~~ORGANIZED~~ Established February 20, 1855.

Description & Name Origin

This county was named in honor of John E. Mower, who was born in Bangor, Maine, September 15, 1815, and died in Arcola, Minn., June 11, 1879. He came to St. Louis Falls, Wis., in 1842; removed to Stillwater, in 1847, where he afterward resided, being chiefly engaged in lumbering. He was a member of the council of the territorial legislature, 1854-5; an a representative in the state legislature, 1874-5. His brother, Martin Mower, born in Stark, Maine, in 1819, came to Stillwater in 1843;

had large business interests of building, manufactures, and lumbering, in Stillwater and Arcola; selected the latter place as his home in 1846; and died there in July, 1890. The family name here has been pronounced with the long sound of o, as for one mowing grass, not like a mow of hay in a barn; but the county title, by common usage, is divergently spoken in both ways.
