WABASHA COUNTY SCHOOLS

School District:

No. 1, Wabasha - This was the first public school organized in Wabasha County. It comprised Wabasha and surrounding territory. The organization was perfected in 1855 and school was taught, that year, in the old church at the upper end of Main street at a place called "The Point." H. B. Potter was the first teacher. A private school had been taught previously, by Thomas Flynn. Later, other private schools have been conducted.

The first building erected for public school purposes, was dedicated July 4, 1859. It was a stone structure located on block No. 5 in South Wabasha. School opened in it with W. C. Bryant and Miss Henrietta Augier, as teachers, January 3, 1860. The building was donated to Wabasha County for a Court House and it became occupied as such in the fall of 1860. School was then taught at various places until 1868, when the first part of the present building was erected on Block No. 4, its present site. Wabasha is a special school district and has a Board of Education of five members.

No. 2, Hammond - Located in the village of Hammond where a semi-graded school is conducted. The village and school take their name from Joseph Hammons, a prominent farmer and early resident of Zumbro township. Mr. Hammons platted Hammond village.

No. 3, Pepin Hill - The school is located in the southwest quarter, of section 28 of Pepin township. It is a center for many activities in that part of the township known as "Pepin Hill" and the regular voting place for much of the township. It also serves as a town hall. It is a two department brick building. The early residents were mostly Catholic Germans and the names, Marx, Lager, Graden, Roemer, Welp, Schmitz, Meyer, Schmidt and Wallerick embody the most of the pages of the school register. Among the names of its teachers are Hugh Leonard, later County Superintendent of Schools and legislator; H. C. Tushaus, outstanding farmer and citizen of Watopa township; Thos. H. Lutz, an outstanding pioneer instructor; Prof. F. Mueller; and Jacob Reusch, afterwards superintendent of the county schools.

No. 4, Lake City - This is an Independent School District, comprising the city of Lake City. It had its beginning in 1856 with Rev. ^{Rev. SILAS} (S. Haslet) ^{HAZLETT} as teacher. Schools were taught regularly in Lake City since 1856. It has operated under a Board of Education since 1865. Buildings were recently destroyed by fire and have been replaced with an outstanding structure embodying the latest in school architecture and equipment. The school ranks high.

No. 5, Greenfield Hill - The school takes its name from the section of the township of Greenfield in which it is situated. It is sometimes called the "Schuth School" for Anton and August Schuth, prominent farmers who had much to do with its organization. The original school district No. 5 was dissolved previous to the organization of this district in the nineties. Margaret Krull was the first teacher.

School District:

Lake
Mt Pleasant
No. 6, Kileen - Situated in the NW $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 26 in the township of Lake. It is named for The Kileen family on one of whose farms the school house is built.

Mt Pleasant
No. 7, Sugar Loaf Valley - Situated on NW $\frac{1}{4}$ section 1 in Mount Pleasant township and takes its name from the valley drained by Sugar Loaf Creek. The first school was taught by Alfred Hannings in 1857.

Mt Pleasant
No. 8, Gilbert Valley - Situated in the valley of the same name in Mount Pleasant township. The school house is on SW $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 3. Mary Burleigh was the first teacher. School in this and other sections of Mount Pleasant were taught in private houses or shanties under the most unfavorable circumstances before the districts were organized. It is related that in one district a school was held in a small granary about the time hoops were the style; as the teacher dressed in fashion when she entered the temple of learning but little room was left for much else. So the hoops had to be dispensed with, making an odd and noticeable change in contrast with her usual appearance.

Mt Pleasant
No. 9, Berktoold: Situated in the NE $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 7 in Mount Pleasant township. It takes its name from John Berktoold, a prominent farmer living nearby and with whom the teacher usually boarded and where the County Superintendent, in making his rounds, was received with great hospitality.

Mt Pleasant
No. 10, Sprick - Named for Fred Sprick, many years an officer of the district. George Sexton was the first teacher of this school. This, as many of the Mount Pleasant schools, began about 1857. Situated in SE $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 29.

Mt Pleasant
No. 11, Dose - Named in honor of Fred Dose who lived near the school and was most actively interested in the school. He was clerk of the district for many years and the teacher usually lived with the family during the school term. It is located in the SE $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 16, Mount Pleasant township.

Mt Pleasant
No. 12, Boston School - The Boston House, a transient rural hotel, was located near where the school was built and from this the school took its name. It was located on NE $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 23 in Mount Pleasant township. Mary Smith was the first teacher.

Chester
No. 13, Bear Valley - This district was the pioneer school of western Wabasha county. Sidney Cross taught the first school in the winter of 1856-57 at the home of Joseph Caswell. The Bear Valley school house was built in the spring of 1858. It was a log structure which was later replaced by a neat frame structure adjoining Bear Valley cemetery. Location NE $\frac{1}{4}$ section 27, Chester township.

Chester
No. 14, Musty - Named for Peter Musty, born in Belgium in 1831, and a large farmer in Chester township since 1877. The school is located on the NE $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 28.

School District:

This community, in its earlier days, was an intellectual center and its career sparkled with entertainment and culture for old and young. The Singing school, the Lyceum and Spelling School were here at their best and left a lasting impress for good on many of the young people. The exact location of the school is the southeast corner of Section 21, West Albany township.

