New Year's Day

This was a very happy New Year Day. Began about 2 when we woke from a deep sleep to hear how the new year had come in, in New York. (New York Times elec. sign failed) And also got movie from Post. — which we knew our children had danced the new year in. Up at 7 or 80 and off to Sunday School. I had then had. Discussion arose among the boys about sharip. It seems that every one of them had kissed the rays. A lady (her too had) arrived at church. The 9 cable (with accompanying red-ving j by or had) Dinner at the club about 2. Delosy their afternoon put on his red shirt with the gray scarf Bert sent. We took a walk planning next year's New Year Eve. We're going to give a party called New Year's in Vienna, to run for 467. Halipp came in for cock tails & helped play. Temp in bed. Beau called EL

Santa, the angel & the lovely golden candlesticks

I went to the Johnson whatever. I was so tired tonight that I got drunk & brought it to me on a tray.

Really surprised these evenings. Puffs of bright pink all over the west tonight,

A mass of business letters to get out of the way this morning.
Delaney was at the Johnson trial. After lunch we took a walk for the weather is nice balmy and lovely. A square laid to the west which has never been stripped of its orange fossil. A road has been made across it & some stone walkway put in. Houses will be sprung up there but now it is empty & I love to walk there, like the emptiness. We can see the Pine & hills to our our mountains, too, and so much sky. Today jets were making dark marks on the sky. A car from British who said they danced until 5 or New Year's morning.

A very busy morning, first cleaning up after last night's party, then Blossy came back for Sunday School to pick me up for church, then dining, and soon a little while, while Blossy trimmed the roses.
Cooler than it has been but suny & so pleasant. Our little crabs so cute, our fish didn't matter, so we've stripped them from the hands. A gay concert tonight at Jacque Chamber Marie. A Mozart sonata for 4 hands; Giesekui's Sonata for flute & piano; and a Smetana sonata for eight hands. Then the St-Sabas Carnival of the animals with scappi girls (and Fa-scha Weiss) playing for concert. It was fine & such a lovely little party that I expected calm.

This morning the mockingbird

Beautiful bold mountains this morning & a few flocks on the telephone wire as we ate breakfast. Sunshine over the matter. Fricas is for smogged (the severe kind) in L.A. The "Yamos a trabapas!" at 11, we went over to the ally to hear Dr Stratman speak on his year in England. (He was doing research on Sir Walter Raleigh, most interesting) mail brought a letter from McKean, and the kids can't make it out here this spring. They can't find vacation dates that coincide. But they'll come in the fall so it isn't too sad, sad, though.

The mountains at our left "mang folded" and early even in a governing fog. The road runs thru orange groves (like the California of my youth) and between acres of vineyard. Now mostly cropped to bare. The tops they remained are reddish as they lie on the ground. Birds on the telephone wires, flocks, Jim saw. This evening we went over to Annold for a wonderful lecture by Dr Elmer Belt on Edward Urci. What a wonderful character & he died at an old age full of honors. This evening in a misty rain we went down to Paradise for a wonderful party. What a banquet! (Sue's cream & Libby's dried onion soup, in a heavenly mixture with which you dip potato chips) a California pudding made by permission — with a sauce. Guests all fun & interesting. Mildred Phelps from the library, who is passing up a second California Laced. Rosemary Hickey, Mary and Carol Buff, writer & artist, who have a summer home is enrolled & looks so about that. Margaret Hill in whose apartment the party was given. Fred Charles & May Hill Arbutnot as hosts. Dorothy had a dizzy spell which worried me but it passed off.

As a gift I investigated Carpenteria. A long day's work, coffee, a nut, a hot. Too tired to do for my Spanish records tonight. Sent a dear letter from a little girl, Sandra Pyper, who says she has "an empty feeling when she finishes" — Betty. "Lacy looks" it seems as though a piece of her life had been cut, as she said. A lovely letter from Pickie who has turned up an old Mex. newspaper that he felt, used to edit a column signed P. Kenney! Note to self: You must not NOT get upset about these requests for Council to change your royalty agreement. Don't we get angry.

After twilight I sat in front window watching the rain + waiting for Delossy. A nice rumble in the gutter across the street. A tinkling sound, water dripping from? — the cause. He is unaccustomed to the noise of rain in California. Radio told of traffic jams + I was glad to get Delossy here at 7:30. Just after it was dark outside. Oh what beauty this morning! Sun shining. Mountains full on, and Baldy's covered with shining snow. That Christmas cottage effect the mountains as the photos are brown had have clouds in the hollows. Rose ate breakfast in the living room which our wood furnace keeps nicely warm & I sat on the couch in ~~order~~ to stare at the mountains. Janice a table-jar! I think it was this afternoon that we took a beautiful ride beyond Fathell. Weather has warmed up. Sun shining. ~~Every~~ (but me) looked lightly. Fruit trees some white ones, & some pink too have been in bloom for several days. Vines were beautiful & orange groves & eucalyptus most with foothills beyond & some capped Baldy beyond that. I looked for my camera. Dinner at The Kitchen. MT. Be a quiet a party tonight.

