MEMO AND BRIEF ON PRE-NUPITAL AGREEMENT AND TAKING JUDICIAL NOTICE OF SAME

On the question of the surviving son of decedent by a prior marriage taking the entire estate by reason of the pre-nuptial agreement executed between decedent and Verna A. Young (then Verna A. Berquist), a few days prior to the marriage of the parties, the undersigned respectfully submits the following:

Pre-nuptial contracts are not against public policy, but are regarded with favor as conducive to the welfare of the parties making the same, and will be sustained whenever equitable and fairly made.

In re Estate of Frederick Malchow, deceased, 143 Minn. 53, 172 N.W. 915.

Marriage settlements are uniformly sustained by the Courts when not prohibited by Statute. The law on the subject is correctly summed up in Desnoyer vs. Jordan, 27 Minn. 295, 7 N.W. 140.

Appleby vs. Estate of Appleby & F.S. Wilder, 100 Minn. 408.

A pre-nuptial agreement complies with the statute of frauds being in writing. Minn. Statute 513.01 (3)

It has always been permitted for the parties in contemplation of marriage to fix property rights by agreement equitably and fairly made, to exclude the operation of the law in respect to fixing such rights, so that so far as the agreement extends it, and not the law, furnishes the measure of such right.

Desnoyer vs. Jordan, 27 Minn. 295, 7 N.W. 140.

On the question of JUDICIAL NOTICE

Dunnell's Minn. Digest, Vol. 7, sec. 3450. The court may inform itself as to any fact it is bound to take notice of, and the court may inform itself by reference to books or other sources of information which it may deem trustworthy. Courts will sometimes take judicial notice of facts when properly called to their attention by counsel, which they would otherwise ignor.

Corpus Juris Secundum, Vol. 31, Evidence, Sec. 50, In General.

A court may take judicial notice of its own records for all proper purposes and facts which may be obtained from its own records.

The court may examine records or docket entries, either on its own motion or at the suggestion of counsel, to ascertain the relevant facts set forth in them, but the judicial knowledge does not have greater force and effect than would be accorded the evidence of which it supplies in its place.

Dunnell's Minn. Digest, 964, Hearing on Petition.

In the absence of a contest, the averments of the verified petition ought to be deemed sufficient to make out a prima facie case for the petitioner, the court taking judicial notice of all prior proceedings in the administration, including the inventory and appraisal and the presentation and allowance of claims.

MEMO

In this estate in probate, the decedent fairly disclosed his estate in the pre-nuptial agreement itself, and it was executed by the parties a few days before the marriage, so there was no change in the decedent's assets.

The pre-nuptial agreement is on file and part of the probate file, and in addition thereto, the widow, Verna A. Young, executed for filing an additional waiver and disclaimer dated February 28, 1962, at the commencement of the probate proceedings, based upon the original pre-nuptial agreement entered into September 21, 1961, said additional waiver and disclaimer being a part of the probate file herein, and both entitled to judicial notice.

The widow is not contesting the matter.

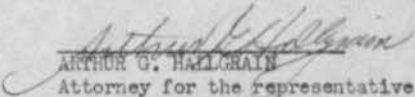

From the foregoing, it appears that the court should take judicial notice of the pre-nuptial agreement, and by reason thereof exclude the widow from any distribution in the estate and distribute the same solely to the surviving son, E. Clayton Young.

Incidentally, the widow is actually receiving approximately one-third of the assets held by decedent by reason of the fact that in February, 1962, just prior to decedent's death, he repurchased a house in Mesa, Arizona which he had previously sold after the death of his former deceased wife, this house being of the approximate value of $14,000.00, fully paid, and caused the title to same to be placed in joint tenancy with Verna A. Young, the deed being recorded February 7, 1962 just four days prior to decedent's death. The title to the Arizona property has been cleared to the widow, Verna A. Young, and she is now residing in the same. The pre-nuptial agreement refers to a contract for deed on real estate in Mesa, Arizona, in the sum of $11,900.00, this being decedent's interest as vendor, and he repurchased the same identical property as hereinbefore mentioned.

Considering the short time the widow was married to decedent, a little over sixteen months, she has been fortunate in receiving and sharing in decedent's estate to the extent she did, in view of said pre-nuptial agreement.

Respectfully submitted,

PETITION FOR AUTHORITY TO SELL CORPORATE STOCK

Your petitioner, Roy Sieverson, respectfully represents and shows to the Court:

1. That he is the duly qualified and acting Administrator, with Will annexed, of the Estate of Ida Wickland, a/k/a Ida Wicklund, deceased, under Letters issued to the said Roy Sieverson by this Court, on the 29th day of March, 1963.

2. That among the assets of said estate are the following described shares of corporate stock, to-wit:

presented by Stock Certificate No. N845916, standing in the name of Ida Wickland, dated December 14, 1962.

3. That the decedent in this case, Ida Wickland, left a Last Will and Testament which, after devising her homestead to her sister, Tillie Bryngelson, left the residue of the property, both real and personal, to be divided equally, share and share alike, among her two surviving sisters and two surviving brothers; and that in order to complete the distribution of this estate, it will be necessary that this corporate stock, listed above, be sold in order to make distribution of the assets under the terms of the Last Will and Testament of the decedent herein.

WHEREFORE, your petitioner prays that he be authorized to sell said shares of corporate stock, at private sale, or at broker's board, at the best price obtainable; and that the Court waive any inheritance tax lien on behalf of the State of Minnesota in connection with the sale of said stock.
