The statutory authority for the State Board of Vocational Technical Education to promulgate these rules is contained in Minnesota Statutes section 136C.04, subd. 9 which states:

Licensure. The State Board may promulgate rules, according to the provisions of Chapter 14, for licensure of teaching, support, and supervisory personnel in postsecondary and adult vocational education. The State Board may adopt licensure rules according to Sections 14.29 to 14.36 when necessary for continuous programs approved by the Board and when the Board determines appropriate licensure standards do not exist.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

The State Board of Vocational Technical Education evaluates and approves initial and annual program applications according to State Board of Education rules 3505.6100 to 3505.6400. Approximately ten to fifteen new venture programs receive approval annually. A new venture program is one which has not been previously offered within the technical institute system and represents an entirely new program to be delivered. The Office of the Attorney General advised the State Board of Vocational Technical Education that the emergency rulemaking power of the board according to sections 14.29 to 14.36 no longer was in effect. The Board, therefore, is using the permanent rule process for new venture programs since no appropriate licenses for these categories exist. Individual committees were formed for each occupational license. The committees consisted of the State Specialist of the occupational program area, the State License Revision Specialist, representatives of industry, program coordinators, and related program instructors.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The proposed permanent rules follow the format established by the revised agricultural instructor requirements adopted September 12, 1987, and the revised business and office rules adopted February 6, 1988. There are four major changes within the previous revisions and reflected within these licenses.

1. Crossover areas. The crossover areas compliment the Technical Institute systems program restructuring which began in 1986. This effort converts programs to courses and then courses to credits. Thus the license allows the holder to teach a particular program and specified courses in any program throughout the institute. The courses listed as crossovers are reasonable since they are a result of the expertise acquired via the occupational and/or educational experiences specifically required of the license holder. This is needed to remove an artificial barrier which, in the past, allowed the individual to teach only in a program. This makes it possible to implement the restructured programs with appropriate credentialed staff, allowing an instructor to teach specific courses anywhere within an institute.

2. Occupational experience requirements. The occupational experience requirement identifies the job titles which will be accepted to meet the licensure requirements. This specificity is needed to provide both the applicants and the hiring authority with information which will be used in making application for the license. The occupational experience requirements are reasonable because they are conceptually and functionally represented in the education programs and in the occupations for which the programs prepare individuals. There is also an increase in the total number of occupational hours from current rule of 6000 hours to revised rule of 8000 hours. This is reasonable since credit is given for educational experiences which relate directly to the occupation in question. In addition, credit will be given for teaching experience as it relates directly to the occupation being taught. Since these substitutions allow for a total of 4000 hours of occupational experience, the increase to 8000 hours is reasonable. In addition, the increase to 8000 hours represents an increase of only one year. Since the crossover areas require more specificity which is necessary to teach individual courses throughout the institute, a greater depth and breadth of knowledge is required and is represented in the additional year of experience.

3. Recent occupational experience. There is an increase in recent occupational experience from "500 to 1000 hours in the last five years" to "2000 hours in the last five years". This increase is necessary so that individuals teaching programs and courses are knowledgeable about technical, economic and industrial changes as they relate to their specific occupational field. It is reasonable since it allows a five year time frame in which to acquire one year or 2000 hours of experience. It would be possible, therefore, to obtain the 2000 hours of occupational experience by working only four summers.

4. Substitution for occupational experience. This subpart is necessary as a means of allowing teachers to expand into new, modified, or restructured programs which reflect both new content area and existing content. The utilization of teaching experience in specified programs assures that only teaching experience which is conceptually related to the new, modified, or restructured program is allowed as a substitute for recent occupational experience. This recognizes specific knowledge in current programs as applicable to new programs which contain a portion of the same or similar content. 500 hours of recent occupational experience is still retained for the new licensure area to assure up to date industrial exposure to the occupation. This amount is reasonable because it can be obtained over five years and is only 12 1/2 weeks.

I. 3709.0100 General Requirements

Subpart 1. Listed or referred to here. This subpart informs the applicant of the general requirements for licensure under 3709.0100.

