, at the expiration of which he will return to his duty as private - The error in the proceedings of Miles Blay was in ordering him to his Regt. That should have been left for the Com^d Officer to have decided on.

From the many & various attempts which have been made to desert from the first Brigade of the Northern Army since Col. Pike had the honor to command it, he is induced to believe that the soldiers must have forgotten the late terrible example, which was made of some of their Comrades, who were so lost to all sense of honor as to attempt to join the ranks of the enemy - or they must have taken up an idea that he has not the authority to punish with death - Therefore as the numerous derelictions from duty obliges him, however reluctant to make an example and as Christopher R Gage of the 15th Infy was convicted on the 19th Oct. 1812 of Desertion and sentenced to "six months hard labor with a ball & chain to be confined at night to the guard house, and to have his rations of liquor stopped during that period" which sentence was on the same day approved by Brigadier Genl. Bloomfield and ordered to be carried into effect - But on the 15th Nov. the said Genl. being desirous to try the effects of Clemency did grant to the said Gage with a number of other convicts a full and free pardon - and it appearing that this once extended mercy has had no effect except to encourage him in the repetition of crimes it is therefore ordered that the said Christopher R Gage be shot to death on Wednesday the 3rd Feb^y between the hours of 12 & 3 o'clock P.M. of the same day under the direction of the Field Officer of the Day.

 All the Troops will attend the execution with the Guards & Prisoners - Samy Cook and Samy Atton who were also sentenced to death are pardoned in consequence of the recommendation of the Court. The Colonel hopes that these two men will bear in mind that they have once forfeited their lives to the offended Majesty of the Law - and that they owe their existence to the its mercy; that their future good conduct will win for them Officers their sincere condonation for their error and erase from the memories of their Comrades the disgrace they had brought on their Corps by the Vastardly crime of Desertion

Troop beating in future will be exactly at 9 o'clock

At a Genl. Court martial of which Capt. Walworth was President, convened at this place on the 2^d of February, and continued by adjournment until Feby 8th 1813. Was tried Capt. Jack Russell of 15th Infy, charged with improper language, and conduct on Jan. 26. 1813. To which charge the Prisoner plead not guilty. Spec. 1 In making use of improper language to Lieut. George W. Clapsin, while he Capt. Russell was acting Judge Advocate of a Genl. Court martial on Jan. 26. 1813. To which Spec. the Prisoner plead not guilty. Additional charge preferred against Capt. Russell of 15th Infy, charge the ungentlemanly and unofficer-like conduct. To which charge the Prisoner plead not guilty. Spec. 1 Making use of improper language to Lieut. G. W. Clapsin, while he Capt. Russell, was acting Judge Advocate of a Genl. Court martial. To which Spec. the Prisoner plead not guilty. Spec. 2 In so far forgetting the dignity of a gentleman, and an officer as to raise his clenched fist, and strike Lt. W. Clapsin, when acting as member of said C. M. of which Capt. J. Russell was J. Advocate. To which Spec. the Prisoner plead not guilty of the 1st & 2^d Spec.

Present when his Sentinels are posted - but make out his report Without examination Can we believe that a guard of 25 Men armed could not have secured our prisoner if the duty had been properly performed? I believe there is no Soldier but what would answer in the negative. Justice is blind - she knows no distinction of Rank - yet - let me ask if a N. C. Officer or Soldier had been guilty of such palpable disobedience of order - and neglect of duty if they would have been sentenced to a private reprimand & a mere shadow of punishment. Adj. Sherman and Ensign Birch will be liberated from arrest have their swords restored and return to their Duty

The Comd. officer embraces this opportunity to remark that discipline requires a strict and rigid obedience to order. for without that an army is but a mob, and can never expect to gain renown or victory. What could exceed the personal value of the Mame - lucky - arabs or albanians - yet before the Corps of the French army, directed by one head & governed by one soul, their valor served but to bring on their rapid destruction. Examples of a similar nature are not wanting in the present conflict between the United States and Great Britain let us then learn to pay due obedience to the order of our superior, which so far from degrading, exalts the Character of the American Soldier.

