" Cedar Falls, Iowa, August 1-1910

That before the commencement of this action, said note was, for a valuable consideration, duly sold, assigned, endorsed and delivered to the plaintiff, who is now the holder and owner thereof.

That among other provisions of Section 3038 of the Revised Code of Iowa, now in full force and effect in the State of Iowa, is the following provision:

"The rate shall be six cents on the one hundred by the year in the following cases, unless the parties shall agree in writing for the payment of interest not exceeding eight cents on the one hundred by the year:

1. Money due by express contract;
2. Money after the same becomes due;
3. Money loaned;
4. Money received to the use of another and retained beyond a reasonable time, without the owner's consent, expressed or implied;
5. Money due on the settlement of accounts from the day when the balance is ascertained;
6. Money due on open accounts after six months from the date of the last item;
7. Money due, or to become due, where there is a contract to pay interest and no rate is stipulated;"

That the said law of Iowa as above set forth is printed and published in the exact words so stated in the authorized edition of the Statutes of the State of Iowa, known and cited as the 1897 Revised Code of Iowa, which during or shortly previous to 1897 were duly enacted at a valid session of the Legislature of the State of Iowa and went into effect previous to the year 1898, and at all times since 1898 said section of said Iowa Statute has been and still is the law of the State of Iowa and in full force and effect.

That the common law of Iowa, as repeatedly laid down by the Supreme Court of said state, authorizes and permits, and during all of the five years last past has authorized and permitted the making and execution of promissory notes containing the interest clause embraced in the note above set forth, and the courts of the state of Iowa invariably sustain and enforce the said interest clause.

That the plaintiff's attorney herein is a duly authorized, admitted and practicing attorney at law in all of the Courts of the State of Minnesota, and has been employed by the plaintiff to collect said note and to bring this action thereon and prosecute the same to judgment, and has agreed to pay his said attorney the reasonable value of such services; that the reasonable value of such services is the sum of One Hundred Dollars.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff demands judgment against the defendant for the sum of Three Hundred Dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from August 1st, 1910, to August 1st, 1911, and with interest thereon from August 1st, 1911, to the date of judgment herein, at the rate of eight per cent per annum, together with plaintiff's costs and disbursements herein, including One Hundred Dollars attorney's fees.

Clerk of District Court,
Chaska, Minn.

Dear Sir:

Find enclosed herewith summons and complaint, notice of trial and note of issue in case of Nancy J. Cummins v. Henry Palmer. Please file these papers and place the matter on your Calendar.

On the first day of the Term, when the Calendar is called, will you kindly answer the call, stating to the Court that we are ready for trial? It is almost improbable that any motions will be made by the defense, but if so, will you kindly phone me and ask the Court to hold the matter open, until I can get over to Chaska? I will run out to Excelsior and drive over to Chaska, immediately upon hearing from you, in case you phone.

When you know about when the case will be reached for trial, will you kindly write me? The case is one for a jury, and was taken from Hennepin County to your County by a change of venue proceeding.

B. H. Bowler, being first duly sworn, says that said cause was duly noticed for trial for the October, 1913, Term of said Court, and regularly placed upon the calendar of said term; that both the attorney for the plaintiff and the defendant reside at Minneapolis, Minnesota; that said October Term began on Monday, the 13th day of October, 1913; that on the 11th day of October, 1913, affiant called defendant's attorney over the telephone and asked him if he had any motions to make in said cause on the first day of said term, and defendants' said attorney responded that he had not; that thereupon affiant wrote a letter to the Honorable Judge of said Court, which letter was in words and figures as follows:

Hon. P. W. Morrison,
Chaska, Minn.

"October 11th, 1913.

Dear Sir:

Mr. Charles A. Dahlby appears for the defendant, and I for the plaintiff, in case No. 4 on the Calendar of the Carver Term, which convenes Monday. From my talk with the Clerk of Court at Chaska, I take it that we could not reach this case for trial on the 13th. I have another matter which I would like very much to be in Minneapolis to take care of Monday forenoon. Accordingly, I called Mr. Dahlby about eleven o'clock this morning and suggested to him that you be requested to set our matter for trial on any day after Monday. Mr. Dahlby agreed to my suggestion. I asked him if he had any motions to make in the matter, and he said not.

I, therefore, probably shall not go to Chaska Monday, but will wait for the Clerk to call me. He promised that he would call me when anything definite was known as to the time the matter would be reached.

Will you kindly set the matter for a day certain, if to do so will not inconvenience you? Before I mail this letter to you, I will hand a copy thereof to Mr. Dahlby, so that you may know that he does not object to the requests herein made.

Very truly yours,

B. H. BOWLER".

Vol 4 And before five o'clock of said October 11th caused a copy of said letter to be delivered to Charles A. Dalby, Attorney for defendant, at his office in Minneapolis.

That notwithstanding said telephone conversation and said letter, said Dalby appeared before said Court, at the call of the calendar, on the 13th day of October, 1913, and moved said Court for a continuance of said cause to the March, 1914 Term of said Court, which motion was duly granted.

That by an oversight the date to which said cause was so continued was not entered on affiant's office calendar; that ever since the time of said continuance affiant has carried in his mind that said cause would come up for trial some time during the spring of the present year, but affiant also carried the impression that said March Term did not convene until a date somewhat later than March 9th.

