Editor's Note

We're in a new month already. It has become a tradition on social media to start with 1 thing to be "Thankful" for every day in November, or at least until Thanksgiving. I love this. It's a great reminder as the weather turns colder and the nights longer, days shorter and letting go of summer to still be happy and look for the good in every day. I love the reminder to be thankful, because grateful people are happier people. We are grateful for you, our friends, family and clients. We wish you a Happy November and Happy Thanksgiving in just 3 short weeks.
