COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WELFARE

In the Matter of the Proposed Adoption of Rule 206 of the Minnesota Department of Public Welfare Relating to the Administration and Provision of Homemaking Services.

STATEMENT OF NEED

This rule governs the administration and provision of the Homemaking Services by the local social service agency.

The rule describes the types of activities appropriate for a homemaker in avoiding unnecessary separations of children from their own homes or to enable individuals to remain in their own home who otherwise because of being infirmed, handicapped, or disabled might require care outside their own homes.

The rule establishes standards for insuring that persons employed as homemakers are qualified to perform the tasks expected of them and for insuring the provision of social services necessary for effective utilization of the homemaking service.

In preparation for the tasks expected of homemakers, the rule has a minimum 24 hour training requirement. We feel this is of great importance in helping homemakers with the variety of families and adults they will serve.

The rule sets standards for when the Homemaking Service is purchased in order to assure that all service is of equal quality.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE

In the Matter of Rule 206 Relating to the Administration, Purchase and Provision of Homemaking Services

FINDINGS OF FACT

The above-entitled matter came on for hearing before the Minnesota State Department of Public Welfare on the 16th day of December, 1975, at 10:35 A.M. in the Auditorium of the State Office Building, Wabasha Street, St. Paul, Minnesota 55155, after proper notice required by Minn. Stat. Section 15.0412 (1975 Supp) was served upon all persons, associations and other interested groups registered with the Secretary of State for that purpose.

After affording interested persons an opportunity to present written and oral data, statements and arguments, and having heard and considered all of the testimony and evidence adduced and upon the records, files and proceedings herein, the Department makes and enters the following findings:

1. Authority to adopt the regulation establishing standards for the administration, purchase and provision of Homemaking Services is contained at Minn. Stat. 393.07 (1974).

2. Written comment was received that suggests that the term "personal care" as used in Section (I)(b)(2) should be further defined so as to prohibit a homemaker's giving health and medically-related care to "ill and disabled."

The Department believes that it is not reasonable to attribute to the term "personal care" an aspect of medically-related or health care. In the Department's view "personal care" in the context in which a homemaker provides it is related to assisting the adult in the "care of his person" in the matters such as grooming, personal comfort, and social, recreational activies.

3. Written comment received urged that the rule specifically provide in relation to Section (II)(b)(2)(B) that training in nutrition be provided by qualified personnel.

The Department recognizes that for all training to be effective, it is essential that the trainers be qualified. However, we do not believe that this rule is the proper place to address to these qualifications.

4. Written comment suggests that the rule in Section (III)(c), under Contracting for Service, is unclear as to what an "accredited social service agency" is.

The Department acknowledges that the use of the word "accredited" presents problems since a process of accreditation does not apply to social service agencies. They are either authorized through charter or law to function and to provide social services. The word "qualified" is found to be more suitable here and is to be used instead of "accredited."

5. Written comment was received recommending that the term "Homemaker Service" be continued instead of changing to use of the term "Homemaking Services."

The Department believes that the term "Homemaker Service" is too narrow a term for the service as it merely identified the person who provides the service. The total service encompasses more than the Homemakers and is this context, Homemaking Service includes also the Homemaker's supervisor, the social worker, and other related persons.

6. Written comment was received which suggests expanding the definition of "Homemaking Service" to include tasks essentially performed by a Homemaker while providing or teaching child care, personal care, and homemanagement.

The Department believes that the definition as proposed is adequate and that it would be inappropriate to spell out specific tasks of the Homemaker in the definition of Homemaking Services. The tasks of the Homemaker are addressed in Section (II)(d).

The written comment further suggested the use of the phrase "food planning and preparation" instead of "cooking meals" in Section (II)(d).

The Department agrees and Section (II)(d) is changed to use the suggested phrase believing that it more appropriately suggests the Homemaker's responsibility.

7. Written comment was received which took exception to the use of the phrase "or protection of family members" in Section (II)(d) as "broad and undefined."

The Department agrees and Section (II)(d) is rewritten to read: "The role of the homemaker shall be either that of a surrogate caretaker or that of a demonstrator or teacher working with individuals and families to help them achieve self-support, self-care, home-based care or remedy of neglect, abuse or exploitation of family members. The tasks shall include assisting with or giving child care, personal care, home management, food planning and preparation, laundering and general household duties."

8. Written comment was received protesting the initiation of this rule-making process prior to January 1, 1976.

Nothing in the Administrative Procedures Act prohibits the initiation of the rule making process prior to January 1, 1976. Indeed, amendments to the Administrative Procedures Act, effective July 1, 1975, place an affirmative obligation on Minnesota Department of Public Welfare to promulgate rules as quickly as possible in order to comply with the expanded definition of "rule" presently contained in the law.

9. Other provisions of the regulations not specifically referred to herein are found to be reasonable, necessary and supported by the record..