5 That affiant now is and for several months last past has been attorney of record for the plaintiff in the case of Annie J. Simmons against Interstate Packing Company, pending in the District Court of the County of Hennepin; that said cause was set for trial on the 2nd day of March, 1913; that said Annie J. Simmons resides at Magnolia, in Rock County, Minnesota, and came to Minneapolis immediately previous to March 2nd with her witnesses, ready for the trial of said cause; that the calendar of the District Court of Hennepin County is and for several months last past has been badly congested, and as a result thereof said Simmons case was not called for trial until Monday the 9th day of March, 1914, but was called for trial at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, and the trial thereof then begun to the Honorable Joseph W. Molyneaux, one of the Judges of said Court and a Jury, and the trial thereof continued until about three o'clock in the afternoon of March 10th, 1914, at which time the said cause was finally submitted to the jury; that during all of said March 9th and 10th, until said trial was completed, practically all of affiant's time and energies were consumed in the conduct of said cause.

That about four o'clock in the afternoon of said March 9th, said Dalby personally appeared in said Judge Molyneaux' court room and told affiant that the case of Cummins vs Palmer was the first case on the calendar at Chaska on March 10th; that said Dalby would be present with his witnesses ready for trial at the opening of said Court on March 10th; that between the time of the adjournment of court on said March 9th, at about five o'clock, and the hour of nine o'clock in the evening of said day, affiant repeatedly tried to locate said Dalby, but was unable to do so until about nine o'clock in the evening of said day, when affiant succeeded in reaching him over the telephone at his home in Minneapolis; that affiant then and there told said Dalby, which he already knew, that affiant was engaged in the trial of said Simmons case and could not possibly finish the same before noon of March 10th, and that affiant could not and would not be in attendance at Court at Chaska on March 10th, but would call the Honorable P. W. Morrison, Judge of said Court, and advise him of the facts, before Court convened on the morning of the 10th and request said Judge Morrison to pass this cause until the morning of the 11th, or such time as would meet the convenience of said Dalby and his client, and affiant then and there requested said Dalby not to go to Chaska on March 10th, and further requested him to call his client by telephone and direct him not to go to Chaska on the 10th; that said Dalby responded that his client had a telephone, but that he would not call him, but that he and his client would be at Chaska on the morning of the 10th and would insist upon an immediate trial of said cause, unless affiant delivered to said Dalby before eight o'clock of March 10th a written agreement that said cause should be continued to the October, 1914 term of said court.

729 That about nine o'clock in the morning of March 10th, affiant called said Judge Morrison and stated to him the facts, substantially as above set forth; that notwithstanding the fact that affiant was so engaged in the trial of said Simmons case and could not go to Chaska, said Dalby appeared before said Court in Chaska on the morning of March 10th and moved a dismissal of said cause for the want of prosecution.

Affiant further says that he has exercised the utmost good faith in said matter and has done everything in his power to save the defendant and his attorney unnecessary loss of time and unnecessary expense in the conduct of said cause, but that because of the absolute necessity for affiant to finish the trial of said Simmons cause on March 10th, it was out of the question for him to be at Chaska before the morning of March 11th; that said Dalby was fully aware of all of said facts, and without any sacrifice to himself or his client, except the small trouble and expense of a telephone message to his client, could easily have accommodated affiant in said matter.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 13th day of March, 1914.

Said plaintiff for his Complaint in the above entitled action respectfully states and shows to the Court:

For a First Cause of Action:- That on and prior to the 19th day of April 1911 said defendants were justly indebted for labor and material used in painting and otherwise improving the dwelling house occupied by defendants as their homestead in the Village of Cologne and situated upon Lot 6 of Block I of Adam Mohrbacher's First Addition to said Village, in the sum of, to-wit, ~~th~~ twenty five Dollars, (75.00), and were desirous of raising money with which to pay off and discharge such indebtedness; that with that object in view the defendants requested the plaintiff to sign as surety with said defendant Jacob Soller a promissory note for said amount payable to the State Bank of Cologne, and said plaintiff did on said day sign a promissory note for said sum of seventy five dollars payable to said Bank in August 19th 1911; that said defendant Jacob Soller also signed said note and said plaintiff signed the same as surety to enable said defendants to procure said sum of money with which to pay off and discharge said indebtedness and without consideration and at the special instance and request of said defendants and for their benefit; that said defendants received the amount represented by said note from said Bank and with the same paid off and discharged the indebtedness so owing by them; That when said note became due said defendants neglected to pay the same and plaintiff was obliged to and did pay the same, paying on account thereof for principal and interest the sum of seventy nine and 55/100 Dollars, and thereafter, in consideration of the premises, said defendants promised and agreed to pay said sum to plaintiff upon demand; that ~~xxx~~ although demand has been often and duly made said defendants have neglected to pay said sum or any part thereof and are now justly indebted to plaintiff therefor.

For a Secone Cause of Action:—That at divers times between the 7th day of March 1910 and the 20th day of November 1912 said plaintiff at the special instance and request of said defendants sold and furnished to defendants goods, wares and merchandise of the aggregate worth and value of $39.08; that defendants have repeatedly promised and agreed to pay said sum but have neglected and refused so to do, and have paid upon account thereof the sum of $4.00, and no more.

Therefore plaintiff demands judgment against defendants for the sum of One Hundred and Fourteen Dollars and interest on seventy five dollars from and since the 19th day of April 1911 and on thirty four and 48/100 dollars from and since the 20th day of November 1912 together with the costs and disbursements of this action.