Still working by electric heater but got up early & got in a good whack before school. Nelson was to Cissy reading the Bible (the sermon on the mount which he is discussing with his kids) that he forgot to go to Sunday school until almost 10. Of course it was a great jolt. Dinner at Wilson's and back at work. Electric heater gas in my bathroom & the well furnace keeps us reasonably warm. I had had a wonderful morning, working on the back ground to my story, magazines, records, etc. And thought I had read three more chapters of the Concert. It's more fascinating than a novel. It was a cold and overcast day. Very high wind in L.A., terrible over etc., also in Palm Springs when it resulted in a said storm, but not a leaf stirred here.

They think we are their bank but it's not annoying) — and I drove to St Gabriel mission. A lovely day, with yellow meadow shining in what meadows are left, & purple ice flowers in a mound in someone's doorway. We crossed the wide dry bed of the San Gabriel River, the mountain rising sharply ^{green} above it, and after a ride through several small towns the Mexican quarter of San Gabriel came to the Mission.

St. Patrick's Day

A most interesting afternoon.
Paul & I & Mr. Zan came in to Panama Canal on Franklin Zan, Mr.
Z took us to in a barker for he looks like a Quaker man, a little grey & white hair he built himself, a tiny patio, garden where he raises all his vegetables.
He works for Friends Service Committee & does unpaid carpentry work for his neighbors, mostly Mexicans.
He's an architect with distinguished degree, but he doesn't work as a teacher he works for money because he won't pay in currencies because they support war.
Evening with Paul & I.
The day was really warm & the landscape in every direction tinted with flowering trees.

Passion Sunday

Temp 75

The first Sunday in the new church! we were terribly excited. Delossy, but went first to Sunday School, which was complete. Poedman, he says. Then he picked me up + we called for Mrs. Boyard (who gave the chalice) a very old lady with dapples who lives on the corner. She was the one to be grip. The little church around the camp trees was packed, chairs in the aisles. The big gold encases the Ratzemburgs gave looked over all in old Piper had presence. New ones. But almost in that. After church a nice Delossy's went back. Did not stay for evening prayer + confirmation. But saw the little girls in white dresses, met Bishop Blay + smelled the coffee parking in the new kitchen.

Later Delossy & I took another one, together, across the fence, across grass, now an open field. The mountain view clear & thrilling. Harry brought me completed manuscript of his book. It starts out very well. We phoned & told him so. The Bishop phoned while I was at the club. Says he will be able to take the good Friday Service, could it miss it, he says. Say he is leaving in the hospital, not seeing anybody! Returned to my Spanish record trip.

on the notes from the trip.
Worked hard until 12:41, by which time mail came & it was very warm. I took me to Crystal and we bought groceries and the afternoon was busy too. This evening's people will be glad we were so pleased that the first week's group to come. A cousin's room & very high stars. They said they had enjoyed our garden while we were gone, I was very glad to hear that.
I said that they were nice while we were away & that we found the whole place bursting with color and bloom?

Another sunshiny perfect morning. After breakfast I and I inspected the estate. The yellow roses, the red ranunculus, the space between the houses where he is planning a third oleander, the space around the rosebush which must soon be planted with a fresh batch of flowers, as counted the figs, planned a new compost pile, agreed to cut down a black tree which grows on the road. Now vamos a trabajar. It was hot. Into the 90s. Up to 98 in Santa Ana when we are going tomorrow. Blossom walked all day on his speech and I on typing my notes for the trip.

day terrifically hot, but I - was on a light suit and I, E.L.'s print, we drove to San Marino and made an speaker. Book good. Coffee afterwards to Beverly Saunders who came from Minneapolis, and very sweet, crippled, with Baylies the chief librarian & other. Drove a D. Fords in their new & lovely car, Tappin's way. Their hair & air conditioned & blissfully cool. we lunched at the Empirical. They had had disturbing news from Minneapolis, about their property tax, we called on Patty & the children. How Frankie has grown, and how he looks like Al! Cathy is sweet as a peach.

We were in no way thin, but in the course of our conversation it developed that she has been in my house in Guilford. I lived there for a month one time! I am overcome by it. At this evening Blossy & I had a chilly walk for weather because my next door, a priest had lawn to my + working with a wheel. Both he & his wife are so thrilled by the new house.