What must be the feeling of an Officer who by an improper indulgence gives an opportunity to an army to despise his Soldier in Bd, resting secure in their confidence of his vigilance of his bravery of his reverence and respect for the obligation of duty. What would be his feeling to

At a Genl. Court martial whereof Major E. I. Whitlock was President convened at this place on Feby. and continued by adjournment to Feby 17th 1813. Was tried Lt. Finney of 16th Regt.
Infy. charged with neglect of duty. Spie. on sleeping on his guard, and being in that situation when the Officer of the Day visited the guard, he Commanded on the night of 14th Inst. To which charged Spie. the prisoner plead not guilty. The Court find the prisoner guilty as charged, and sentenced him to be publicly reprim= anded By the Com. J. Officer of the Brigade -

The Comd^g Officer, approves of the foregoing sentence and as he cannot add but little to the observation made a similar case on a recent occasion he will briefly remark that Dr. Tenney must recollect that having been once before a Genl. C. Martial, should he unfortunately a second time he may expect that the Court may not be disapproved to show the same lenity which they have done, on the present occasion. It has been understood by the Commandant that the commanding Officers of guard have so far forget their duty as to quit their posts and visit the settler shops to their place should an Officer of the Day know of a similar violation of the rules of duty he will immediately arrest the culprit.

Dr. Tenney is liberated from arrest & will return to his duty.

Brigade Orders
Saratoga July 25th 1813
The Commanding Officer has thought proper to modify the order of the 15th Inf. relation to admitting spirits into camp. — The three Regimental Suttlers may bring in Wine, Spirits, Brandy, & Whisky on the permits of the Commandants of their comp^s. — But they are not to sell any quantities whatever to sell less than a pint, nor let them have a Permission in writing from a Commanding Officer to that effect. — Which Permission, then as their Clerks shall deliver each morning after drill to the Officer who gives them, to prevent counterfeits. — As it is desirable to have this Corps at all times in readiness for action, no officer will unless on an extraordinary occasion apply for leave of absence more than one night regular Place Call, that is Droup or Retreat.

April 7th 1813

The Comdys Officer has the pleasure to announce to the Brigade that he has been honoured by the President with the appointment of Brigadier General, at the same time that he cannot but acknowledge that this mark of the favour of his Government is flattering to his ambition as a Soldier - and confers on him certain rights and privileges which may be sufficiently experienced by the whole Brigade - yet he cannot but feel a keen sensibility for the loss of his duty and affection which he more intimately connects with the Gentlemen of the 15th Infantry, having been by this event rendered assunder. But hoping in their present station they will always, as their brother Soldiers who will be always ready to serve them with zeal and attention in whatever station in life he or they may be placed, and he assures them he will always feel a peculiar pleasure in promoting their military glory. The 15th Infantry will soon be called to uphold the standard they have sworn to maintain on the hostile shores of Canada, as it will be the only standard in the Brigade they will be second in its defence by the 6th and 11th Infantry. Those their Corps coming from the same section of the Union & possessing the same manner, habits and disposition, having for some months past accustomed to the same discipline, and system of manoeuvre will act in concert and as a band of Brothers this union must insure Exercise and discipline are the first principles on which the honour and success of armies are founded; every gentleman wearing a sword will readily acknowledge the necessity of using their best endeavours in encourag-ing the one and promoting the other. - The time is at hand when we will be called to maintain the high expectations our countrymen have formed of our bravery and talents; and surely no officer will fail to use his most unswerving exertions to ensure success

The companies will be drilled each day one hour, under the inspection of the Field officer of the day; and commanding officers of corps are called on to see that every man attends the drills, both of Brigade & companies nor will any officer be excused unless for indisposition or duty. - The adjutants will hand in each day with their morning reports a list of the officers exempt from duty, stating their names, cause, and by whose order

The Safety and well being of an army must at all times depend very much on the manner in which the guards and sentinels perform their duties but more especially while on the frontier or in the vicinity of an enemy the extreme want of order regularity and vigilance on the Guard and sentinels generally must convince every officer of the absolute necessity of a reform. Where is the officer who would feel secure from a surprise when in the neighborhood of an enemy if the guards are not better instructed and their Duties better performed than at this time? Where is not the officer who would not blush with shame if he were to be surprised and expected for want of vigilance in his guards or for want of a knowledge of their duties, unless indeed he had used his utmost exertions to instruct them in their duties & to prompt them to vigilance. Officers of every grade are called upon to use their utmost exertions to effect a reform and instruct their troops in this important part of their duty; to aid in effecting this important object the following instructions will until further orders be read daily to the new guards by the Adjutant of the day before the guards are turned off from the grand Parade.

