domain, the points they have raised are of vital interest to Minnesotans.
vitality importance

The appearance of Mntsa wanting to benefit from "Manitoba's surplus hydro energy" is deceiving, because increased droughts or industrial usage could dry up the "hydro energy surplus" as well. *To maintain the "contractual obligation" w. the ~~the~~
Mn. - based utility, M. H. must resort

*Under such adverse conditions, M H's contractual obligations <sup>in Canada or the U.S.</sup> would probably be maintained w. the addition of thermal energy. A proposed gas-fired plant at Brandon, Manitoba, is within 200 miles ~~border~~ of the Mn.
border. Clearly this is not a clean, renewable, or sustainable source of energy.

We respectfully submit a request to extend the comment period & to compel the availability of the relevant information documents from the bidding parties before ~~giving~~ approving this proposal.
So Minnesotans have the benefit of your most

NSP & MH were nervous about Q, MH lawyer said he'd already told more than MH. Bret seems open. Betsy upset that (Crees) defense failed: 2 from Turckstra & 2 from McCollough. <sup>PUC</sup> ~~they~~ made a procedural error that PCN is not a "party" [NSP objected to party status to PCN] ~~participating~~. Betsy talked to AG lawyer "Party" is directly affected & "participant" is concerned person.

Scott told Crees lawyers several times that $ Minn. will ~~lose~~ lose is not the Crees' concern; he wanted to know how MH affected Crees. Our Mn. people can discern the $.

Scott asked NSP why they objected to letting PCN be a party, & the other Commissioners allowed PCN to have party status; so they have it.

He thinks the most optimistic scenario is PUC Approves investigation but not stay. PROBABLY NOT.

Justification: This contract emerged thru competitive bid & the energy is sorely needed

3-6 months for such an investigation

Beth will attend, but maybe not be the spokesperson.

Externality values are already "set" (+ social costs aint one).
No law requires PUC to factor in social costs

NSP's argument to PUC, which PUC finds very persuasive, is that if Mn. doesn't buy Hydro, someone else will. Prove it's bogus.

Ref to 8-18 document which shows MH as questionable of MH supplied to NSP would be 10%, but actually would be 30%

~~They~~ We're not here to take issue between First Nations; divisions have been externally imposed.

PCN wants to see thriving trade between Manitoba

We're saying: the Canadians should provide info ~~on~~ <sup>its</sup> products (spec sheets not provided by MH or the gov. of Canada which also a conflict of interest, in balance of payments to U.S.) to U.S., to Mn.

MH gave you a document which says enviro destruction is in the past & all finished, but that's not true.

Kopendrayer tells Orkin not to bad-mouth Canada. But, Orkin reminds us, the Prime Minister called the situation "a travesty." Canada has an "arm's-length", objective agency to conduct EIS.

Marshal Johnson Q: Hydro Quebec was different, it concerned building of new dams.

Orkin sat on the Canadian panel & knows it

Scott Q Socio-economic issues are the key ones to me.

Those s-eco costs have already been considered. The NFA anticipated there'd be adverse effects. 4 of 5 tribes have renegotiated. Why should I substitute my judgment for the majority of Canadians?

PCN is looking for leverage from us in PUC.
Orkin : on the basis of a shared environment

Scott : your answer seems to say "yes, I'm here for leverage"

Orkin : Send a signal to other Americans that we won't accept that product.

Bivenbach : PCN isn't sorry to entering into the NFA, they want to live w. dams & to receive promised benefits from NFA

Orkin : Your Am. firms should be on a level playing field w. MH

Scot : We'll set a standard then?

YES.

We've Intervened w. info to MCC & Sierra Club Address letters sent to newspapers. There's no need to investigate s-eco costs. It could have bad impact on our community.

Nelson H. established in 1908. The treaties were a bad deal for us. I was shocked when I read them. About 4,500 members w. 2,600 living<sup>on</sup> reserve. We've evolved from subsistence to modern structures (roads) We've accepted them w. open arms. We didn't have electricity in early '70s. In '73, Mom phoned him. After modernization, people have re-located onto reserve. Prior to 1977, we relied on traditional ways. Hydrologists say 70,000 acres total flooding (not 3 million) Anti-fur lobby had negative impact. Alcoholism & suicide. NFA brought hope to us, but the promises weren't fulfilled. We have 90% unemployment. ~~We~~ We didn't trust NH or the governments. Most of small agreements went to consultants. In 1992, we had no choice, we entered negotiations all alone. Many frustrations during that time.