A. Indicates to the applicant the total number of occupational recency hours required within the five years preceding the application for licensure.

B. Indicates to the applicant the total number of hours that may be used for substitution of occupational acquaintance.

Subpart 2. Requirements elsewhere. Identifies for the applicant current licensure rules which still apply except when superseded by proposed rules 3709.0110 to 3709.0220. Deletes reference to the current 3515. charts.

II. 3709.0110 to 3709.0220 specifies requirements for each individual license as follows:

Subpart 1. May teach. Lists programs and courses which license holder may teach.

Subpart 2. Other requirements. Refers to the other requirements as listed in 3709.0100, subp. 1 and subp. 2.

Subpart 3. Occupational area requirements. Specifies number of hours and specific occupational areas acceptable for instructor licensure in the specific occupational program.

Subpart 4. Substitution for occupational experience. Degrees, diplomas, or coursework is identified which enable the applicant to substitute specific educational experience for designated number of occupational hours.

Subpart 5. Substitution for recent occupational experience. Identifies relevant current teaching experience which can substitute for a portion of the recency requirement of 3709.0100, subp. 1, item A.

3709.0110 ELECTRONIC SERVICE/SALES REPRESENTATIVE

This is a new venture program for which there is no existing license.

Subpart 1. May teach. Items A and B. This specifies the Electronic Service and Sales Representative program and two very specific courses: selling techniques and troubleshooting computer based equipment. On the basis of the occupational experience requirement, it can be assumed that the instructor would have the expertise to teach these two subjects.

Subpart 2. Other Requirements. This refers to the general requirements as specified in 3709.0100.

Subpart 3. Occupational experience requirement. The occupational hours of 8000 hours are consistent with the other new, revised permanent licenses in 3700.0200 Agricultural occupations, and 3700.0300 Business and Office occupations.

A. Minimum of 2000 hours in commercial or industrial and installation and maintenance or troubleshooting equipment. In order to teach both the sales and service and have a minimal amount of knowledge regarding the equipment the individual is selling, it is reasonable to require an individual to have at least one year experience in a combination of these activities. The field has changed sufficiently in recent years, that an Electronic Sales Representative must know how to troubleshoot the equipment.

B. 2000 hours in customer needs analysis, including determination and selection of equipment, hardware/software configurations, product presentation and demonstration, or account management. It is reasonable to require that a teacher of the identified program and courses have the skills, knowledge and attitudes necessary to teach students how to interface with customers in marketing, presenting and selecting the equipment that is going to be used. This is necessary since the instructor is preparing students for jobs as field representatives and hardware or software vendors. Marketing, presentation and selection of equipment are the major components of the occupations. The remaining 4000 hours in this occupational experience requirement may be substituted out by education or a combination of A and B, adding to the depth of knowledge necessary to teach this program.

Subpart 4. Substitution for occupational experience. This follows the format in the revised licenses which list the educational substitutions for a particular occupational experience. Notwithstanding the substitution, they are not able to substitute the 2000 hours of experience required in subp. 3A. In order to teach sales and troubleshooting of electronic equipment, the minimum of 2000 hours in both areas is necessary to teach the content of the program. This requirement is needed since the program prepares students not only as sales representatives but as individuals who troubleshoot this equipment as well. These substitutions can be allowed for anything beyond the 2000 hours or the 2000 hours required in the customer areas. A bachelor's degree in computer science or applied electrical engineering would allow the candidate knowledge of the products that are going to be distributed and presented, hardware and software products, how they configurate, and expose the applicant to electronics and electronic equipment. This is also true of an associate degree in electronics or electronic service and sales. The associate degree and diploma in electronics or electronic service and sales would give the candidate knowledge of the electronics involved in computer service and if the degree or diploma happen to be in service and sales they would have both components of the program. It is, therefore, reasonable to assume these degrees would be appropriate to the content that will be taught in the program.

