Employee Resource Groups (ERG)

Catherine Curry-Williams empowers women to see themselves as philanthropists changemakers—driving impact both in their careers and in their communities. Her mission is to redefine philanthropy, proving that it doesn't require a huge budget.

Catherine Curry-Williams' book, "Philanthropy on a Shoestring" is a powerful call to action for women and girls to lead a movement of generosity. Highlighting that only 1.8% of U.S. charitable giving goes toward initiatives for women and girls, Catherine inspires readers to make meaningful contributions, regardless of size.
