

Dear Friends,

One of the most transformative experiences in my life was when, as a young man, I had the honor to visit Glacier National Park. The good work that Wilderness Inquiry does in connecting urban youth to the great outdoors is an important reminder of our obligation to our great public natural lands. We can't appreciate the beauty and power of Mother Nature without seeing it first-hand.

Leadership. Teamwork. Inclusion. These are the important values that everyone who is a part of a Wilderness Inquiry adventure are encouraged to explore and incorporate into their personal lives. Whether it is a canoe trip to the Boundary Waters in northern Minnesota, or a camping trip to Glacier National Park, the wonderful staff at Wilderness Inquiry work hard to connect people from all walks of life to the outdoors.

I hope that you can help Wilderness Inquiry continue its strong programming and reach a new generation of outdoor enthusiasts as it continues to change the lives of many people across the nation. Thank you in advance for your support.

Sincerely,