Subpart 5. Occupational recency substitution. This is consistent with the previously revised licenses. The teaching must be specifically in electronics or electronic service and sales allowing for up-to-date information and exposure to the most recent equipment utilized in the field, as well as selling techniques. This is reasonable since both components are taught within this program.

3709.0120 LOCKSMITHING TECHNICIAN

Subpart 1. May teach. This indicates to the applicant the program in which the individual may teach, as well as specific locksmithing content which might be applicable in other programs. In no case is anything allowed as a crossover area which does not relate directly to locksmithing knowledge and expertise.

Subpart 2. Other Requirements. This refers to the general requirements as specified in 3709.0100.

Subpart 3. Occupational experience requirement. The applicant must hold a certified professional locksmithing certificate. To obtain that certificate an individual must have a combination of education and experience to allow them to pass certification examinations. This is reasonable since the locksmithing program encourages their students to take an examination which leads to Certified Professional Locksmiths (C.P.L.). This certification constitutes credentialing for prospective employers. The examination is available within Minnesota several times a year. In addition to that, an individual must have 8000 hours of experience as a locksmith. This is needed to obtain experience with conventional locks, as well as with electronic alarms, card and code systems. This is reasonable since the instructor must have the ability to prepare individuals to install and repair locks, make or duplicate keys and select, repair and install electronic security devices such as code systems.

Subpart 4. Substitution for occupational experience. No bachelor's degree is available in locksmithing. The associate degree, the diploma and the completion of courses for credit are specifically within locksmithing. This is reasonable because the content within the associate degree or diploma is the same or essentially the same as that offered within this program.

Subpart 5. Occupational recency substitution. To remain consistent with previously revised licenses, teaching experience in locksmithing may be substituted for 1500 hours of the occupational experience recency. This is the only program available which has content used as a working locksmith, conventional alarms and electronic security systems. The candidate would still have to obtain 500 hours of recency within the last five years. This is reasonable since the applicant has five years in which to obtain this recency.

3709.0130 SECURITY MANAGEMENT

Security management is a new venture program for which n permanent licensure rule exists. The format followed is consistent with previously revised licenses.

Subpart 1. May teach. The crossover areas are very specific to the content in the security program and specific to the occupational and/or educational experience required of this candidate. This experience would assume expertise to teach within the security parameters as listed.

Subpart 2. Other Requirements. This refers to the general requirements as specified in 3709.0100.

Subpart 3. Occupational experience. The occupational experience requirement is 8000 hours which is consistent with the general format of the revised licenses. The level of experiences is on the managerial or supervisory level to assure that the individual will have the necessary component of experience to teach management in security. This is reasonable since the program does not specifically train security guards, but rather supervision and management of security and security guards. It is reasonable to not incorporate law enforcement; i.e., police, because this is not law enforcement which involves arresting activities.

Subpart 4. Substitution for occupational experience. This subpart is consistent with previously revised licenses allowing up to 4000 hours of occupational experience substitution. The bachelor's degree substitution, the associate degree substitution and the diplomas are specifically in security management and associate or bachelor's degree in criminal justice. Criminal justice and law enforcement are reasonable as applicable substitutions, not because of the criminal justice or law enforcement material in this level of education, but rather for the security components which appear within the criminal justice and law enforcement programs. The completion of courses for credit relate specifically to the areas which are relevant within security administration. In this instance, security, emergency procedures or substance use and abuse are allowed since these are all a part of the security program and, therefore, reasonable.

Subpart 5. Occupational recency substitution. Consistent with previously revised licenses. Allows teaching substitution for occupational recency. Recognizes an individual teaching industrial security or security management would be up-to-date on current methods and practices within the field. Since only 1500 or the 2000 hours is allowed, it assures that the candidate must have been in the field for at least 500 hours in the last five years. This is reasonable since it does allow five years in which to obtain this experience.

