HEADQUARTERS SEVENTH CORPS AREA
Fort Crook, Nebraska.

(Date) January 31, 1922.

The men whose names appear below, and who were under the jurisdiction of the local board named, were, according to the public draft records, classified and reported by the draft authorities as deserters from the military service of the United States. Actual expenses not to exceed $50, to include reimbursement for the amount actually expended, but not to include allowance for services, will be paid to any civil officer or other citizen for the apprehension and delivery to military control of any of them. If any one of them is apprehended, he should be delivered at, and reimbursement for the actual expenses incurred by the arresting officer should be claimed at, the nearest Army post, camp, or station.

The law [106th Article of War] provides that: "It shall be lawful for any civil officer having authority under the laws of the United States, or of any State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States, to arrest offenders, summarily to arrest a deserter from the military service of the United States and deliver him into the custody of the military authorities of the United States."

HEADQUARTERS SEVENTH CORPS AREA
FORT CROOK, NEBRASKA.

DECEMBER 10, 1921.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The charge of desertion against JOHN THOMAS KELLETT, Order No. A-1611, a registrant of the Local Board for Olmsted County, Minnesota, has been set aside.

Draft records do not show that this man was ever inducted into the military service, however the final report of the draft officials showed him to be in a status of desertion and his name has been published as an alleged draft deserter.

This man's name appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing him to be a deserter, and that inasmuch as he is not properly chargeable with draft desertion, his name has been removed therefrom.

The men whose names appear below, and who were under the jurisdiction of the local board named, were, according to the public draft records, classified and reported by the draft authorities as deserters from the military service of the United States. Actual expenses not to exceed $50, to include reimbursement for the amount actually expended, but not to include allowance for services, will be paid to any civil officer or other citizen for the apprehension and delivery to military control of any of them. If any one of them is apprehended, he should be delivered at, and reimbursement for the actual expenses incurred by the arresting officer should be claimed at, the nearest Army post, camp, or station.

The law [106th Article of War] provides that: "It shall be lawful for any civil officer having authority under the laws of the United States, or of any State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States, to arrest offenders, summarily to arrest a deserter from the military service of the United States and deliver him into the custody of the military authorities of the United States."

Draft records show that this man was given deferred classification in Class V-G, on March 28, 1918. Notwithstanding this fact, on July 23, 1918, the Local Board reported him to the Adjutant General of the State of Minnesota as a delinquent for failure to return questionnaire which was mailed him on December 24, 1917, and that official issued him a delinquent order, directing him to report for military duty not later than July 18, 1918. In view of the fact that this man had been given deferred classification on March 28, 1918, the subsequent action in reporting him as a delinquent and directing him to report for military duty had no validity.

This man's name appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing him to be a deserter and, inasmuch as he is not properly chargeable with draftdesertion, his name has been removed from the published list.

The men whose names appear below, and who were under the jurisdiction of the local board named, were, according to the public draft records, classified and reported by the draft authorities as deserters from the military service of the United States. Actual expenses not to exceed $50, to include reimbursement for the amount actually expended, but not to include allowance for services, will be paid to any civil officer or other citizen for the apprehension and delivery to military control of any of them. If any one of them is apprehended, he should be delivered at, and reimbursement for the actual expenses incurred by the arresting officer should be claimed at, the nearest Army post, camp, or station.

The law [106th Article of War] provides that: "It shall be lawful for any civil officer having authority under the laws of the United States, or of any State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States, to arrest offenders, summarily to arrest a deserter from the military service of the United States and deliver him into the custody of the military authorities of the United States."

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The name of George Rose Dawson, Order No. 2277, a registrant of the Local Board for Division No. 1, St. Paul, Minnesota, has been removed from the published list of alleged draft deserters.

Draft records show that this man was given a delinquent order, directing him to report to the Adjutant General of the State of Minnesota for military duty not later than March 28, 1918, and that because of his failure to report as directed, he was certified to The Adjutant General of the Army as a deserter. Evidence has been received in this office, however, showing that this man died on December 6, 1917. As this date was prior to the time specified for his induction into military service, he could not have been a draft deserter.

This man's name appeared upon the published list of alleged draftdeserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing him to be a deserter, and because of the fact that there is no record showing that the draft officials were notified of his death.

