Century Farm Program
Minnesota State Fair
St. Paul, Minn.

Dear Century farm Coordinator,

Just recently a short article appeared in our local newspaper (North Star News, Karlstad, Mn) about our century farm in Kittson co. The information is correct, except that you have it in the wrong name. You have it listed under Paul A. Englund. I am a member of the family that has owned the farm, but I do not presently or ever owned it personally. I think that the confusion came because I was in the cities and applied for it for my cousin's family that does own the farm. At the time that I applied for them in 1976 the farm was in Arnold Englund's name it has now been transferred to his son whose name is Everett A. Englund. Would you please see to it that this change is made, as we would want it to be correct for the records. We all feel that the century farm program is a worthwhile project and we hope that it will be a continued success.

Best wishes for the state fair season that lies ahead later this summer.

Sincerely,

Paul A. Englund

Dear Mr. Frost;

I was at our historical society at Lake Bronson, Mn., the other day, and heard from the Curator that you were interested in "Century Farms" in Minnesota. My Ancestors homestead in Kittson County near Karlstad was settled in the early 1870's and has had the Englund family descendents on it ever since. The Kittson County Courthouse was not really recording all this data then as Hallock was just being settled too. Can a signed affidavit of of the family confirm the truth of this matter. I believe that July 10 is the final day for Application.

Please consider this an informal Application until I hear from you concerning the formal procedure in this matter.

Thank You.
