Dear Josh,

Thank you for contacting my office. It's always great to see the civic engagement of young people like yourself in reaching out to civic leaders in our community. I am glad to know you are learning a lot in your social studies class and I encourage you to be studious so that you may know more about current events. I'm sure you are learning much about history and world events. It's important to study the past if we wish to understand the future, and to appreciate the differences of cultures and many ways of communication in our everyday life. Please stay involved in your class, your school and in your community. Study hard! Education is the most important key to your future success.

Sincerely,

Christopher B. Coleman
Mayor