The name of JOSEPH F ARVER, also borne on the draft records as Arcoer, Order No. 2674, a registrant of the Local Board for Division No. 1, St. Paul, Minnesota, has been removed from the published list of alleged draft deserters.

Draft records show that this registrant was issued Delinquent Order No. 1178, directing him to report to the Adjutant General of the State of Minnesota for instructions not later than March 28, 1918, with the provision that if registrant failed to report as directed he would be in the military service from and after the date specified. The records further show that this registrant did report to the Adjutant General, through the superintendent of the reformatory in which he was serving sentence for refusing to register for the Selective Draft, on March 22, 1918, thereby suspending the operation of the order of induction, notwithstanding which the draft executive certified him to The Adjutant General of the Army as a deserter.

This man's name appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing him to be a deserter and that, inasmuch as he is not properly chargeable with draft desertion, his name has been removed from the published list.

The charge of desertion standing against Lee Arzman, whose name is also borne on the draft records as Lee Arzman, a registrant of the Local Board for Division No. 3, City of St. Paul, State of Minnesota, has been set aside.

Draft records show that this man was issued Delinquent Order No. 4574, directing him to report to the Adjutant General of Minnesota for military duty not later than June 20, 1918, and that because of his failure to report as directed he was certified to The Adjutant General of the Army as a deserter. The records of those who served during The World War show that he enlisted in the United States Army on December 6, 1917, and that he served until April 5, 1919, when he was honorably discharged.

This man's name appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing him to be in a status of desertion. There is no record of his having notified his Local Board of his entrance into military service as was required by the draft regulations, and his service was not discovered in the check of the list of deserters against the records of those who served in the Army during The World War because of the fact that, while this man registered under the name of Aizman, his name is erroneously borne on the draft records as Arzman and Arzman, whereas it is borne on his service record as Aizman. The War Department regrets that the many and widely published solicitations, inviting all registrants who believe that their draft records may be incomplete or faulty to promptly take up the matter with the War Department, were not heeded. However, in view of the additional evidence brought to its attention the War Department is pleased to remove the charge of desertion in this case, thereby permanently recognizing the honorable status of this registrant.

SUPPLEMENTAL LIST.

The men whose names appear below, and who were under the jurisdiction of the local board named, were, according to the public draft records, classified and reported by the draft authorities as deserters from the military service of the United States. Actual expenses not to exceed $50, to include reimbursement for the amount actually expended, but not to include allowance for services, will be paid to any civil officer or other citizen for the apprehension and delivery to military control of any of them. If any one of them is apprehended, he should be delivered at, and reimbursement for the actual expenses incurred by the arresting officer should be claimed at, the nearest Army post, camp, or station.

The law [106th Article of War] provides that: "It shall be lawful for any civil officer having authority under the laws of the United States, or of any State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States, to arrest offenders, summarily to arrest a deserter from the military service of the United States and deliver him into the custody of the military authorities of the United States."

The name of Marsel Ossette, Order No. 2389, a registrant of the Local Board for Division No. 3, City of St. Paul, State of Minnesota, has been removed from the published list of alleged draft deserters. This is a Class "A" removal from the published list.

Whereas the draft records show that at the time of his registration this man signed his name as Marsel Rossetti, all notices intended for him were erroneously directed to Marsel Ossette, and therefore his induction into military service was not properly consummated.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The charge of desertion against Albert J. Stoneman, whose name is also borne upon the records as Albert Johnson Stoneman, Order No. 130, a registrant of the Local Board for Division No. 4, St. Paul, Minnesota, has been set aside.

This man enlisted in the Canadian Forces at Winnipeg, Canada, on July 3rd, 1917 and was discharged March 18, 1919. This man performed no military service in the military or naval forces of the United States during The World War.

This man's name appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing him to be a deserter and that there is no record of his having notified his Local Board of his entrance into military service as was required by the draft regulations.

A974	Mike Mucci
A2607	Drexel Frank O'Connell
A635	John Alfred Volschleger
	John Alfred Volschager

Draft records show that although these registrants became delinquents under the Selective Service Regulations, they were not inducted into military service. The final report of the draft officials, however, showed each of them to be in a status of desertion.

The names of these men appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing them to be deserters and, inasmuch as they are not properly chargeable with draft desertion, their names have been removed from the published list.