In future the officers of the guards will be careful to preserve order and silence in the ranks when their guards are under arms they will not be allowed to look round whisper or converse until their arms are lodged. Perfect order and silence is also to be observed in the guard rooms. No rioting or disorder is to be allowed the orderly Drummer will always beat the guard call. When the guards turn out for relief or retire at which call the guard will instantly turn out and form agreeably to their reliefs and numbers. No one of the guard will be permitted to leave the guard room more than six paces unless to comply with Drums calls. Their meals must be brought to them by their mess mates. The guards will not be permitted to converse with citizens or mix with the troops off duty during their tour. Their accoutrements will be kept constantly on. Their arms always within their view. The relief will be moved by the Corporal or Sergeant with a moderate pace so as to enable them to keep their files well closed he will frequently look round to observe whether they are so and will cover. The relief will always be moved with supported arms and profound silence must be observed when passing an officer they will carry arms and immediately

Support again, the Centinels must be compelled to walk their post with life and activity and either at a support or loaded arms. They must not be suffered to whistle sing or converse with any person except in the execution of their duty nor must they be permitted to stand still or sit down on post during their tour. When they present arms to the officer of the day or a field officer they will halt and face outwards. It is of no consequence whether the officer the salute be on their front or rear they will also halt when the enemy arms to any officer and return salute with their hands or hat when they have arms in their hands. If a Centinel on challenging a party is answered relief Patrols or wounds he will desire the Sergeant or corporal to advance with the Countersign and if he is then apprised of their being the relief he may suffer them to advance.

A Centinel must take the greatest care not to be surprised, he must never suffer the person who advances to give the countersign to approach within reach of his arms and always charge his Bayonet. The Officers who mount the Camp Guard will give orders to their Centinels not to suffer any person to pass in or out of the Camp except by one of the Guards nor until the officer of the Guard has examined him.

Division Orders Head Q^{rs} of the Army of the Niagara Frontier May 12. 1813

The Generals of the Brigades and Officers Comd. the several Corps of Artillery composing the Division of the Army of the 9th Military District employed on the Niagara Frontier will cause the respective Camps to be invested by lines of demarkation on which strong Packet Guards will be employed with a sufficient chain of Sentinels to prevent the stealing of their men. When such lines are established no Officer (or only Capt. excepted) or private is permitted to pass them from Camp unless in company with or by written permission from a Comd^g Officer who will be held responsible for the propriety of such permission. Outable parties will also be employed for the purpose of apprehending all those who may in violation of orders, have eluded the guards.

The Genl. Commanding the Division

expects that the strictest discipline will be introduced and supported among the troops under his immediate Comd. and that the disobedience of orders will be punished under any pretence whatever to pass unpunished. The fate of armies and the personal security of individuals composing them eminently depends on a knowledge of Military tactics and particularly of that branch of the Science which relates to Evolutions the Genl. hopes that the Genls of Brigades & Comd^g of Corps of Artillery will be ever so much in their attention to this point of duty & that a portion of each day will be employed in instructing & drilling the Officers and men under their Comd.

The Health of the troops will claim particular attention, to the attainment of this object cleanliness and diet, are essential, all salted meats should be boiled for use & should on no account be permitted to be broiled or fried. Daily reports of the state of the troops must be made to the Asst. Adjt. Genl. from each Brigade & from the Corps of Artillery & a proper Officer from each attend his quarters every morning at 12 o'clock for orders. Genl. Boyds Brigade will furnish Quarter Guards to the Genl. Comd^g in Chief in the District to the Genl. of Division to the Military Hospital & all other guards required to the eastward of Head Quarters. The Guards necessary for Fort Niagara - Youngs Town - Three mile Meadows - Swanton & Schlosser will be furnished from Genl. Wenders Regt.

Lieut Col. Winfield Scott having been announced in orders of the Genl. Comd^g the District as Adjt. Genl. for the Northern Army he will be obeyed and respected accordingly as directed by the description.