3709.0140 FIRE TECHNOLOGY AND ADMINISTRATION

Subpart 1. May teach. This license allows the individual to teach in the fire technology and administration program as well as to teach courses in firefighter. This is reasonable since firefighter courses are incorporated throughout the fire technology and administration program. This person is cognizant of the firefighter course content and application of skills, knowledge, and attitudes required in this content since the occupational experience in subp. 3 requires this background.

Subpart 2. Listed here. Refers to the general requirements as specified in 3700.0100.

Subpart 3. Occupational experience requirement. The occupational experience as well as the substitutions allowed are as a firefighter and officer. This is reasonable since the individual will have met the national fire standard as set by the National Fire Protection Association. This association sets the standards for the skills, knowledge and training required of firefighters, including code enforcement, public fire safety, arson investigation and officer training. The years which are required by a fire officer assures experience in supervision of firefighters. This is reasonable since a portion of the program content is in supervision, or at a level above a firefighter involving reports, records and supervisory techniques.

Subpart 4. Substitution for occupational experience. The substitutions allowed by this subpart are consistent with the previous revised licenses in Business and Office and in Agricultural Occupations. The substitution is not allowed for the 2000 hours or one year of experience required as a fire officer since that particular experience relates directly to supervisory techniques as explained in subp. 3. The degrees as listed in item A, bachelor's degree or higher relate directly to the occupation of Fire Technology and Administration. The degrees as listed were Fire Science, Fire Protection Engineering, Fire Administration, and Fire Department Management. The associate degree as listed was in Firefighting only. The two year diploma was in firefighting only. In addition, completion of courses for credit were allowed providing the courses that were completed related directly to Fire Service, Fire Administration, Fire Department Management, Fire Safety or Fire Engineering Technology and Fire Protection Engineering or Fire Department Management. This is a reasonable substitution since all listed areas contain firefighting: technology, administration, management, or safety which relate directly to the program's content.

Subpart 5. Occupational recency substitution. The substitution in this subpart is teaching Firefighter I and II. This is reasonable since the standard for the courses is set by the National Fire Protection Association and is current fire protection practice.

3709.0150 PREPARATION FOR SMALL BUSINESS OWNERSHIP

Preparation for Small Business Ownership is a license that was promulgated under emergency rule for new venture programs. Since the emergency rule is no longer in effect, it is necessary to promulgate a new permanent rule.

Subpart 1. May teach. Follows the format that has been set by previously revised licenses. A teacher having a Preparation for Small Business Ownership license may teach in the Preparation for Small Business Ownership program and may also teach marketing principles, advertising, entrepreneurship, managerial accounting, business math and computer applications for small business. This is reasonable since these courses are part of the program and the criteria specified in subp. 3 would require an applicant to be cognizant of the content.

Subpart 2. Other Requirements. This refers to the general requirements as specified in 3709.0100.

Subpart 3. Occupational experience requirement. This subpart lists the experience required for Preparation for Small Business Ownership license. The experience must be as a working proprietor or manager with decisions based on sources and use of capital. This is necessary since an individual who has owned, operated, or managed a small business including decisions based on sources and use of capital would have managed, advertised and marketed their business.

Subpart 4. Substitution for occupational experience. This subpart describes in detail the education which is acceptable as substitution for up to 4000 hours of occupational experience. This substitution again is consistent with that in previously revised licenses. This is reasonable since the education described remains in areas which reflect the content of the program. These areas are business, finance, accounting, retailing or merchandising. All contain content reflected in the program such as marketing, advertising, accounting, financial management and entrepreneurship.

Subpart 5. Occupational recency substitution. The occupational recency is consistent with previously revised licenses. Teaching experience is allowed for up to 1500 hours of the occupational recency. This is reasonable since the teaching experience listed is only in programs which relate directly to the content taught in the program, and listed crossover areas. The applicant must still obtain 500 hours of occupational recency within the prior five years.

3709.0160 ACTIVITY DIRECTOR/ASSISTANT

Subpart 1. May teach. There are no crossovers for this license. This is reasonable since the content is not utilized in other technical institute programs at this time.

Subpart 2. Other Requirements. This refers to the general requirements as specified in 3709.0100.

