Commissioner Ryberg offered the following resolution:

Resolved,

Whereas, on account of the unusual amount of work that has devolved upon the County Attorney and his assistants during the last year and a half, this Board has acquiesced in the employment of an extra assistant County Attorney; and,

Whereas the extra work that has recently devolved upon the County Attorney has been largely finished, and his work hereafter will apparently be only the ordinary work of his office; and,

Whereas the Courts will soon adjourn for a considerable time; and,

Whereas the unusually hard times make it incumbent upon us to curtail expenses wherever we can;

Now therefore, be it resolved, that this Board discontinue the employment of an extra assistant for the County Attorney from and after April 15-1895, and be it further resolved that we hereby extend to Mr.

Commissioner Nash offered the following resolution.

Resolved:

That the report of the Committee on Taxes be accepted & the recommendations concurred in.

Adopted.

Minneapolis Minn. April 29th 1895.

To the Board of County Commissioners of Hennepin County.

Gentlemen:

You have referred to me the act passed by the last Legislature relating to the duty & compensation of the County Surveyor, and the number of compensation of his deputies in Counties which have a population of two hundred thousand or over & ask me whether or not that act is in force, in this County at the present time.

Section 1. of the Act provides as follows: "That in every County in this State that has two hundred thousand or more inhabitants or over, the County Surveyor shall receive"

May 6th 1895.

You will notice that the bill provides that every County that has two hundred thousand inhabitants or over. It does not say, whether it is according to any census or how that fact is to be determined. Whether or not the act is in force at this time, depends upon the number of inhabitants that this County has got. If that number is two hundred thousand or over, then the act is in force; if it is below two hundred thousand then the act is not in force. The fact that you have no census which shows that the population is two hundred thousand or over makes no difference. You must determine as a fact whether or not this County has a population of two hundred thousand or over; to determine that fact you can take into consideration the census of '90, the population as given by the directories, increase in the number of school children, the vote of this County at the last election, or any other previous election, or any other facts or circumstances that will aid you in determining what the population of this County is at this time. If you are satisfied that the population of this County at this time is two hundred thousand people or over, then it becomes your duty to consider the act in question in force; if you are not satisfied that the population of this County is large enough, then it is your duty to proceed under the law as it was prior to the adoption of this act.

The State census will be taken this year, which will probably be the best kind of evidence for you, in determining what the census of this County is, but it is not necessary for you to wait until that time if you are satisfied now that the population is two hundred thousand or over. If you should proceed under the law at this time & if it should turn out by the census that this County has not got two hundred thousand people, then you would have to go back to the day when this act was passed & adjust the compensation of the County Surveyor according to the old law. If on the other hand you should refuse to recognize the act at this time & if it should appear when the State census was taken, that this County did have two hundred thousand people or over, then you would have to go back & adjust the compensation of the County Surveyor according to the Act in question.

You will see from this that you as the Board, must determine to your own satisfaction whether the population of this County is over or under two hundred thousand. After you have determined that fact then you will be able to determine whether or not this act is in force.

May 6th 1895.

To the Honorable.

The County Commissioners of Hennepin County.
Gentlemen:-

The Committee appointed by the Honorable Judge of Probate, to whom was entrusted the responsible duty of selecting an institute for the treatment of inebriates under the law of 1895, beg leave to report that we have given the subject much serious thought and investigation - We have heard all applicants patiently and have investigated their various claims - We have based our decision upon a careful balance of evidence and personal knowledge of the work, and give as our judgment that the oldest, best proven, most successful, best equipped establishment for the work within the boundaries of the State, is the Leslie E. Keeley Double Chloride of Gold Institute, located at Tenth Street and Park Avenue, Minneapolis. We accordingly designate this institution as the one to which the County patients under the Inebriate Law of 1895 shall be committed.