Four & a half of Capt. Gibsons Comp^y of Artillery & Genl. of the 23rd Regt. being under the sentence of a Genl. Ct. Martial are released from confinement & ordered to join their respective Companies for duty. By order of Maj. Genl.

The Inspector Genl. for the 9th Military Department of the Army having been duly announced in orders, all commands of Divisions, Brigades, Regts, Corps, Detachments, pickets and guards are required to carry into prompt effect such directions as he may from time to time find it necessary to give touching the High Police of the Army or other duties confided to his department of the Genl. Staff

The system of Infantry drill & discipline, adopted by the War Department is to govern and the distribution of duties made by the same Authority between the several heads of the Genl. Staff is strictly to be observed, but in all cases not provided by those regulations, and on the following heads of service, Sturges' tract is strictly to be adhered to, 1st As to the march of an Army, of the baggage on the march, the manner of laying out a Camp with the order of encampment, the manner of pursuing order and cleanliness of the Camp, of Roll Calls, of the inspection of men, their dress, equipments, arms, accoutrements & ammunition, of the different beats of the drum, of the service of the guards, of their arms and ammunition, with the method of pursuing them, of the treatment of the sick, and of wounds

By late distribution of Staff duties many parts of service, which heretofore appertained to one department now devolves on another, The Adj. Genl. the Inspector Genl. and L. M. Genl. are to govern themselves accordingly and while as a General Guide, they are to adhere to Sturges' tract as above they are specially to observe that neither contravenes the known regulations of the War Department

The Gentlemen of the 12th & 20th Regts and present with the Army who concern themselves engaged, by certain regulations made therein will give their attendance at the Adj. Genl. office this Evening at half past four o'clock if not prevented by particular duties, The Genl. of the 22nd Regt who are in the same situation, will call as soon as convenient

Genl. Orders

Adj. Genl. Office H^q Quarters May 22 1863

Morning reports in future are to be handed in at Head Quarters from the Commanding Genl. of Division, the Senior Officer of Artillery and from Brigadier Genl. Chandler's Brigade. Majr. Chambers Assistant Adj. Genl. is attached to the Head Quarters of Division.

Majr. Johnson and Beebe who have been appointed assistants of Assistant Adj. Genl. from the President of the United States are respectfully to be obeyed and respected accordingly. They are attached to the office of the Adj. Genl. at the Head Quarters of the Army. Arms and accoutrements of every kind are to be put into a state for immediate action. All deficiencies must be immediately supplied by requisition on the superior officer of Artillery. The Commanding Genl. within the department announces to the troops on the frontier that the period for decisive action is at hand. The Army is numerous and brave. The fleet in full possession of its element. The Enemy inferior in numbers and discouraged by recent events. In short but two objects remain to be accomplished to carry success into every part of the opposite Territory. There are a glorious discipline and an universal subordination between the distinct grades of the Army without which victory cannot be won and without which it would be madness and folly to look for a successful termination of the war - a confirmed habit of attention - frequent and vigorous exercise in evolutions and the exercise of arms - a prompt execution of command. These are the habits which constitute the good soldier and give to the arms of many thousand the concert and promptitude of an individual and which enables it to bear down all opposition. Altho' in the progress of discipline much remains to be done, yet it is known that much may be performed in a limited time. If there is an universal determination to rise superior to the exigency of the moment and teach the enemy how easy it is to conquer when it is once resolved. But it is not enough that the Army is victorious in the field. It should also be victorious over itself. Quarters is due to a yielding enemy and kindred to the disarmed is a dictate of humanity - leaving a part or quartering the ranks to plunder always commences with the most abandoned. The good soldier will be cautious not to follow the disgraceful example as orders will be given to punish with instant death, measures will be previously taken to provide for the wounded in action. No person therefore can be permitted to fall out of the ranks on that account, a mere pretence only resorted to by the coward to screen himself from danger. Offenders of this character are signally to be punished. In action it sometimes happens that an oblique move - mist or a march to the rear is mistaken for a signal to retreat. The troops are warned against this fatal misapprehension. Words spoken in action or in the neighborhood of the enemy calculated to discourage as the formal and regimental rank of officers of the same grade and date in the Army have not been settled by the department of war and as the good of the service imperiously requires that something should be done in the case at least as far as known usages apply The Commanding Genl orders that the following principles do govern until otherwise ordered by superior authority

