The minutes of the last 8 meetings were read and approved.

The Secretary read a letter from Mrs. Winter resigning from the Club. It was moved, seconded and carried that Mrs. Winter's resignation be accepted with regret, and that the Secretary write her expressing the Club's appreciation for all her efforts in our behalf.

The election of officers followed and resulted in:

President	Mrs. Pierson
Vice President	Mrs. Covey
Secy-Treas.	Mrs. Atkinson

The following were elected to membership:

Mrs. Walter Hudson
Miss Helen Winton

The President appointed Mrs. Bellows and Mrs. Covey a committee to consider an open meeting. A discussion followed as to what nature the open meeting should take.

The President appointed Mrs. Northrop and Mrs. Case a program committee to outline the course of study to be taken up when Hagen's "Fifty Years of Europe" has been finished.

Mrs. Hunt was named leader of the discussion for next week.

The meeting adjourned. (Dorothy B. Atkinson, Secy)

January 9th:

The 152d regular meeting of the Study Club was held on January 9th, at the home of Mrs. John Pillsbury, Mrs. Covey presiding in the absence of the President, and 9 members present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The Secretary presented the resignation of Miss Winston who expects to leave Minneapolis in the near future. It was accepted with regret. Miss Winston was elected an associate member.

Mrs. Hunt led the discussion of the Chapters on "Italy until 1870", The German Empire, and France under the 3d Republic.

The meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
Dorothy B. Atkinson, Secy.

January 16th:

The 153d meeting of the Study Club was held on January 16th at the home of Mrs. John Pillsbury, the President presiding, and 15 members present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. Northrop gave the report of the program committee. It comprised studying the work of the novelists and other literary writers of the 19th century and those contemporary in France, England, Germany, Italy and the Scandinavian Countries. Motion made, seconded and carried that the program submitted be adopted in full.

Mrs. Bellows reported for the committee on the open meeting. The choice seems to rest between local talent procurable at the University or an imported speaker who would be coming to the Twin Cities. A Mr. Olgin of Russia was mentioned as coming to the St. Paul Institute. Suggested that we have no meeting if not a good one. Committee asked to find out about the Russian and also whether the University has any interesting speakers booked for the near future, and report next week.

Mrs. King led the discussion on the chapters Austria-Hungary since 1870 and Great Britain and Ireland.

The meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
Dorothy B. Atkinson, Secy.

January 23d:

The 154th meeting of the Study Club was held on January 23d at the home of Mrs. John Pillsbury, the President presiding and 9 members present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. Pierson reported for Mrs. Bellows concerning the open meeting. The Russianspoke in St. Paul last Thursday. The University has no speakers in prospect due to lack of funds. Mrs. Bellows then asked Mr. Northrop his choice as to a speaker from the University for our new program. He suggested Prof. Joseph Beach. Mrs. Bellows hoped that perhaps we might also secure Prof. Northrop to give a talk. Discussion seemed favorable to having the two lectures on different afternoons. Miss Jones offered her house for the first.

Mrs. Pillsbury suggested that the second lecture be postponed until we progress a little into our new program.

Mrs. Northrop's resignation was read by the secretary. Motion was made, seconded and carried that it be accepted with regret.

Mrs. Morrison offered her house as meeting place during February.

Miss Jones led the discussion for the morning on the chapters The British Empire, Small States in Europe, Partition of Africa, Rise of Balkan States, Russia to the War with Japan.

The meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
Dorothy B. Atkinson, Secy.

January 30th:

Mrs. Morrison led the discussion on the Chapters, the Far East, Russia Since the War with Japan and the Balkan Wars of 1912 and 1913. The meeting adjourned. Respectfully submitted,
Eleanor L. Pillsbury,
Secy Pro Tem

February 6th:

The 156th meeting of the Study Club was held at the home of Mrs. Angus Morrison on February 6th, Mrs. Pillsbury presiding in the absence of the president and vice president. There were 7 members present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. Bellows reported for the committee on open meetings. The members of the committee did not feel that they could approach tentatively any of the University professors on the subject of delivering a lecture before the Club. They wanted therefore definite instructions regarding the professors to be approached, the time of the open meetings, and the amount of money to be expended on them.

After discussion, it was decided that this was not a propitious time for the open meetings and they were indefinitely postponed. It was considered, however, advisable to spend some of the money in the treasury. The motion was made, seconded and carried that the Club adopt a Servian Orphan for a year.

Mrs. Pillsbury led the discussion on the World War. The meeting adjourned. Respectfully submitted,
E. L. Pillsbury, Secy protem

February 20th:

The 158th meeting of the Study Club was held on February 20th at the home of Mrs. Angus Morrison, the President presiding and 13 members present.

Mrs. Pierson gave out the printed programs on Scandinavian literature that are to be followed from now until May. The Secretary was instructed to mail programs to those members not present.

On Mrs. McKnight's suggestion that Mrs. David F. Simpson had spent considerable time on the study of Ibsen, the members immediately expressed themselves as anxious to have her speak to the Club. Mrs. McKnight was asked to communicate with her and to have her come to the next meeting if possible. The Club as a slight expression of appreciation would make a donation to the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Fund in which Mrs. Simpson is much interested.

Mrs. Brown, leader of the discussion on Ibsen, asked Mrs. Morrison to present "The Doll's House", and Mrs. Pierson to present "Brand."

The meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
Dorothy B. Atkinson.

Dec. 6, 1929

The 402nd meeting of the Study Club was held at the home of Mrs. Covey. Mrs. Wyman presided. There were 18 members present.

Mrs. McKnight suggested that, as Dr. Wood had left Minneapolis, we should consider getting someone else to speak to the Club at the April 11th meeting on "South American and International Banking". Mrs. McKnight said that we might secure Mrs. Wittig as she plans to discuss this same subject before another study group this winter. Motion was made and carried that Mrs. McKnight ask Mrs. Wittig to speak to the Club.

A discussion followed relative to the compensation to be given Mrs. Wittig. This matter was left to Mrs. McKnight's discretion.

Miss Jones then gave her topic, "The New Republics and the World"

The question of next year's program was brought up. The question of the Drama was mentioned but discussion of this was put off until the next meeting, when the outline submitted by Mrs. King in 1928 could be gone over.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
Bertha H. Walker,