Subpart 3. Educational and Occupational experience. The applicant is required to hold an associate degree or higher. This is reasonable since the applicant must comply with the regulations set by the National Certification Council for Activity Professionals. The projected implementation date for the regulation is 1989. The applicant must have 4000 hours of experience as an activity director in adult day care, long term care or senior citizen housing. This is reasonable since the majority of graduates will be trained for and work in these environments. 2000 hours of experience is allowed in peripheral areas which also utilize these services. These are reasonable requirements since the instructor must teach courses in volunteer experiences, activity techniques, issues of aging, as well as the human relations and communication techniques required in the described environment. In addition, this combination of educational and occupational experiences meets the recommendations established by the certifying board.

Subpart 4. Occupational recency substitution. The teaching substitutions as listed directly correspond to content within the program and follow the precedent set by revised adopted licenses. This is reasonable since the substitutions are in teaching within this program or in recreational therapy. Recreational therapy is a primary component of this program.

3709.0170 FRANCHISE RESTAURANT MANAGEMENT

Subpart 1. May teach. The crossover content is only in specific food service areas. It is reasonable to assume an applicant knowledgeable in this content area as a result of the experience described in subp. 3.

Subpart 2. Other Requirements. This refers to the general requirements as specified in 3709.0100.

Subpart 3. Occupational experience requirements. The experience required in this subpart is reasonable since it is in franchise restaurant management which is the program's primary content. Responsibility for a minimum of 10 employees is required to assure experience at an appropriate level and within an acceptable restaurant environment. It is reasonable to require this type and level of experience enabling the candidate to acquire the knowledge and skills to teach franchise restaurant management, personnel management, customer relations, as well as content of marketing, advertising and maintenance.

Subpart 4. Substitution for occupational experience. The educational substitutions allowed are business, home economics or food service. This is reasonable since each of the educational experiences contain several components which are part of the education offered in the franchise restaurant management program.

Subpart 5. Occupational recency substitution. The teaching experience substitution are from food or business programs since these two areas correspond to the program content. The applicant would also have current exposure to the food industry or business world via advisory committees, industrial visits and student placement.

3709.0180 OCCUPATIONAL SKILLS

Subpart 1. May teach. There are no crossover areas allowed in the Occupational Skills program since the program content itself is not offered in any other technical institute program.

Subpart 2. Other requirements. The applicant must meet the requirements in 3709.0100, subp. 2. 3709.0100, subp. 1 does not apply.

Subpart 3. Educational and occupational experience requirement. The educational experience required in this particular license is specific in areas such as social work, psychology and counseling. The population which enters the occupational skills program are within the classification known as "vulnerable adults." It is reasonable to require an applicant to have the knowledge and attitudes taught within the described degrees since the students will be within the "vulnerable adult" category. The degrees contain subject matter in the areas of mentally retarded, physically disabled and aged populations. The content requires that an individual must be cognizant of the learning abilities of such an individual, as well as the physical abilities of the individual. 20 quarter credits vocational coordination techniques has been added in order to assure that the applicant will have the skills necessary to enable them to assist the student in obtaining employment and in dealing with the complexities that are implied in the activity. Content in introduction to the assessment of the special learner, curriculum modifications of the special learner are included since that is what is necessary for the instructor to appropriately teach the student described. 1500 hours of occupational experience is required outside of teaching to assure that the applicant for this license has at least been exposed at some time to the world of work. In addition, the applicant must have some experience of actually working with the handicapped or disabled. The work experience is reasonable since it requires only 1500 hours and is not specific. The applicant would thus have the experience of seeking and keeping a job allowing for the understanding of the needs associated with that activity. The experience with the handicapped or disabled is reasonable so the instructor will have had an opportunity to work with the student population he or she will serve.

Subpart 4. Substitution for occupational experience. There is no substitution for occupational experience.

