NOTE.—Alfred Sully Post, No. 3, Dayton, was the second Post organized in the Department, but was suspended; and before it was reorganized, which was November 15, 1882, Ellsworth Post of Vancouver was organized and called No. 2.

There is, in some instances, a discrepancy in the date of organization of Posts and also number of Charter Members, arising from the fact that the Charter gives a different date from the actual muster, and the names do not entirely agree with those mustered. The practice of the present administration has been to issue the Charter after the muster, containing the names of those actually mustered, and dated on day of muster.

ROSTER OF POSTS.

GENERAL STEVENS.

Stevens Post, No. 1, Seattle.

On the 27th of June, 1878, D. P. Jenkins, Geo. D. Hill, Geo. W. Tibbetts, A. Slorah, R. Scott, G. R. Peaslee, E. Johnson, A. A. Manning, Jacob Beer, L. H. Tenney, G. A. Tyler, H. A. Bigelow and H. A. C. Thompson met at Seattle and were mustered into the Grand Army of the Republic by F. W. Sparling, Provisional Commander of the Department. The name selected was Stevens, in honor of the first Governor of the Territory and the first Delegate to Congress. The following Post officers were elected: Post Commander, Geo. D. Hill; S. V. C., Geo. W. Tibbetts; J. V. C., H. A. C. Thompson; Adjutant, A. Slorah; Quartermaster, A. A. Manning. The other officers were selected at subsequent meetings.

ISAAC INGALLS STEVENS,

In whose honor the Post was named, was born in Andover, Massachusetts, March 28, 1818. He graduated at West Point in 1839, at the head of his class. He served in the Mexican war, and in March, 1853, was appointed Governor of the Territory of Washington.

As Governor, he was ex-officio Superintendent of Indian Affairs, and at the same time, having volunteered for the service, he was placed in charge of the exploration and survey of the Northern route for a Pacific railroad.

In 1853, at the head of a large exploring party, he traversed the region from St. Paul to Puget Sound, through a wild and almost unknown country, and by means of lateral parties and information gathered from trappers and Indians, as well as instrumental surveys, he made a most comprehensive and exhaustive survey of the route committed to his charge, and of the country bordering it for from one to two hundred miles in width, and also established the entire practicability of navigating the upper Missouri and the Columbia River by steamers.

He organized and set in motion the civil government of this Territory. In 1854-5 he made treaties with twenty-two thousand out of the twenty-five thousand Indians of the Territory, and extinguished the Indian title to more than one hundred square miles of territory. He also, in October, 1855, negotiated a treaty of amity and friendship with the Blackfeet Indians on the Upper Missouri, and also as to between them and the hunting tribes of Washington and Oregon.

During his absence the disaffected Indians of Washington had broken out in open war, and had massacred many settlers and driven the survivors to take refuge in fortified places. Without an instant's delay he forced a passage across the Rocky Mountains in winter, and by the aid of friendly Indians and celerity of movement reached Olympia on the 1st of January, 1856.

He called out a thousand volunteers, encouraged the settlers to return to their abandoned homes and live there in block houses, placed all the friendly and doubtful Indians on islands in Puget Sound and fed and clothed them, and waged two campaigns against the hostiles with such vigor and success that before the year expired the Indians were thoroughly subdued, their chiefs slain, and the others had surrendered and were incorporated with the friendly Indians. In this struggle his energy, resolution and resources overrode all obstacles. He issued scrip to pay his troops; he impressed supplies, wagons and teams, whenever the owners refused to furnish them for scrip; he maintained strict discipline; he removed half-breed and white Indian sympathizers—the former employés with the English Hudson Bay Fur Company—from their homes on the frontier to the towns, where they could not communicate with the Indians; and when political and partisan opponents sought to create trouble by invoking the aid of the courts, and the Chief Justice of the Territory issued his writ of habeas corpus for the release of these men, Governor Stevens proclaimed martial law in two counties, seized the Chief Justice by a file of troopers, and kept him a prisoner until the end of the war.

Governor Stevens was elected delegate to Congress in July, 1857, and resigned as Governor. He served two terms in Congress, where he vindicated his action in the Indian war and his Indian policy, saw his treaties confirmed and the payment of the war scrip assumed by Congress.

He was appointed Colonel of the 79th Highlanders, New York Volunteers, and September 28, 1861, was promoted to Brigadier-General. He commanded a brigade in the Hilton Head expedition, and remained in South Carolina until July, 1862, when he sailed with his division to Virginia, where at Newport News it was incorporated with Burnside troops as the Ninth Corps, forming the first division. Thence, proceeding by Fredericksburg, General Stevens marched along the Rappahannock and joined Pope's army at Culpepper Court-house. He participated in various skirmishes on the Rappahannock, and in the battle of Manassas, or second Bull Run, August 29th and 30th, 1862, where his horse was killed under him, by leading a charge of his troops. He withdrew his division from that disastrous field in perfect order, and with every regiment unbroken, although with the loss of one-half of their number.