1st Between commissions of the same date and grade previous service up to the date of the present grade shall be first regarded in the order of precedencies, If these circumstances apply to two or more Claimants then the rank under former commissions shall govern 2nd When an officer has been deprived of his former rank by the reduction of his corps as by a new organization of the military establishment such former rank, all other circumstances being equal is not to be regarded 3rd The last pretension to rank which can be regarded is the one which arises from former service rendered in a Commission afterwards resigned. It is to be understood that pretensions to rank must be founded on services rendered in the regular Army - There is no known usage which recognizes services rendered in Volunteer Corps or other Corps of Militia

Between all other cases or between Claimants of equal pretensions ballot must be resorted to Genl in Command of Brigades and officers in the M^r Church's Volunteers will be on one of its flanks.

 3rd M^r like manner Winch's Brigade will follow in quick succession to advance in column and display on Bay's left or remain in column as may be deemed most expedient by Maj^r Gen^l Lewis. Capt Tawson's Company of Artillery will accompany this Brigade.
 Maj^r Gen^l Lewis will land with any part of his Division.
 4th Chandler's Brigade to constitute the reserve it is to be embarked as soon as possible. Col. Macomb with his Artillery will land with the reserve and act as circumstances may require. Chandler's Brigade is to detach a guard of 100 men to remain on the point of landing as soon as the main line is formed. Col Scott who will be under the orders of Maj^r Gen^l Lewis will advance but not more than 2 or 300 paces in front of the Infantry. If the enemy appears in force the light troops are to fall back and form on the flanks, and act as circumstances

At half past 2 o'clock this evening, the troops will turn out with arms, provided with one blank Cartridge each, on the grand parade, in front of the Fort. - The superior officer of Artillery will cause a national Salute to be fired from the guns of Fort George, and the line will fire a feu de joye at precisely 3 o'clock, in honour of the Brilliant success of the American arms, in repelling and defeating the British General, in the attempt on Sackett's Harbour on the 29th of the last month. -

Adj. Genl's Office Fort George June 3rd 1813

At a Genl. Court Martial Chief Col Miller is president convened at Fort George on the 1st and continued by adjournment to the 3rd that the following prisoners were tried viz Henry Joslin a private of Capt. Mahan's Company Volunteers, charged with plundering, &c. &c. &c. being indicted on 1st June 1813 with various articles about him, consisting of ladies' ornaments and wearing apparel and other articles of a private character. The Court find the prisoner Henry Joslin guilty and sentence him to have his left ear cut off his head shaved and drummed out of camp. Also Daniel Campbell a private of Capt. Mahan's Company B.Y. Volunteers, charged with plundering and brandishing

Spec. = On violently and unauthorizedly plundering property from the good citizens of the town of Newark, the Court find the prisoner Campbell guilty, and sentence him to have his left ear cut off and to be drummed out of camp but owing to the youth and inexperience of the prisoner & likewise his having been led astray by others do recommend him to the Commanding Genl. for a pardon

The Genl. Comd. the troops on this frontier approves the foregoing sentences and orders the sentences on Henry Joslin & Daniel Campbell to be executed on the ground parade to morrow morning at 9 o'clock and then sent over the river with discharges from the Service - stating the reason of their being discharged

Orders

Adj^t Genl's office June 8, 1813

The troops composing the army in this vicinity are immediately to be formed and brigaded as follows:-

The whole of the artillery whether with or without a train is placed under the orders of the superior officer of that Corps.

The 6th, 9th, 13th, 15th, 23^d & 25th Regim^{ts} 95 of Infantry, and McClure's Volunteers, to form the first Brigade, under the command of Brigadier Genl Boyd.

The 5th, 12th, 14th, 16th, 20th & 22^d Regiments of Infantry will constitute a second Brigade, under the command of the senior field officer of the same, until the arrival of another Genl officer. - The Rifle Corps is for the present attached to this Brigade

Those two Brigades will constitute one Division to be commanded by Major Genl Lewis.