Subpart 5. Occupational recency substitution. This subpart does not apply since recency is not a requirement for this license. The primary focus of occupational skills is to teach the student how to apply for a job, what skills are necessary in applying for a job, how to take a bus, how to live and how to generally take care of himself both at home and in the work environment. This is reasonable since the specific occupational area will be taught in a separate program and does not come under the jurisdiction of this license.

3709.0190 PROFESSIONAL NANNY

Subpart 1. May teach. The crossover area for Professional Nanny license is limited to principles and theory of child development.

This is reasonable since it is consistent with the educational and occupational experience requirement in subp. 3.

Subpart 2. Other Requirements. This refers to the general requirements as specified in 3709.0100.

Subpart 3. Educational and occupational experience requirement. There is a combination of both educational and occupational experience required in this license. It is reasonable to require educational experience to assure the applicant is cognizant of child development theories relating to the educational, physical, social and psychological development of a child. The degrees listed provide this content. The occupational experience occurs within the client's environment as a nanny or child care provider. This is reasonable since this is the occupational area in which the students will be trained and later employed.

Subpart 4. Substitution of occupational experience. The substitution is consistent with recently revised licenses. The substitution is teaching experience in a professional nanny program. This is a reasonable substitution since the subject matter, practicum experience, and advisory committees provide the instructor with current information and needs of the professional nanny profession.

3709.0200 ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE TECHNICIAN

Subpart 1. May Teach. This subpart follows the precedent set by the revised permanent rules 3700.0200 Agriculture occupations and 3700.0300 Business and Office occupations, which list specific courses which the license holder may teach anywhere in the technical institute system. Artificial Intelligence Languages are listed as crossovers. This is reasonable since this individual must have 500 hours occupational experience specifically in programming artificial intelligence and will be the only licenses within the technical institute system with this knowledge and skill requirement.

Subpart 2. Other requirements. Refers to general requirements as specified in 3700.0100

Subpart 3. Educational and occupational experience requirement. Item A requires 2 years of postsecondary education in specific science fields. The fields listed were selected for their foundation for defining problems, problem solving and recognition of concepts behind problems. This is reasonable to enable the instructor to have the critical analytical and teaching skills to teach computer programming and specifically programming artificial intelligence. It is reasonable also since the areas of study are readily available in the educational institutions within this state.

Item B defines the three areas of occupational experience which relate directly to the course content with 500 hours devoted to programming artificial intelligence. This is a reasonable requirement which implies a working knowledge of the languages used within the program. The total of 6000 hours, as well as the two years of education are reasonable since they equal the 8000 hour precedent set in existing permanent rules 3700.0200 and 3700.0300.

Subpart 4. Substitution for occupational recency experience. This subpart substitutes for occupational recency according to the ratio set in the revised rules. The substitution is allowed only in teaching programming and in artificial intelligence programming only for the 500 hours of occupational experience programming artificial intelligence. This is reasonable since 40% of the program is characterized by programming courses and specifically artificial intelligence programming. Since artificial intelligence is a relatively new field, this recency can only be substituted by actual artificial intelligence programming instruction.

3709.0210 VIBROACOUSTICS

Subpart 1. May teach. This subpart allows an individual to teach in the vibroacoustics technology program, vibration and acoustics, introduction to electronics and statistical applications. The courses are in the first year of the two year program. It is reasonable to assume an applicant who has the experience described in subp. 3 would have knowledge sufficient to teach that content.

Subpart 2. Other requirements. Refers to the general requirements as specified in 3700.0100.

Subpart 3. Occupational experience requirement. An applicant must have experience in testing and measurements of both acoustics and mechanical vibrations for the skills and knowledge needed to teach the program of vibroacoustics technology. This is a reasonable requirement since the coursework is in acoustics and measurement of vibrations, descriptive statistics and application, electromechanical devices and predictive maintenance of vibrations instrumentation. The experience described requires knowledge and skills in all of these areas.

Subpart 4. Substitution for occupational experience. The ratio of hour substitution follows the precedent set by previous adopted rules. The engineering or applied physics degrees are specific to the program content to be taught. The associate degree or diploma in vibroacoustics is the exact core content of the program. It is, therefore, reasonable to assume these individuals would be cognizant of the basic knowledge and skills as taught in this program.