The next morning at daylight he was placed in command of the rear guard of the army, with two divisions of infantry and a strong force of cavalry and artillery, and took post between Bull Run and Centreville.

The next day, September 1, 1862, while marching his division, closely followed by Reno's division of the Ninth Corps, across from the main road between Centreville and Fairfax Court-house, to the Little River turnpike, in order to reach a position to withstand a column of the enemy reported as advancing and threatening the main road and only line of retreat, he suddenly came face to face with the rebel skirmishers, who were hastening forward in order to seize the road. With instant decision and rapidity, throwing out skirmishers who drove back the enemy and developed his position, General Stevens formed his entire division into column and ordered the assault. The enemy were formed behind a rail fence in the edge of thick woods. In their front, slightly descending, extended for some distance a corn-field and a tract of cleared land with stumps and logs scattered over a portion of it. The column, with fixed bayonets, swept on to the attack with firm but rapid step until half the intervening ground had been traversed. Then the enemy's line, hitherto concealed and silent, suddenly smote the column with a sheeted fire, so terrific and deadly that it staggered and halted. At this crisis, when another moment might have seen the troops in headlong flight, General Stevens rushed forward on foot, seized the colors of the foremost regiment, the 79th Highlanders (his own former regiment), as they were falling from the hands of the wounded color-bearer, and calling upon the men to follow their General, bore them to the front. The regiment, followed by the column, dashed forward with redoubled fury; they hurled the rail fence to the ground with one sweep of the line, dashing themselves against it, and drove the enemy before them. General Stevens fell in the moment of victory. He was found at the fence, dead, his temple pierced by a bullet and the flag firmly grasped in his rigid hand.

He died like a soldier, while feeling that exhilaration of spirit and exultation of soul which can only come to those who face death amid the rattle of musketry and the roar of cannon, charging the enemy's line.

The Confederate force thus fiercely held back was a heavy flanking column, commanded by Stonewall Jackson. Jackson renewed the fight, but Reno's, and afterwards Kearney's, division supported Stevens' veterans until night and the heavy storm of rain, thunder and lightning put an end to the contest.

General Stevens' heroic attack upon Jackson at the battle of Chantilly undoubtedly saved Pope's army from serious disaster. Jackson was advancing rapidly, and was only half a mile from the only line of retreat when encountered.

General Sherman, the last survivor of the great soldiers who led the Union armies to final victory, when in Seattle, five years ago, in an address to Stevens Post, paid a glowing tribute to the ability, the personal worth and the heroic daring of General Stevens. He said that had it not been for his untimely death, Stevens would have undoubtedly soon have been placed in command of the army of the Potomac, for which his talents, courage and military genius so well qualified him. In fact, at the very hour of his death, the President and Secretary of War were considering the step of placing him in command of the army.

The prosperity of the Post can well be judged by the number of members in good standing at the close of each year, as follows:

1878, 41; 1879, 73; 1880, 68; 1881, 66; 1882, 87; 1883, 123; 1884, 163; 1885, 129; 1886, 86; 1887, 153; 1888, 182; 1889, 209; 1890, 300.

In the great fire of June 6, 1889, the Post lost all of its furniture and Post property, and since that time has changed its place of meeting several times. The Post has now permanent quarters in Grand Army Hall, corner of Second and Columbia streets, and the prospects for a future growth and prosperity are excellent.

LAWS OF WASHINGTON.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF ACT.

An Act to provide for the relief of indigent Union and Mexican war soldiers, sailors and marines, and the families of those deceased or indigent, and to defray funeral expenses.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Washington :

SECTION 1. For the relief of indigent and suffering Union soldiers, sailors and marines, who served in the war of the Rebellion or in the war with Mexico, and their families, or the families of those deceased, who need assistance, in any city or town or precinct in this Territory, the Board of Commissioners of (the) county in which such city, town or precinct is situated may provide such sum or sums of money as may be necessary, to be drawn upon by the Commander and Quartermaster of any Post of the Grand Army of the Republic in said city or town, upon the recommendation of the relief committee of said Post, in the same manner as is now provided by law for the relief of the poor; provided said soldier, sailor and marine, or the families of those deceased, are and have been residents of the Territory for at least six months, and the orders of said Commander and Quartermaster shall be the proper voucher for the expenditure of said sum or sums of money.