The Light Dragoons, whether mounted or dismounted, will be placed under the Command of the superior officer of that Corps

The whole of the troops, with the exception of such artillery as do Garrison's Regt, are as soon as possible to be encamped in the order of Parade.
The Inspector Genl will have special instructions on this head.

Notwithstanding the late victories achieved by our arms, a neglect of the duties of Police, and a laxity in discipline are but too obvious to the most superficial observer. - Evils which strike so directly at the Honour and Safety of the Army, if not its very existence, can only be corrected by a strong and steady hand; and in an active Campaign, every rigor authorized by Law, or the custom of Armies, must be applied.
The General Commanding admonishes those next below him in authority, that it belongs to them to extend the chain of responsibility to their respective subordinates. - These rules of service are prescribed to the whole army. - No Regimental officer can be permitted to sleep out of his camp or quarters without express permission obtained from his proper superior officer, and without like permission no such officer shall be permitted to absent himself from the drills and parades of his Corps. - Commanding officers are held responsible that they make a prompt report of offenders against these instructions.

Newark June 14th 1813

The shameful and unsoldierlike appearance of the troops has justly merited the animadversions of the Major Genl. and impudently calls for ^{the} exertions of officers to bring their men to a more correct subordination and attention to cleanliness. The Comd^{rs} of Regiments are particularly required to enforce the strictest discipline & they will make company officers responsible for the correct conduct of their men, that their persons, arms accoutrements, and whatever else they may have are in the best order, that every humane moment is employed to improve them in discipline that the inspections are regular and that those only who are really sick are excused from duty. The Quarter Masters of Regiments are held responsible that the sick are attended to, and no officer who drops his fettle in any improper place must pass with impunity

The Dangerous and unmilitary practice of discharging muskets about the Camp calls for the vigilance of every officer, who is required to see that each offender is punished in the most exemplary manner

These orders which regulate the police of Camp herefore issued must be more rigidly enforced, that particular ⁹⁹ which relates to the men leaving camp without a written permit

The unprincipled and ignorance of sentinels demands the attention not only of commanders of guards but of every officer who whenever he passes one who appears to be unacquainted with his duty must give him the necessary instructions

It is reported to the Genl. Comd. that notwithstanding the orders of the 6th Inst. obliging officers to sleep in camp or quarters, that many have neglected that injunction; as soon as the names can be ascertained must be followed.

The sick report of the Army continues swelled to enormous numbers - It is not believed possible that so great a number of officers and soldiers can really be unfit for duty as are included in the morning reports.

It is correct so serious an evil officers Comd. Regt. Corps or

Newark June 25 1813

The Genl. having so far recovered his health as to be able to resume the Command of the Army he proposes the earliest opportunity of opening the troops. He has the honor to command of his entire confidence in their firmness & valor, the repeated proofs they have already exhibited in the several combats with the enemy are firm pledges of what may be expected from them in future. The Genl. is fully persuaded that no force of the enemy will be able to stand before equal numbers of the troops under his command. The Army attached to this Army is equal in point of organization, training and conduct to what any country can boast of and in ample proportion to the strength of the Army. The Infantry is composed of brave men. Commanded by officers of firmness & endurance. The Cavalry and Light Corps are well qualified to the most arduous service. Attached to each Corps respectively, and Commanded by Brave and active officers.

It is with pleasure the Genl. learns that many of our Brave officers and soldiers who have been confined by wounds have again joined their respective Corps and are ready for acquiring additional glory.

The M. of the sick is daily diminishing and it is confidently hoped that a large proportion of those who have been sent to the Hospital will soon be fit for duty if the enemy should have opportunity to advance to this place with its present force their defeat must be inevitable.

The unfortunate and unexpected fate of the detachment of yesterday is not yet to be accounted for, but there is reason for believing that there was no deficiency of Bravery in our troops.

The Flying Picket will be the 1st Regt. of 1st Brigade. They will be ready to reinforce the Picket that may be attacked. The Off. Comd. that Picket will call at the Adj. Genl. office before sun set for orders.

Nathaniel G. M. Jenter late Capt^l 25th Infantry Having offered his resignation, the same is accepted to take effect on the 26th Inst.