1. Any registrant who actually served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the World War, and who has any doubt as to his draft status, should communicate immediately with The Adjutant General of the Army, Washington, D. C., relative thereto, setting forth the facts of his service, including the date, place and manner of his entry into the service and the exact names under which he registered and served, the designation of the local board with which he registered and served, and the place of his residence at the time of registration, and any other available identifying information.

2. Any registrant who actually served in the military or naval forces of one of the allied powers during the World War, and who has any doubt as to his draft status, should report immediately, in person or in writing, to the commanding officer of the nearest military post, camp or station, the facts of his service, corroborated by such evidence, or properly authenticated copies thereof as he may be able to produce, also the designation of the local board with which he registered, the place of his residence at the time of registration, together with any other identifying information, and ask for an adjustment of his case.

3. All names and post office addresses following a single order number and appearing within brackets pertain to one and the same person and represent the different spellings of the name and the different addresses of that man as shown by his draft record and correspondence relative thereto on file in the War Department.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The names of the following men, all registrants of the Local Board for Division No. 8, City of St. Paul, Minnesota, have been removed from the published list of alleged draft deserters:

Order No.	Name
707	James McDonough
1265	James McNeil
1544	Louis Alfred Monitor
	Louis A. Monitor
1388	Frank Schillaci

Draft records show that although these registrants became delinquents under the Selective Service Regulations, they were not inducted into military service. The final report of the draft officials, however, showed each of them to be in a status of desertion.

The names of these men appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing them to be deserters and, inasmuch as they are not properly chargeable with draft desertion their names have been removed from the published list.

RELEASED FOR PUBLICATION IN MORNING NEWSPAPERS OF MAY 31, 1922.

HEADQUARTERS SEVENTH CORPS AREA
Fort Crook, Nebraska.

(Date) January 31, 1922.

The men whose names appear below, and who were under the jurisdiction of the local board named, were, according to the public draft records, classified and reported by the draft authorities as deserters from the military service of the United States. Actual expenses not to exceed $50, to include reimbursement for the amount actually expended, but not to include allowance for services, will be paid to any civil officer or other citizen for the apprehension and delivery to military control of any of them. If any one of them is apprehended, he should be delivered at, and reimbursement for the actual expenses incurred by the arresting officer should be claimed at, the nearest Army post, camp, or station.

The law [106th Article of War] provides that: "It shall be lawful for any civil officer having authority under the laws of the United States, or of any State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States, to arrest offenders, summarily to arrest a deserter from the military service of the United States and deliver him into the custody of the military authorities of the United States."

Draft records show that although these registrants became delinquents under the Selective Service Regulations, they were not inducted into military service. The final report of the draft officials, however, showed each of them to be in a status of desertion.

The names of these men appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing them to be deserters and that inasmuch as they are not properly chargeable with draft desertion, their names have been removed from the published list.

The name of FRANK SOLICICH, Order No. 779 $\frac{1}{2}$ , a registrant of the Local Board for Division No. 2, County of St. Louis, Minnesota, has been removed from the published list of alleged draft deserters.

Draft records show that although this registrant became a delinquent under the Selective Service Regulations because of his failure to return questionnaire, he was not inducted into military service. However, the final report of the draft officials showed him to be in a status of desertion.

This man's name appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing him to be a deserter and, inasmuch as he is not properly chargeable with draft desertion, his name has been removed from the published list.

(Date) January 31, 1922.

The men whose names appear below, and who were under the jurisdiction of the local board named, were, according to the public draft records, classified and reported by the draft authorities as deserters from the military service of the United States. Actual expenses not to exceed $50, to include reimbursement for the amount actually expended, but not to include allowance for services, will be paid to any civil officer or other citizen for the apprehension and delivery to military control of any of them. If any one of them is apprehended, he should be delivered at, and reimbursement for the actual expenses incurred by the arresting officer should be claimed at, the nearest Army post, camp, or station.

The law [106th Article of War] provides that: "It shall be lawful for any civil officer having authority under the laws of the United States, or of any State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States, to arrest offenders, summarily to arrest a deserter from the military service of the United States and deliver him into the custody of the military authorities of the United States."

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The name of Joe Klas, Order No. 201, a registrant of the Local Board for Division No. 3, St. Louis County, State of Minnesota, has been removed from the published list of alleged draft deserters.

