Description & Name Origin a tradition among the Sioux and Ojibways, cited by Winchell in "The Aborigines of Minnesota", told of Hidatsa Indians, a branch of the great Dakotan stock, anciently living in Minnesota, who were driven westward to the Missouri river by the coming (over)

of the Sioux. These Indians lived in wooden huts covered with earth, whence probably came the name that we retain in translation.

Description & Name Origin Kanabec is the usual word for a snake in the Ojibway language, given by them to the Snake river. . . . This Ojibway word (Kanabec) is variously spelled, but has only slight difference of pronunciation. . . . In Wilson's Manual of this language, 'kenabig'; and in Baraga's Dictionary, which is followed by Giffellan and Verwilt in their lists of Ojibway names, it is ginebig, but this is pronounced, in French style, nearly like our English form of the word in the county name.

Description & All sources of information state that this Lake was named for an Name Origin Ojibway Indian woman who was called "Ann", but nothing can be learned regarding her. In all propability the lake was called Ann Lake for Indian Ann by some of the early loggers, before any permanent settlement was made in this locality. There is no record of any survey to show acreage, but this lake is known to have about 600 acres. There are 2 resorts on this lake, which is widely known for its abundance of good fishing.

" The first survey of the land included in Kanabec County boundaries was in 1849, when the outside boundaries of the fifteen townships were established. Two years later the interior section lines of the townships containing the best stands of pine were surveyed. Disregarding the legal description and designation of them by their township name they are: Southfork, White's Peace, and Ford. The remaining townships were surveyed in 1855.

The first lumber firm to acquire extensive holdings in the county was the well known Maine syndicate headed by General Samuel F. Hershey.

The first Kanabec Co. Fair was held Sept. 29 & 30, 1896. Twenty acres were rented on the Fred Hoffert Farm, NE of Mora, and converted into a race track for horses. No buildings were erected the first year, the old village of Mora town hall on the court house block being used for business. The Hoffert grounds were used until 1911 when the present tract (7) of 40 acres was bought. Many buildings, and a well kept race track combine in making the Fair double one of best in state.

Isaac E. Stapler, who was born at old Brunswick in 1859, was the first white child born in Kanabec Co. He claims that his family were the first settlers in the county, but his claim is disputed. James Pennington came to the county about 1855 and lived on the shores of Pennington Lake until the sixties, while George E. Stapler acquired his land in 1857 and probably came here that year.

Description & Name Origin

The bill creating the county was sponsored by W. H. H. Folsom who represented the St. Croix Valley counties in the 1858 territorial legislature. He has been credited with having named the county but Isaac E. Staples claims that the honor belongs to his father. The Indians called the principal stream running thru the country from north to south, Kanabec. In the Chippewa language this means snake. Obviously the name was not applied by the Indians because of any unusual number of snakes in this region because such is not the case. The commonly accepted explanation is that the name became attached to the county's largest river because of its tortuous course. One early writer suggests that the name may have come about in another manner. There was a (cove) great deal of enmity and hatred existing between the Chippewas and the Sioux Indian tribes, due to the fact that the former had invaded this much prized hunting and fishing country and forced the latter to take to the prairies. This writer states that it was the custom of the Sioux to refer to their enemies as snakes, and called the Kanabec, or Snake River country, "the land of the snakes." The name is divided into three syllables, thus: Kan-na-bee with the second syllable heavily accented; the first letter "a" has the short sound and the second "a" the long or natural sound. There is a Kennebec county in Maine and many people pronounce the name of our county as if it were spelled the same as the Maine county. It has even been contended that the county was named for the New England county because of the fact that the early lumbermen who operated on Snake River and its tributaries were from Maine, but there is no basis for such assumption.

Knife Lake was organized June 19, 1894. Up to that time it was included in the unorganized territory of the county. The name was taken from the historic lake within its boundaries. When it was organized it contained four congressional townships. They were: 40-24, 40-25, 41-22, and 41-23. It now consists of only one township, 40-24. (con't)

Most of the township was originally covered with a heavy growth of white pine. It had a logging dam at the outlet of Knife Lake which was built in the early logging days. There now is a permanent concrete dam on the old site built by the state to raise the water level of Knife Lake. The first settlers were homesteaders. The first was John Nord Aug 15, 1882. The second was ~~Nels Sjodin Jr., April 13, 1883.~~ The post office was established at Hedin Jan. 23, 1901 with Axel Hedin as postmaster. It was discontinued in November 1906, but was re-established Jan 26, 1907 at Riverdale with H. W. Snittger as postmaster. Three years later it was again discontinued.

resident of the said town in 1882 and for more than ten years prior thereto. That in the early spring of 1882 his father had occasion to visit the Danforth Store at the old Brunswick farm where M. R. Kent was then employed as a clerk. At the time of his arrival Kent, Danforth, and others were discussing the selection of a name for the new town of Mora, and suggested to Mr. Israelson that he propose a name whereupon he stated that he thought Mora would be a good name, Mr. Israelson having come from Mora in Sweden. Mr. Kent became enthusiastic over the suggestion as he had heard that the Swedish town was a very pretty place and immediately decided to call the new town Mora. The affiant was seven years of age at the time this happened and heard his father tell his mother, upon his return home that day, that we were going to have a Mora in this country as well as in Sweden.

Hillman was named for the first homesteader. The town took in four townships, 41-24 42-22, 42-23 and 42-24. It is now confined to one township, 41-24. The pine in the township was of a younger growth and not attractive to lumbermen so there was a considerable amount of homestead land left for settlers. The first settler, a homesteader, William F. Hillman, who took up land in Sec. 4, May 13, 1887. (cont)

gushed from the "Brunswick Farm". The former "Brunswick Farm" is now (1934) owned and farmed by Wm. Lovaas. The "Brunswick Farm" was a rural business place of Tallman's Mill, having a store and blacksmith shop, in addition to a hotel and some warehouses.

When the "Brunswick Farm" was abandoned as a business and community center, M. P. De Wolf became postmaster, and conducted the postoffice in his farm residence a half mile farther south. A few years later Anna Pines became postmaster and the postoffice moved to the present Brunswick.

"Pennington Farm" (NE $\frac{1}{4}$, Sec. 1, Brunswick) on Feb 23, 1864, a place that was lumberman's headquarters until Mora sprang into being. In the beginning of Kanabec county George Staples farm at Brunswick had been the headquarters for lumbermen and settlers but with the establishment of Pennington Farm, Staples abandoned his operations at Brunswick. After Staples moved from Brunswick, Samuel Millet lived on the Staples farm and the place gradually became known as the Millet place. Activities ceased there in the late 1860's only the courthouse remaining. The courthouse was removed to Mora in 1883.

Name Origin Like the lake in this Township bearing the name "Ann Lake," this Township & Remarks: is named from an Ojibway Indian woman whose name was Ann. Nothing can be learned about Indian Ann excepting the fact that she lived on the shore of Ann Lake. The lake was in all probability named Ann Lake by some of the early loggers. The outside boundaries of this Township were given a Government survey in 1849, and the interior boundaries surveyed in 1855. The voters petitioned the Co. Board on July 13, 1904 to organize, and the petition was granted July 13, 1904. The first officers were as follows: E. B. Wright, chairman of board, A. Elling and H. P. Edstrom, Supervisors, J. W. Gruver, Clerk, A. M. Bergren, Treasurer, J. H. Elling, Constable and W. A. Suss, Justice of the Peace.