The Chaplain in future will do duty as an independent corps the Superior officer of that Reg^t will accordingly report to head Quarters while he will receive his orders. In future the troops are not to turn out on the happening of an alarm except by orders from head Quarters or the most certain intelligence of the approach of the Enemy, and to insure the repose of the Camp during night an evening Patrol or Picket to be detailed will have orders to inquire into the cause of any alarm which may happen during the night and make report to head Quarters.

The Genl has ordered that enquiring made to have the names of the two or three individuals ascertained who shamefully abandoned their Posts last evening on the approach of the Enemy's advanced parties. Such shameful examples are but rare in this army and therefore specially to be punished.

A Court of Inquiry whereof Col. Burns was president, which had orders to investigate the circumstances connected with the reception of a flag of truce from the British army, by Major Forsyth, of the Rifle Corps, and to report an opinion thereon in writing, having had all the testimony connected with the case, as well as the letter of Major Fulton of the British Army who bore the Flag, as the statements of the several Amer-ican officers who were present at its reception, report the following opinion: — The Court lament that the conduct of Major Forsyth, should have been such as to have afforded the smallest opportunity of complaint, but are of opinion that the reception of the flag was by him was correct, — and notwithstanding their con-viction that the unpleasant circumstances that occurred were produced by the evident disposition of the bearer of the Flag to enter our lines, yet the Court are clearly of opinion that the language made use of by Major Forsyth was highly indecorous and improper

The Major Gen^l Com^d the army approves of the opinion reported by the Court, and offers it to the army under his command. —

The Gen^l cannot but lament the unpleasant circumstances which gave rise to this investigation. — The sacred character of a flag of truce cannot be too highly respected by civilized nations. — Partial deviations from propriety in the bearers of these signals of communication can never justify rudeness or hostility in those who receive them. — Nor can the example of the enemy, or rather that of his Indian allies in certain reported cases, authorize retaliation in this way. — Should retal-iation be determined on by the Gen^l it will be differ--ently made. —

The Right to stop a flag of truce at the 1st out-post will not be denied; such is the usage and custom of every army, — but the use of indecorous and improper language to the bearer, as in this instance, is contrary to the honour and dignity of the American Army, — and therefore highly reprehended by the Com^d Gen^l.
The Court of Enquiry whereof Col. Burn is president is hereby dissolved

The Police of the Camp and Corps is yet in a state of shameful neglect notwithstanding the many admonitions which have been published, no attention has been paid to the cleanliness of the tents and bedding of the soldiers or to the cleanliness of their persons and clothes, in several Regts the men are represented as alive with vermin. These evils are destructive to the health, pride and honor of the army & reflect particularly upon Comd. Officers who have not enforced correction. The looking and distributing of papers, another important part of police, has fallen under a like neglect. Admonitions are made upon these subjects in vain. Most must follow, and if Comd. Officers of Brigades will not make them the responsibility will be altogether their own.

It is a second time ordered that two Captains or Subalterns from each Brigade shall be detailed daily for the internal police of Brigades to report to the Inspector Gen. for Instructions.

Soldiers found out of Camp without written passes signed by the Comd. Officers of Regts or Corps shall be confined and punished, and any other officer who shall presume to sign a Pass for any soldier other than his private soldier will himself be liable to confinement.

No standing passes are to be given except in the cases of Quarters Masters Sergeants and officers Warranted & there must be renewed every seven days.

It is expected that Quartermasters that money officers are yet in the habit of mispending or cutting off their meals out of camp, this is strictly prohibited in future Drunk or com. officers be permitted to absent themselves from regimental or other duty, or to leave the camp after retreat beating, without permission from Comdr of Independent Corps or Brigades

Having received orders from the Secretary at War to retire from my present command until my health shall be restored, and until further orders the command of this Army at present devolves on Brigadier Genl. Boyd I embrace this opportunity for expressing my most ardent wishes for the success of the troops I have had the honor of commanding, of whose bravery and zeal I have experienced the most ^{distinctly} ~~positive~~ proofs, and for whose fame and wellfare I feel the deepest interest, while absent the confidence I shall repose in the soldierly qualifications of both officers and men will be the source of the most pleasing anticipations of their future glory were I permitted to consult my own feelings no consideration could induce me to leave the Army at so important a crisis but the first duty of a soldier is to obey