Subpart 5. Occupational recency substitution. This follows the precedent of previously adopted rules. It recognizes the validity of teaching current program content and interaction with industry as valid recent experience. This is reasonable since the teaching is limited to vibroacoustics. This continues to maintain 500 hours of occupational recency with the prior five years required in current 3515 rules.

3709.0220 PLASTICS COMPOSITES

Subpart 1. May teach. This subpart follows the format and precedent set by previously adopted rules. The specific courses are only in polymer and are reasonable in view of the criteria described in subp. 3. The experience required identifies polymer and composites expertise.

Subpart 2. Other requirements. Refers to general requirements as specified in 3700.0100.

Subpart 3. Occupational experience requirement. Total number of hours of occupational hours required are the same as established in previously revised rule. The experience is required in at least two areas of polymer technology. This is reasonable to allow the depth and breadth of knowledge required to teach all of the plastic composites program which includes research, processing and manufacturing.

Subpart 4. Substitution for occupational experience. This subpart follows the precedent set by previously revised licenses. The degrees in materials science, polymer chemistry, chemical and mechanical engineering and applied physics are reasonable since they contain courses directly applicable to the program content. Other engineering degrees receive less hours of substitution since the content would not be specific to polymers or composites. It is reasonable to allow some substitution, however, since physics, materials, hydraulics, pneumatics, algebra, chemistry and mechanical drawing are part of these degrees and the plastic composites program.

Subpart 5. Substitution for occupational recency. Teaching experience substitution is allowed in plastic composites technology and is reasonable since the laboratory and advisory committee experience requires and allows up-to-date knowledge and skills in plastic composites technology.

Minnesota Rules: Amendments and Additions

NOTICE: How to Follow State Agency Rulemaking in the State Register

The State Register is the official source, and only complete listing, for all state agency rulemaking in its various stages. State agencies are required to publish notice of their rulemaking action in the State Register. Published every Monday, the State Register makes it easy to follow and participate in the important rulemaking process. Approximately 75 state agencies have the authority to issue rules. Each agency is assigned specific Minnesota Rule chapter numbers. Every odd-numbered year the Minnesota Rules are published. This is a ten-volume bound collection of all adopted rules in effect at the time. Supplements are published to update this set of rules. Proposed and adopted emergency rules do not appear in this set because of their short-term nature, but are published in the State Register.

If an agency seeks outside opinion before issuing new rules or rule amendments, it must publish a NOTICE OF INTENT TO SOLICIT OUTSIDE OPINION in the Official Notices section of the State Register. When rules are first drafted, state agencies publish them as Proposed Rules, along with a notice of hearing, or notice of intent to adopt rules without a hearing in the case of noncontroversial rules. This notice asks for comment on the rules as proposed. Proposed emergency rules and withdrawn proposed rules are also published in the State Register. After proposed rules have gone through the comment period, and have been rewritten into their final form, they again appear in the State Register as Adopted Rules. These final adopted rules are not printed in their entirety in the State Register, only the changes made since their publication as Proposed Rules. To see the full rule, as adopted and in effect, a person simply needs two issues of the State Register, the issue the rule appeared in as proposed, and later as adopted. For a more detailed description of the rulemaking process, see the Minnesota Guidebook to State Agency Services.

The State Register features partial and cumulative listings of rules in this section on the following schedule: issues 1-13 inclusive; issues 14-25 inclusive; issue 26, cumulative for issues 1-26; issues 27-38 inclusive; issue 39, cumulative for 1-39; issues 40-51 inclusive; and issue 52, cumulative for 1-52. An annual subject matter index for rules appears in August. For copies of the State Register, a subscription, the annual index, the Minnesota Rules or the Minnesota Guidebook to State Agency Services, contact the Minnesota Documents Division, 117 University Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55155 (612) 297-3000 or toll-free in Minnesota 1-800-652-9747 and ask for "Documents."