Draft records show that although this registrant became a delinquent under the Selective Service Regulations because of his failure to return questionnaire, he was not inducted into military service. However, the final report of the draft officials showed him to be in a status of desertion.

This man's name appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing him to be a deserter and, inasmuch as he is not properly chargeable with draft desertion, his name has been removed from the published list.

C., relative thereto, setting forth the facts of his service, including the date, place and manner of his entry into the service and the exact names under which he registered and served, the designation of the local board with which he registered and served, and the place of his residence at the time of registration, and any other available identifying information.

2. Any registrant who actually served in the military or naval forces of one of the allied powers during the World War, and who has any doubt as to his draft status, should report immediately, in person or in writing, to the commanding officer of the nearest military post, camp or station, the facts of his service, corroborated by such evidence, or properly authenticated copies thereof as he may be able to produce, also the designation of the local board with which he registered, the place of his residence at the time of registration, together with any other identifying information, and ask for an adjustment of his case.

3. All names and post office addresses following a single order number and appearing within brackets pertain to one and the same person and represent the different spellings of the name and the different addresses of that man as shown by his draft record and correspondence relative thereto on file in the War Department.

April 27, 1922.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The names of the following men, all registrants of the Local Board for Division #3, Duluth, Minnesota, have been removed from the published list of alleged draft deserters:

Order No.	Name,
111 $\frac{1}{2}$	Francis Herbert Cound, also borne on the records as Francis H. Cound.
2850 $\frac{1}{2}$	Carl Ericson.
2601 $\frac{1}{2}$	Geo. M. Fox, also borne on the records as George Meyer Fox and George Fox.
1897 $\frac{1}{4}$	Walter D. Frederickson, also borne on the records as Walter Dahlan Frederickson.
2548	John Hyland, also borne on the records as Jno. Hyland.
1631	Lawrence Klocubar , also borne on the records as Lawrence Klobucar .
2882	Oscar Maki.
2694	Lingell A as Millington.
908	Henry Rochlin , also borne on the records as Rocklin .
268	Joel A. Streem, also borne on the records as Joel Andress Streem and Joel Andress Stream.
2586	John Uraw, also borne on the records as Jno. Uraw.
1232	Paul J. Waring, also borne on the records as Paul Joseph Waring.
935	Martin C. Withrup, also borne on the records as Martin Clement Withrup.
2702	Jos. Wood, also borne on the records as Joseph Wood.

Draft records show that although these registrants became delinquents under the Selective Service Regulations because of their failure to return questionnaires, they were not inducted into military service. However, the final report of the draft officials showed them to be in a status of desertion.

The names of these men appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing them to be deserters and that, inasmuch as they are not properly chargeable with draft desertion, their names have been removed from the published list.

RELEASED FOR PUBLICATION IN EVENING NEWSPAPERS OF
APRIL 29, 1922.

HEADQUARTERS SEVENTH CORPS AREA
Fort Crook, Nebraska.

January 31, 1922.

The men whose names appear below, and who were under the jurisdiction of the local board named, were, according to the public draft records, classified and reported by the draft authorities as deserters from the military service of the United States. Actual expenses not to exceed $50, to include reimbursement for the amount actually expended, but not to include allowance for services, will be paid to any civil officer or other citizen for the apprehension and delivery to military control of any of them. If any one of them is apprehended, he should be delivered at, and reimbursement for the actual expenses incurred by the arresting officer should be claimed at, the nearest Army post, camp, or station.

The law [106th Article of War] provides that: "It shall be lawful for any civil officer having authority under the laws of the United States, or of any State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States, to arrest offenders, summarily to arrest a deserter from the military service of the United States and deliver him into the custody of the military authorities of the United States."

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The name of Albert Gartke, also borne on the draft records as Albert Garkle, Order No. A-691-A, a registrant of the Local Board for the County of Swift, State of Minnesota, has been removed from the published list of alleged draft deserters.

Draft records show that although this registrant became a delinquent under the Selective Service Regulations because of his failure to return questionnaire, he was not inducted into military service. However, the final report of the draft officials showed him to be in a status of desertion.

This man's name appeared upon the published list of alleged draft deserters as the result of the final report of the draft officials showing him to be a deserter and, inasmuch as he is not properly chargeable with draft desertion, his name has been removed from the published list.