Avellan is really charming & must have been idyllic in the days Zane Grey & Gene Stratton Porter chose it. The old population of Avellan hovered at. After breakfast we took a walk up the street lined with palms, acacias, etc. which had a sign out to bring bring home for the literally thousands of tourists who raise the population of the place to 10,000 in the summer. 1500 the rest of the year. The town is very clean. Men wear homespun the pavement is sweep-up the walk, & keep the sand above the beach. The main st. has many brick beaches & well-land lots of cactus decorated with special tile, flowers, very white. A balmy relaxed feeling. No automobiles to mention so one walks in the street. Radio phone to all has many people the big boat is bringing & arrives at 12.15 & floods the place with carnival atmosphere. It leaves at 3.30 & Avellan sleeper starts once more. Up at 5.10 (4.10 real time) with a headache. Took coffee on the back porch & then in the pinkish eastern sky was the hip man with yellow sunglasses around it. The redwood, table & benches, the patio, the two blue chairs sat still as a stone life picture. ~~There~~ ~~was~~ a heap with flowering oleanders behind, and a little green lawn, looked so fresh, so empty. A half a dozen of those hip black birds — crows or ravens — whirped across the sky going east.

A pretty good day's work. It was hot but not too much so. Flies (almost unknown in such numbers) drove us in from patio table but we had our favorite evening walk facing pale blue velvet mountains.

Hard work and a hard rain. I had just written Maria that it never rained out here from April to November! It simply poured & the gutters were full & running so now we rejoice — because our lawns & gardens & orchards were soaking it up & now, no need to water for a while. Duane here, I was invited to a slave for Virginia, went to Crystal at 3.30.

a spit on the patio, served it with butter & garlic dressing the 2 hours it turned.
Served with beans cooked in pork & corn. The dessert was praline in Kirsch in of us could eat. Some certainly can cook! Day - hot!

morning - work! Whitecup for me, Dorsey cleaned the car. nice fan mail.
Then we drove to Orange.
Brought home veg, Paep's wonderful assortment of veg, salad, fruit - praline, tomatoes, an egg plant. Now we're riding a mass of gold, we're the China plain

It's going to be 105 in Los Angeles today which means 110 here, so early after breakfast Delossy closed the windows & I went out & watered my flowers. Susan came to the window to tell me that she was starting school tomorrow, I told her that Cathy was too and that Cathy would be wearing a red dress & if she could tell me what color dress she would be wearing I'd tell Cathy about it. So Susan went to the closet & brought back a yellow dress to show & now I must send Cathy a card. Susan while very a troublemaker! Do a big way.

Late this afternoon, after work, met & parents, we called on Faye and had a pleasant time. Faye was there. Dinner at home & a week while a red gold luminous sunset was going on. Mrs. at. Later, a Later when I waked out in the yard, I saw a bright star in the east too, the north-east, & to the south-east these three stars were together. One's belt about 6 it was pink in the east — the little bit of east we can see from our garden. I swept the terrace, put out the chair, picked flowers in a early semi-light until suddenly it was nearly light. Now almost 7, I've come in the house & with. Delossy still sleeping. Called on Nulms & went with them to the Benih Kitchen to dinner. Sick at Ruth is to pass as they are, they are the most rewarding companions.

A big forest fire is raging in the San Bernardino mountains because of the drought caused by the unreasonable weather. But it's pleasant!

DeLossy too. His book is really rolling. Made a pudding & took it over to dear little Fessie with her cracked rib, brought cards for boys for tomorrow, & did other errands. Outside so warm, I'm wearing cottons. Cold news just a little brighter as the U.N. troops reach Egypt and Hungarian refugees reach the United States. Thanksgiving casts an air on our market.

Thanksgiving Day

Our head was back — delicious — in the high Eighties, red hot.
I cleaned the house, since the Duras did not come yesterday, & sat out in the big blue chair in crackling sweater.
Dinner with the Redduburgs, some Hollaunders — Jay charming — named Keypse — and Clare, the Redduburg granddaughter from Stanford. We had cocktails first, then went over to the Inn. 35 years ago Thanksgiving DeLossy & I were married & what a wonderful perfect marriage it's been!

idea & a good one.
Both of us felt so much better & after a day's sunset ride went to dinner at the Santa Ana

after a stiff morning's work, we drove to Santa Ana to see Prof. H. H. H. staying with us. but we were at the tailor with Frank. The rain had cleared but white strange clouds lay or hovered over the mountains.
I liked this line I saw across an Brigham's book in Guatemala: "white clouds rested on the --- hills." These clouds looked wet & they come only after rain.
Hence I said that since the rain & weather change Baldy is silvery white.

at all costs to keep

Darius came up the highway, great dark shadow of mountain loomed at a distance from the same light. I was glad I wasn't walking the r.r. tracks. New Year's Eve

The last day of a wonderful year, highlighted by the visit from O'Finn and Bert, and wrapping such success to Bert and taking a fine new job with Dodger, 1956 and a success, and so many happy days in our dear little home. Today brought a letter for me about The Trees Kneel from the Princess of a Dominican convent in Chicago. They have been using it for reflecting reading. He says, and says such beautiful things about it a very day too. Katie's pupil Caterina Micelli, and husband Richard Robison, & two double children come in from L.A. we had coffee on the patio. Then Katie cooked a delicious beef stew & we had wine for drink. We called George & Helen to wish them happy New Year Christmas tree light. To bed about the time New Year was coming in the New Year.