I faced tough Q from my people 1992-96
The complex agreement was hard for us to understand. & not in Cree.

"$ of dollars" not translatable into Cree. Our opinion survey shows community satisfaction w. recent agreements. We think agreements are fair. We want to move forward & break the cycle of poverty & get self sufficiency & self-respect. "We weren't bought out by any corporation." NCN receives money from a number of sources. "We act independently in the interests of our own people." I've tried to listen respectfully to PCN's story. But I must speak out. Problems can't be blamed on NH. Nelson H. is most severely impacted of the 5 nations, but we're most optimistic, not desolate or in despair. For these people here, think of me & my people when you turn your light switch on & turn on your computers & air conditioners. Groups speak of enviro terrorism & enviro racism

Using economic terrorism against us. We stand to lose a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity from outside sources.

B Grant Xcel hasn't developed much data on soc-ec costs.

We've monitored the situation in Manitoba, as ordered. We'll be happy to bring forward info at the contract negotiation stage.

Kop How ~~do~~ did you look at soc-ec costs?

Clark We followed your externalities process. To some extent the PCN/MH "dispute" was factored in by Xcel.

Kopp You didn't do a quantitative assessment. The study by PUC would be redundant.

Clark What value do we put on issues raised by PCN? We don't know.

DJP to Bret: The parties can't question each other. Tell PUC you'd like to question Xcel during your statement. ...

Scot Xcel, please answer PCN's point about the fossil burners afternoon. Ann @ ME3 says Michael may go.

Senate Energy Committee
Jim Bernstein

4 depts: energy, telecommunications, finance
(banks, insurance, etc.), enforcement of finance

#1 issue for Mn. is reliability

#2 affordability

#3 price stability for business

Must prevent big problem in 2006

We're in crisis soon, need 5,000 megawatts

His plan ~~advocates~~ <sup>streamline</sup> for regulatory structure

Tells Committee "we're here to do whatever you want us to do." Linda Taylor says her dept.

energy efficiency w. business + residential

Tomasoni Q: how about time, jobs, to build a 5,000 mg plant?

Bernstein A: Well P.I. is 1,000 mg. It takes 5 or 6 years to build a plant now + we must go faster

Oliver Q: Is there a new electric source

A: distributed generation + fuel cells

Johnson Q: Cost to build a new plant?

L Taylor A: 2500-3000 is Mn's portion of this MAPP shortfall

B A: We're not an island, we're part of a pool. We look at surrounding areas

Metzen Q: PI will retire about 2006?

Deputy Commissioner

Skuevel Q How long'll it take to build, even if streamlined? I hear reluctance to build any plants

B, A: Uncertainty w. business & dismay @ timeline

T A: "Kind developers are ready to go"
need financing

2007 is date for no more casks.

Oliver Q: If storage not issue, then 2013 + 2014.

Orada Q: baseload

Taylor A: is considered intermediate. We can rely on wind predictions, but can't rely on wind to blow during peak demand times.

Orada: We need to start building now or next yr.
~~we~~ We don't have courage to extend storage. Shut down a perfectly good plant !?

Anderson Q Potential mg of wind available?
Increase per capita consumption?

Pariseau Q Wants to site a nuke in Mn.

B A: Sense no public will for it.
I'm not opposed

Lessard Talked to Premier Doer. Can we access power of MH on Duluth line?

B A: Yes, sort-of. The real purpose of that is not for Mn, it's for Wisc.

And you can work on the agenda which should specifically reference what people said they would do, so it'd be a series of reports and where we stand.

We also need a p release

a master signup for the 9 Wednesdays after that

Thanks, Ann

I would like the theme of the rallies to be something about the conduct and intellectual honesty/ethics we expect from major corporations. NSP morphed into Xcel so it's now a 12-state utility. Therefore, it cannot indulge in the behavior it has gotten away with (reliance on vendor that product is ok). We're not demonizing them or veering into religious zealotry. There IS a difference.