Oakwood

No. 24, McGuigan - Patrick McGuigan, after whom the school is named, came to Oakwood in 1856 as one of its first settlers. The school was built in 1861 and Michael McGillion was the first to teach it. It was the first school in the township of Oakwood. The school is sometimes called "The Irish Ridge School" as it is a locality settled almost exclusively by Irish. It was there, where, the McGuigans, McNultys, McPikes, Kileys, Flemings, Martins, McGinns, McBrides, McCulloughs, Foxes, Cosgroves, Hayses, Horadons, Sextons, Rodgers and McGillions went to school and grew to manhood and womanhood. The school is located on NW $\frac{1}{4}$ of Section 5, three miles north of Millville. James Hayes, Wabasha County's first elected County Superintendent of Schools, was from this district.

No. 25, Trout Brook - The school is sometimes called "McGowan's" after Hugh McGowan who donated the land for the present brick schoolhouse which was built in 1870. It is also known as "The Brick Schoolhouse." The first school in Glasgow township was taught by Mary Cosgrove in 1858 in this district. It takes its name from the stream, Trout Brook, which flows through Trout Brook Valley in which it is located. The first building was built of logs with home-made shingles all of which, and the labor of building, was donated by the men of the district. There was no money to buy flooring or finishing, so each took a few sacks of grain to Reads Landing, six miles away, and traded it for the necessary lumber. They wanted a place for the education of their children and with the "spirit of 1856," they found a way to build it. It is located on Section 13.

West Albany

No. 26, Brown - Takes its name for a Mr. Brown, who came to the settlement in 1860. The first school was built of logs in Section 19 in Glasgow township in 1861 and was taught by Harriet Albertson. Eliza Stohman had previously taught a school at the home of George Hall. The location of the present building, erected in 1879, is Section 13, West Albany township.

Glasgow

No. 27, Brady - John Brady and Owen Brady lived on lands adjoining the school since 1857 and the school is named for them. The first school in this district, was taught in an old log house by John Bricher who owned it. The seats used were boards with legs in them. The next year a log schoolhouse was erected near the site of the present frame building, built in 1875. Before the log building was completed another term of school was taught by Dora O'Niel in a barn owned by John Schouweiler. The school is located on Section 35 in Glasgow township.

School District:

Greenfield

No. 28, Cooks Valley - Aaron and Levi Cook came to this district in 1854 and their brother Garret in 1856. In November 1857, agreeable to the wishes of a portion of the inhabitants, a school meeting was held on the 8th of that month for the purpose of organizing a district and provide for the erection of a schoolhouse. The district, as organized at that meeting, comprised the entire township of Greenfield. $50 was raised by subscription for defraying the expenses of building a schoolhouse and a log building was erected that same fall on the site of the present modern frame building at the center of Section 30. Aurora Albertson was the first teacher at $10 per month. There were about twenty scholars. The school takes its name from the Cooks.

Greenfield

No 29, Weir - This district has been consolidated with District No. 31, Kellogg. It took its name from Marshal Weir, a nearby resident. It was originally called "The Hershberger School" in honor of George Hershberger and early resident who removed to other parts.

*See Annals - p 26
Greenfield*

No. 30, Greenfield - The land on which the school was built, was from a tract owned by Prosper St. Jacques and the name "St. Jacques" was applied to the school until the Milwaukee Railroad station, Midland Junction, was established in 1877. Then, it became known as the "Midland Junction School." With the abandonment of that junction, and the district being a large one, embodying the center of the township of Greenfield, it has become known as the "Greenfield School."

It has always been a center of activities in that section and the scene of many festivities. It flourished as a "Spelling School," when the spelling school was a place of entertainment and art.

It is located at the center of Section 15, on U. S. Highway 61. Among the teachers of the Greenfield school were former County Superintendents, E. Hogle, P. F. Ryan, S. M. Quigley, and Mary Burns, wife of Superintendent Scott A. Foster.

Greenfield

No. 31, Kellogg - This is a graded and high school. Districts No. 29 and 104 have been consolidated with it. Other districts arrange with it for the teaching of their children while retaining their identity as separate districts. Kellogg Village had its beginning in 1870. It was preceded by Pawselim, which was nearby and had residents as early as 1857 and was platted in 1861.

Minneiska

No. 32, Minneiska - This is the Minneiska Village district and dates back to 1858 when Miss M. Adams taught a school in a building owned by C. Anderson. The two department building was erected in 1866 when Minneiska was a thriving village and one of the important wheat markets of Minnesota.

Minneiska

No. 33, Sand Prairie - Various names have been applied to this school, taken from the names of pioneer families - "The Donahoe School"; The Maloney District"; "The Sheehan School"; It is located at the center of Section 7, Minneiska township on the lower end of Sand Prairie from which it now takes its name. Districts No. 29 and 104 had schools also on Sand Prairie but these have been consolidated with Kellogg. Historic West Newton Village, established in 1853, now, and long since, a "ghost town" was in the neighborhood of the school.

School District:

Watopa

No. 34, Snake Creek - Situated in SW $\frac{1}{4}$ of Section 11 in Snake Creek Valley in Watopa township, it carries the name of the Creek and Valley. It was the first regularly organized district in Watopa township but Josiah Porter had taught school in a log house owned by John Gage, in 1858. The original school was on lands where the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad was built and the first building on the present site was destroyed by fire in 1878. The first school had but few pupils but attendance increased rapidly and at one time ninety names were registered. The first teacher employed was Dora O'Niel who was soon succeeded by Sylvia Tiffany.
