RE: [REDACTED]

DOB: [REDACTED]

I did see [REDACTED] with his father today.

Apparently [REDACTED] had a stomach ache this morning and per Dad his mother was anxious about sending him with his father. In the office, currently he did say his stomach hurt this morning but the pain has resolved completely. His examination was entirely normal. We did discuss the possibility that this stomach ache may be anxiety related or possibly some mild constipation that should be monitored. He certainly looks fit for activities today. During our discussion he did state that on one other occasion when his mom felt he was ill on a Saturday, he did think he was not ill, but today definitely had a stomach ache today.
