Other Business Activities

Jason Rindskopf has a financial industry affiliated business as an independent insurance agent. Not more than 30% of his time is spent on this activity. From time to time, he offers clients advice or products from this activity. He may receive separate yet typical compensation in the form of commissions for the sale of insurance products.

This practice represents a conflict of interest because it gives Mr. Rindskopf an incentive to recommend products based on the commission amount received. This conflict is mitigated by the fact that Mr. Rindskopf has a fiduciary responsibility to place the best interest of the client first and the clients are not required to purchase any products. Clients have the option to purchase these products through another insurance agent of their choosing.

Mr. Ridskopf is also an author with a published book.