SEC. 2. If there be no Post of the Grand Army of the Republic in any precinct in which it is necessary that such relief, as provided for in Section 1, should be granted, the County Commissioners of the county in which such precinct is may accept and pay the orders, drawn as hereinbefore provided, (by) the Commander and Quartermaster of any Post of the Grand Army of the Republic located in the nearest city or town, upon the recommendation of a relief committee, who shall be residents of the said precinct in which the relief may be furnished.

SEC. 3. Upon the passage of this Act the Commander of any Post of the Grand Army of the Republic which shall undertake the relief of indigent veterans and their families, as hereinbefore provided, before the acts of said Commander and Quartermaster may become operative in any city or precinct, shall file with the County Auditor of such county a notice that said Post intends to undertake such relief, as is provided by this Act. Such notice shall contain the names of the relief committee of said Post in such city or precinct, and of the Commander and other officers of said Post. And the Commander of said Post shall annually thereafter, during the month of October, file a similar notice with said County Auditor, and also a detailed statement of the amount of relief furnished during the preceding year, with the names of all persons to whom such relief shall have been furnished, together with a brief statement in each case from the relief committee upon whose recommendation the orders were drawn.

SEC. 4. The County Commissioners may require of the Commander and Quartermaster of any Post of the Grand Army of the Republic undertaking to distribute relief under this Act a bond, with sufficient and satisfactory sureties, for the faithful and honest discharge of their duties under this Act.

SEC. 5. County Commissioners are hereby prohibited from sending indigent Union soldiers, sailors and marines (or their families, or the families of those deceased), of the classes of persons mentioned in Section 1 to any almshouse (or orphan asylum) without the concurrence and consent of the Commander and relief committee of the Post of the Grand Army of the Republic having jurisdiction, as provided in Sections 1 and 2. Indigent veterans with families and the families of deceased veterans shall, whenever practicable, be provided for and relieved at their homes in such city, town or precinct in which they shall have a residence, in the manner provided in Sections 1 and 2 of this Act. Indigent or disabled veterans of the classes specified in Section 1, who are not insane, and who have no families or friends with whom they may be domiciled, may be sent to any soldiers' home.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the Board of County Commissioners in each of the counties of this Territory to designate some proper authority other than that designated by law for the care of paupers and the custody of criminals, who shall cause to be interred the body of any honorably discharged soldier, sailor or mariner, who served in the army or navy of the United States during the late rebellion or in the war with Mexico in the years eighteen hundred and forty-six, eighteen hundred and forty-seven and eighteen hundred and forty-eight, who shall hereafter die without leaving means sufficient to defray funeral expenses; but the expenses of such funeral shall not, in any case, exceed the sum of thirty-five dollars. If the deceased has relatives or friends who desire to conduct the burial, and who are unable or unwilling to pay the charges therefor, then the said expenses, not to exceed thirty-five dollars, shall be paid to them, or their representative, by the County Treasurer, upon due proof of the death and burial of any person provided for by this section, and proof of expenses incurred.

SEC. 7. That the Board of County Commissioners of the several counties of this Territory are hereby authorized to levy, in addition to the taxes now levied by law, a tax not exceeding three-tenths of one mill upon the taxable property of their respective counties, to be levied and collected as now provided by law for the assessment and collection of taxes, for the purpose of creating a fund for the relief of honorably discharged indigent Union soldiers, sailors and marines, and the indigent wives, widows and minor children of such indigent or deceased Union soldiers, sailors and marines, to be disbursed for such relief by such Board of County Commissioners.

SEC. 8. This Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval by the Governor.

Approved February 2, 1888.

SEC. 5. The Trustees shall, within one month before the first day of meeting of any session of the Legislature of the State, prepare and lay before the Governor and Legislature a full and detailed sworn report, exhibiting a particular statement of the condition of such Soldiers' Home and all its concerns, including an account of all contracts, expenditures and liabilities.

SEC. 6. Said Board is authorized to select and purchase a site for said institution, consisting of not less than forty acres of land, at an expense not exceeding ten thousand dollars, or may receive donations of land for such purpose, or purchase building or buildings if the same may be found to the satisfaction of the Board. The title to said lands must be approved by the Attorney General before the same is accepted, and when accepted shall be conveyed to the State of Washington, and the deed therefor shall be duly recorded in the proper county and then deposited with the Auditor of the State.

SEC. 7. The Trustees shall appoint a superintendent, who shall be styled "Commandant of the Home," and who shall hold office for five years, unless sooner removed by the Trustees, for cause of which they shall be the judges. Said Commandant shall have entire management and control of the institution under the rules and regulations adopted by the Trustees, and he shall, with the approval of a majority of the Board, appoint or employ all subordinate officers and employes of said institution, and may remove or discharge them for cause. Said Commandant shall give a bond to the State in the sum of five thousand dollars, approved by the Governor and filed in the office of the Secretary of State, for the faithful performance of his duties.
